REGLAMENTO DE DIVULGACIÓN DE INFORMACIÓN

El 18 de diciembre de 2019, el Consejo Europeo y el Parlamento Europeo anunciaron que habían alcanzado un acuerdo político sobre el Reglamento de divulgación, buscando así establecer un marco paneuropeo para facilitar la inversión sostenible. El Reglamento de divulgación establece un enfoque armonizado respecto a la divulgación de información relacionada con la sostenibilidad a los inversores en el sector de los servicios financieros del Espacio Económico Europeo.

A los efectos del Reglamento de divulgación, la Sociedad gestora cumple los criterios de «participante del mercado financiero», mientras que cada Subfondo se califica como «producto financiero». Para obtener más detalles sobre de qué manera un Subfondo cumple con los requisitos del Reglamento de divulgación, consulte el suplemento del Subfondo en cuestión. Consulte también el apartado sobre «Inversión sostenible» en el Folleto del Fondo y la Política de Inversión Responsable de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.com.

De conformidad con el artículo 11 del Reglamento de divulgación, el Fondo formula las siguientes declaraciones: En el marco de la Política de Inversión Responsable de Amundi, esta última ha desarrollado su propio enfoque de calificación ESG. La calificación ESG de Amundi tiene por objeto cuantificar el desempeño ESG de un emisor, es decir, su capacidad para anticipar y gestionar los riesgos de sostenibilidad y las oportunidades inherentes a su sector y circunstancias individuales. Al utilizar las calificaciones ESG de Amundi, los gestores de carteras tienen en cuenta los riesgos de sostenibilidad en sus decisiones de inversión. Amundi aplica políticas de exclusión selectiva a todas las estrategias de inversión activa de Amundi, y excluye a las empresas contrarias a la Política de Inversión Responsable, como aquellas que no respetan los convenios internacionales, los marcos reconocidos internacionalmente o las normativas nacionales.

Por tanto, tal como exige el artículo 58 del REGLAMENTO DELEGADO (UE) 2022/1288 DE LA COMISIÓN, en un anexo del presente informe se ofrece información detallada sobre las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el producto financiero.

■ Subfondos según el artículo 8 (requerido según el art. 11.1)

Los Subfondos que se enumeran a continuación están clasificados de conformidad con el artículo 8 del Reglamento de divulgación y tienen por objeto promover características medioambientales y/o sociales. Además de aplicar la Política de Inversión Responsable de Amundi, estos Subfondos según el artículo 8 tienen por objeto promover estas características a través de inversiones que resulten en una puntuación ESG de sus carteras superior a la de su respectivo índice de referencia o universo de inversión. La puntuación ESG de la cartera es la media ponderada por los activos gestionados de la puntuación ESG de los emisores basada en el modelo de puntuación ESG de Amundi.

Durante el ejercicio objeto del presente informe, la Gestora de Inversiones promovió continuamente las características medioambientales y/o sociales mediante la aplicación de las metodologías mencionadas.

■ Subfondos según el artículo 6

En vista de la orientación de la inversión y las clases de activos/sectores en los que invierten, los gestores de inversiones de todos los demás Subfondos no clasificados de conformidad con el artículo 8 o 9 del Reglamento de divulgación no integraron la consideración de actividades económicas medioambientalmente sostenibles en el proceso de inversión del Subfondo. Por tanto, cabe señalar que las inversiones subyacentes a estos Subfondos no tuvieron en cuenta los criterios de la UE para las actividades económicas medioambientalmente sostenibles.

A lo largo del ejercicio, el Subfondo tuvo en cuenta el PIA 14 a través de la Norma mínima y la Política de exclusión de Amundi en relación con las armas controvertidas, excluyendo a los emisores en la producción, venta, almacenamiento o servicios para y de minas antipersonas y bombas de racimo, prohibidas por los tratados de Ottawa y Oslo, y a los emisores implicados en la producción, venta o almacenamiento de armas químicas, biológicas y de uranio empobrecido, según la Política Global de Inversión Responsable de Amundi.

Objetivo de inversión sostenible

Una inversión sostenible es una inversión en una actividad económica que contribuya a un objetivo medioambiental o social, siempre que la inversión no cause un perjuicio significativo para ningún objetivo medioambiental o social y que las empresas participadas sigan prácticas de buen gobierno.

La Taxonomía de la UE es un sistema de clasificación establecido en el Reglamento (UE) 2020/852, que determina una lista de actividades económicas sostenibles desde el punto de vista medioambiental. Dicho Reglamento no incluye una lista de actividades económicas socialmente sostenibles. Las inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental podrían estar alineadas con la Taxonomía o no.

Una empresa es identificada como sostenible por el gestor de activos, aplicando la metodología descrita en la Política ESG disponible en el sitio web montpensier.com. Una empresa puede participar en varios ODS. La sociedad de gestión lo clasifica como sostenible desde el punto de vista medioambiental o social, en función de su implicación en el ODS principal al que la sociedad gestora lo haya adscrito.

El fondo integra factores de sostenibilidad en su proceso de inversión, como se indica más detalladamente a continuación.

Teniendo en cuenta los criterios ESG del fondo, el objetivo de inversión sostenible es combinar el rendimiento financiero con el deseo de influir positivamente, cuando sea posible, en los emisores en términos de desempeño ESG, animando a las empresas a mejorar la integración de los criterios ESG en sus actividades y valorando las mejores prácticas.

La sociedad gestora aplicó la política descrita en el Documento Precontractual para productos financieros Artículo 9, apartados 1 a 4a, del Reglamento (UE) 2019/2088 y Artículo 5, párrafo primero, del Reglamento (UE) 2020/852.

100% de la cartera invertida, excluidos el efectivo y los equivalentes de efectivo (lo que supone el 98.82% del patrimonio neto del fondo), está compuesto por inversiones sostenibles.

La intensidad media ponderada de carbono y la huella de carbono de la cartera son inferiores a las de su índice. Este desempeño es atribuible a nuestra marcada infraexposición a los combustibles fósiles.

La intensidad media ponderada de carbono y la huella de carbono de la cartera también son inferiores a las del índice cuando se incluyen las Emisiones anteriores de Alcance 3.

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad cuantifican cómo se alcanzan las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el producto financiero.

Cumplimiento del Pacto Mundial: Ponderación de las empresas en cartera identificadas como conformes con los principios del Pacto Mundial de Naciones Unidas.

● ¿...y en comparación con periodos anteriores?

Ver más arriba.

Las principales incidencias adversas

son los efectos negativos más significativos de las decisiones de inversión sobre los factores de sostenibilidad relacionados con cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y laborales, el respeto de los derechos humanos y la lucha contra la corrupción y el soborno.

● ¿De qué manera las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero realizó parcialmente no causaron un perjuicio significativo a ningún objetivo de inversión sostenible desde el punto de vista medioambiental o social?

¿Cómo se tuvieron en cuenta los indicadores de incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

La evaluación del principio "No causar un perjuicio significativo" (DNSH) se basa en las exclusiones, las Principales Incidencias Adversas (PIA) y el seguimiento de las controversias. Además, se considera que las empresas con un impacto medioambiental o social negativo en la MIA, o en los pilares E y S, incumplen el principio DNSH.

Para obtener más información, véase el Folleto y el Documento precontractual SFDR anexo al folleto del OIC, disponibles en la página web de la sociedad gestora.

Excluimos de nuestro universo de inversión a las empresas que no están alineadas con determinadas normas y convenciones internacionales, en particular el Pacto Mundial de Naciones Unidas (UNGC), la Organización Internacional del Trabajo (OIT) y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos (UNGPHR).

Las empresas que son objeto de una controversia de color "Rojo" quedan excluidas del universo de inversión. Entre estas controversias de color "Rojo" están las empresas que no se ajustan al Pacto Mundial de Naciones Unidas (Derechos Humanos, Derechos Laborales, Medio Ambiente y Corrupción).

Tenemos en cuenta los principales indicadores de impactos negativos en la política de exclusiones sectoriales y normativas, el análisis de las prácticas de buen gobierno (utilizando el sistema interno Montpensier Governance Flag - MGF), el análisis cualitativo propio de la contribución de las empresas a las transiciones medioambiental y de solidaridad (Montpensier Impact Assessment – MIA, Montpensier Industry Contributor – MIC), y/o en el análisis de las actividades ecológicas que determina la contribución a uno o más Objetivos de Desarrollo Sostenible (ODS) de la ONU.

La pertinencia y la cobertura de estos indicadores en el análisis varían en función del sector, la industria y la región en la que opera cada empresa.

Para estar alineados con la Taxonomía de la UE, los criterios para el gas fósil incluyen limitaciones de emisiones y cambio a energías totalmente renovables o combustibles con bajas emisiones de carbono para finales de 2035.

En el caso de la energía nuclear, los criterios incluyen normas exhaustivas de seguridad y gestión de residuos;

¿En qué medida las inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

- ¿Invertió el producto financiero en actividades relacionadas con el gas fósil y/o la energía nuclear que se ajustaban a la Taxonomía de la UE?

☐ Sí:

☐ En gas fósil ☐ En energía nuclear

☒ No

Los datos relativos a la participación de las empresas en actividades relacionadas con el gas fósil y/o la energía nuclear, de acuerdo con la Taxonomía, se determinan teniendo en cuenta únicamente los datos publicados por las empresas.

Aún no se dispone de datos sobre la participación de las empresas en actividades relacionadas con el gas fósil y/o la energía nuclear que cumplan la Taxonomía.

A título informativo, los valores identificados como implicados en energía fósil y/o nuclear representan el 3.40% de la cartera, es decir, el 3.40% de la cartera para los valores que obtienen parte de sus ventas de la energía nuclear, y el 0.00% para los valores implicados en energía fósil.

Las actividades alineadas con la Taxonomía se expresan como porcentaje de:

- el volumen de negocio refleja la "ecologización" de las empresas participadas en la actualidad.
- las inversiones en inmovilizado (CapEx) muestran las inversiones ecológicas realizadas por las empresas participadas, por ejemplo, para la transición a una economía verde
- los gastos de explotación (OpEx) reflejan las actividades operativas ecológicas de las empresas participadas

Las actividades habilitadoras permiten directamente que otras actividades contribuyan de forma sustancial a un objetivo

Los gráficos siguientes muestran en verde el porcentaje de inversiones que estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE. Como no existe una metodología adecuada para determinar la alineación con la Taxonomía de la deuda pública*, el primer gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía en relación con todas las inversiones del producto financiero, incluida la deuda pública, mientras que el segundo gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía solo en relación con las inversiones del producto financiero distintas de la deuda pública.

*A efectos de estos gráficos, la "deuda pública" abarca todas las exposiciones a deuda pública. El volumen de negocio lo estima MSCI ESG Research según la metodología descrita a continuación. Los datos de Inversión en inmovilizado y Gastos de explotación solo tienen en cuenta los datos publicados por las empresas.

Alineación con la Taxonomía de la UE

La alineación con la Taxonomía de la UE la estima MSCI ESG Research, a partir del porcentaje máximo de las ventas de una empresa derivado de productos y servicios que abordan objetivos medioambientales, sobre la base del marco MSCI Sustainable Impact Metrics.

El porcentaje de ventas generado por productos y servicios que cumplen objetivos medioambientales se reduce a 0 para las empresas que no cumplen los criterios de "No causar un perjuicio significativo" y "Salvaguardias sociales mínimas" de la Taxonomía de la UE.

Lo mismo se aplica a las empresas cuyos ingresos proceden en un 5% o más del suministro, distribución o venta al por menor de productos del tabaco, y a las empresas implicadas en armas controvertidas.

Objetivo de inversión sostenible

Una inversión sostenible es una inversión en una actividad económica que contribuya a un objetivo medioambiental o social, siempre que la inversión no cause un perjuicio significativo para ningún objetivo medioambiental o social y que las empresas participadas sigan prácticas de buen gobierno.

Fondo temático de renta variable mundial, todas las capitalizaciones, dirigido a empresas que participen efectivamente y puedan generar un impacto real en la transición energética y ecológica en favor del clima.

El fondo integra factores de sostenibilidad en su proceso de inversión, como se indica más detalladamente a continuación.

El objetivo de inversión sostenible del fondo es identificar la implicación de las empresas a favor de la transición energética y ecológica para el clima, con el fin de invertir principalmente en las acciones de las empresas cuyas iniciativas o soluciones contribuyen directa o indirectamente a la reducción de los impactos del cambio climático, o en las acciones de las empresas en las que una parte de la actividad está relacionada con los cambios y desarrollos vinculados a la temática de la transición energética y climática.

El fondo tiene en cuenta los criterios ESG para unificar el rendimiento financiero y el deseo de influir positivamente, cuando sea posible, en el emisor en términos de desempeño ESG, animando a las empresas a mejorar la integración de los criterios ESG en sus actividades y valorando las mejores prácticas.

La sociedad gestora aplicó la política descrita en el Documento Precontractual para productos financieros Artículo 9, apartados 1 a 4a, del Reglamento (UE) 2019/2088 y Artículo 5, párrafo primero, del Reglamento (UE) 2020/852.

100% de la cartera invertida, excluidos el efectivo y los equivalentes de efectivo (lo que supone el 98.11% del patrimonio neto del fondo), está compuesto por inversiones sostenibles.

La intensidad media ponderada de carbono y la huella de carbono de la cartera son considerablemente inferiores a las de su índice. Este desempeño es atribuible a nuestra marcada infraexposición a los combustibles fósiles.

La intensidad media ponderada de carbono de la cartera está en consonancia con su índice, y la huella de carbono también es inferior a la de su índice cuando se incluyen las Emisiones anteriores de Alcance 3.

Cumplimiento del Pacto Mundial: Ponderación de las empresas en cartera identificadas como conformes con los principios del Pacto Mundial de Naciones Unidas.

● ¿...y en comparación con periodos anteriores?

Ver más arriba.

● ¿De qué manera las inversiones sostenibles no causaron un perjuicio significativo a ningún objetivo de inversión sostenible?

¿Cómo se tuvieron en cuenta los indicadores de incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

La evaluación del principio "No causar un perjuicio significativo" (DNSH) se basa en las exclusiones, las Principales Incidencias Adversas (PIA) y el seguimiento de las controversias. Además, se considera que las empresas con un impacto medioambiental o social negativo en la MIA, o en los pilares E y S, incumplen el principio DNSH.

Para obtener más información, véase el Folleto y el Documento precontractual SFDR anexo al folleto del OIC, disponibles en la página web de la sociedad gestora.

Las principales incidencias adversas son los efectos negativos más significativos de las decisiones de inversión sobre los factores de sostenibilidad relacionados con cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y laborales, el respeto de los derechos humanos y la lucha contra la corrupción y el soborno.

Excluimos de nuestro universo de inversión a las empresas que no están alineadas con determinadas normas y convenciones internacionales, en particular el Pacto Mundial de Naciones Unidas (UNGC), la Organización Internacional del Trabajo (OIT) y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos (UNGPHR).

Las empresas que son objeto de una controversia de color "Rojo" quedan excluidas del universo de inversión. Entre estas controversias de color "Rojo" están las empresas que no se ajustan al Pacto Mundial de Naciones Unidas (Derechos Humanos, Derechos Laborales, Medio Ambiente y Corrupción).

Tenemos en cuenta los principales indicadores de impactos negativos en la política de exclusiones sectoriales y normativas, el análisis de las prácticas de buen gobierno (utilizando el sistema interno Montpensier Governance Flag - MGF), el análisis cualitativo propio de la contribución de las empresas a las transiciones medioambiental y de solidaridad (Montpensier Impact Assessment – MIA, Montpensier Industry Contributor – MIC), y/o en el análisis de las actividades ecológicas que determina la contribución a uno o más Objetivos de Desarrollo Sostenible (ODS) de la ONU.

La pertinencia y la cobertura de estos indicadores en el análisis varían en función del sector, la industria y la región en la que opera cada empresa.

La información relativa a los objetivos medioambientales, sociales y de gobierno corporativo (ESG) puede consultarse en el sitio web de la sociedad gestora:

Para estar alineados con la Taxonomía de la UE, los criterios para el gas fósil incluyen limitaciones de emisiones y cambio a energías totalmente renovables o combustibles con bajas emisiones de carbono para finales de 2035.

En el caso de la energía nuclear, los criterios incluyen normas exhaustivas de seguridad y gestión de residuos;

Las actividades alineadas con la Taxonomía se expresan como porcentaje de:

- el volumen de negocio refleja la "ecologización" de las empresas participadas en la actualidad.
- las inversiones en inmovilizado (CapEx) muestran las inversiones ecológicas realizadas por las empresas participadas, por ejemplo, para la transición a una economía verde.
- los gastos de explotación (OpEx) reflejan las actividades operativas ecológicas de las empresas participadas.

¿En qué medida las inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

- ¿Invertió el producto financiero en actividades relacionadas con el gas fósil y/o la energía nuclear que se ajustaban a la Taxonomía de la UE<sup>1</sup>?

☐ Sí:

☐ En gas fósil ☐ En energía nuclear

☒ No

Los datos relativos a la participación de las empresas en actividades relacionadas con el gas fósil y/o la energía nuclear, de acuerdo con la Taxonomía, se determinan teniendo en cuenta únicamente los datos publicados por las empresas.

Aún no se dispone de datos sobre la participación de las empresas en actividades relacionadas con el gas fósil y/o la energía nuclear que cumplan la Taxonomía.

A título informativo, los valores identificados como implicados en energía fósil y/o nuclear representan el 3.40% de la cartera, es decir, el 3.40% de la cartera para los valores que obtienen parte de sus ventas de la energía nuclear, y el 0.00% para los valores implicados en energía fósil.

Alineación con la Taxonomía de la UE

La alineación con la Taxonomía de la UE la estima MSCI ESG Research, a partir del porcentaje máximo de las ventas de una empresa derivado de productos y servicios que abordan objetivos medioambientales, sobre la base del marco MSCI Sustainable Impact Metrics.

El porcentaje de ventas generado por productos y servicios que cumplen objetivos medioambientales se reduce a 0 para las empresas que no cumplen los criterios de "No causar un perjuicio significativo" y "Salvaguardias sociales mínimas" de la Taxonomía de la UE.

Lo mismo se aplica a las empresas cuyos ingresos proceden en un 5% o más del suministro, distribución o venta al por menor de productos del tabaco, y a las empresas implicadas en armas controvertidas.

contribuyan de forma sustancial a un objetivo medioambiental.

¿En qué medida se cumplió el objetivo de inversión sostenible de este producto financiero?

Durante el ejercicio, el producto promovió continuamente las características medioambientales y/o sociales con el objetivo de lograr una puntuación ESG superior a la puntuación ESG de su universo de inversión BLOOMBERG EURO GREEN BOND INDEX: CORPORATE. Para determinar la puntuación ESG del Producto y el universo de inversión ESG, el desempeño ESG se evaluó continuamente comparando el desempeño medio de un título frente al sector del emisor del título, con respecto a cada una de las tres características: medioambiental, social y de gobierno corporativo.

El subfondo mantuvo la parte comprometida de su asignación invertida en el uso de bonos verdes. El objetivo de los bonos verdes es financiar proyectos que generen un impacto positivo y cuantificable en el medio ambiente. El indicador clave que mide el impacto de los bonos verdes es "Toneladas evitadas de emisiones de CO2 por millón de EUR invertidos en un año". Más allá del análisis financiero cuantitativo y cualitativo de los bonos susceptibles de componer la cartera, el proceso de selección incluye una evaluación de la estrategia ESG a nivel del emisor y una evaluación de los bonos verdes tras varios puntos de análisis:

1. Amundi ha desarrollado un sistema propio de puntuación ESG basado en una escala de siete letras, que van de la A a la G, donde la A es la mejor calificación y la G, la peor. Cualquier emisor con una calificación G queda excluido de todas las carteras de gestión activa de Amundi. Llevamos a cabo la verificación de la calificación ESG del emisor y comprobamos la conformidad de la calificación con los criterios del fondo correspondiente. Como se ha indicado anteriormente, los emisores con una calificación G en la escala de calificación ESG de Amundi no son aptos para la inversión. Si hay puntos débiles, el equipo de Análisis ESG buscará con más detalle cualquier controversia sobre el pilar correspondiente (E, S y G).
2. Evaluación de los bonos verdes en términos de: (i) análisis del proyecto, mediante el análisis de la ubicación geográfica de los activos, la actuación sobre los activos, la evaluación de cualquier impacto adicional del proyecto ecológico en el medio ambiente, la biodiversidad, las comunidades locales u otros aspectos sociales (no causar un perjuicio significativo), la alineación con las normas del sector (por ejemplo, la alineación con los Principios de Bonos Verdes de la Asociación Internacional de Mercados de Capitales, la Iniciativa de Bonos Climáticos, la Taxonomía de la UE). (ii) análisis del emisor a nivel de estrategia global ESG y de controversias, (iii) justificación de la financiación verde (tipo de proyectos financiados, asignación de activos verdes, tipo de instrumentos que financian proyectos verdes) y (iv) transparencia (informe sobre bonos verdes, existencia de opiniones de segundas partes)
3. Supervisión continua (inversión a posteriori), que incluye la revisión periódica de la asignación y el informe de impacto del bono verde, las controversias en las que está involucrado el emisor y su estrategia medioambiental.

Por último, todos los Bonos Verdes seleccionados deberán cumplir los criterios y directrices de los Principios de los Bonos Verdes publicados por la Asociación Internacional de Mercados de Capitales. Visite la Política de Inversión Responsable de Amundi para obtener más información al respecto.

● ¿Cómo se comportaron los indicadores de sostenibilidad?

Amundi ha desarrollado su propio proceso interno de calificación ESG basado en el enfoque "Best-in-class". Las calificaciones adaptadas a cada sector de actividad pretenden evaluar la dinámica en la que operan las empresas.

El indicador de sostenibilidad utilizado es la puntuación ESG del Producto que se mide con respecto a la puntuación ESG del universo de inversión ESG del Producto.

Al cierre del periodo:

- La calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera es 1.118 (C).
- La calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG es 0.799 (C).

La calificación ESG de Amundi utilizada para determinar la puntuación ESG es una puntuación cuantitativa ESG traducida en siete grados, que van de la A (el universo de mejores puntuaciones) a la G (la peor). En la escala de Calificación ESG de Amundi, los títulos pertenecientes a la lista de exclusión corresponden a una G. En el caso de los emisores corporativos, el desempeño ESG se evalúa en general y a nivel de criterios relevantes comparándolo con el desempeño medio de su sector, a través de la combinación de las tres dimensiones ESG:

- Dimensión medioambiental: analiza la capacidad de los emisores para controlar su impacto medioambiental directo e indirecto, limitando su consumo de energía, reduciendo sus emisiones de efecto invernadero, luchando contra el agotamiento de los recursos y protegiendo la biodiversidad.
- Dimensión social: analiza el funcionamiento de un emisor en dos conceptos distintos: su estrategia para desarrollar su capital humano y el respeto de los derechos humanos en general;
- Dimensión de gobierno corporativo: Evalúa la capacidad del emisor para garantizar la base de un marco de gobierno corporativo eficaz y generar valor a largo plazo.

La metodología aplicada por la calificación ESG de Amundi utiliza 38 criterios que son genéricos (comunes a todas las empresas independientemente de su actividad) o sectoriales, que se ponderan según el sector y se consideran en términos de su impacto en la reputación, la eficiencia operativa y la normativa con respecto a un emisor. Las calificaciones ESG de Amundi pueden expresarse globalmente en las tres dimensiones E, S y G o individualmente en cualquier factor medioambiental o social.

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad cuantifican cómo se alcanzan las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el producto financiero.

Al final del periodo, la cartera posee un 89.79 % de bonos verdes.

● ¿...y en comparación con periodos anteriores?

Al final del periodo anterior, la cartera poseía un 95.01% de bonos verdes.

Para garantizar que las inversiones sostenibles no causan un perjuicio significativo ("DNSH"), Amundi utiliza dos filtros:

Más allá de los factores específicos de sostenibilidad cubiertos en el primer filtro, Amundi ha definido un segundo filtro, que no tiene en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas mencionados anteriormente, con el fin de verificar que la empresa no obtiene malos resultados desde un punto de vista medioambiental o social global en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, lo que corresponde a una puntuación medioambiental o social superior o igual a E utilizando la calificación ESG de Amundi.

- ¿Cómo se tuvieron en cuenta los indicadores de incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

Los indicadores de incidencias adversas se han tenido en cuenta tal y como se detalla en el primer filtro de no causar un daño significativo (DNSH) anterior.

- Tener una intensidad de CO<sub>2</sub> que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector (solo se aplica a sectores de alta intensidad), y
- Tener una diversidad en el Consejo de Administración que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, y
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con las condiciones de trabajo y los derechos humanos.
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con la biodiversidad y la contaminación

- ¿Estaban las inversiones sostenibles alineadas con las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos? Detalles:

Sí, las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos están integrados en nuestra metodología de puntuación ESG. Nuestra herramienta de calificación ESG propia evalúa a los emisores utilizando los datos disponibles de nuestros proveedores de datos. Por ejemplo, el modelo cuenta con un criterio específico denominado "Participación en la comunidad y derechos humanos", que se aplica a todos los sectores, además de otros criterios relacionados con los derechos humanos, como las cadenas de suministro socialmente responsables, las condiciones de trabajo y las relaciones laborales. Además, realizamos un seguimiento de las controversias, como mínimo trimestralmente, que incluye a las empresas identificadas por vulneraciones de los derechos humanos. Cuando surgen controversias, los analistas evalúan la situación y aplican una puntuación a la controversia (utilizando nuestra metodología de puntuación interna) y determinan el mejor curso de acción. Las puntuaciones de controversia se actualizan trimestralmente para realizar un seguimiento de la tendencia y de los esfuerzos de corrección.

El producto tiene en cuenta todas las Principales Incidencias Adversas obligatorias según el Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 que se aplica a la estrategia del producto y se basa en una combinación de políticas de exclusión (normativas y sectoriales), enfoques de implicación y voto:

- Exclusión: Amundi ha definido reglas de exclusión normativas, basadas en la actividad y sectoriales que abarcan algunos de los principales indicadores adversos de sostenibilidad enumerados por el Reglamento de Divulgación.
- Compromiso: La interacción es un proceso continuo y orientado a un fin, cuyo objetivo es influir en las actividades o el comportamiento de las empresas participadas. El objetivo de las actividades de interacción puede clasificarse en dos categorías: comprometer a un emisor a mejorar la forma en que integra la dimensión medioambiental y social, comprometer a un emisor a mejorar su impacto en cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y relacionadas con los derechos humanos u otras cuestiones de sostenibilidad que son importantes para la sociedad y la economía mundial.
- Voto: La política de voto de Amundi responde a su análisis integral de todas las cuestiones a largo plazo que pueden influir en la creación de valor, incluidas cuestiones ESG sustanciales. Si desea obtener más información, consulte la Política de Voto de Amundi.
- Seguimiento de controversias: Amundi ha desarrollado un sistema de seguimiento de controversias que se basa en tres proveedores de datos externos para realizar un seguimiento sistemático de las controversias y su nivel de gravedad. Este enfoque cuantitativo se enriquece después con una evaluación en profundidad de cada controversia grave, dirigida por analistas ESG y la revisión periódica de su evolución. Este enfoque se aplica a todos los fondos de Amundi.

Si desea más información sobre cómo se tienen en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas, consulte la Declaración de divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.com.

Para estar alineados con la Taxonomía de la UE, los criterios para el gas fósil incluyen limitaciones de emisiones y cambio a energías totalmente renovables o combustibles con bajas emisiones de carbono para finales de 2035. En el caso de la energía nuclear, los criterios incluyen normas exhaustivas de seguridad y gestión de residuos

Las actividades habilitadoras permiten directamente que otras actividades contribuyan de forma sustancial a un objetivo medioambiental.

Las actividades alineadas con la Taxonomía se expresan como porcentaje de:
-el volumen de negocio que refleja la proporción de ingresos procedentes de actividades ecológicas de las empresas participadas
-las inversiones en inmovilizado (CapEx) que muestran las inversiones ecológicas realizadas por las empresas participadas, por ejemplo, para la transición a una economía verde
- los gastos de explotación (OpEx) que reflejan las actividades operativas ecológicas de las empresas participadas

¿En qué medida las inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

El fondo promueve características tanto medioambientales como sociales. Aunque el fondo no se comprometió a realizar inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE, durante el periodo contable el fondo invirtió un 0.50% en inversiones sostenibles alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE. Estas inversiones contribuyeron a la obligación de lucha contra el cambio climático o a los objetivos de mitigación del cambio climático de la Taxonomía de la UE.

¿Invirtió el producto financiero en actividades relacionadas con el gas fósil y/o la energía nuclear que se ajustaban a la Taxonomía de la UE?

☐ Sí:

☐ En gas fósil ☐ En energía nuclear

☒ No

Durante el periodo no se dispuso de datos fiables sobre la alineación con la Taxonomía de la UE del gas fósil y la energía nuclear.

Los gráficos siguientes muestran en verde el porcentaje de inversiones que estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE. Como no existe una metodología adecuada para determinar la alineación con la Taxonomía de la deuda pública*, el primer gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía en relación con todas las inversiones del producto financiero, incluida la deuda pública, mientras que el segundo gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía solo en relación con las inversiones del producto financiero distintas de la deuda pública.

● ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones en actividades de transición y habilitadoras?

A 30/06/2024, utilizando como indicador el volumen de negocio y/o los datos sobre el uso del producto obtenido de bonos verdes, la cuota de inversión del fondo en actividades de transición era del 0.00% y la cuota de inversión en actividades habilitadoras era del 0.00%. El porcentaje declarado de alineación de las inversiones del fondo con la Taxonomía de la UE no ha sido auditado por los auditores del fondo ni por terceros.

Al cierre del periodo anterior, el porcentaje de inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE era del 0.00%.

 son inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental que no tienen en cuenta los criterios de las actividades económicas sostenibles desde el punto de vista medioambiental en virtud del Reglamento (UE) 2020/852.

La cuota de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineado con la Taxonomía fue del 89.36% al cierre del periodo.

Esto se debe al hecho de que algunos emisores se consideran inversiones sostenibles con arreglo al Reglamento sobre la divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros (SFDR), pero presentan una parte de actividades que no se ajustan a las normas de la Taxonomía de la UE, o para las que aún no se dispone de datos con vistas a realizar una evaluación conforme a la Taxonomía de la UE.

 ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social?

El porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social al cierre del periodo era del 0.00%.

 ¿Qué inversiones se incluían en "otros", cuál era su finalidad y existían salvaguardias medioambientales o sociales mínimas?

El apartado "N.º 2 Otros" incluye el efectivo y otros instrumentos mantenidos con fines de liquidez y gestión del riesgo de la cartera. En el caso de los bonos y acciones sin calificación, se aplican unas salvaguardias medioambientales y sociales mínimas a través de un cribado de controversias respecto de los Principios del Pacto Mundial de Naciones Unidas.

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad están continuamente disponibles en el sistema de gestión de carteras, lo que permite a los gestores de carteras evaluar el impacto de sus decisiones de inversión.

Estos indicadores se integran en el marco de control de AMUNDI, repartiéndose las responsabilidades entre el primer nivel de controles, realizado por los propios equipos de Inversión, y el segundo nivel de controles, realizado por los equipos de Riesgos, que supervisan de forma continua el cumplimiento de las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el fondo.

Además, la Política de Inversión Responsable de AMUNDI establece un enfoque activo de interacción que promueve el diálogo con las empresas participadas, incluidas las que forman parte de la cartera de este producto. Nuestro Informe Anual de Interacción, disponible en <https://about.amundi.com/esg-documentation>, ofrece información detallada sobre esta iniciativa y sus resultados.

Una inversión sostenible es una inversión en una actividad económica que contribuya a un objetivo medioambiental o social, siempre que la inversión no cause un perjuicio significativo para ningún objetivo medioambiental o social y que las empresas participadas sigan prácticas de buen gobierno.

¿En qué medida se cumplió el objetivo de inversión sostenible de este producto financiero?

Durante el ejercicio, el producto promovió continuamente las características medioambientales y/o sociales con el objetivo de lograr una puntuación ESG superior a la puntuación ESG de su universo de inversión BLOOMBERG MSCI GLOBAL GREEN BOND HEDGED INDEX. Para determinar la puntuación ESG del Producto y el universo de inversión ESG, el desempeño ESG se evaluó continuamente comparando el desempeño medio de un título frente al sector del emisor del título, con respecto a cada una de las tres características: medioambiental, social y de gobierno corporativo.

El subfondo mantuvo la parte comprometida de su asignación invertida en el uso de bonos verdes. El objetivo de los bonos verdes es financiar proyectos que generen un impacto positivo y cuantificable en el medio ambiente. El indicador clave que mide el impacto de los bonos verdes es "Toneladas evitadas de emisiones de CO<sub>2</sub> por millón de EUR invertidos en un año". Más allá del análisis financiero cuantitativo y cualitativo de los bonos susceptibles de componer la cartera, el proceso de selección incluye una evaluación de la estrategia ESG a nivel del emisor y una evaluación de los bonos verdes tras varios puntos de análisis:

1. Amundi ha desarrollado un sistema propio de puntuación ESG basado en una escala de siete letras, que van de la A a la G, donde la A es la mejor calificación y la G, la peor. Cualquier emisor con una calificación G queda excluido de todas las carteras de gestión activa de Amundi. Llevamos a cabo la verificación de la calificación ESG del emisor y comprobamos la conformidad de la calificación con los criterios del fondo correspondiente. Como se ha indicado anteriormente, los emisores con una calificación G en la escala de calificación ESG de Amundi no son aptos para la inversión. Si hay puntos débiles, el equipo de Análisis ESG buscará con más detalle cualquier controversia sobre el pilar correspondiente (E, S y G).
2. Evaluación de los bonos verdes en términos de: (i) análisis del proyecto, mediante el análisis de la ubicación geográfica de los activos, la actuación sobre los activos, la evaluación de cualquier impacto adicional del proyecto ecológico en el medio ambiente, la biodiversidad, las comunidades locales u otros aspectos sociales (no causar un perjuicio significativo), la alineación con las normas del sector (por ejemplo, la alineación con los Principios de Bonos Verdes de la Asociación Internacional de Mercados de Capitales, la Iniciativa de Bonos Climáticos, la Taxonomía de la UE). (ii) análisis del emisor a nivel de estrategia global ESG y de controversias, (iii) justificación de la financiación verde (tipo de proyectos financiados, asignación de activos verdes, tipo de instrumentos que financian proyectos verdes) y (iv) transparencia (informe sobre bonos verdes, existencia de opiniones de segundas partes)
3. Supervisión continua (inversión a posteriori), que incluye la revisión periódica de la asignación y el informe de impacto del bono verde, las controversias en las que está involucrado el emisor y su estrategia medioambiental

Por último, todos los Bonos Verdes seleccionados deberán cumplir los criterios y directrices de los Principios de los Bonos Verdes publicados por la Asociación Internacional de Mercados de Capitales. Visite la Política de Inversión Responsable de Amundi para obtener más información al respecto.

● ¿Cómo se comportaron los indicadores de sostenibilidad?

Amundi ha desarrollado su propio proceso interno de calificación ESG basado en el enfoque "Best-in-class". Las calificaciones adaptadas a cada sector de actividad pretenden evaluar la dinámica en la que operan las empresas.

El indicador de sostenibilidad utilizado es la puntuación ESG del Producto que se mide con respecto a la puntuación ESG del universo de inversión ESG del Producto.

Al cierre del periodo:

- La calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera es 1.212 (C).
- La calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG es 0.935 (C).

La calificación ESG de Amundi utilizada para determinar la puntuación ESG es una puntuación cuantitativa ESG traducida en siete grados, que van de la A (el universo de mejores puntuaciones) a la G (la peor). En la escala de Calificación ESG de Amundi, los títulos pertenecientes a la lista de exclusión corresponden a una G. En el caso de los emisores corporativos, el desempeño ESG se evalúa en general y a nivel de criterios relevantes comparándolo con el desempeño medio de su sector, a través de la combinación de las tres dimensiones ESG:

- Dimensión medioambiental: analiza la capacidad de los emisores para controlar su impacto medioambiental directo e indirecto, limitando su consumo de energía, reduciendo sus emisiones de efecto invernadero, luchando contra el agotamiento de los recursos y protegiendo la biodiversidad.
- Dimensión social: analiza el funcionamiento de un emisor en dos conceptos distintos: su estrategia para desarrollar su capital humano y el respeto de los derechos humanos en general.

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad cuantifican cómo se alcanzan las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el producto financiero.

- Dimensión de gobierno corporativo: Evalúa la capacidad del emisor para garantizar la base de un marco de gobierno corporativo eficaz y generar valor a largo plazo.

Al final del periodo, la cartera posee un 96.23% de bonos verdes.

● ¿...y en comparación con periodos anteriores?

Para garantizar que las inversiones sostenibles no causan un perjuicio significativo ("DNSH"), Amundi utiliza dos filtros:

Más allá de los factores específicos de sostenibilidad cubiertos en el primer filtro, Amundi ha definido un segundo filtro, que no tiene en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas mencionados anteriormente, con el fin de verificar que la empresa no obtiene malos resultados desde un punto de vista medioambiental o social global en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, lo que corresponde a una puntuación medioambiental o social superior o igual a E utilizando la calificación ESG de Amundi.

- ¿Cómo se tuvieron en cuenta los indicadores de incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

Los indicadores de incidencias adversas se han tenido en cuenta tal y como se detalla en el primer filtro de no causar un daño significativo (DNSH) anterior.

El primer filtro DNSH se basa en el seguimiento de los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas del Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 cuando se dispone de datos sólidos mediante la combinación de los siguientes indicadores y umbrales o normas específicas:

- Tener una intensidad de CO<sub>2</sub> que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector (solo se aplica a sectores de alta intensidad), y
- Tener una diversidad en el Consejo de Administración que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, y
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con las condiciones de trabajo y los derechos humanos.
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con la biodiversidad y la contaminación

Las principales incidencias adversas son los efectos negativos más significativos de las decisiones de inversión sobre los factores de sostenibilidad relacionados con cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y laborales, el respeto de los derechos humanos y la lucha contra la corrupción y el soborno.

- ¿Estaban las inversiones sostenibles alineadas con las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos? Detalles:

Sí, las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos están integrados en nuestra metodología de puntuación ESG. Nuestra herramienta de calificación ESG propia evalúa a los emisores utilizando los datos disponibles de nuestros proveedores de datos. Por ejemplo, el modelo cuenta con un criterio específico denominado "Participación en la comunidad y derechos humanos", que se aplica a todos los sectores, además de otros criterios relacionados con los derechos humanos, como las cadenas de suministro socialmente responsables, las condiciones de trabajo y las relaciones laborales. Además, realizamos un seguimiento de las controversias, como mínimo trimestralmente, que incluye a las empresas identificadas por vulneraciones de los derechos humanos. Cuando surgen controversias, los analistas evalúan la situación y aplican una puntuación a la controversia (utilizando nuestra metodología de puntuación interna) y determinan el mejor curso de acción. Las puntuaciones de controversia se actualizan trimestralmente para realizar un seguimiento de la tendencia y de los esfuerzos de corrección.

El producto tiene en cuenta todas las Principales Incidencias Adversas obligatorias según el Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 que se aplica a la estrategia del producto y se basa en una combinación de políticas de exclusión (normativas y sectoriales), enfoques de implicación y voto:

- Exclusión: Amundi ha definido reglas de exclusión normativas, basadas en la actividad y sectoriales que abarcan algunos de los principales indicadores adversos de sostenibilidad enumerados por el Reglamento de Divulgación.
- Integración de factores ESG: Amundi ha adoptado normas mínimas de integración ESG aplicadas por defecto a sus fondos de capital variable y gestión activa (exclusión de emisores con calificación G y mejor puntuación media ponderada ESG superior a la del índice de referencia aplicable). Los 38 criterios utilizados en el enfoque de calificación ESG de Amundi también se diseñaron para tener en cuenta las principales incidencias en los factores de sostenibilidad, así como la calidad de la mitigación realizada, que también se tienen en cuenta a ese respecto.
- Compromiso: La interacción es un proceso continuo y orientado a un fin, cuyo objetivo es influir en las actividades o el comportamiento de las empresas participadas. El objetivo de las actividades de interacción puede clasificarse en dos categorías: comprometer a un emisor a mejorar la forma en que integra la dimensión medioambiental y social, comprometer a un emisor a mejorar su impacto en cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y relacionadas con los derechos humanos u otras cuestiones de sostenibilidad que son importantes para la sociedad y la economía mundial.
- Voto: La política de voto de Amundi responde a su análisis integral de todas las cuestiones a largo plazo que pueden influir en la creación de valor, incluidas cuestiones ESG sustanciales. Si desea obtener más información, consulte la Política de Voto de Amundi.
- Seguimiento de controversias: Amundi ha desarrollado un sistema de seguimiento de controversias que se basa en tres proveedores de datos externos para realizar un seguimiento sistemático de las controversias y su nivel de gravedad. Este enfoque cuantitativo se enriquece después con una evaluación en profundidad de cada controversia grave, dirigida por analistas ESG y la revisión periódica de su evolución. Este enfoque se aplica a todos los fondos de Amundi.

¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones relacionadas con la sostenibilidad?

● ¿Cuál era la asignación de activos?

La asignación de activos describe la cuota de inversiones en activos específicos.

N.º 1 Sostenible abarca las inversiones sostenibles con objetivos medioambientales o sociales. N.º 2 No sostenible incluye inversiones que no cumplen los requisitos para ser consideradas inversiones sostenibles.

● ¿En qué sectores económicos se realizaron las inversiones?

Para estar alineados con la Taxonomía de la UE, los criterios para el gas fósil incluyen limitaciones de emisiones y cambio a energías totalmente renovables o combustibles con bajas emisiones de carbono para finales de 2035. En el caso de la energía nuclear, los criterios incluyen normas exhaustivas de seguridad y gestión de residuos

¿En qué medida las inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

Sí:

En gas fósil

En energía nuclear

No

Durante el periodo no se dispuso de datos fiables sobre la alineación con la Taxonomía de la UE del gas fósil y la energía nuclear.

Las actividades alineadas con la Taxonomía se expresan como porcentaje de: -el volumen de negocio que refleja la proporción de ingresos procedentes de actividades ecológicas de las empresas participadas -las inversiones en inmovilizado (CapEx) que muestran las inversiones ecológicas realizadas por las empresas participadas, por ejemplo, para la transición a una economía verde - los gastos de explotación (OpEx) que reflejan las actividades operativas ecológicas de las empresas participadas

Los gráficos siguientes muestran en verde el porcentaje de inversiones que estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE. Como no existe una metodología adecuada para determinar la alineación con la Taxonomía de la deuda pública*, el primer gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía en relación con todas las inversiones del producto financiero, incluida la deuda pública, mientras que el segundo gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía solo en relación con las inversiones del producto financiero distintas de la deuda pública.

¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones en actividades de transición y habilitadoras?

Al cierre del periodo anterior, el porcentaje de inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE era del 0.00%.

¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

La cuota de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineado con la Taxonomía fue del 95.05% al cierre del periodo.

Esto se debe al hecho de que algunos emisores se consideran inversiones sostenibles con arreglo al Reglamento sobre la divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros (SFDR), pero presentan una parte de actividades que no se ajustan a las normas de la Taxonomía de la UE, o para las que aún no se dispone de datos con vistas a realizar una evaluación conforme a la Taxonomía de la UE.

¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social?

El porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social al cierre del periodo era del 0.00%.

¿Qué inversiones se incluían en "otros", cuál era su finalidad y existían salvaguardias medioambientales o sociales mínimas?

El apartado "N.º 2 Otros" incluye el efectivo y otros instrumentos mantenidos con fines de liquidez y gestión del riesgo de la cartera. En el caso de los bonos y acciones sin calificación, se aplican unas salvaguardias medioambientales y sociales mínimas a través de un cribado de controversias respecto de los Principios del Pacto Mundial de Naciones Unidas.

¿Qué medidas se han tomado para alcanzar las características medioambientales y/o sociales durante el periodo de referencia?

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad están continuamente disponibles en el sistema de gestión de carteras, lo que permite a los gestores de carteras evaluar el impacto de sus decisiones de inversión.

Estos indicadores se integran en el marco de control de AMUNDI, repartiéndose las responsabilidades entre el primer nivel de controles, realizado por los propios equipos de Inversión, y el segundo nivel de controles, realizado por los equipos de Riesgos, que supervisan de forma continua el cumplimiento de las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el fondo.

Además, la Política de Inversión Responsable de AMUNDI establece un enfoque activo de interacción que promueve el diálogo con las empresas participadas, incluidas las que forman parte de la cartera de este producto. Nuestro Informe Anual de Interacción, disponible en <https://about.amundi.com/esg-documentation>, ofrece información detallada sobre esta iniciativa y sus resultados.

Una inversión sostenible es una inversión en una actividad económica que contribuya a un objetivo medioambiental o social, siempre que la inversión no cause un perjuicio significativo para ningún objetivo medioambiental o social y que las empresas participadas sigan prácticas de buen gobierno.

¿En qué medida se cumplieron las características medioambientales y/o sociales promovidas por este producto financiero?

Durante el ejercicio, el producto promovió continuamente las características medioambientales y/o sociales con el objetivo de lograr una puntuación ESG superior a la puntuación ESG de su universo de inversión MSCI ACWI. Para determinar la puntuación ESG del Producto y el universo de inversión ESG, el desempeño ESG se evaluó continuamente comparando el desempeño medio de un título frente al sector del emisor del título, con respecto a cada una de las tres características: medioambiental, social y de gobierno corporativo.

El universo de inversión es un universo de mercado general que no evalúa ni incluye componentes basados en características medioambientales y/o sociales y, por lo tanto, no pretende ser coherente con las características promovidas por el fondo. No se ha designado ningún índice de referencia ESG.

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad cuantifican cómo se alcanzan las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el producto financiero.

● ¿Cómo se comportaron los indicadores de sostenibilidad?

Amundi ha desarrollado su propio proceso interno de calificación ESG basado en el enfoque "Best-in-class". Las calificaciones adaptadas a cada sector de actividad pretenden evaluar la dinámica en la que operan las empresas.

El indicador de sostenibilidad utilizado es la puntuación ESG del Producto que se mide con respecto a la puntuación ESG del universo de inversión ESG del Producto.

Al cierre del periodo:

- La calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera es 0.243 (D).
- La calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG es -0.171 (D).

La calificación ESG de Amundi utilizada para determinar la puntuación ESG es una puntuación cuantitativa ESG traducida en siete grados, que van de la A (el universo de mejores puntuaciones) a la G (la peor). En la escala de Calificación ESG de Amundi, los títulos pertenecientes a la lista de exclusión corresponden a una G. En el caso de los emisores corporativos, el desempeño ESG se evalúa en general y a nivel de criterios relevantes comparándolo con el desempeño medio de su sector, a través de la combinación de las tres dimensiones ESG:

- Dimensión medioambiental: analiza la capacidad de los emisores para controlar su impacto medioambiental directo e indirecto, limitando su consumo de energía, reduciendo sus emisiones de efecto invernadero, luchando contra el agotamiento de los recursos y protegiendo la biodiversidad.
- Dimensión social: analiza el funcionamiento de un emisor en dos conceptos distintos: su estrategia para desarrollar su capital humano y el respeto de los derechos humanos en general.
- Dimensión de gobierno corporativo: Evalúa la capacidad del emisor para garantizar la base de un marco de gobierno corporativo eficaz y generar valor a largo plazo.

● ¿...y en comparación con periodos anteriores?

Este es el primer informe periódico SFDR elaborado para este subfondo.

● ¿Cuáles eran los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero pretende realizar parcialmente y cómo contribuía la inversión sostenible a dichos objetivos?

Los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles son invertir en empresas participadas que traten de cumplir dos criterios:

1. seguir las mejores prácticas medioambientales y sociales; y
2. evitar fabricar productos o prestar servicios que perjudiquen al medio ambiente y a la sociedad.

Para que se considere que la empresa en la que se invierte contribuye al objetivo mencionado, debe ser uno de los "mejores actores" dentro de su sector de actividad en al menos uno de sus factores medioambientales o sociales materiales.

La definición de "mejor actor" se basa en la metodología ESG propia de Amundi, cuyo objetivo es cuantificar el desempeño ESG de una empresa participada. Para ser considerada "mejor actor", una empresa participada debe obtener las tres mejores calificaciones (A, B o C, en una escala de calificación que va de la A a la G) dentro de su sector en al menos un factor medioambiental o social material. Los factores medioambientales y sociales materiales se identifican a nivel sectorial. La identificación de factores materiales se basa en el marco de análisis ESG de Amundi, que combina datos extrafinancieros y análisis cualitativos de temáticas sectoriales y de sostenibilidad afines. Los factores identificados como materiales suponen una contribución de más del 10% a la puntuación ESG global. En el sector energético, por ejemplo, los factores materiales son: emisiones y energía, biodiversidad y contaminación, salud y seguridad, comunidades locales y derechos humanos. Si desea obtener una descripción más completa de los sectores

y factores, consulte la Declaración Reglamentaria ESG de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.lu. Para contribuir a los objetivos anteriores, la empresa participada no debe tener una exposición significativa a actividades (por ejemplo, tabaco, armas, juegos de azar, carbón, aviación, producción de carne, fabricación de fertilizantes y pesticidas, producción de plásticos de un solo uso) que no sean compatibles con dichos criterios.

El carácter sostenible de una inversión se evalúa a nivel de la empresa participada.

Las principales incidencias adversas

son los efectos negativos más significativos de las decisiones de inversión sobre los factores de sostenibilidad relacionados con cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y laborales, el respeto de los derechos humanos y la lucha contra la corrupción y el soborno.

● ¿De qué manera las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero realizó parcialmente no causaron un perjuicio significativo a ningún objetivo de inversión sostenible desde el punto de vista medioambiental o social?

Para garantizar que las inversiones sostenibles no causan un perjuicio significativo ("DNSH"), Amundi utiliza dos filtros:

Más allá de los factores específicos de sostenibilidad cubiertos en el primer filtro, Amundi ha definido un segundo filtro, que no tiene en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas mencionados anteriormente, con el fin de verificar que la empresa no obtiene malos resultados desde un punto de vista medioambiental o social global en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, lo que corresponde a una puntuación medioambiental o social superior o igual a E utilizando la calificación ESG de Amundi.

- ¿Cómo se tuvieron en cuenta los indicadores de incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

Los indicadores de incidencias adversas se han tenido en cuenta tal y como se detalla en el primer filtro de no causar un daño significativo (DNSH) anterior.

El primer filtro DNSH se basa en el seguimiento de los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas del Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 cuando se dispone de datos sólidos mediante la combinación de los siguientes indicadores y umbrales o normas específicas:

- Tener una intensidad de CO<sub>2</sub> que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector (solo se aplica a sectores de alta intensidad), y
- Tener una diversidad en el Consejo de Administración que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, y
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con las condiciones de trabajo y los derechos humanos.
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con la biodiversidad y la contaminación

Sí, las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos están integrados en nuestra metodología de puntuación ESG. Nuestra herramienta de calificación ESG propia evalúa a los emisores utilizando los datos disponibles de nuestros proveedores de datos. Por ejemplo, el modelo cuenta con un criterio específico denominado "Participación en la comunidad y derechos humanos", que se aplica a todos los sectores, además de otros criterios relacionados con los derechos humanos, como las cadenas de suministro socialmente responsables, las condiciones de trabajo y las relaciones laborales. Además, realizamos un seguimiento de las controversias, como mínimo trimestralmente, que incluye a las empresas identificadas por vulneraciones de los derechos humanos. Cuando surgen controversias, los analistas evalúan la situación y aplican una puntuación a la controversia (utilizando nuestra metodología de puntuación interna) y determinan el mejor curso de acción. Las puntuaciones de controversia se actualizan trimestralmente para realizar un seguimiento de la tendencia y de los esfuerzos de corrección.

Cualquier otra inversión sostenible tampoco debe causar perjuicio significativo a ningún objetivo medioambiental o social.

¿Cómo tuvo en cuenta este producto financiero las principales incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

El producto tiene en cuenta todas las Principales Incidencias Adversas obligatorias según el Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 que se aplica a la estrategia del producto y se basa en una combinación de políticas de exclusión (normativas y sectoriales), enfoques de implicación y voto:

- Exclusión: Amundi ha definido reglas de exclusión normativas, basadas en la actividad y sectoriales que abarcan algunos de los principales indicadores adversos de sostenibilidad enumerados por el Reglamento de Divulgación.
- Integración de factores ESG: Amundi ha adoptado normas mínimas de integración ESG aplicadas por defecto a sus fondos de capital variable y gestión activa (exclusión de emisores con calificación G y mejor puntuación media ponderada ESG superior a la del índice de referencia aplicable). Los 38 criterios utilizados en el enfoque de calificación ESG de Amundi también se diseñaron para tener en cuenta las principales incidencias en los factores de sostenibilidad, así como la calidad de la mitigación realizada, que también se tienen en cuenta a ese respecto.
- Compromiso: La interacción es un proceso continuo y orientado a un fin, cuyo objetivo es influir en las actividades o el comportamiento de las empresas participadas. El objetivo de las actividades de interacción puede clasificarse en dos categorías: comprometer a un emisor a mejorar la forma en que integra la dimensión medioambiental y social, comprometer a un emisor a mejorar su impacto en cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y relacionadas con los derechos humanos u otras cuestiones de sostenibilidad que son importantes para la sociedad y la economía mundial.
- Voto: La política de voto de Amundi responde a su análisis integral de todas las cuestiones a largo plazo que pueden influir en la creación de valor, incluidas cuestiones ESG sustanciales. Si desea obtener más información, consulte la Política de Voto de Amundi.
- Seguimiento de controversias: Amundi ha desarrollado un sistema de seguimiento de controversias que se basa en tres proveedores de datos externos para realizar un seguimiento sistemático de las controversias y su nivel de gravedad. Este enfoque cuantitativo se enriquece después con una evaluación en profundidad de cada controversia grave, dirigida por analistas ESG y la revisión periódica de su evolución. Este enfoque se aplica a todos los fondos de Amundi.

Si desea más información sobre cómo se tienen en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas, consulte la Declaración de divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.com.

Para estar alineados con la Taxonomía de la UE, los criterios para el gas fósil incluyen limitaciones de emisiones y cambio a energías totalmente renovables o combustibles con bajas emisiones de carbono para finales de 2035. En el caso de la energía nuclear, los criterios incluyen normas exhaustivas de seguridad y gestión de residuos

Las actividades habilitadoras permiten directamente que otras actividades contribuyan de forma sustancial a un objetivo medioambiental.

¿En qué medida las inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

El fondo promueve características tanto medioambientales como sociales. Aunque el fondo no se comprometió a realizar inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE, durante el periodo contable el fondo invirtió un 0.04% en inversiones sostenibles alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE. Estas inversiones contribuyeron a la obligación de lucha contra el cambio climático o a los objetivos de mitigación del cambio climático de la Taxonomía de la UE.

Sí:

No

Durante el periodo no se dispuso de datos fiables sobre la alineación con la Taxonomía de la UE del gas fósil y la energía nuclear.

Las actividades alineadas con la Taxonomía se expresan como porcentaje de: -el volumen de negocio que refleja la proporción de ingresos procedentes de actividades ecológicas de las empresas participadas -las inversiones en inmovilizado (CapEx) que muestran las inversiones ecológicas realizadas por las empresas participadas, por ejemplo, para la transición a una economía verde. - los gastos de explotación (OpEx) que reflejan las actividades operativas ecológicas de las empresas participadas.

Los gráficos siguientes muestran en verde el porcentaje de inversiones que estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE. Como no existe una metodología adecuada para determinar la alineación con la Taxonomía de la deuda pública*, el primer gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía en relación con todas las inversiones del producto financiero, incluida la deuda pública, mientras que el segundo gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía solo en relación con las inversiones del producto financiero distintas de la deuda pública.

● ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones en actividades de transición y habilitadoras?

● ¿Cómo era el porcentaje de inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE respecto de los periodos de referencia anteriores?

Este es el primer informe periódico SFDR elaborado para este subfondo.

son inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental que no tienen en cuenta los criterios de las actividades económicas sostenibles desde el punto de vista medioambiental en virtud del Reglamento (UE) 2020/852.

¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

La cuota de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineado con la Taxonomía fue del 37.87% al cierre del periodo.

Esto se debe al hecho de que algunos emisores se consideran inversiones sostenibles con arreglo al Reglamento sobre la divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros (SFDR), pero presentan una parte de actividades que no se ajustan a las normas de la Taxonomía de la UE, o para las que aún no se dispone de datos con vistas a realizar una evaluación conforme a la Taxonomía de la UE.

¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social?

El porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social al cierre del periodo era del 7.69%.

¿Qué inversiones se incluían en "otros", cuál era su finalidad y existían salvaguardias medioambientales o sociales mínimas?

El apartado "N.º 2 Otros" incluye el efectivo y otros instrumentos mantenidos con fines de liquidez y gestión del riesgo de la cartera. En el caso de los bonos y acciones sin calificación, se aplican unas salvaguardias medioambientales y sociales mínimas a través de un cribado de controversias respecto de los Principios del Pacto Mundial de Naciones Unidas. También puede incluir valores sin calificación ESG para los que no se disponga de los datos necesarios para cuantificar de la consecución de las características medioambientales o sociales.

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad están continuamente disponibles en el sistema de gestión de carteras, lo que permite a los gestores de carteras evaluar el impacto de sus decisiones de inversión.

Estos indicadores se integran en el marco de control de AMUNDI, repartiéndose las responsabilidades entre el primer nivel de controles, realizado por los propios equipos de Inversión, y el segundo nivel de controles, realizado por los equipos de Riesgos, que supervisan de forma continua el cumplimiento de las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el fondo.

Además, la Política de Inversión Responsable de AMUNDI establece un enfoque activo de interacción que promueve el diálogo con las empresas participadas, incluidas las que forman parte de la cartera de este producto. Nuestro Informe Anual de Interacción, disponible en <https://about.amundi.com/esg-documentation>, ofrece información detallada sobre esta iniciativa y sus resultados.

Una inversión sostenible es una inversión en una actividad económica que contribuya a un objetivo medioambiental o social, siempre que la inversión no cause un perjuicio significativo para ningún objetivo medioambiental o social y que las empresas participadas sigan prácticas de buen gobierno.

La Taxonomía de la UE es un sistema de clasificación establecido en el Reglamento (UE) 2020/852, que determina una lista de actividades económicas sostenibles desde el punto de vista medioambiental. Dicho Reglamento no incluye una lista de actividades económicas socialmente sostenibles. Las inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental podrían estar alineadas con la Taxonomía o no.

¿En qué medida se cumplieron las características medioambientales y/o sociales promovidas por este producto financiero?

Durante el ejercicio, el producto promovió continuamente las características medioambientales y/o sociales con el objetivo de lograr una puntuación ESG superior a la puntuación ESG de su universo de inversión MSCI EMU. Para determinar la puntuación ESG del Producto y el universo de inversión ESG, el desempeño ESG se evaluó continuamente comparando el desempeño medio de un título frente al sector del emisor del título, con respecto a cada una de las tres características: medioambiental, social y de gobierno corporativo.

El universo de inversión es un universo de mercado general que no evalúa ni incluye componentes basados en características medioambientales y/o sociales y, por lo tanto, no pretende ser coherente con las características promovidas por el fondo. No se ha designado ningún índice de referencia ESG.

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad cuantifican cómo se alcanzan las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el producto financiero.

● ¿Cómo se comportaron los indicadores de sostenibilidad?

Amundi ha desarrollado su propio proceso interno de calificación ESG basado en el enfoque "Best-in-class". Las calificaciones adaptadas a cada sector de actividad pretenden evaluar la dinámica en la que operan las empresas.

El indicador de sostenibilidad utilizado es la puntuación ESG del Producto que se mide con respecto a la puntuación ESG del universo de inversión ESG del Producto.

Al cierre del periodo:

- La calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera es 1.174 (C).
- La calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG es 1.030 (C).

La calificación ESG de Amundi utilizada para determinar la puntuación ESG es una puntuación cuantitativa ESG traducida en siete grados, que van de la A (el universo de mejores puntuaciones) a la G (la peor). En la escala de Calificación ESG de Amundi, los títulos pertenecientes a la lista de exclusión corresponden a una G. En el caso de los emisores corporativos, el desempeño ESG se evalúa en general y a nivel de criterios relevantes comparándolo con el desempeño medio de su sector, a través de la combinación de las tres dimensiones ESG:

- Dimensión medioambiental: analiza la capacidad de los emisores para controlar su impacto medioambiental directo e indirecto, limitando su consumo de energía, reduciendo sus emisiones de efecto invernadero, luchando contra el agotamiento de los recursos y protegiendo la biodiversidad.
- Dimensión social: analiza el funcionamiento de un emisor en dos conceptos distintos: su estrategia para desarrollar su capital humano y el respeto de los derechos humanos en general;
- Dimensión de gobierno corporativo: Evalúa la capacidad del emisor para garantizar la base de un marco de gobierno corporativo eficaz y generar valor a largo plazo.

● ¿...y en comparación con periodos anteriores?

Al cierre del periodo anterior, la calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera era de 1.11 (C) y la calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG era de 1.03 (C).

● ¿Cuáles eran los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero pretende realizar parcialmente y cómo contribuía la inversión sostenible a dichos objetivos?

Los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles son invertir en empresas participadas que traten de cumplir dos criterios:

1. seguir las mejores prácticas medioambientales y sociales; y
2. evitar fabricar productos o prestar servicios que perjudiquen al medio ambiente y a la sociedad.

Para que se considere que la empresa en la que se invierte contribuye al objetivo mencionado, debe ser uno de los "mejores actores" dentro de su sector de actividad en al menos uno de sus factores medioambientales o sociales materiales.

Reglamentaria ESG de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.lu.

Para contribuir a los objetivos anteriores, la empresa participada no debe tener una exposición significativa a actividades (por ejemplo, tabaco, armas, juegos de azar, carbón, aviación, producción de carne, fabricación de fertilizantes y pesticidas, producción de plásticos de un solo uso) que no sean compatibles con dichos criterios.

El carácter sostenible de una inversión se evalúa a nivel de la empresa participada.

Las principales incidencias adversas

son los efectos negativos más significativos de las decisiones de inversión sobre los factores de sostenibilidad relacionados con cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y laborales, el respeto de los derechos humanos y la lucha contra la corrupción y el soborno.

● ¿De qué manera las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero realizó parcialmente no causaron un perjuicio significativo a ningún objetivo de inversión sostenible desde el punto de vista medioambiental o social?

Para garantizar que las inversiones sostenibles no causan un perjuicio significativo ("DNSH"), Amundi utiliza dos filtros:

Más allá de los factores específicos de sostenibilidad cubiertos en el primer filtro, Amundi ha definido un segundo filtro, que no tiene en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas mencionados anteriormente, con el fin de verificar que la empresa no obtiene malos resultados desde un punto de vista medioambiental o social global en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, lo que corresponde a una puntuación medioambiental o social superior o igual a E utilizando la calificación ESG de Amundi.

- ¿Cómo se tuvieron en cuenta los indicadores de incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

Los indicadores de incidencias adversas se han tenido en cuenta tal y como se detalla en el primer filtro de no causar un daño significativo (DNSH) anterior.

El primer filtro DNSH se basa en el seguimiento de los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas del Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 cuando se dispone de datos sólidos mediante la combinación de los siguientes indicadores y umbrales o normas específicas:

- Tener una intensidad de CO<sub>2</sub> que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector (solo se aplica a sectores de alta intensidad), y
- Tener una diversidad en el Consejo de Administración que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, y
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con las condiciones de trabajo y los derechos humanos.
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con la biodiversidad y la contaminación

- ¿Estaban las inversiones sostenibles alineadas con las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos? Detalles:

Sí, las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos están integrados en nuestra metodología de puntuación ESG. Nuestra herramienta de calificación ESG propia evalúa a los emisores utilizando los datos disponibles de nuestros proveedores de datos.

Por ejemplo, el modelo cuenta con un criterio específico denominado "Participación en la comunidad y derechos humanos", que se aplica a todos los sectores, además de otros criterios relacionados con los derechos humanos, como las cadenas de suministro socialmente responsables, las condiciones de trabajo y las relaciones laborales. Además, realizamos un seguimiento de las controversias, como mínimo trimestralmente, que incluye a las empresas identificadas por vulneraciones de los derechos humanos. Cuando surgen controversias, los analistas evalúan la situación y aplican una puntuación a la controversia (utilizando nuestra metodología de puntuación interna) y determinan el mejor curso de acción. Las puntuaciones de controversia se actualizan trimestralmente para realizar un seguimiento de la tendencia y de los esfuerzos de corrección.

Cualquier otra inversión sostenible tampoco debe causar perjuicio significativo a ningún objetivo medioambiental o social.

¿Cómo tuvo en cuenta este producto financiero las principales incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

El producto tiene en cuenta todas las Principales Incidencias Adversas obligatorias según el Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 que se aplica a la estrategia del producto y se basa en una combinación de políticas de exclusión (normativas y sectoriales), enfoques de implicación y voto:

- Exclusión: Amundi ha definido reglas de exclusión normativas, basadas en la actividad y sectoriales que abarcan algunos de los principales indicadores adversos de sostenibilidad enumerados por el Reglamento de Divulgación.
- Integración de factores ESG: Amundi ha adoptado normas mínimas de integración ESG aplicadas por defecto a sus fondos de capital variable y gestión activa (exclusión de emisores con calificación G y mejor puntuación media ponderada ESG superior a la del índice de referencia aplicable). Los 38 criterios utilizados en el enfoque de calificación ESG de Amundi también se diseñaron para tener en cuenta las principales incidencias en los factores de sostenibilidad, así como la calidad de la mitigación realizada, que también se tienen en cuenta a ese respecto.
- Compromiso: La interacción es un proceso continuo y orientado a un fin, cuyo objetivo es influir en las actividades o el comportamiento de las empresas participadas. El objetivo de las actividades de interacción puede clasificarse en dos categorías: comprometer a un emisor a mejorar la forma en que integra la dimensión medioambiental y social, comprometer a un emisor a mejorar su impacto en cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y relacionadas con los derechos humanos u otras cuestiones de sostenibilidad que son importantes para la sociedad y la economía mundial.
- Voto: La política de voto de Amundi responde a su análisis integral de todas las cuestiones a largo plazo que pueden influir en la creación de valor, incluidas cuestiones ESG sustanciales. Si desea obtener más información, consulte la Política de Voto de Amundi.
- Seguimiento de controversias: Amundi ha desarrollado un sistema de seguimiento de controversias que se basa en tres proveedores de datos externos para realizar un seguimiento sistemático de las controversias y su nivel de gravedad. Este enfoque cuantitativo se enriquece después con una evaluación en profundidad de cada controversia grave, dirigida por analistas ESG y la revisión periódica de su evolución. Este enfoque se aplica a todos los fondos de Amundi.

Si desea más información sobre cómo se tienen en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas, consulte la Declaración de divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.com.

Para estar alineados con la Taxonomía de la UE, los criterios para el gas fósil incluyen limitaciones de emisiones y cambio a energías totalmente renovables o combustibles con bajas emisiones de carbono para finales de 2035. En el caso de la energía nuclear, los criterios incluyen normas exhaustivas de seguridad y gestión de residuos.

Las actividades habilitadoras permiten directamente que otras actividades contribuyan de forma sustancial a un objetivo medioambiental.

Las actividades de transición son actividades para las que aún no se dispone de alternativas con bajas emisiones de carbono y, entre otros, tienen niveles de

¿En qué medida las inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

El fondo promueve características tanto medioambientales como sociales. Aunque el fondo no se comprometió a realizar inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE, durante el periodo contable el fondo invirtió un 3.18% en inversiones sostenibles alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE. Estas inversiones contribuyeron a los objetivos de mitigación del cambio climático de la Taxonomía de la UE.

La alineación de las empresas participadas con los objetivos de la Taxonomía de la UE antes mencionados se cuantifica utilizando datos sobre el volumen de negocio (o los ingresos) y/o el uso del producto obtenido de bonos verdes.

☐ Sí:

☐ En gas fósil      ☐ En energía nuclear

☒ No

Durante el periodo no se dispuso de datos fiables sobre la alineación con la Taxonomía de la UE del gas fósil y la energía nuclear.

emisión de gases de efecto invernadero correspondientes al mejor rendimiento.

Las actividades alineadas con la Taxonomía se expresan como porcentaje de:

- el volumen de negocio que refleja la proporción de ingresos procedentes de actividades ecológicas de las empresas participadas
- las inversiones en inmovilizado (CapEx) que muestran las inversiones ecológicas realizadas por las empresas participadas, por ejemplo, para la transición a una economía verde
- los gastos de explotación (OpEx) que reflejan las actividades operativas ecológicas de las empresas participadas

Los gráficos siguientes muestran en verde el porcentaje de inversiones que estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE. Como no existe una metodología adecuada para determinar la alineación con la Taxonomía de la deuda pública*, el primer gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía en relación con todas las inversiones del producto financiero, incluida la deuda pública, mientras que el segundo gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía solo en relación con las inversiones del producto financiero distintas de la deuda pública.

* A efectos de estos gráficos, la "deuda pública" abarca todas las exposiciones a deuda pública.

● ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones en actividades de transición y habilitadoras?

● ¿Cómo era el porcentaje de inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE respecto de los periodos de referencia anteriores?

Al cierre del periodo anterior, el porcentaje de inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE era del 2.91%.

● ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

La cuota de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineado con la Taxonomía fue del 64.90% al cierre del periodo.

Esto se debe al hecho de que algunos emisores se consideran inversiones sostenibles con arreglo al Reglamento sobre la divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros (SFDR), pero presentan una parte de actividades que no se ajustan a las normas de la Taxonomía de la UE, o para las que aún no se dispone de datos con vistas a realizar una evaluación conforme a la Taxonomía de la UE.

● ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social?

El porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social al cierre del periodo era del 9.18%.

son inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental que no tienen en cuenta los criterios de las actividades económicas sostenibles desde el punto de vista medioambiental en virtud del Reglamento (UE) 2020/852.

El apartado "N.º 2 Otros" incluye el efectivo y otros instrumentos mantenidos con fines de liquidez y gestión del riesgo de la cartera. En el caso de los bonos y acciones sin calificación, se aplican unas salvaguardias medioambientales y sociales mínimas a través de un cribado de controversias respecto de los Principios del Pacto Mundial de Naciones Unidas. También puede incluir valores sin calificación ESG para los que no se disponga de los datos necesarios para cuantificar de la consecución de las características medioambientales o sociales.

¿Qué medidas se han tomado para alcanzar las características medioambientales y/o sociales durante el periodo de referencia?

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad están continuamente disponibles en el sistema de gestión de carteras, lo que permite a los gestores de carteras evaluar el impacto de sus decisiones de inversión. Estos indicadores se integran en el marco de control de AMUNDI, repartiéndose las responsabilidades entre el primer nivel de controles, realizado por los propios equipos de Inversión, y el segundo nivel de controles, realizado por los equipos de Riesgos, que supervisan de forma continua el cumplimiento de las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el fondo.

Además, la Política de Inversión Responsable de AMUNDI establece un enfoque activo de interacción que promueve el diálogo con las empresas participadas, incluidas las que forman parte de la cartera de este producto. Nuestro Informe Anual de Interacción, disponible en <https://about.amundi.com/esg-documentation>, ofrece información detallada sobre esta iniciativa y sus resultados.

Una inversión sostenible es una inversión en una actividad económica que contribuya a un objetivo medioambiental o social, siempre que la inversión no cause un perjuicio significativo para ningún objetivo medioambiental o social y que las empresas participadas sigan prácticas de buen gobierno.

La Taxonomía de la UE es un sistema de clasificación establecido en el Reglamento (UE) 2020/852, que determina una lista de actividades económicas sostenibles desde el punto de vista medioambiental. Dicho Reglamento no incluye una lista de actividades económicas socialmente sostenibles. Las inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental podrían estar alineadas con la Taxonomía o no.

¿En qué medida se cumplieron las características medioambientales y/o sociales promovidas por este producto financiero?

Durante el ejercicio, el producto promovió continuamente las características medioambientales y/o sociales con el objetivo de lograr una puntuación ESG superior a la puntuación ESG de su universo de inversión MSCI EUROPE (15). Para determinar la puntuación ESG del Producto y el universo de inversión ESG, el desempeño ESG se evaluó continuamente comparando el desempeño medio de un título frente al sector del emisor del título, con respecto a cada una de las tres características: medioambiental, social y de gobierno corporativo.

La gestora de inversiones ha centrado el proceso de inversión en empresas/sectores/países que han adoptado, o adoptarán, una trayectoria positiva en materia de ESG dentro de su negocio. La gestora de inversiones identificó oportunidades de inversión alineadas con el objetivo de generar alfa, centrándose en particular en la inclusión de empresas/sectores/países que serán sólidos ganadores en materia de ESG en el futuro, que tienen (o tendrán) una mejora positiva del perfil ESG, al tiempo que invierte en empresas/sectores/países que actualmente son líderes en materia de ESG.

Además, el Subfondo busca lograr una puntuación ESG en su cartera superior a la del Índice de referencia. El Subfondo se comparó con la puntuación ESG de su Índice de referencia después de excluir del Índice de referencia el 20% de los valores con la calificación ESG más baja.

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad cuantifican cómo se alcanzan las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el producto financiero.

● ¿Cómo se comportaron los indicadores de sostenibilidad?

Amundi ha desarrollado su propio proceso interno de calificación ESG basado en el enfoque "Best-in-class". Las calificaciones adaptadas a cada sector de actividad pretenden evaluar la dinámica en la que operan las empresas.

El indicador de sostenibilidad utilizado es la puntuación ESG del Producto que se mide con respecto a la puntuación ESG del universo de inversión ESG del Producto.

Al cierre del periodo:

- La calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera es 1.145 (C).
- La calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG es 0.798 (C).

La calificación ESG de Amundi utilizada para determinar la puntuación ESG es una puntuación cuantitativa ESG traducida en siete grados, que van de la A (el universo de mejores puntuaciones) a la G (la peor). En la escala de Calificación ESG de Amundi, los títulos pertenecientes a la lista de exclusión corresponden a una G. En el caso de los emisores corporativos, el desempeño ESG se evalúa en general y a nivel de criterios relevantes comparándolo con el desempeño medio de su sector, a través de la combinación de las tres dimensiones ESG:

- Dimensión medioambiental: analiza la capacidad de los emisores para controlar su impacto medioambiental directo e indirecto, limitando su consumo de energía, reduciendo sus emisiones de efecto invernadero, luchando contra el agotamiento de los recursos y protegiendo la biodiversidad.
- Dimensión social: analiza el funcionamiento de un emisor en dos conceptos distintos: su estrategia para desarrollar su capital humano y el respeto de los derechos humanos en general;
- Dimensión de gobierno corporativo: Evalúa la capacidad del emisor para garantizar la base de un marco de gobierno corporativo eficaz y generar valor a largo plazo.

● ¿...y en comparación con periodos anteriores?

Al cierre del periodo anterior, la calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera era de 0.19 (C) y la calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG era de 0.80 (C).

● ¿Cuáles eran los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero pretende realizar parcialmente y cómo contribuía la inversión sostenible a dichos objetivos?

Los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles son invertir en empresas participadas que traten de cumplir dos criterios:

1. seguir las mejores prácticas medioambientales y sociales; y
2. evitar fabricar productos o prestar servicios que perjudiquen al medio ambiente y a la sociedad.

Para que se considere que la empresa en la que se invierte contribuye al objetivo mencionado, debe ser uno de los "mejores actores" dentro de su sector de actividad en al menos uno de sus factores medioambientales o sociales materiales.

calificación que va de la A a la G) dentro de su sector en al menos un factor medioambiental o social material. Los factores medioambientales y sociales materiales se identifican a nivel sectorial. La identificación de factores materiales se basa en el marco de análisis ESG de Amundi, que combina datos extrafinancieros y análisis cualitativos de temáticas sectoriales y de sostenibilidad afines. Los factores identificados como materiales suponen una contribución de más del 10% a la puntuación ESG global. En el sector energético, por ejemplo, los factores materiales son: emisiones y energía, biodiversidad y contaminación, salud y seguridad, comunidades locales y derechos humanos. Si desea obtener una descripción más completa de los sectores y factores, consulte la Declaración Reglamentaria ESG de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.lu.

Para contribuir a los objetivos anteriores, la empresa participada no debe tener una exposición significativa a actividades (por ejemplo, tabaco, armas, juegos de azar, carbón, aviación, producción de carne, fabricación de fertilizantes y pesticidas, producción de plásticos de un solo uso) que no sean compatibles con dichos criterios.

El carácter sostenible de una inversión se evalúa a nivel de la empresa participada.

Las principales incidencias adversas

son los efectos negativos más significativos de las decisiones de inversión sobre los factores de sostenibilidad relacionados con cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y laborales, el respeto de los derechos humanos y la lucha contra la corrupción y el soborno.

● ¿De qué manera las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero realizó parcialmente no causaron un perjuicio significativo a ningún objetivo de inversión sostenible desde el punto de vista medioambiental o social?

Para garantizar que las inversiones sostenibles no causan un perjuicio significativo ("DNSH"), Amundi utiliza dos filtros:

Más allá de los factores específicos de sostenibilidad cubiertos en el primer filtro, Amundi ha definido un segundo filtro, que no tiene en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas mencionados anteriormente, con el fin de verificar que la empresa no obtiene malos resultados desde un punto de vista medioambiental o social global en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, lo que corresponde a una puntuación medioambiental o social superior o igual a E utilizando la calificación ESG de Amundi.

- ¿Cómo se tuvieron en cuenta los indicadores de incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

Los indicadores de incidencias adversas se han tenido en cuenta tal y como se detalla en el primer filtro de no causar un daño significativo (DNSH) anterior.

El primer filtro DNSH se basa en el seguimiento de los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas del Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 cuando se dispone de datos sólidos mediante la combinación de los siguientes indicadores y umbrales o normas específicas:

- Tener una intensidad de CO<sub>2</sub> que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector (solo se aplica a sectores de alta intensidad), y
- Tener una diversidad en el Consejo de Administración que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, y
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con las condiciones de trabajo y los derechos humanos.
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con la biodiversidad y la contaminación

- ¿Estaban las inversiones sostenibles alineadas con las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos? Detalles:

Sí, las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos están integrados en nuestra metodología de puntuación ESG. Nuestra herramienta de calificación ESG propia evalúa a los emisores utilizando los datos disponibles de nuestros proveedores de datos.

Por ejemplo, el modelo cuenta con un criterio específico denominado "Participación en la comunidad y derechos humanos", que se aplica a todos los sectores, además de otros criterios relacionados con los derechos humanos, como las cadenas de suministro socialmente responsables, las condiciones de trabajo y las relaciones laborales. Además, realizamos un seguimiento de las controversias, como mínimo trimestralmente, que incluye a las empresas identificadas por vulneraciones de los derechos humanos. Cuando surgen controversias, los analistas evalúan la situación y aplican una puntuación a la controversia (utilizando nuestra metodología de puntuación interna) y determinan el mejor curso de acción. Las puntuaciones de controversia se actualizan trimestralmente para realizar un seguimiento de la tendencia y de los esfuerzos de corrección.

Cualquier otra inversión sostenible tampoco debe causar perjuicio significativo a ningún objetivo medioambiental o social.

¿Cómo tuvo en cuenta este producto financiero las principales incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

El producto tiene en cuenta todas las Principales Incidencias Adversas obligatorias según el Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 que se aplica a la estrategia del producto y se basa en una combinación de políticas de exclusión (normativas y sectoriales), enfoques de implicación y voto:

- Exclusión: Amundi ha definido reglas de exclusión normativas, basadas en la actividad y sectoriales que abarcan algunos de los principales indicadores adversos de sostenibilidad enumerados por el Reglamento de Divulgación.
- Integración de factores ESG: Amundi ha adoptado normas mínimas de integración ESG aplicadas por defecto a sus fondos de capital variable y gestión activa (exclusión de emisores con calificación G y mejor puntuación media ponderada ESG superior a la del índice de referencia aplicable). Los 38 criterios utilizados en el enfoque de calificación ESG de Amundi también se diseñaron para tener en cuenta las principales incidencias en los factores de sostenibilidad, así como la calidad de la mitigación realizada, que también se tienen en cuenta a ese respecto.
- Compromiso: La interacción es un proceso continuo y orientado a un fin, cuyo objetivo es influir en las actividades o el comportamiento de las empresas participadas. El objetivo de las actividades de interacción puede clasificarse en dos categorías: comprometer a un emisor a mejorar la forma en que integra la dimensión medioambiental y social, comprometer a un emisor a mejorar su impacto en cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y relacionadas con los derechos humanos u otras cuestiones de sostenibilidad que son importantes para la sociedad y la economía mundial.

- Voto: La política de voto de Amundi responde a su análisis integral de todas las cuestiones a largo plazo que pueden influir en la creación de valor, incluidas cuestiones ESG sustanciales. Si desea obtener más información, consulte la Política de Voto de Amundi.
- Seguimiento de controversias: Amundi ha desarrollado un sistema de seguimiento de controversias que se basa en tres proveedores de datos externos para realizar un seguimiento sistemático de las controversias y su nivel de gravedad. Este enfoque cuantitativo se enriquece después con una evaluación en profundidad de cada controversia grave, dirigida por analistas ESG y la revisión periódica de su evolución. Este enfoque se aplica a todos los fondos de Amundi.

Aunque el fondo no se comprometió a realizar inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE, durante el periodo contable el fondo invirtió un 1.57% en inversiones sostenibles alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE. Estas inversiones contribuyeron a los objetivos de mitigación del cambio climático de la Taxonomía de la UE.

La alineación de las empresas participadas con los objetivos de la Taxonomía de la UE antes mencionados se cuantifica utilizando datos sobre el volumen de negocio (o los ingresos) y/o el uso del producto obtenido de bonos verdes.

☐ Sí:

☐ En gas fósil ☐ En energía nuclear

☒ No

Durante el periodo no se dispuso de datos fiables sobre la alineación con la Taxonomía de la UE del gas fósil y la energía nuclear.

Para estar alineados con la Taxonomía de la UE, los criterios para el gas fósil incluyen limitaciones de emisiones y cambio a energías totalmente renovables o combustibles con bajas emisiones de carbono para finales de 2035. En el caso de la energía nuclear, los criterios incluyen normas exhaustivas de seguridad y gestión de residuos

Las actividades habilitadoras permiten directamente que otras actividades contribuyan de forma sustancial a un objetivo medioambiental.

correspondientes al mejor rendimiento.

Las actividades alineadas con la Taxonomía se expresan como porcentaje de: -el volumen de negocio que refleja la proporción de ingresos procedentes de actividades ecológicas de las empresas participadas -las inversiones en inmovilizado (CapEx) que muestran las inversiones ecológicas realizadas por las empresas participadas, por ejemplo, para la transición a una economía verde - los gastos de explotación (OpEx) que reflejan las actividades operativas ecológicas de las empresas participadas

son inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental que no tienen en cuenta los criterios de las actividades económicas sostenibles desde el punto de vista medioambiental en virtud del Reglamento (UE) 2020/852.

Los gráficos siguientes muestran en verde el porcentaje de inversiones que estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE. Como no existe una metodología adecuada para determinar la alineación con la Taxonomía de la deuda pública*, el primer gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía en relación con todas las inversiones del producto financiero, incluida la deuda pública, mientras que el segundo gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía solo en relación con las inversiones del producto financiero distintas de la deuda pública.

● ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones en actividades de transición y habilitadoras?

A 30/06/2024, utilizando como indicador el volumen de negocio y/o los datos sobre el uso del producto obtenido de bonos verdes, la cuota de inversión del fondo en actividades de transición era del 0.03% y la cuota de inversión en actividades habilitadoras era del 0.95%. El porcentaje declarado de alineación de las inversiones del fondo con la Taxonomía de la UE no ha sido auditado por los auditores del fondo ni por terceros.

● ¿Cómo era el porcentaje de inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE respecto de los periodos de referencia anteriores?

Al cierre del periodo anterior, el porcentaje de inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE era del 9.93%.

● ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

La cuota de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineado con la Taxonomía fue del 47.80% al cierre del periodo. Esto se debe al hecho de que algunos emisores se consideran inversiones sostenibles con arreglo al Reglamento sobre la divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros (SFDR), pero presentan una parte de actividades que no se ajustan a las normas de la Taxonomía de la UE, o para las que aún no se dispone de datos con vistas a realizar una evaluación conforme a la Taxonomía de la UE.

● ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social?

El porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social al cierre del periodo era del 7.40%.

● ¿Qué inversiones se incluían en "otros", cuál era su finalidad y existían salvaguardias medioambientales o sociales mínimas?

El apartado "N.º 2 Otros" incluye el efectivo y otros instrumentos mantenidos con fines de liquidez y gestión del riesgo de la cartera. En el caso de los bonos y acciones sin calificación, se aplican unas salvaguardias medioambientales y sociales mínimas a través de un cribado de controversias respecto de los Principios del Pacto Mundial de Naciones Unidas. También puede incluir valores sin calificación ESG para los que no se disponga de los datos necesarios para cuantificar de la consecución de las características medioambientales o sociales.

¿Qué medidas se han tomado para alcanzar las características medioambientales y/o sociales durante el periodo de referencia?

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad están continuamente disponibles en el sistema de gestión de carteras, lo que permite a los gestores de carteras evaluar el impacto de sus decisiones de inversión. Estos indicadores se integran en el marco de control de AMUNDI, repartiéndose las responsabilidades entre el primer nivel de controles, realizado por los propios equipos de Inversión, y el segundo nivel de controles, realizado por los equipos de Riesgos, que supervisan de forma continua el cumplimiento de las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el fondo.

Características medioambientales y/o sociales

Una inversión sostenible es una inversión en una actividad económica que contribuya a un objetivo medioambiental o social, siempre que la inversión no cause un perjuicio significativo para ningún objetivo medioambiental o social y que las empresas participadas sigan prácticas de buen gobierno.

¿Tenía este producto financiero un objetivo de inversión sostenible?

en actividades económicas que no se consideran sostenibles desde el punto de vista medioambiental según la Taxonomía de la UE

Realizó inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo social:

Promovió características Medioambientales/Sociales (E/S) y, aunque no tiene como objetivo una inversión sostenible, tenía un porcentaje de 75.10% de inversiones sostenibles

con un objetivo medioambiental en actividades económicas que se consideran sostenibles desde el punto de vista medioambiental según la Taxonomía de la UE

X con un objetivo medioambiental en actividades económicas que no se consideran sostenibles desde el punto de vista medioambiental según la Taxonomía de la UE

con un objetivo social

Promovió características E/S, pero no realizó inversiones sostenibles

¿En qué medida se cumplieron las características medioambientales y/o sociales promovidas por este producto financiero?

Durante el ejercicio, el producto promovió continuamente las características medioambientales y/o sociales con el objetivo de lograr una puntuación ESG superior a la puntuación ESG de su universo de inversión MSCI EMU SMALL CAP. Para determinar la puntuación ESG del Producto y el universo de inversión ESG, el desempeño ESG se evaluó continuamente comparando el desempeño medio de un título frente al sector del emisor del título, con respecto a cada una de las tres características: medioambiental, social y de gobierno corporativo.

El producto lleva la etiqueta ISR (Inversión Social y Responsable). A lo largo de todo el ejercicio ha tratado de promover las 3 dimensiones (medioambiental, social y de gobierno corporativo) teniendo en cuenta la calificación ESG de los emisores en la estructuración de la cartera.

La calificación ESG de los emisores tiene por objeto evaluar su capacidad para gestionar el posible impacto negativo de sus actividades en los factores de sostenibilidad. Así pues, este análisis pretende evaluar sus comportamientos Medioambientales y Sociales en términos de gobierno corporativo, asignándoles una calificación ESG que va de la A (mejor calificación) a la G (peor calificación), con el fin de lograr una evaluación más global de los riesgos.

1. La cartera ha aplicado sistemáticamente la siguiente política de exclusión de Amundi:
  - Exclusiones legales sobre armas controvertidas
  - Empresas que contravienen grave y repetidamente uno o más de los 10 principios del Pacto Mundial (Pacto Mundial de Naciones Unidas), sin medidas correctivas creíbles.
  - Las exclusiones sectoriales del grupo Amundi sobre Carbón y Tabaco; (los detalles de esta política están disponibles en la Política de Inversión Responsable de Amundi en el sitio web www.amundi.fr).
2. No se ha invertido en emisores con calificación F o G. En el caso de los emisores cuya calificación se ha rebajado a F o G, los títulos ya presentes en la cartera se vendieron dentro del plazo comprometido en el folleto y velando por el interés financiero de los titulares.
3. La puntuación ESG media ponderada de la cartera ha sido sistemáticamente superior a la puntuación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión del fondo tras eliminar el 20% de los peores emisores.
4. El fondo ha favorecido a emisores líderes en su sector de actividad según los criterios ESG identificados por el equipo de analistas extrafinancieros de la sociedad gestora (enfoque "best in class"). A excepción de las exclusiones mencionadas, todos los sectores económicos están representados en este enfoque, por lo que la UCI puede estar expuesta a determinados sectores controvertidos.

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad cuantifican cómo se alcanzan las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el producto financiero.

● ¿Cómo se comportaron los indicadores de sostenibilidad?

Amundi ha desarrollado su propio proceso interno de calificación ESG basado en el enfoque "Best-in-class". Las calificaciones adaptadas a cada sector de actividad pretenden evaluar la dinámica en la que operan las empresas.

El indicador de sostenibilidad utilizado es la puntuación ESG del Producto que se mide con respecto a la puntuación ESG del universo de inversión ESG del Producto.

Al cierre del periodo:

- La calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera es 0.962 (C).
- La calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG es 0.673 (C).

La calificación ESG de Amundi utilizada para determinar la puntuación ESG es una puntuación cuantitativa ESG traducida en siete grados, que van de la A (el universo de mejores puntuaciones) a la G (la peor). En la escala de Calificación ESG de Amundi, los títulos pertenecientes a la lista de exclusión corresponden a una G. En el caso de los emisores corporativos, el desempeño ESG se evalúa en general y a nivel de criterios relevantes comparándolo con el desempeño medio de su sector, a través de la combinación de las tres dimensiones ESG:

- Dimensión medioambiental: analiza la capacidad de los emisores para controlar su impacto medioambiental directo e indirecto, limitando su consumo de energía, reduciendo sus emisiones de efecto invernadero, luchando contra el agotamiento de los recursos y protegiendo la biodiversidad.
- Dimensión social: analiza el funcionamiento de un emisor en dos conceptos distintos: su estrategia para desarrollar su capital humano y el respeto de los derechos humanos en general.
- Dimensión de gobierno corporativo: Evalúa la capacidad del emisor para garantizar la base de un marco de gobierno corporativo eficaz y generar valor a largo plazo.

La metodología aplicada por la calificación ESG de Amundi utiliza 38 criterios que son genéricos (comunes a todas las empresas independientemente de su actividad) o sectoriales, que se ponderan según el sector y se consideran en términos de su impacto en la reputación, la eficiencia operativa y la normativa con respecto a un emisor. Las calificaciones ESG de Amundi pueden expresarse globalmente en las tres dimensiones E, S y G o individualmente en cualquier factor medioambiental o social.

● ¿...y en comparación con periodos anteriores?

Al cierre del periodo anterior, la calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera era de 0.91 (C) y la calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG era de 0.60 (C).

● ¿Cuáles eran los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero pretende realizar parcialmente y cómo contribuía la inversión sostenible a dichos objetivos?

Los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles son invertir en empresas participadas que traten de cumplir dos criterios:

1. seguir las mejores prácticas medioambientales y sociales; y
2. evitar fabricar productos o prestar servicios que perjudiquen al medio ambiente y a la sociedad.

Para que se considere que la empresa en la que se invierte contribuye al objetivo mencionado, debe ser uno de los "mejores actores" dentro de su sector de actividad en al menos uno de sus factores medioambientales o sociales materiales.

La definición de "mejor actor" se basa en la metodología ESG propia de Amundi, cuyo objetivo es cuantificar el desempeño ESG de una empresa participada. Para ser considerada "mejor actor", una empresa participada debe obtener las tres mejores calificaciones (A, B o C, en una escala de calificación que va de la A a la G) dentro de su sector en al menos un factor medioambiental o social material. Los factores medioambientales y sociales materiales se identifican a nivel sectorial. La identificación de factores materiales se basa en el marco de análisis ESG de Amundi, que combina datos extrafinancieros y análisis cualitativos de temáticas sectoriales y de sostenibilidad afines. Los factores identificados como materiales suponen una contribución de más del 10% a la puntuación ESG global. En el sector energético, por ejemplo, los factores materiales son: emisiones y energía, biodiversidad y contaminación, salud y seguridad, comunidades locales y derechos humanos. Si desea obtener una descripción más completa de los sectores y factores, consulte la Declaración Reglamentaria ESG de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.lu.

Para contribuir a los objetivos anteriores, la empresa participada no debe tener una exposición significativa a actividades (por ejemplo, tabaco, armas, juegos de azar, carbón, aviación, producción de carne, fabricación de fertilizantes y pesticidas, producción de plásticos de un solo uso) que no sean compatibles con dichos criterios.

El carácter sostenible de una inversión se evalúa a nivel de la empresa participada.

Para garantizar que las inversiones sostenibles no causan un perjuicio significativo ("DNSH"), Amundi utiliza dos filtros:

Más allá de los factores específicos de sostenibilidad cubiertos en el primer filtro, Amundi ha definido un segundo filtro, que no tiene en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas mencionados anteriormente, con el fin de verificar que la empresa no obtiene malos resultados desde un punto de vista medioambiental o social global en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, lo que corresponde a una puntuación medioambiental o social superior o igual a E utilizando la calificación ESG de Amundi.

- ¿Cómo se tuvieron en cuenta los indicadores de incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

Los indicadores de incidencias adversas se han tenido en cuenta tal y como se detalla en el primer filtro de no causar un daño significativo (DNSH) anterior.

El primer filtro DNSH se basa en el seguimiento de los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas del Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 cuando se dispone de datos sólidos mediante la combinación de los siguientes indicadores y umbrales o normas específicas:

- Tener una intensidad de CO<sub>2</sub> que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector (solo se aplica a sectores de alta intensidad), y
- Tener una diversidad en el Consejo de Administración que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, y
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con las condiciones de trabajo y los derechos humanos.
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con la biodiversidad y la contaminación

- ¿Estaban las inversiones sostenibles alineadas con las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos? Detalles:

Sí, las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos están integrados en nuestra metodología de puntuación ESG. Nuestra herramienta de calificación ESG propia evalúa a los emisores utilizando los datos disponibles de nuestros proveedores de datos. Por ejemplo, el modelo cuenta con un criterio específico denominado "Participación en la comunidad y derechos humanos", que se aplica a todos los sectores, además de otros criterios relacionados con los derechos humanos, como las cadenas de suministro socialmente responsables, las condiciones de trabajo y las relaciones laborales. Además, realizamos un seguimiento de las controversias, como mínimo trimestralmente, que incluye a las empresas identificadas por vulneraciones de los derechos humanos. Cuando surgen controversias, los analistas evalúan la situación y aplican una puntuación a la controversia (utilizando nuestra metodología de puntuación interna) y determinan el mejor curso de acción. Las puntuaciones de controversia se actualizan trimestralmente para realizar un seguimiento de la tendencia y de los esfuerzos de corrección.

Cualquier otra inversión sostenible tampoco debe causar perjuicio significativo a ningún objetivo medioambiental o social.

¿Cómo tuvo en cuenta este producto financiero las principales incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

El producto tiene en cuenta todas las Principales Incidencias Adversas obligatorias según el Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 que se aplica a la estrategia del producto y se basa en una combinación de políticas de exclusión (normativas y sectoriales), enfoques de implicación y voto:

- Exclusión: Amundi ha definido reglas de exclusión normativas, basadas en la actividad y sectoriales que abarcan algunos de los principales indicadores adversos de sostenibilidad enumerados por el Reglamento de Divulgación.
- Integración de factores ESG: Amundi ha adoptado normas mínimas de integración ESG aplicadas por defecto a sus fondos de capital variable y gestión activa (exclusión de emisores con calificación G y mejor puntuación media ponderada ESG superior a la del índice de referencia aplicable). Los 38 criterios utilizados en el enfoque de calificación ESG de Amundi también se diseñaron para tener en cuenta las principales incidencias en los factores de sostenibilidad, así como la calidad de la mitigación realizada, que también se tienen en cuenta a ese respecto.
- Compromiso: La interacción es un proceso continuo y orientado a un fin, cuyo objetivo es influir en las actividades o el comportamiento de las empresas participadas. El objetivo de las actividades de interacción puede clasificarse en dos categorías: comprometer a un emisor a mejorar la forma en que integra la dimensión medioambiental y social, comprometer a un emisor a mejorar su impacto en cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y relacionadas con los derechos humanos u otras cuestiones de sostenibilidad que son importantes para la sociedad y la economía mundial.
- Voto: La política de voto de Amundi responde a su análisis integral de todas las cuestiones a largo plazo que pueden influir en la creación de valor, incluidas cuestiones ESG sustanciales. Si desea obtener más información, consulte la Política de Voto de Amundi.
- Seguimiento de controversias: Amundi ha desarrollado un sistema de seguimiento de controversias que se basa en tres proveedores de datos externos para realizar un seguimiento sistemático de las controversias y su nivel de gravedad. Este enfoque cuantitativo se enriquece después con una evaluación en profundidad de cada controversia grave, dirigida por analistas ESG y la revisión periódica de su evolución. Este enfoque se aplica a todos los fondos de Amundi.

Si desea más información sobre cómo se tienen en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas, consulte la Declaración de divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.com.

Para estar alineados con la Taxonomía de la UE, los criterios para el gas fósil incluyen limitaciones de emisiones y cambio a energías totalmente renovables o combustibles con bajas emisiones de carbono para finales de 2035. En el caso de la energía nuclear, los criterios incluyen normas exhaustivas de seguridad y gestión de residuos

¿En qué medida las inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

El fondo promueve características tanto medioambientales como sociales. Aunque el fondo no se comprometió a realizar inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE, durante el periodo contable el fondo invirtió un 5.83% en inversiones sostenibles alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE. Estas inversiones contribuyeron a la obligación de lucha contra el cambio climático o a los objetivos de mitigación del cambio climático de la Taxonomía de la UE.

El porcentaje declarado de alineación de las inversiones del fondo con la Taxonomía de la UE no ha sido auditado por los auditores del fondo ni por terceros.

Las actividades habilitadoras permiten directamente que otras actividades contribuyan de forma sustancial a un objetivo medioambiental.

Las actividades alineadas con la Taxonomía se expresan como porcentaje de: -el volumen de negocio que refleja la proporción de ingresos procedentes de actividades ecológicas de las empresas participadas -las inversiones en inmovilizado (CapEx) que muestran las inversiones ecológicas realizadas por las empresas participadas, por ejemplo, para la transición a una economía verde - los gastos de explotación (OpEx) que reflejan las actividades operativas ecológicas de las empresas participadas

● ¿Invertió el producto financiero en actividades relacionadas con el gas fósil y/o la energía nuclear que se ajustaban a la Taxonomía de la UE?

☐ Sí:

☐ En gas fósil

☐ En energía nuclear

☒ No

Durante el periodo no se dispuso de datos fiables sobre la alineación con la Taxonomía de la UE del gas fósil y la energía nuclear.

Los gráficos siguientes muestran en verde el porcentaje de inversiones que estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE. Como no existe una metodología adecuada para determinar la alineación con la Taxonomía de la deuda pública*, el primer gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía en relación con todas las inversiones del producto financiero, incluida la deuda pública, mientras que el segundo gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía solo en relación con las inversiones del producto financiero distintas de la deuda pública.

● ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones en actividades de transición y habilitadoras?

A 30/06/2024, utilizando como indicador el volumen de negocio y/o los datos sobre el uso del producto obtenido de bonos verdes, la cuota de inversión del fondo en actividades de transición era del 0.21% y la cuota de inversión en actividades habilitadoras era del 3.90%. El porcentaje declarado de alineación de las inversiones del fondo con la Taxonomía de la UE no ha sido auditado por los auditores del fondo ni por terceros.

● ¿Cómo era el porcentaje de inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE respecto de los periodos de referencia anteriores?

Al cierre del periodo anterior, el porcentaje de inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE era del 8.67%.

son inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental que no tienen en cuenta los criterios de las actividades económicas sostenibles desde el punto de vista medioambiental en virtud del Reglamento (UE) 2020/852.

La cuota de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineado con la Taxonomía fue del 50.42% al cierre del periodo.

Esto se debe al hecho de que algunos emisores se consideran inversiones sostenibles con arreglo al Reglamento sobre la divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros (SFDR), pero presentan una parte de actividades que no se ajustan a las normas de la Taxonomía de la UE, o para las que aún no se dispone de datos con vistas a realizar una evaluación conforme a la Taxonomía de la UE.

¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social?

El porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social al cierre del periodo era del 18.85%.

¿Qué inversiones se incluían en "otros", cuál era su finalidad y existían salvaguardias medioambientales o sociales mínimas?

El apartado "N.º 2 Otros" incluye el efectivo y otros instrumentos mantenidos con fines de liquidez y gestión del riesgo de cartera. También puede incluir valores sin calificación ESG para los que no se dispone de los datos necesarios con vistas a cuantificar el cumplimiento de las características medioambientales o sociales.

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad están continuamente disponibles en el sistema de gestión de carteras, lo que permite a los gestores de carteras evaluar el impacto de sus decisiones de inversión.

Estos indicadores se integran en el marco de control de AMUNDI, repartiéndose las responsabilidades entre el primer nivel de controles, realizado por los propios equipos de Inversión, y el segundo nivel de controles, realizado por los equipos de Riesgos, que supervisan de forma continua el cumplimiento de las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el fondo.

Además, la Política de Inversión Responsable de AMUNDI establece un enfoque activo de interacción que promueve el diálogo con las empresas participadas, incluidas las que forman parte de la cartera de este producto. Nuestro Informe Anual de Interacción, disponible en <https://about.amundi.com/esg-documentation>, ofrece información detallada sobre esta iniciativa y sus resultados.

Una inversión sostenible es una inversión en una actividad económica que contribuya a un objetivo medioambiental o social, siempre que la inversión no cause un perjuicio significativo para ningún objetivo medioambiental o social y que las empresas participadas sigan prácticas de buen gobierno.

La Taxonomía de la UE es un sistema de clasificación establecido en el Reglamento (UE) 2020/852, que determina una lista de actividades económicas sostenibles desde el punto de vista medioambiental. Dicho Reglamento no incluye una lista de actividades económicas socialmente sostenibles. Las inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental podrían estar alineadas con la Taxonomía o no.

¿En qué medida se cumplieron las características medioambientales y/o sociales promovidas por este producto financiero?

Durante el ejercicio, el producto promovió continuamente las características medioambientales y/o sociales con el objetivo de lograr una puntuación ESG superior a la puntuación ESG de su universo de inversión MSCI EUROPE (15). Para determinar la puntuación ESG del Producto y el universo de inversión ESG, el desempeño ESG se evaluó continuamente comparando el desempeño medio de un título frente al sector del emisor del título, con respecto a cada una de las tres características: medioambiental, social y de gobierno corporativo.

El universo de inversión es un universo de mercado general que no evalúa ni incluye componentes basados en características medioambientales y/o sociales y, por lo tanto, no pretende ser coherente con las características promovidas por el fondo. No se ha designado ningún índice de referencia ESG.

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad cuantifican cómo se alcanzan las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el producto financiero.

● ¿Cómo se comportaron los indicadores de sostenibilidad?

Amundi ha desarrollado su propio proceso interno de calificación ESG basado en el enfoque "Best-in-class". Las calificaciones adaptadas a cada sector de actividad pretenden evaluar la dinámica en la que operan las empresas.

El indicador de sostenibilidad utilizado es la puntuación ESG del Producto que se mide con respecto a la puntuación ESG del universo de inversión ESG del Producto.

Al cierre del periodo:

- La calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera es 0.914 (C).
- La calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG es 0.798 (D).

La calificación ESG de Amundi utilizada para determinar la puntuación ESG es una puntuación cuantitativa ESG traducida en siete grados, que van de la A (el universo de mejores puntuaciones) a la G (la peor). En la escala de Calificación ESG de Amundi, los títulos pertenecientes a la lista de exclusión corresponden a una G. En el caso de los emisores corporativos, el desempeño ESG se evalúa en general y a nivel de criterios relevantes comparándolo con el desempeño medio de su sector, a través de la combinación de las tres dimensiones ESG:

- Dimensión medioambiental: analiza la capacidad de los emisores para controlar su impacto medioambiental directo e indirecto, limitando su consumo de energía, reduciendo sus emisiones de efecto invernadero, luchando contra el agotamiento de los recursos y protegiendo la biodiversidad.
- Dimensión social: analiza el funcionamiento de un emisor en dos conceptos distintos: su estrategia para desarrollar su capital humano y el respeto de los derechos humanos en general;
- Dimensión de gobierno corporativo: Evalúa la capacidad del emisor para garantizar la base de un marco de gobierno corporativo eficaz y generar valor a largo plazo.

● ¿...y en comparación con periodos anteriores?

Este es el primer informe periódico del SFDR elaborado para este subfondo.

● ¿Cuáles eran los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero pretende realizar parcialmente y cómo contribuía la inversión sostenible a dichos objetivos?

Los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles son invertir en empresas participadas que traten de cumplir dos criterios:

1. seguir las mejores prácticas medioambientales y sociales; y
2. evitar fabricar productos o prestar servicios que perjudiquen al medio ambiente y a la sociedad.

Para que se considere que la empresa en la que se invierte contribuye al objetivo mencionado, debe ser uno de los "mejores actores" dentro de su sector de actividad en al menos uno de sus factores medioambientales o sociales materiales.

La definición de "mejor actor" se basa en la metodología ESG propia de Amundi, cuyo objetivo es cuantificar el desempeño ESG de una empresa participada. Para ser considerada "mejor actor", una empresa participada debe obtener las tres mejores calificaciones (A, B o C, en una escala de calificación que va de la A a la G) dentro de su sector en al menos un factor medioambiental o social material. Los factores medioambientales y sociales materiales se identifican a nivel sectorial. La identificación de factores materiales se basa en el marco de análisis ESG de Amundi, que combina datos extrafinancieros y análisis cualitativos de temáticas sectoriales y de sostenibilidad afines. Los factores identificados como materiales suponen una contribución de más del 10% a la puntuación ESG global. En el sector energético, por ejemplo, los factores materiales son: emisiones y energía, biodiversidad y contaminación, salud y seguridad, comunidades locales y derechos humanos. Si desea obtener una descripción más completa de los sectores y factores, consulte la Declaración Reglamentaria ESG de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.lu. Para contribuir a los objetivos anteriores, la empresa participada no debe tener una exposición significativa a actividades (por ejemplo, tabaco, armas, juegos de azar, carbón, aviación, producción de carne, fabricación de fertilizantes y pesticidas, producción de plásticos de un solo uso) que no sean compatibles con dichos criterios.

El carácter sostenible de una inversión se evalúa a nivel de la empresa participada.

Para garantizar que las inversiones sostenibles no causan un perjuicio significativo ("DNSH"), Amundi utiliza dos filtros:

Más allá de los factores específicos de sostenibilidad cubiertos en el primer filtro, Amundi ha definido un segundo filtro, que no tiene en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas mencionados anteriormente, con el fin de verificar que la empresa no obtiene malos resultados desde un punto de vista medioambiental o social global en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, lo que corresponde a una puntuación medioambiental o social superior o igual a E utilizando la calificación ESG de Amundi.

- ¿Cómo se tuvieron en cuenta los indicadores de incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

Los indicadores de incidencias adversas se han tenido en cuenta tal y como se detalla en el primer filtro de no causar un daño significativo (DNSH) anterior.

El primer filtro DNSH se basa en el seguimiento de los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas del Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 cuando se dispone de datos sólidos mediante la combinación de los siguientes indicadores y umbrales o normas específicas:

- Tener una intensidad de CO<sub>2</sub> que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector (solo se aplica a sectores de alta intensidad), y
- Tener una diversidad en el Consejo de Administración que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, y
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con las condiciones de trabajo y los derechos humanos.
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con la biodiversidad y la contaminación

- ¿Estaban las inversiones sostenibles alineadas con las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos? Detalles:

Sí, las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos están integrados en nuestra metodología de puntuación ESG. Nuestra herramienta de calificación ESG propia evalúa a los emisores utilizando los datos disponibles de nuestros proveedores de datos. Por ejemplo, el modelo cuenta con un criterio específico denominado "Participación en la comunidad

y derechos humanos", que se aplica a todos los sectores, además de otros criterios relacionados con los derechos humanos, como las cadenas de suministro socialmente responsables, las condiciones de trabajo y las relaciones laborales. Además, realizamos un seguimiento de las controversias, como mínimo trimestralmente, que incluye a las empresas identificadas por vulneraciones de los derechos humanos. Cuando surgen controversias, los analistas evalúan la situación y aplican una puntuación a la controversia (utilizando nuestra metodología de puntuación interna) y determinan el mejor curso de acción. Las puntuaciones de controversia se actualizan trimestralmente para realizar un seguimiento de la tendencia y de los esfuerzos de corrección.

Cualquier otra inversión sostenible tampoco debe causar perjuicio significativo a ningún objetivo medioambiental o social.

¿Cómo tuvo en cuenta este producto financiero las principales incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

El producto tiene en cuenta todas las Principales Incidencias Adversas obligatorias según el Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 que se aplica a la estrategia del producto y se basa en una combinación de políticas de exclusión (normativas y sectoriales), enfoques de implicación y voto:

- Exclusión: Amundi ha definido reglas de exclusión normativas, basadas en la actividad y sectoriales que abarcan algunos de los principales indicadores adversos de sostenibilidad enumerados por el Reglamento de Divulgación.
- Integración de factores ESG: Amundi ha adoptado normas mínimas de integración ESG aplicadas por defecto a sus fondos de capital variable y gestión activa (exclusión de emisores con calificación G y mejor puntuación media ponderada ESG superior a la del índice de referencia aplicable). Los 38 criterios utilizados en el enfoque de calificación ESG de Amundi también se diseñaron para tener en cuenta las principales incidencias en los factores de sostenibilidad, así como la calidad de la mitigación realizada, que también se tienen en cuenta a ese respecto.
- Compromiso: La interacción es un proceso continuo y orientado a un fin, cuyo objetivo es influir en las actividades o el comportamiento de las empresas participadas. El objetivo de las actividades de interacción puede clasificarse en dos categorías: comprometer a un emisor a mejorar la forma en que integra la dimensión medioambiental y social, comprometer a un emisor a mejorar su impacto en cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y relacionadas con los derechos humanos u otras cuestiones de sostenibilidad que son importantes para la sociedad y la economía mundial.
- Voto: La política de voto de Amundi responde a su análisis integral de todas las cuestiones a largo plazo que pueden influir en la creación de valor, incluidas cuestiones ESG sustanciales. Si desea obtener más información, consulte la Política de Voto de Amundi.
- Seguimiento de controversias: Amundi ha desarrollado un sistema de seguimiento de controversias que se basa en tres proveedores de datos externos para realizar un seguimiento sistemático de las controversias y su nivel de gravedad. Este enfoque cuantitativo se enriquece después con una evaluación en profundidad de cada controversia grave, dirigida por analistas ESG y la revisión periódica de su evolución. Este enfoque se aplica a todos los fondos de Amundi.

Si desea más información sobre cómo se tienen en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas, consulte la Declaración de divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.com.

Para estar alineados con la Taxonomía de la UE, los criterios para el gas fósil incluyen limitaciones de emisiones y cambio a energías totalmente renovables o combustibles con bajas emisiones de carbono para finales de 2035. En el caso de la energía nuclear, los criterios incluyen normas exhaustivas de seguridad y gestión de residuos

Las actividades habilitadoras permiten directamente que otras actividades contribuyan de forma sustancial a un objetivo medioambiental.

Las actividades de transición son actividades para las que aún no se dispone de alternativas con bajas emisiones de carbono y, entre otros, tienen niveles de emisión de gases de efecto invernadero correspondientes al mejor rendimiento.

¿En qué medida las inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

El fondo promueve características tanto medioambientales como sociales. Aunque el fondo no se comprometió a realizar inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE, durante el periodo contable el fondo invirtió un 0.65% en inversiones sostenibles alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE. Estas inversiones contribuyeron a la obligación de lucha contra el cambio climático o a los objetivos de mitigación del cambio climático de la Taxonomía de la UE.

El porcentaje declarado de alineación de las inversiones del fondo con la Taxonomía de la UE no ha sido auditado por los auditores del fondo ni por terceros.

¿Invirtió el producto financiero en actividades relacionadas con el gas fósil y/o la energía nuclear que se ajustaban a la Taxonomía de la UE?

☐ Sí:

☐ En gas fósil      ☐ En energía nuclear

☒ No

Durante el periodo no se dispuso de datos fiables sobre la alineación con la Taxonomía de la UE del gas fósil y la energía nuclear.

Las actividades alineadas con la Taxonomía se expresan como porcentaje de:

- el volumen de negocio que refleja la proporción de ingresos procedentes de actividades ecológicas de las empresas participadas
- las inversiones en inmovilizado (CapEx) que muestran las inversiones ecológicas realizadas por las empresas participadas, por ejemplo, para la transición a una economía verde
- los gastos de explotación (OpEx) que reflejan las actividades operativas ecológicas de las empresas participadas

Los gráficos siguientes muestran en verde el porcentaje de inversiones que estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE. Como no existe una metodología adecuada para determinar la alineación con la Taxonomía de la deuda pública*, el primer gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía en relación con todas las inversiones del producto financiero, incluida la deuda pública, mientras que el segundo gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía solo en relación con las inversiones del producto financiero distintas de la deuda pública.

● ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones en actividades de transición y habilitadoras?

Este es el primer informe periódico del SFDR elaborado para este subfondo.

son inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental que no tienen en cuenta los criterios de las actividades económicas sostenibles desde el punto de vista medioambiental en virtud del Reglamento (UE) 2020/852.

● ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

● ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social?

El porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social al cierre del periodo era del 23.07%.

● ¿Qué inversiones se incluían en "otros", cuál era su finalidad y existían salvaguardias medioambientales o sociales mínimas?

El apartado "N.º 2 Otros" incluye el efectivo y otros instrumentos mantenidos con fines de liquidez y gestión del riesgo de cartera. También puede incluir valores sin calificación ESG para los que no se dispone de los datos necesarios con vistas a cuantificar el cumplimiento de las características medioambientales o sociales.

¿Qué medidas se han tomado para alcanzar las características medioambientales y/o sociales durante el periodo de referencia?

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad están continuamente disponibles en el sistema de gestión de carteras, lo que permite a los gestores de carteras evaluar el impacto de sus decisiones de inversión. Estos indicadores se integran en el marco de control de AMUNDI, repartiéndose las responsabilidades entre el primer nivel de controles, realizado por los propios equipos de Inversión, y el segundo nivel de controles, realizado por los equipos de Riesgos, que supervisan de forma continua el cumplimiento de las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el fondo.

Además, la Política de Inversión Responsable de AMUNDI establece un enfoque activo de interacción que promueve el diálogo con las empresas participadas, incluidas las que forman parte de la cartera de este producto. Nuestro Informe Anual de Interacción, disponible en <https://about.amundi.com/esg-documentation>, ofrece información detallada sobre esta iniciativa y sus resultados.

Una inversión sostenible es una inversión en una actividad económica que contribuya a un objetivo medioambiental o social, siempre que la inversión no cause un perjuicio significativo para ningún objetivo medioambiental o social y que las empresas participadas sigan prácticas de buen gobierno.

La Taxonomía de la UE es un sistema de clasificación establecido en el Reglamento (UE) 2020/852, que determina una lista de actividades económicas sostenibles desde el punto de vista medioambiental. Dicho Reglamento no incluye una lista de actividades económicas socialmente sostenibles. Las inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental podrían estar alineadas con la Taxonomía o no.

¿En qué medida se cumplieron las características medioambientales y/o sociales promovidas por este producto financiero?

Durante el ejercicio, el producto promovió continuamente las características medioambientales y/o sociales con el objetivo de lograr una puntuación ESG superior a la puntuación ESG de su universo de inversión MSCI EUROPE EX UK. Para determinar la puntuación ESG del Producto y el universo de inversión ESG, el desempeño ESG se evaluó continuamente comparando el desempeño medio de un título frente al sector del emisor del título, con respecto a cada una de las tres características: medioambiental, social y de gobierno corporativo.

El universo de inversión es un universo de mercado general que no evalúa ni incluye componentes basados en características medioambientales y/o sociales y, por lo tanto, no pretende ser coherente con las características promovidas por el fondo. No se ha designado ningún índice de referencia ESG.

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad cuantifican cómo se alcanzan las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el producto financiero.

● ¿Cómo se comportaron los indicadores de sostenibilidad?

Amundi ha desarrollado su propio proceso interno de calificación ESG basado en el enfoque "Best-in-class". Las calificaciones adaptadas a cada sector de actividad pretenden evaluar la dinámica en la que operan las empresas.

El indicador de sostenibilidad utilizado es la puntuación ESG del Producto que se mide con respecto a la puntuación ESG del universo de inversión ESG del Producto.

Al cierre del periodo:

- La calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera es 1.185 (C).
- La calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG es 0.906 (C).

La calificación ESG de Amundi utilizada para determinar la puntuación ESG es una puntuación cuantitativa ESG traducida en siete grados, que van de la A (el universo de mejores puntuaciones) a la G (la peor). En la escala de Calificación ESG de Amundi, los títulos pertenecientes a la lista de exclusión corresponden a una G. En el caso de los emisores corporativos, el desempeño ESG se evalúa en general y a nivel de criterios relevantes comparándolo con el desempeño medio de su sector, a través de la combinación de las tres dimensiones ESG:

- Dimensión medioambiental: analiza la capacidad de los emisores para controlar su impacto medioambiental directo e indirecto, limitando su consumo de energía, reduciendo sus emisiones de efecto invernadero, luchando contra el agotamiento de los recursos y protegiendo la biodiversidad.
- Dimensión social: analiza el funcionamiento de un emisor en dos conceptos distintos: su estrategia para desarrollar su capital humano y el respeto de los derechos humanos en general;
- Dimensión de gobierno corporativo: Evalúa la capacidad del emisor para garantizar la base de un marco de gobierno corporativo eficaz y generar valor a largo plazo.

● ¿...y en comparación con periodos anteriores?

Este es el primer informe periódico del SFDR elaborado para este subfondo.

● ¿Cuáles eran los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero pretende realizar parcialmente y cómo contribuía la inversión sostenible a dichos objetivos?

Los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles son invertir en empresas participadas que traten de cumplir dos criterios:

1. seguir las mejores prácticas medioambientales y sociales; y
2. evitar fabricar productos o prestar servicios que perjudiquen al medio ambiente y a la sociedad.

Para que se considere que la empresa en la que se invierte contribuye al objetivo mencionado, debe ser uno de los "mejores actores" dentro de su sector de actividad en al menos uno de sus factores medioambientales o sociales materiales.

La definición de "mejor actor" se basa en la metodología ESG propia de Amundi, cuyo objetivo es cuantificar el desempeño ESG de una empresa participada. Para ser considerada "mejor actor", una empresa participada debe obtener las tres mejores calificaciones (A, B o C, en una escala de calificación que va de la A a la G) dentro de su sector en al menos un factor medioambiental o social material. Los factores medioambientales y sociales materiales se identifican a nivel sectorial. La identificación de factores materiales se basa en el marco de análisis ESG de Amundi, que combina datos extrafinancieros y análisis cualitativos de temáticas sectoriales y de sostenibilidad afines. Los factores identificados como materiales suponen una contribución de más del 10% a la puntuación ESG global. En el sector energético, por ejemplo, los factores materiales son: emisiones y energía, biodiversidad y contaminación, salud y seguridad, comunidades locales y derechos humanos. Si desea obtener una descripción más completa de los sectores y factores, consulte la Declaración Reglamentaria ESG de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.lu. Para contribuir a los objetivos anteriores, la empresa participada no debe tener una exposición significativa a actividades (por ejemplo, tabaco, armas, juegos de azar, carbón, aviación, producción de carne, fabricación de fertilizantes y pesticidas, producción de plásticos de un solo uso) que no sean compatibles con dichos criterios.

El carácter sostenible de una inversión se evalúa a nivel de la empresa participada.

Las principales incidencias adversas son los efectos negativos más significativos de las decisiones de inversión sobre los factores de sostenibilidad relacionados con cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y laborales, el respeto de los derechos humanos y la lucha contra la corrupción y el soborno.

Para garantizar que las inversiones sostenibles no causan un perjuicio significativo ("DNSH"), Amundi utiliza dos filtros:

Más allá de los factores específicos de sostenibilidad cubiertos en el primer filtro, Amundi ha definido un segundo filtro, que no tiene en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas mencionados anteriormente, con el fin de verificar que la empresa no obtiene malos resultados desde un punto de vista medioambiental o social global en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, lo que corresponde a una puntuación medioambiental o social superior o igual a E utilizando la calificación ESG de Amundi.

- ¿Cómo se tuvieron en cuenta los indicadores de incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

Los indicadores de incidencias adversas se han tenido en cuenta tal y como se detalla en el primer filtro de no causar un daño significativo (DNSH) anterior.

El primer filtro DNSH se basa en el seguimiento de los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas del Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 cuando se dispone de datos sólidos mediante la combinación de los siguientes indicadores y umbrales o normas específicas:

- Tener una intensidad de CO<sub>2</sub> que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector (solo se aplica a sectores de alta intensidad), y
- Tener una diversidad en el Consejo de Administración que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, y
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con las condiciones de trabajo y los derechos humanos.
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con la biodiversidad y la contaminación

- ¿Estaban las inversiones sostenibles alineadas con las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos? Detalles:

y derechos humanos", que se aplica a todos los sectores, además de otros criterios relacionados con los derechos humanos, como las cadenas de suministro socialmente responsables, las condiciones de trabajo y las relaciones laborales. Además, realizamos un seguimiento de las controversias, como mínimo trimestralmente, que incluye a las empresas identificadas por vulneraciones de los derechos humanos. Cuando surgen controversias, los analistas evalúan la situación y aplican una puntuación a la controversia (utilizando nuestra metodología de puntuación interna) y determinan el mejor curso de acción. Las puntuaciones de controversia se actualizan trimestralmente para realizar un seguimiento de la tendencia y de los esfuerzos de corrección.

El producto tiene en cuenta todas las Principales Incidencias Adversas obligatorias según el Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 que se aplica a la estrategia del producto y se basa en una combinación de políticas de exclusión (normativas y sectoriales), enfoques de implicación y voto:

- Exclusión: Amundi ha definido reglas de exclusión normativas, basadas en la actividad y sectoriales que abarcan algunos de los principales indicadores adversos de sostenibilidad enumerados por el Reglamento de Divulgación.
- Integración de factores ESG: Amundi ha adoptado normas mínimas de integración ESG aplicadas por defecto a sus fondos de capital variable y gestión activa (exclusión de emisores con calificación G y mejor puntuación media ponderada ESG superior a la del índice de referencia aplicable). Los 38 criterios utilizados en el enfoque de calificación ESG de Amundi también se diseñaron para tener en cuenta las principales incidencias en los factores de sostenibilidad, así como la calidad de la mitigación realizada, que también se tienen en cuenta a ese respecto.
- Compromiso: La interacción es un proceso continuo y orientado a un fin, cuyo objetivo es influir en las actividades o el comportamiento de las empresas participadas. El objetivo de las actividades de interacción puede clasificarse en dos categorías: comprometer a un emisor a mejorar la forma en que integra la dimensión medioambiental y social, comprometer a un emisor a mejorar su impacto en cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y relacionadas con los derechos humanos u otras cuestiones de sostenibilidad que son importantes para la sociedad y la economía mundial.
- Seguimiento de controversias: Amundi ha desarrollado un sistema de seguimiento de controversias que se basa en tres proveedores de datos externos para realizar un seguimiento sistemático de las controversias y su nivel de gravedad. Este enfoque cuantitativo se enriquece después con una evaluación en profundidad de cada controversia grave, dirigida por analistas ESG y la revisión periódica de su evolución. Este enfoque se aplica a todos los fondos de Amundi.

Si desea más información sobre cómo se tienen en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas, consulte la Declaración de divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.com.

Para estar alineados con la Taxonomía de la UE, los criterios para el gas fósil incluyen limitaciones de emisiones y cambio a energías totalmente renovables

¿En qué medida las inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

El fondo promueve características tanto medioambientales como sociales. Aunque el fondo no se comprometió a realizar inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE, durante el periodo contable el fondo invirtió un 2.67% en inversiones sostenibles alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE. Estas inversiones contribuyeron a la obligación de lucha contra el cambio climático o a los objetivos de mitigación del cambio climático de la Taxonomía de la UE.

o combustibles con bajas emisiones de carbono para finales de 2035. En el caso de la energía nuclear, los criterios incluyen normas exhaustivas de seguridad y gestión de residuos

Las actividades habilitadoras permiten directamente que otras actividades contribuyan de forma sustancial a un objetivo medioambiental.

Las actividades de transición son actividades para las que aún no se dispone de alternativas con bajas emisiones de carbono y, entre otros, tienen niveles de emisión de gases de efecto invernadero correspondientes al mejor rendimiento.

Las actividades alineadas con la Taxonomía se expresan como porcentaje de: -el volumen de negocio que refleja la proporción de ingresos procedentes de actividades ecológicas de las empresas participadas

-las inversiones en inmovilizado (CapEx) que muestran las inversiones ecológicas realizadas por las empresas participadas, por ejemplo, para la transición a una economía verde.
- los gastos de explotación (OpEx) que reflejan las actividades operativas ecológicas de las empresas participadas

El porcentaje declarado de alineación de las inversiones del fondo con la Taxonomía de la UE no ha sido auditado por los auditores del fondo ni por terceros.

● ¿Invirtió el producto financiero en actividades relacionadas con el gas fósil y/o la energía nuclear que se ajustaban a la Taxonomía de la UE¹?

☐ Sí:

☐ En gas fósil

☐ En energía nuclear

☒ No

Durante el periodo no se dispuso de datos fiables sobre la alineación con la Taxonomía de la UE del gas fósil y la energía nuclear.

¹Las actividades relacionadas con el gas fósil y/o la energía nuclear solo se ajustarán a la Taxonomía de la UE cuando contribuyan a limitar el cambio climático ("mitigación del cambio climático") y no causen un perjuicio significativo a ningún objetivo de la Taxonomía de la UE. Los criterios completos para las actividades económicas de gases fósiles y la energía nuclear que se ajustan a la Taxonomía de la UE se establecen en el Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1214 de la Comisión.

Los gráficos siguientes muestran en verde el porcentaje de inversiones que estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE. Como no existe una metodología adecuada para determinar la alineación con la Taxonomía de la deuda pública*, el primer gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía en relación con todas las inversiones del producto financiero, incluida la deuda pública, mientras que el segundo gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía solo en relación con las inversiones del producto financiero distintas de la deuda pública.

● ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones en actividades de transición y habilitadoras?

A 30/06/2024, utilizando como indicador el volumen de negocio y/o los datos sobre el uso del producto obtenido de bonos verdes, la cuota de inversión del fondo en actividades de transición era del 0.02% y la cuota de inversión en actividades habilitadoras era del 2.78%. El porcentaje declarado de alineación de las inversiones del fondo con la Taxonomía de la UE no ha sido auditado por los auditores del fondo ni por terceros.

Este es el primer informe periódico del SFDR elaborado para este subfondo.

La cuota de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineado con la Taxonomía fue del 54.21% al cierre del periodo.

Esto se debe al hecho de que algunos emisores se consideran inversiones sostenibles con arreglo al Reglamento sobre la divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros (SFDR), pero presentan una parte de actividades que no se ajustan a las normas de la Taxonomía de la UE, o para las que aún no se dispone de datos con vistas a realizar una evaluación conforme a la Taxonomía de la UE.

¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social?

El porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social al cierre del periodo era del 13.28%.

¿Qué inversiones se incluían en "otros", cuál era su finalidad y existían salvaguardias medioambientales o sociales mínimas?

El apartado "N.º 2 Otros" incluye el efectivo y otros instrumentos mantenidos con fines de liquidez y gestión del riesgo de cartera. También puede incluir valores sin calificación ESG para los que no se dispone de los datos necesarios con vistas a cuantificar el cumplimiento de las características medioambientales o sociales.

¿Qué medidas se han tomado para alcanzar las características medioambientales y/o sociales durante el periodo de referencia?

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad están continuamente disponibles en el sistema de gestión de carteras, lo que permite a los gestores de carteras evaluar el impacto de sus decisiones de inversión. Estos indicadores se integran en el marco de control de AMUNDI, repartiéndose las responsabilidades entre el primer nivel de controles, realizado por los propios equipos de Inversión, y el segundo nivel de controles, realizado por los equipos de Riesgos, que supervisan de forma continua el cumplimiento de las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el fondo.

Además, la Política de Inversión Responsable de AMUNDI establece un enfoque activo de interacción que promueve el diálogo con las empresas participadas, incluidas las que forman parte de la cartera de este producto. Nuestro Informe Anual de Interacción, disponible en <https://about.amundi.com/esg-documentation>, ofrece información detallada sobre esta iniciativa y sus resultados.

Una inversión sostenible es una inversión en una actividad económica que contribuya a un objetivo medioambiental o social, siempre que la inversión no cause un perjuicio significativo para ningún objetivo medioambiental o social y que las empresas participadas sigan prácticas de buen gobierno.

Durante el ejercicio, el producto promovió continuamente las características medioambientales y/o sociales con el objetivo de lograr una puntuación ESG superior a la puntuación ESG de su universo de inversión MSCI EUROPE (DIVIDENDS REINVESTED) INDEX. Para determinar la puntuación ESG del Producto y el universo de inversión ESG, el desempeño ESG se evaluó continuamente comparando el desempeño medio de un título frente al sector del emisor del título, con respecto a cada una de las tres características: medioambiental, social y de gobierno corporativo.

El universo de inversión es un universo de mercado general que no evalúa ni incluye componentes basados en características medioambientales y/o sociales y, por lo tanto, no pretende ser coherente con las características promovidas por el fondo. No se ha designado ningún índice de referencia ESG.

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad cuantifican cómo se alcanzan las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el producto financiero.

● ¿Cómo se comportaron los indicadores de sostenibilidad?

Amundi ha desarrollado su propio proceso interno de calificación ESG basado en el enfoque "Best-in-class". Las calificaciones adaptadas a cada sector de actividad pretenden evaluar la dinámica en la que operan las empresas.

El indicador de sostenibilidad utilizado es la puntuación ESG del Producto que se mide con respecto a la puntuación ESG del universo de inversión ESG del Producto.

Al cierre del periodo:

- La calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera es 1.188 (C).
- La calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG es 0.77 (C).

La calificación ESG de Amundi utilizada para determinar la puntuación ESG es una puntuación cuantitativa ESG traducida en siete grados, que van de la A (el universo de mejores puntuaciones) a la G (la peor). En la escala de Calificación ESG de Amundi, los títulos pertenecientes a la lista de exclusión corresponden a una G. En el caso de los emisores corporativos, el desempeño ESG se evalúa en general y a nivel de criterios relevantes comparándolo con el desempeño medio de su sector, a través de la combinación de las tres dimensiones ESG:

- Dimensión medioambiental: analiza la capacidad de los emisores para controlar su impacto medioambiental directo e indirecto, limitando su consumo de energía, reduciendo sus emisiones de efecto invernadero, luchando contra el agotamiento de los recursos y protegiendo la biodiversidad.
- Dimensión social: analiza el funcionamiento de un emisor en dos conceptos distintos: su estrategia para desarrollar su capital humano y el respeto de los derechos humanos en general;
- Dimensión de gobierno corporativo: Evalúa la capacidad del emisor para garantizar la base de un marco de gobierno corporativo eficaz y generar valor a largo plazo.

● ¿...y en comparación con periodos anteriores?

Al cierre del periodo anterior, la calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera era de 1.13 (C) y la calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG era de 0.76 (C).

● ¿Cuáles eran los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero pretende realizar parcialmente y cómo contribuía la inversión sostenible a dichos objetivos?

Los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles son invertir en empresas participadas que traten de cumplir dos criterios:

1. seguir las mejores prácticas medioambientales y sociales; y
2. evitar fabricar productos o prestar servicios que perjudiquen al medio ambiente y a la sociedad.

Para que se considere que la empresa en la que se invierte contribuye al objetivo mencionado, debe ser uno de los "mejores actores" dentro de su sector de actividad en al menos uno de sus factores medioambientales o sociales materiales.

La definición de "mejor actor" se basa en la metodología ESG propia de Amundi, cuyo objetivo es cuantificar el desempeño ESG de una empresa participada. Para ser considerada "mejor actor", una empresa participada debe obtener las tres mejores calificaciones (A, B o C, en una escala de calificación que va de la A a la G) dentro de su sector en al menos un factor medioambiental o social material. Los factores medioambientales y sociales materiales se identifican a nivel sectorial. La identificación de factores materiales se basa en el marco de análisis ESG de Amundi, que combina datos extrafinancieros y análisis cualitativos de temáticas sectoriales y de sostenibilidad afines. Los factores identificados como materiales suponen una contribución de más del 10% a la puntuación ESG global. En el sector energético, por ejemplo, los factores materiales son: emisiones y energía, biodiversidad y contaminación, salud y seguridad, comunidades locales y derechos humanos. Si desea obtener una descripción más completa de los sectores y factores, consulte la Declaración Reglamentaria ESG de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.lu.

El carácter sostenible de una inversión se evalúa a nivel de la empresa participada.

Las principales incidencias adversas son los efectos negativos más significativos de las decisiones de inversión sobre los factores de sostenibilidad relacionados con cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y laborales, el respeto de los derechos humanos y la lucha contra la corrupción y el soborno.

Para garantizar que las inversiones sostenibles no causan un perjuicio significativo ("DNSH"), Amundi utiliza dos filtros:

Más allá de los factores específicos de sostenibilidad cubiertos en el primer filtro, Amundi ha definido un segundo filtro, que no tiene en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas mencionados anteriormente, con el fin de verificar que la empresa no obtiene malos resultados desde un punto de vista medioambiental o social global en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, lo que corresponde a una puntuación medioambiental o social superior o igual a E utilizando la calificación ESG de Amundi.

- ¿Cómo se tuvieron en cuenta los indicadores de incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

Los indicadores de incidencias adversas se han tenido en cuenta tal y como se detalla en el primer filtro de no causar un daño significativo (DNSH) anterior.

El primer filtro DNSH se basa en el seguimiento de los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas del Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 cuando se dispone de datos sólidos mediante la combinación de los siguientes indicadores y umbrales o normas específicas:

- Tener una intensidad de CO<sub>2</sub> que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector (solo se aplica a sectores de alta intensidad), y
- Tener una diversidad en el Consejo de Administración que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, y
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con las condiciones de trabajo y los derechos humanos.
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con la biodiversidad y la contaminación

- ¿Estaban las inversiones sostenibles alineadas con las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos? Detalles:

rechos humanos", que se aplica a todos los sectores, además de otros criterios relacionados con los derechos humanos, como las cadenas de suministro socialmente responsables, las condiciones de trabajo y las relaciones laborales. Además, realizamos un seguimiento de las controversias, como mínimo trimestralmente, que incluye a las empresas identificadas por vulneraciones de los derechos humanos. Cuando surgen controversias, los analistas evalúan la situación y aplican una puntuación a la controversia (utilizando nuestra metodología de puntuación interna) y determinan el mejor curso de acción. Las puntuaciones de controversia se actualizan trimestralmente para realizar un seguimiento de la tendencia y de los esfuerzos de corrección.

El producto tiene en cuenta todas las Principales Incidencias Adversas obligatorias según el Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 que se aplica a la estrategia del producto y se basa en una combinación de políticas de exclusión (normativas y sectoriales), enfoques de implicación y voto:

- Exclusión: Amundi ha definido reglas de exclusión normativas, basadas en la actividad y sectoriales que abarcan algunos de los principales indicadores adversos de sostenibilidad enumerados por el Reglamento de Divulgación.
- Compromiso: La interacción es un proceso continuo y orientado a un fin, cuyo objetivo es influir en las actividades o el comportamiento de las empresas participadas. El objetivo de las actividades de interacción puede clasificarse en dos categorías: comprometer a un emisor a mejorar la forma en que integra la dimensión medioambiental y social, comprometer a un emisor a mejorar su impacto en cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y relacionadas con los derechos humanos u otras cuestiones de sostenibilidad que son importantes para la sociedad y la economía mundial.
- Voto: La política de voto de Amundi responde a su análisis integral de todas las cuestiones a largo plazo que pueden influir en la creación de valor, incluidas cuestiones ESG sustanciales. Si desea obtener más información, consulte la Política de Voto de Amundi.
- Seguimiento de controversias: Amundi ha desarrollado un sistema de seguimiento de controversias que se basa en tres proveedores de datos externos para realizar un seguimiento sistemático de las controversias y su nivel de gravedad. Este enfoque cuantitativo se enriquece después con una evaluación en profundidad de cada controversia grave, dirigida por analistas ESG y la revisión periódica de su evolución. Este enfoque se aplica a todos los fondos de Amundi.

Para estar alineados con la Taxonomía de la UE, los criterios para el gas fósil incluyen limitaciones de emisiones y cambio a energías totalmente renovables o combustibles con bajas emisiones de carbono para finales de 2035. En el caso de la energía nuclear, los criterios incluyen normas exhaustivas de seguridad y gestión de residuos

¿En qué medida las inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

El fondo promueve características tanto medioambientales como sociales. Aunque el fondo no se comprometió a realizar inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE, durante el periodo contable el fondo invirtió un 13.85% en inversiones sostenibles alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE. Estas inversiones contribuyeron a la obligación de lucha contra el cambio climático o a los objetivos de mitigación del cambio climático de la Taxonomía de la UE.

● ¿Invirtió el producto financiero en actividades relacionadas con el gas fósil y/o la energía nuclear que se ajustaban a la Taxonomía de la UE?

En gas fósil

No

de transición son actividades para las que aún no se dispone de alternativas con bajas emisiones de carbono y, entre otros, tienen niveles de emisión de gases de efecto invernadero correspondientes al mejor rendimiento.

Las actividades alineadas con la Taxonomía se expresan como porcentaje de:

- el volumen de negocio que refleja la proporción de ingresos procedentes de actividades ecológicas de las empresas participadas
- las inversiones en inmovilizado (CapEx) que muestran las inversiones ecológicas realizadas por las empresas participadas, por ejemplo, para la transición a una economía verde
- los gastos de explotación (OpEx) que reflejan las actividades operativas ecológicas de las empresas participadas

Durante el periodo no se dispuso de datos fiables sobre la alineación con la Taxonomía de la UE del gas fósil y la energía nuclear.

Los gráficos siguientes muestran en verde el porcentaje de inversiones que estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE. Como no existe una metodología adecuada para determinar la alineación con la Taxonomía de la deuda pública*, el primer gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía en relación con todas las inversiones del producto financiero, incluida la deuda pública, mientras que el segundo gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía solo en relación con las inversiones del producto financiero distintas de la deuda pública.

● ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones en actividades de transición y habilitadoras?

A 30/06/2024, utilizando como indicador el volumen de negocio y/o los datos sobre el uso del producto obtenido de bonos verdes, la cuota de inversión del fondo en actividades de transición era del 0.12% y la cuota de inversión en actividades habilitadoras era del 9.43%. El porcentaje declarado de alineación de las inversiones del fondo con la Taxonomía de la UE no ha sido auditado por los auditores del fondo ni por terceros.

Al cierre del periodo anterior, el porcentaje de inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE era del 16.33%.

● ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

La cuota de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineado con la Taxonomía fue del 50.21% al cierre del periodo.

Esto se debe al hecho de que algunos emisores se consideran inversiones sostenibles con arreglo al Reglamento sobre la divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros (SFDR), pero presentan una parte de actividades que no se ajustan a las normas de la Taxonomía de la UE, o para las que aún no se dispone de datos con vistas a realizar una evaluación conforme a la Taxonomía de la UE.

El porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social al cierre del periodo era del 19.79%.

¿Qué inversiones se incluían en "otros", cuál era su finalidad y existían salvaguardias medioambientales o sociales mínimas?

El apartado "N.º 2 Otros" incluye el efectivo y otros instrumentos mantenidos con fines de liquidez y gestión del riesgo de la cartera. En el caso de los bonos y acciones sin calificación, se aplican unas salvaguardias medioambientales y sociales mínimas a través de un cribado de controversias respecto de los Principios del Pacto Mundial de Naciones Unidas.

¿Qué medidas se han tomado para alcanzar las características medioambientales y/o sociales durante el periodo de referencia?

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad están continuamente disponibles en el sistema de gestión de carteras, lo que permite a los gestores de carteras evaluar el impacto de sus decisiones de inversión. Estos indicadores se integran en el marco de control de AMUNDI, repartiéndose las responsabilidades entre el primer nivel de controles, realizado por los propios equipos de Inversión, y el segundo nivel de controles, realizado por los equipos de Riesgos, que supervisan de forma continua el cumplimiento de las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el fondo.

Una inversión sostenible es una inversión en una actividad económica que contribuya a un objetivo medioambiental o social, siempre que la inversión no cause un perjuicio significativo para ningún objetivo medioambiental o social y que las empresas participadas sigan prácticas de buen gobierno.

Características medioambientales y/o sociales

¿Tenía este producto financiero un objetivo de inversión sostenible?

Sí

No

Realizó inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental:

en actividades económicas que se consideran sostenibles desde el punto de vista medioambiental según la Taxonomía de la UE

en actividades económicas que no se consideran sostenibles desde el punto de vista medioambiental según la Taxonomía de la UE

Realizó inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo social:

Promovió características Medioambientales/Sociales (E/S) y, aunque no tiene como objetivo una inversión sostenible, tenía un porcentaje del 60.71% de inversiones sostenibles

con un objetivo medioambiental en actividades económicas que se consideran sostenibles desde el punto de vista medioambiental según la Taxonomía de la UE

con un objetivo medioambiental en actividades económicas que no se consideran sostenibles desde el punto de vista medioambiental según la Taxonomía de la UE

con un objetivo social

Promovió características E/S, pero no realizó inversiones sostenibles

¿En qué medida se cumplieron las características medioambientales y/o sociales promovidas por este producto financiero?

Durante el ejercicio, el producto promovió continuamente las características medioambientales y/o sociales con el objetivo de lograr una puntuación ESG superior a la puntuación ESG de su universo de inversión MSCI EUROPE VALUE. Para determinar la puntuación ESG del Producto y el universo de inversión ESG, el desempeño ESG se evaluó continuamente comparando el desempeño medio de un título frente al sector del emisor del título, con respecto a cada una de las tres características: medioambiental, social y de gobierno corporativo.

El universo de inversión es un universo de mercado general que no evalúa ni incluye componentes basados en características medioambientales y/o sociales y, por lo tanto, no pretende ser coherente con las características promovidas por el fondo. No se ha designado ningún índice de referencia ESG.

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad cuantifican cómo se alcanzan las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el producto financiero.

● ¿Cómo se comportaron los indicadores de sostenibilidad?

Amundi ha desarrollado su propio proceso interno de calificación ESG basado en el enfoque "Best-in-class". Las calificaciones adaptadas a cada sector de actividad pretenden evaluar la dinámica en la que operan las empresas.

El indicador de sostenibilidad utilizado es la puntuación ESG del Producto que se mide con respecto a la puntuación ESG del universo de inversión ESG del Producto.

Al cierre del periodo:

- La calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera es 0.998 (C).
- La calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG es 0.712 (C).

La calificación ESG de Amundi utilizada para determinar la puntuación ESG es una puntuación cuantitativa ESG traducida en siete grados, que van de la A (el universo de mejores puntuaciones) a la G (la peor). En la escala de Calificación ESG de Amundi, los títulos pertenecientes a la lista de exclusión corresponden a una G. En el caso de los emisores corporativos, el desempeño ESG se evalúa en general y a nivel de criterios relevantes comparándolo con el desempeño medio de su sector, a través de la combinación de las tres dimensiones ESG:

- Dimensión medioambiental: analiza la capacidad de los emisores para controlar su impacto medioambiental directo e indirecto, limitando su consumo de energía, reduciendo sus emisiones de efecto invernadero, luchando contra el agotamiento de los recursos y protegiendo la biodiversidad.
- Dimensión social: analiza el funcionamiento de un emisor en dos conceptos distintos: su estrategia para desarrollar su capital humano y el respeto de los derechos humanos en general.
- Dimensión de gobierno corporativo: Evalúa la capacidad del emisor para garantizar la base de un marco de gobierno corporativo eficaz y generar valor a largo plazo.

● ¿...y en comparación con periodos anteriores?

Al cierre del periodo anterior, la calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera era de 1.03 (C) y la calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG era de 0.70 (C).

● ¿Cuáles eran los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero pretende realizar parcialmente y cómo contribuía la inversión sostenible a dichos objetivos?

Los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles son invertir en empresas participadas que traten de cumplir dos criterios:

1. seguir las mejores prácticas medioambientales y sociales; y
2. evitar fabricar productos o prestar servicios que perjudiquen al medio ambiente y a la sociedad.

Para que se considere que la empresa en la que se invierte contribuye al objetivo mencionado, debe ser uno de los "mejores actores" dentro de su sector de actividad en al menos uno de sus factores medioambientales o sociales materiales.

La definición de "mejor actor" se basa en la metodología ESG propia de Amundi, cuyo objetivo es cuantificar el desempeño ESG de una empresa participada. Para ser considerada "mejor actor", una empresa participada debe obtener las tres mejores calificaciones (A, B o C, en una escala de calificación que va de la A a la G) dentro de su sector en al menos un factor medioambiental o social material. Los factores medioambientales y sociales materiales se identifican a nivel sectorial. La identificación de factores materiales se basa en el marco de análisis ESG de Amundi, que combina datos extrafinancieros y análisis cualitativos de temáticas sectoriales y de sostenibilidad afines. Los factores identificados como materiales suponen una contribución de más del 10% a la puntuación ESG global. En el sector energético, por ejemplo, los factores materiales son: emisiones y energía, biodiversidad y contaminación, salud y seguridad, comunidades locales y derechos humanos. Si desea obtener una descripción más completa de los sectores y

factores, consulte la Declaración Reglamentaria ESG de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.lu. Para contribuir a los objetivos anteriores, la empresa participada no debe tener una exposición significativa a actividades (por ejemplo, tabaco, armas, juegos de azar, carbón, aviación, producción de carne, fabricación de fertilizantes y pesticidas, producción de plásticos de un solo uso) que no sean compatibles con dichos criterios.

El carácter sostenible de una inversión se evalúa a nivel de la empresa participada.

Para garantizar que las inversiones sostenibles no causan un perjuicio significativo ("DNSH"), Amundi utiliza dos filtros:

Más allá de los factores específicos de sostenibilidad cubiertos en el primer filtro, Amundi ha definido un segundo filtro, que no tiene en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas mencionados anteriormente, con el fin de verificar que la empresa no obtiene malos resultados desde un punto de vista medioambiental o social global en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, lo que corresponde a una puntuación medioambiental o social superior o igual a E utilizando la calificación ESG de Amundi.

- ¿Cómo se tuvieron en cuenta los indicadores de incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

Los indicadores de incidencias adversas se han tenido en cuenta tal y como se detalla en el primer filtro de no causar un daño significativo (DNSH) anterior.

El primer filtro DNSH se basa en el seguimiento de los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas del Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 cuando se dispone de datos sólidos mediante la combinación de los siguientes indicadores y umbrales o normas específicas:

- Tener una intensidad de CO<sub>2</sub> que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector (solo se aplica a sectores de alta intensidad), y
- Tener una diversidad en el Consejo de Administración que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, y
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con las condiciones de trabajo y los derechos humanos.
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con la biodiversidad y la contaminación

- ¿Estaban las inversiones sostenibles alineadas con las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos? Detalles:

Sí, las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos están integrados en nuestra metodología de puntuación ESG. Nuestra herramienta de calificación ESG propia evalúa a los emisores utilizando los datos disponibles de nuestros proveedores de datos. Por ejemplo, el modelo cuenta con un criterio específico denominado "Participación en la comunidad y derechos humanos", que se aplica a todos los sectores, además de otros criterios relacionados con los derechos humanos, como las cadenas de suministro socialmente responsables, las condiciones de trabajo y las relaciones laborales. Además, realizamos un seguimiento de las controversias, como mínimo trimestralmente, que incluye a las empresas identificadas por vulneraciones de los derechos humanos. Cuando surgen controversias, los analistas evalúan la situación y aplican una puntuación a la controversia (utilizando nuestra metodología de puntuación interna) y determinan el mejor curso de acción. Las puntuaciones de controversia se actualizan trimestralmente para realizar un seguimiento de la tendencia y de los esfuerzos de corrección.

¿Cómo tuvo en cuenta este producto financiero las principales incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

El producto tiene en cuenta todas las Principales Incidencias Adversas obligatorias según el Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 que se aplica a la estrategia del producto y se basa en una combinación de políticas de exclusión (normativas y sectoriales), enfoques de implicación y voto:

- Exclusión: Amundi ha definido reglas de exclusión normativas, basadas en la actividad y sectoriales que abarcan algunos de los principales indicadores adversos de sostenibilidad enumerados por el Reglamento de Divulgación.
- Integración de factores ESG: Amundi ha adoptado normas mínimas de integración ESG aplicadas por defecto a sus fondos de capital variable y gestión activa (exclusión de emisores con calificación G y mejor puntuación media ponderada ESG superior a la del índice de referencia aplicable). Los 38 criterios utilizados en el enfoque de calificación ESG de Amundi también se diseñaron para tener en cuenta las principales incidencias en los factores de sostenibilidad, así como la calidad de la mitigación realizada, que también se tienen en cuenta a ese respecto.
- Compromiso: La interacción es un proceso continuo y orientado a un fin, cuyo objetivo es influir en las actividades o el comportamiento de las empresas participadas. El objetivo de las actividades de interacción puede clasificarse en dos categorías: comprometer a un emisor a mejorar la forma en que integra la dimensión medioambiental y social, comprometer a un emisor a mejorar su impacto en cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y relacionadas con los derechos humanos u otras cuestiones de sostenibilidad que son importantes para la sociedad y la economía mundial.
- Seguimiento de controversias: Amundi ha desarrollado un sistema de seguimiento de controversias que se basa en tres proveedores de datos externos para realizar un seguimiento sistemático de las controversias y su nivel de gravedad. Este enfoque cuantitativo se enriquece después con una evaluación en profundidad de cada controversia grave, dirigida por analistas ESG y la revisión periódica de su evolución. Este enfoque se aplica a todos los fondos de Amundi.

¿En qué medida las inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

El fondo promueve características tanto medioambientales como sociales. Aunque el fondo no se comprometió a realizar inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE, durante el periodo contable el fondo invirtió un 0.25% en inversiones sostenibles alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE. Estas inversiones contribuyeron a los objetivos de mitigación del cambio climático de la Taxonomía de la UE.

seguridad y gestión de residuos.

Las actividades habilitadoras permiten directamente que otras actividades contribuyan de forma sustancial a un objetivo medioambiental.

Las actividades de transición son actividades para las que aún no se dispone de alternativas con bajas emisiones de carbono y, entre otros, tienen niveles de emisión de gases de efecto invernadero correspondientes al mejor rendimiento.

Las actividades alineadas con la Taxonomía se expresan como porcentaje de:

- el volumen de negocio que refleja la proporción de ingresos procedentes de actividades ecológicas de las empresas participadas
- las inversiones en inmovilizado (CapEx) que muestran las inversiones ecológicas realizadas por las empresas participadas, por ejemplo, para la transición a una economía verde
- los gastos de explotación (OpEx) que reflejan las actividades operativas ecológicas de las empresas participadas

El porcentaje declarado de alineación de las inversiones del fondo con la Taxonomía de la UE no ha sido auditado por los auditores del fondo ni por terceros.

● ¿Invertió el producto financiero en actividades relacionadas con el gas fósil y/o la energía nuclear que se ajustaban a la Taxonomía de la UE?

☐ Sí:

☐ En gas fósil

☐ En energía nuclear

☒ No

Durante el periodo no se dispuso de datos fiables sobre la alineación con la Taxonomía de la UE del gas fósil y la energía nuclear.

Los gráficos siguientes muestran en verde el porcentaje de inversiones que estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE. Como no existe una metodología adecuada para determinar la alineación con la Taxonomía de la deuda pública*, el primer gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía en relación con todas las inversiones del producto financiero, incluida la deuda pública, mientras que el segundo gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía solo en relación con las inversiones del producto financiero distintas de la deuda pública.

● ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones en actividades de transición y habilitadoras?

A 30/06/2024, utilizando como indicador el volumen de negocio y/o los datos sobre el uso del producto obtenido de bonos verdes, la cuota de inversión del fondo en actividades de transición era del 0.10% y la cuota de inversión en actividades habilitadoras era del 1.02%. El porcentaje declarado de alineación de las inversiones del fondo con la Taxonomía de la UE no ha sido auditado por los auditores del fondo ni por terceros.

● ¿Cómo era el porcentaje de inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE respecto de los periodos de referencia anteriores?

Al cierre del periodo anterior, el porcentaje de inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE era del 5.74%.

son inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental que no tienen en cuenta los criterios de las actividades económicas sostenibles desde el punto de vista medioambiental en virtud del Reglamento (UE) 2020/852.

● ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

La cuota de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineado con la Taxonomía fue del 58.02% al cierre del periodo.

Esto se debe al hecho de que algunos emisores se consideran inversiones sostenibles con arreglo al Reglamento sobre la divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros (SFDR), pero presentan una parte de actividades que no se ajustan a las normas de la Taxonomía de la UE, o para las que aún no se dispone de datos con vistas a realizar una evaluación conforme a la Taxonomía de la UE.

● ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social?

El porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social al cierre del periodo era del 2.44%.

● ¿Qué inversiones se incluían en "otros", cuál era su finalidad y existían salvaguardias medioambientales o sociales mínimas?

El apartado "N.º 2 Otros" incluye el efectivo y otros instrumentos mantenidos con fines de liquidez y gestión del riesgo de la cartera. En el caso de los bonos y acciones sin calificación, se aplican unas salvaguardias medioambientales y sociales mínimas a través de un cribado de controversias respecto de los Principios del Pacto Mundial de Naciones Unidas. También puede incluir valores sin calificación ESG para los que no se disponga de los datos necesarios para cuantificar de la consecución de las características medioambientales o sociales.

● ¿Qué medidas se han tomado para alcanzar las características medioambientales y/o sociales durante el periodo de referencia?

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad están continuamente disponibles en el sistema de gestión de carteras, lo que permite a los gestores de carteras evaluar el impacto de sus decisiones de inversión. Estos indicadores se integran en el marco de control de AMUNDI, repartiéndose las responsabilidades entre el primer nivel de controles, realizado por los propios equipos de Inversión, y el segundo nivel de controles, realizado por los equipos de Riesgos, que supervisan de forma continua el cumplimiento de las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el fondo.

Además, la Política de Inversión Responsable de AMUNDI establece un enfoque activo de interacción que promueve el diálogo con las empresas participadas, incluidas las que forman parte de la cartera de este producto. Nuestro Informe Anual de Interacción, disponible en <https://about.amundi.com/esg-documentation>, ofrece información detallada sobre esta iniciativa y sus resultados.

Una inversión sostenible es una inversión en una actividad económica que contribuya a un objetivo medioambiental o social, siempre que la inversión no cause un perjuicio significativo para ningún objetivo medioambiental o social y que las empresas participadas sigan prácticas de buen gobierno.

¿En qué medida se cumplieron las características medioambientales y/o sociales promovidas por este producto financiero?

Durante el ejercicio, el producto promovió continuamente las características medioambientales y/o sociales con el objetivo de lograr una puntuación ESG superior a la puntuación ESG de su universo de inversión MSCI EUROPE (15). Para determinar la puntuación ESG del Producto y el universo de inversión ESG, el desempeño ESG se evaluó continuamente comparando el desempeño medio de un título frente al sector del emisor del título, con respecto a cada una de las tres características: medioambiental, social y de gobierno corporativo.

El universo de inversión es un universo de mercado general que no evalúa ni incluye componentes basados en características medioambientales y/o sociales y, por lo tanto, no pretende ser coherente con las características promovidas por el fondo. No se ha designado ningún índice de referencia ESG.

● ¿Cómo se comportaron los indicadores de sostenibilidad?

Amundi ha desarrollado su propio proceso interno de calificación ESG basado en el enfoque "Best-in-class". Las calificaciones adaptadas a cada sector de actividad pretenden evaluar la dinámica en la que operan las empresas.

El indicador de sostenibilidad utilizado es la puntuación ESG del Producto que se mide con respecto a la puntuación ESG del universo de inversión ESG del Producto.

Al cierre del periodo:

- La calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera es 1.199 (C).
- La calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG es 0.798 (C).

La calificación ESG de Amundi utilizada para determinar la puntuación ESG es una puntuación cuantitativa ESG traducida en siete grados, que van de la A (el universo de mejores puntuaciones) a la G (la peor). En la escala de Calificación ESG de Amundi, los títulos pertenecientes a la lista de exclusión corresponden a una G. En el caso de los emisores corporativos, el desempeño ESG se evalúa en general y a nivel de criterios relevantes comparándolo con el desempeño medio de su sector, a través de la combinación de las tres dimensiones ESG:

- Dimensión medioambiental: analiza la capacidad de los emisores para controlar su impacto medioambiental directo e indirecto, limitando su consumo de energía, reduciendo sus emisiones de efecto invernadero, luchando contra el agotamiento de los recursos y protegiendo la biodiversidad.
- Dimensión social: analiza el funcionamiento de un emisor en dos conceptos distintos: su estrategia para desarrollar su capital humano y el respeto de los derechos humanos en general;
- Dimensión de gobierno corporativo: Evalúa la capacidad del emisor para garantizar la base de un marco de gobierno corporativo eficaz y generar valor a largo plazo.

● ¿...y en comparación con periodos anteriores?

Al cierre del periodo anterior, la calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera era de 1.13 (C) y la calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG era de 0.80 (C).

● ¿Cuáles eran los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero pretende realizar parcialmente y cómo contribuía la inversión sostenible a dichos objetivos?

Los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles son invertir en empresas participadas que traten de cumplir dos criterios:

1. seguir las mejores prácticas medioambientales y sociales; y
2. evitar fabricar productos o prestar servicios que perjudiquen al medio ambiente y a la sociedad.

Para que se considere que la empresa en la que se invierte contribuye al objetivo mencionado, debe ser uno de los "mejores actores" dentro de su sector de actividad en al menos uno de sus factores medioambientales o sociales materiales.

desea obtener una descripción más completa de los sectores y factores, consulte la Declaración Reglamentaria ESG de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.lu.

Para contribuir a los objetivos anteriores, la empresa participada no debe tener una exposición significativa a actividades (por ejemplo, tabaco, armas, juegos de azar, carbón, aviación, producción de carne, fabricación de fertilizantes y pesticidas, producción de plásticos de un solo uso) que no sean compatibles con dichos criterios.

El carácter sostenible de una inversión se evalúa a nivel de la empresa participada.

Las principales incidencias adversas

son los efectos negativos más significativos de las decisiones de inversión sobre los factores de sostenibilidad relacionados con cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y laborales, el respeto de los derechos humanos y la lucha contra la corrupción y el soborno.

● ¿De qué manera las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero realizó parcialmente no causaron un perjuicio significativo a ningún objetivo de inversión sostenible desde el punto de vista medioambiental o social?

Para garantizar que las inversiones sostenibles no causan un perjuicio significativo ("DNSH"), Amundi utiliza dos filtros:

Más allá de los factores específicos de sostenibilidad cubiertos en el primer filtro, Amundi ha definido un segundo filtro, que no tiene en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas mencionados anteriormente, con el fin de verificar que la empresa no obtiene malos resultados desde un punto de vista medioambiental o social global en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, lo que corresponde a una puntuación medioambiental o social superior o igual a E utilizando la calificación ESG de Amundi.

- ¿Cómo se tuvieron en cuenta los indicadores de incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

Los indicadores de incidencias adversas se han tenido en cuenta tal y como se detalla en el primer filtro de no causar un daño significativo (DNSH) anterior.

El primer filtro DNSH se basa en el seguimiento de los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas del Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 cuando se dispone de datos sólidos mediante la combinación de los siguientes indicadores y umbrales o normas específicas:

- Tener una intensidad de CO<sub>2</sub> que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector (solo se aplica a sectores de alta intensidad), y
- Tener una diversidad en el Consejo de Administración que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, y
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con las condiciones de trabajo y los derechos humanos.
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con la biodiversidad y la contaminación

- ¿Estaban las inversiones sostenibles alineadas con las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos? Detalles:

Sí, las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos están integrados en nuestra metodología de puntuación ESG. Nuestra herramienta de calificación ESG propia evalúa a los emisores utilizando los datos disponibles de nuestros proveedores de datos.

Por ejemplo, el modelo cuenta con un criterio específico denominado "Participación en la comunidad y derechos humanos", que se aplica a todos los sectores, además de otros criterios relacionados con los derechos humanos, como las cadenas de suministro socialmente responsables, las condiciones de trabajo y las relaciones laborales. Además, realizamos un seguimiento de las controversias, como mínimo trimestralmente, que incluye a las empresas identificadas por vulneraciones de los derechos humanos. Cuando surgen controversias, los analistas evalúan la situación y aplican una puntuación a la controversia (utilizando nuestra metodología de puntuación interna) y determinan el mejor curso de acción. Las puntuaciones de controversia se actualizan trimestralmente para realizar un seguimiento de la tendencia y de los esfuerzos de corrección.

¿Cómo tuvo en cuenta este producto financiero las principales incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

El producto tiene en cuenta todas las Principales Incidencias Adversas obligatorias según el Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 que se aplica a la estrategia del producto y se basa en una combinación de políticas de exclusión (normativas y sectoriales), enfoques de implicación y voto:

- Exclusión: Amundi ha definido reglas de exclusión normativas, basadas en la actividad y sectoriales que abarcan algunos de los principales indicadores adversos de sostenibilidad enumerados por el Reglamento de Divulgación.
- Integración de factores ESG: Amundi ha adoptado normas mínimas de integración ESG aplicadas por defecto a sus fondos de capital variable y gestión activa (exclusión de emisores con calificación G y mejor puntuación media ponderada ESG superior a la del índice de referencia aplicable). Los 38 criterios utilizados en el enfoque de calificación ESG de Amundi también se diseñaron para tener en cuenta las principales incidencias en los factores de sostenibilidad, así como la calidad de la mitigación realizada, que también se tienen en cuenta a ese respecto.
- Compromiso: La interacción es un proceso continuo y orientado a un fin, cuyo objetivo es influir en las actividades o el comportamiento de las empresas participadas. El objetivo de las actividades de interacción puede clasificarse en dos categorías: comprometer a un emisor a mejorar la forma en que integra la dimensión medioambiental y social, comprometer a un emisor a mejorar su impacto en cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y relacionadas con los derechos humanos u otras cuestiones de sostenibilidad que son importantes para la sociedad y la economía mundial.
- Seguimiento de controversias: Amundi ha desarrollado un sistema de seguimiento de controversias que se basa en tres proveedores de datos externos para realizar un seguimiento sistemático de las controversias y su nivel de gravedad. Este enfoque cuantitativo se enriquece después con una evaluación en profundidad de cada controversia grave, dirigida por analistas ESG y la revisión periódica de su evolución. Este enfoque se aplica a todos los fondos de Amundi.

¿En qué medida las inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

combustibles con bajas emisiones de carbono para finales de 2035. En el caso de la energía nuclear, los criterios incluyen normas exhaustivas de seguridad y gestión de residuos

Las actividades alineadas con la Taxonomía se expresan como porcentaje de: -el volumen de negocio que refleja la proporción de ingresos procedentes de actividades ecológicas de las empresas participadas -las inversiones en inmovilizado (CapEx) que muestran las inversiones ecológicas realizadas por las empresas participadas, por ejemplo, para la transición a una economía verde - los gastos de explotación (OpEx) que reflejan las actividades operativas ecológicas de las empresas participadas

☐ Sí:

☐ En gas fósil

☐ En energía nuclear

☒ No

Durante el periodo no se dispuso de datos fiables sobre la alineación con la Taxonomía de la UE del gas fósil y la energía nuclear.

Los gráficos siguientes muestran en verde el porcentaje de inversiones que estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE. Como no existe una metodología adecuada para determinar la alineación con la Taxonomía de la deuda pública*, el primer gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía en relación con todas las inversiones del producto financiero, incluida la deuda pública, mientras que el segundo gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía solo en relación con las inversiones del producto financiero distintas de la deuda pública.

● ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones en actividades de transición y habilitadoras?

A 30/06/2024, utilizando como indicador el volumen de negocio y/o los datos sobre el uso del producto obtenido de bonos verdes, la cuota de inversión del fondo en actividades de transición era del 0.03% y la cuota de inversión en actividades habilitadoras era del 1.79%. El porcentaje declarado de alineación de las inversiones del fondo con la Taxonomía de la UE no ha sido auditado por los auditores del fondo ni por terceros.

● ¿Cómo era el porcentaje de inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE respecto de los periodos de referencia anteriores?

Al cierre del periodo anterior, el porcentaje de inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE era del 4.11%.

son inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental que no tienen en cuenta los criterios de las actividades económicas sostenibles desde el punto de vista medioambiental en virtud del Reglamento (UE) 2020/852.

¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

La cuota de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineado con la Taxonomía fue del 60.20% al cierre del periodo.

Esto se debe al hecho de que algunos emisores se consideran inversiones sostenibles con arreglo al Reglamento sobre la divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros (SFDR), pero presentan una parte de actividades que no se ajustan a las normas de la Taxonomía de la UE, o para las que aún no se dispone de datos con vistas a realizar una evaluación conforme a la Taxonomía de la UE.

¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social?

El porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social al cierre del periodo era del 16.09%.

¿Qué inversiones se incluían en "otros", cuál era su finalidad y existían salvaguardias medioambientales o sociales mínimas?

El apartado "N.º 2 Otros" incluye el efectivo y otros instrumentos mantenidos con fines de liquidez y gestión del riesgo de la cartera. En el caso de los bonos y acciones sin calificación, se aplican unas salvaguardias medioambientales y sociales mínimas a través de un cribado de controversias respecto de los Principios del Pacto Mundial de Naciones Unidas. También puede incluir valores sin calificación ESG para los que no se disponga de los datos necesarios para cuantificar de la consecución de las características medioambientales o sociales.

¿Qué medidas se han tomado para alcanzar las características medioambientales y/o sociales durante el periodo de referencia?

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad están continuamente disponibles en el sistema de gestión de carteras, lo que permite a los gestores de carteras evaluar el impacto de sus decisiones de inversión. Estos indicadores se integran en el marco de control de AMUNDI, repartiéndose las responsabilidades entre el primer nivel de controles, realizado por los propios equipos de Inversión, y el segundo nivel de controles, realizado por los equipos de Riesgos, que supervisan de forma continua el cumplimiento de las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el fondo.

Características medioambientales y/o sociales

Una inversión sostenible es una inversión en una actividad económica que contribuya a un objetivo medioambiental o social, siempre que la inversión no cause un perjuicio significativo para ningún objetivo medioambiental o social y que las empresas participadas sigan prácticas de buen gobierno.

Promovió características E/S, pero no realizó inversiones sostenibles

¿En qué medida se cumplieron las características medioambientales y/o sociales promovidas por este producto financiero?

Durante el ejercicio, el producto promovió continuamente las características medioambientales y/o sociales con el objetivo de lograr una puntuación ESG superior a la puntuación ESG de su universo de inversión MSCI EUROPE (16) SMALL CAP. Para determinar la puntuación ESG del Producto y el universo de inversión ESG, el desempeño ESG se evaluó continuamente comparando el desempeño medio de un título frente al sector del emisor del título, con respecto a cada una de las tres características: medioambiental, social y de gobierno corporativo.

El universo de inversión es un universo de mercado general que no evalúa ni incluye componentes basados en características medioambientales y/o sociales y, por lo tanto, no pretende ser coherente con las características promovidas por el fondo. No se ha designado ningún índice de referencia ESG.

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad cuantifican cómo se alcanzan las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el producto financiero.

● ¿Cómo se comportaron los indicadores de sostenibilidad?

Amundi ha desarrollado su propio proceso interno de calificación ESG basado en el enfoque "Best-in-class". Las calificaciones adaptadas a cada sector de actividad pretenden evaluar la dinámica en la que operan las empresas.

El indicador de sostenibilidad utilizado es la puntuación ESG del Producto que se mide con respecto a la puntuación ESG del universo de inversión ESG del Producto.

Al cierre del periodo:

- La calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera es 0.756 (C).
- La calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG es 0.528 (C).

La calificación ESG de Amundi utilizada para determinar la puntuación ESG es una puntuación cuantitativa ESG traducida en siete grados, que van de la A (el universo de mejores puntuaciones) a la G (la peor). En la escala de Calificación ESG de Amundi, los títulos pertenecientes a la lista de exclusión corresponden a una G. En el caso de los emisores corporativos, el desempeño ESG se evalúa en general y a nivel de criterios relevantes comparándolo con el desempeño medio de su sector, a través de la combinación de las tres dimensiones ESG:

- Dimensión medioambiental: analiza la capacidad de los emisores para controlar su impacto medioambiental directo e indirecto, limitando su consumo de energía, reduciendo sus emisiones de efecto invernadero, luchando contra el agotamiento de los recursos y protegiendo la biodiversidad.
- Dimensión social: analiza el funcionamiento de un emisor en dos conceptos distintos: su estrategia para desarrollar su capital humano y el respeto de los derechos humanos en general;
- Dimensión de gobierno corporativo: Evalúa la capacidad del emisor para garantizar la base de un marco de gobierno corporativo eficaz y generar valor a largo plazo.

● ¿...y en comparación con periodos anteriores?

● ¿Cuáles eran los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero pretende realizar parcialmente y cómo contribuía la inversión sostenible a dichos objetivos?

Los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles son invertir en empresas participadas que traten de cumplir dos criterios:

1. seguir las mejores prácticas medioambientales y sociales; y
2. evitar fabricar productos o prestar servicios que perjudiquen al medio ambiente y a la sociedad.

Para que se considere que la empresa en la que se invierte contribuye al objetivo mencionado, debe ser uno de los "mejores actores" dentro de su sector de actividad en al menos uno de sus factores medioambientales o sociales materiales.

Reglamentaria ESG de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.lu.

Para contribuir a los objetivos anteriores, la empresa participada no debe tener una exposición significativa a actividades (por ejemplo, tabaco, armas, juegos de azar, carbón, aviación, producción de carne, fabricación de fertilizantes y pesticidas, producción de plásticos de un solo uso) que no sean compatibles con dichos criterios.

El carácter sostenible de una inversión se evalúa a nivel de la empresa participada.

Las principales incidencias adversas son los efectos negativos más significativos de las decisiones de inversión sobre los factores de sostenibilidad relacionados con cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y laborales, el respeto de los derechos humanos y la lucha contra la corrupción y el soborno.

● ¿De qué manera las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero realizó parcialmente no causaron un perjuicio significativo a ningún objetivo de inversión sostenible desde el punto de vista medioambiental o social?

Para garantizar que las inversiones sostenibles no causan un perjuicio significativo ("DNSH"), Amundi utiliza dos filtros:

Más allá de los factores específicos de sostenibilidad cubiertos en el primer filtro, Amundi ha definido un segundo filtro, que no tiene en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas mencionados anteriormente, con el fin de verificar que la empresa no obtiene malos resultados desde un punto de vista medioambiental o social global en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, lo que corresponde a una puntuación medioambiental o social superior o igual a E utilizando la calificación ESG de Amundi.

- ¿Cómo se tuvieron en cuenta los indicadores de incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

Los indicadores de incidencias adversas se han tenido en cuenta tal y como se detalla en el primer filtro de no causar un daño significativo (DNSH) anterior.

El primer filtro DNSH se basa en el seguimiento de los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas del Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 cuando se dispone de datos sólidos mediante la combinación de los siguientes indicadores y umbrales o normas específicas:

- Tener una intensidad de CO<sub>2</sub> que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector (solo se aplica a sectores de alta intensidad), y
- Tener una diversidad en el Consejo de Administración que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, y
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con las condiciones de trabajo y los derechos humanos.
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con la biodiversidad y la contaminación

- ¿Estaban las inversiones sostenibles alineadas con las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos? Detalles:

Sí, las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos están integrados en nuestra metodología de puntuación ESG. Nuestra herramienta de calificación ESG propia evalúa a los emisores utilizando los datos disponibles de nuestros proveedores de datos.

Por ejemplo, el modelo cuenta con un criterio específico denominado "Participación en la comunidad y derechos humanos", que se aplica a todos los sectores, además de otros criterios relacionados con los derechos humanos, como las cadenas de suministro socialmente responsables, las condiciones de trabajo y las relaciones laborales. Además, realizamos un seguimiento de las controversias, como mínimo trimestralmente, que incluye a las empresas identificadas por vulneraciones de los derechos humanos. Cuando surgen controversias, los analistas evalúan la situación y aplican una puntuación a la controversia (utilizando nuestra metodología de puntuación interna) y determinan el mejor curso de acción. Las puntuaciones de controversia se actualizan trimestralmente para realizar un seguimiento de la tendencia y de los esfuerzos de corrección.

¿Cómo tuvo en cuenta este producto financiero las principales incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

El producto tiene en cuenta todas las Principales Incidencias Adversas obligatorias según el Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 que se aplica a la estrategia del producto y se basa en una combinación de políticas de exclusión (normativas y sectoriales), enfoques de implicación y voto:

- Exclusión: Amundi ha definido reglas de exclusión normativas, basadas en la actividad y sectoriales que abarcan algunos de los principales indicadores adversos de sostenibilidad enumerados por el Reglamento de Divulgación.
- Integración de factores ESG: Amundi ha adoptado normas mínimas de integración ESG aplicadas por defecto a sus fondos de capital variable y gestión activa (exclusión de emisores con calificación G y mejor puntuación media ponderada ESG superior a la del índice de referencia aplicable). Los 38 criterios utilizados en el enfoque de calificación ESG de Amundi también se diseñaron para tener en cuenta las principales incidencias en los factores de sostenibilidad, así como la calidad de la mitigación realizada, que también se tienen en cuenta a ese respecto.
- Compromiso: La interacción es un proceso continuo y orientado a un fin, cuyo objetivo es influir en las actividades o el comportamiento de las empresas participadas. El objetivo de las actividades de interacción puede clasificarse en dos categorías: comprometer a un emisor a mejorar la forma en que integra la dimensión medioambiental y social, comprometer a un emisor a mejorar su impacto en cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y relacionadas con los derechos humanos u otras cuestiones de sostenibilidad que son importantes para la sociedad y la economía mundial.
- Seguimiento de controversias: Amundi ha desarrollado un sistema de seguimiento de controversias que se basa en tres proveedores de datos externos para realizar un seguimiento sistemático de las controversias y su nivel de gravedad. Este enfoque cuantitativo se enriquece después con una evaluación en profundidad de cada controversia grave, dirigida por analistas ESG y la revisión periódica de su evolución. Este enfoque se aplica a todos los fondos de Amundi.

Si desea más información sobre cómo se tienen en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas, consulte la Declaración de divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.com.

¿En qué medida las inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

El fondo promueve características tanto medioambientales como sociales. Aunque el fondo no se comprometió a realizar inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE, durante el periodo contable el fondo invirtió un 3.02% en inversiones sostenibles alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE. Estas inversiones contribuyeron a los objetivos de mitigación del cambio climático de la Taxonomía de la UE.

La alineación de las empresas participadas con los objetivos de la Taxonomía de la UE antes mencionados se cuantifica utilizando datos sobre el volumen de negocio (o los ingresos) y/o el uso del producto obtenido de bonos verdes.

● ¿Invirtió el producto financiero en actividades relacionadas con el gas fósil y/o la energía nuclear que se ajustaban a la Taxonomía de la UE<sup>1</sup>?

- ☐ Sí:
- ☐ En gas fósil ☐ En energía nuclear
- ☒ No

Durante el periodo no se dispuso de datos fiables sobre la alineación con la Taxonomía de la UE del gas fósil y la energía nuclear.

Para estar alineados con la Taxonomía de la UE, los criterios para el gas fósil incluyen limitaciones de emisiones y cambio a energías totalmente renovables o combustibles con bajas emisiones de carbono para finales de 2035. En el caso de la energía nuclear, los criterios incluyen normas exhaustivas de seguridad y gestión de residuos

Las actividades habilitadoras permiten directamente que otras actividades contribuyan de forma sustancial a un objetivo medioambiental.

Las actividades alineadas con la Taxonomía se expresan como porcentaje de:

- el volumen de negocio que refleja la proporción de ingresos procedentes de actividades ecológicas de las empresas participadas
- las inversiones en inmovilizado (CapEx) que muestran las inversiones ecológicas realizadas por las empresas participadas, por ejemplo, para la transición a una economía verde.
- los gastos de explotación (OpEx) que reflejan las actividades operativas ecológicas de las empresas participadas.

Los gráficos siguientes muestran en verde el porcentaje de inversiones que estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE. Como no existe una metodología adecuada para determinar la alineación con la Taxonomía de la deuda pública*, el primer gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía en relación con todas las inversiones del producto financiero, incluida la deuda pública, mientras que el segundo gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía solo en relación con las inversiones del producto financiero distintas de la deuda pública.

¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones en actividades de transición y habilitadoras?

¿Cómo era el porcentaje de inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE respecto de los periodos de referencia anteriores?

Al cierre del periodo anterior, el porcentaje de inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE era del 5.60%.

¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

La cuota de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineado con la Taxonomía fue del 44.48% al cierre del periodo.

Esto se debe al hecho de que algunos emisores se consideran inversiones sostenibles con arreglo al Reglamento sobre la divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros (SFDR), pero presentan una parte de actividades que no se ajustan a las normas de la Taxonomía de la UE, o para las que aún no se dispone de datos con vistas a realizar una evaluación conforme a la Taxonomía de la UE.

¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social?

El porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social al cierre del periodo era del 16.45%.

¿Qué inversiones se incluían en "otros", cuál era su finalidad y existían salvaguardias medioambientales o sociales mínimas?

El apartado "N.º 2 Otros" incluye el efectivo y otros instrumentos mantenidos con fines de liquidez y gestión del riesgo de la cartera. En el caso de los bonos y acciones sin calificación, se aplican unas salvaguardias medioambientales y sociales mínimas a través de un cribado de controversias respecto de los Principios del Pacto Mundial de Naciones Unidas. También puede incluir valores sin calificación ESG para los que no se disponga de los datos necesarios para cuantificar de la consecución de las características medioambientales o sociales.

¿Qué medidas se han tomado para alcanzar las características medioambientales y/o sociales durante el periodo de referencia?

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad están continuamente disponibles en el sistema de gestión de carteras, lo que permite a los gestores de carteras evaluar el impacto de sus decisiones de inversión. Estos indicadores se integran en el marco de control de AMUNDI, repartiéndose las responsabilidades entre el primer nivel de controles, realizado por los propios equipos de Inversión, y el segundo nivel de controles, realizado por los equipos de Riesgos, que supervisan de forma continua el cumplimiento de las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el fondo.

Además, la Política de Inversión Responsable de AMUNDI establece un enfoque activo de interacción que promueve el diálogo con las empresas participadas, incluidas las que forman parte de la cartera de este producto. Nuestro Informe Anual de Interacción, disponible en <https://about.amundi.com/esg-documentation>, ofrece información detallada sobre esta iniciativa y sus resultados.

Una inversión sostenible es una inversión en una actividad económica que contribuya a un objetivo medioambiental o social, siempre que la inversión no cause un perjuicio significativo para ningún objetivo medioambiental o social y que las empresas participadas sigan prácticas de buen gobierno.

¿En qué medida se cumplieron las características medioambientales y/o sociales promovidas por este producto financiero?

Durante el ejercicio, el producto promovió continuamente las características medioambientales y/o sociales con el objetivo de lograr una puntuación ESG superior a la puntuación ESG de su universo de inversión TOPIX. Para determinar la puntuación ESG del Producto y el universo de inversión ESG, el desempeño ESG se evaluó continuamente comparando el desempeño medio de un título frente al sector del emisor del título, con respecto a cada una de las tres características: medioambiental, social y de gobierno corporativo.

El universo de inversión es un universo de mercado general que no evalúa ni incluye componentes basados en características medioambientales y/o sociales y, por lo tanto, no pretende ser coherente con las características promovidas por el fondo. No se ha designado ningún índice de referencia ESG.

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad cuantifican cómo se alcanzan las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el producto financiero.

● ¿Cómo se comportaron los indicadores de sostenibilidad?

Amundi ha desarrollado su propio proceso interno de calificación ESG basado en el enfoque "Best-in-class". Las calificaciones adaptadas a cada sector de actividad pretenden evaluar la dinámica en la que operan las empresas.

El indicador de sostenibilidad utilizado es la puntuación ESG del Producto que se mide con respecto a la puntuación ESG del universo de inversión ESG del Producto.

Al cierre del periodo:

- La calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera es -0.223 (D).
- La calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG es -0.280 (D).

La calificación ESG de Amundi utilizada para determinar la puntuación ESG es una puntuación cuantitativa ESG traducida en siete grados, que van de la A (el universo de mejores puntuaciones) a la G (la peor). En la escala de Calificación ESG de Amundi, los títulos pertenecientes a la lista de exclusión corresponden a una G. En el caso de los emisores corporativos, el desempeño ESG se evalúa en general y a nivel de criterios relevantes comparándolo con el desempeño medio de su sector, a través de la combinación de las tres dimensiones ESG:

- Dimensión medioambiental: analiza la capacidad de los emisores para controlar su impacto medioambiental directo e indirecto, limitando su consumo de energía, reduciendo sus emisiones de efecto invernadero, luchando contra el agotamiento de los recursos y protegiendo la biodiversidad.
- Dimensión social: analiza el funcionamiento de un emisor en dos conceptos distintos: su estrategia para desarrollar su capital humano y el respeto de los derechos humanos en general.
- Dimensión de gobierno corporativo: Evalúa la capacidad del emisor para garantizar la base de un marco de gobierno corporativo eficaz y generar valor a largo plazo.

● ¿...y en comparación con periodos anteriores?

● ¿Cuáles eran los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero pretende realizar parcialmente y cómo contribuía la inversión sostenible a dichos objetivos?

Los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles son invertir en empresas participadas que traten de cumplir dos criterios:

1. seguir las mejores prácticas medioambientales y sociales; y
2. evitar fabricar productos o prestar servicios que perjudiquen al medio ambiente y a la sociedad.

Para que se considere que la empresa en la que se invierte contribuye al objetivo mencionado, debe ser uno de los "mejores actores" dentro de su sector de actividad en al menos uno de sus factores medioambientales o sociales materiales.

desea obtener una descripción más completa de los sectores y factores, consulte la Declaración Reglamentaria ESG de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.lu.

Para contribuir a los objetivos anteriores, la empresa participada no debe tener una exposición significativa a actividades (por ejemplo, tabaco, armas, juegos de azar, carbón, aviación, producción de carne, fabricación de fertilizantes y pesticidas, producción de plásticos de un solo uso) que no sean compatibles con dichos criterios.

El carácter sostenible de una inversión se evalúa a nivel de la empresa participada.

Las principales incidencias adversas

son los efectos negativos más significativos de las decisiones de inversión sobre los factores de sostenibilidad relacionados con cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y laborales, el respeto de los derechos humanos y la lucha contra la corrupción y el soborno.

● ¿De qué manera las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero realizó parcialmente no causaron un perjuicio significativo a ningún objetivo de inversión sostenible desde el punto de vista medioambiental o social?

Para garantizar que las inversiones sostenibles no causan un perjuicio significativo ("DNSH"), Amundi utiliza dos filtros:

Más allá de los factores específicos de sostenibilidad cubiertos en el primer filtro, Amundi ha definido un segundo filtro, que no tiene en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas mencionados anteriormente, con el fin de verificar que la empresa no obtiene malos resultados desde un punto de vista medioambiental o social global en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, lo que corresponde a una puntuación medioambiental o social superior o igual a E utilizando la calificación ESG de Amundi.

- ¿Cómo se tuvieron en cuenta los indicadores de incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

Los indicadores de incidencias adversas se han tenido en cuenta tal y como se detalla en el primer filtro de no causar un daño significativo (DNSH) anterior.

El primer filtro DNSH se basa en el seguimiento de los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas del Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 cuando se dispone de datos sólidos mediante la combinación de los siguientes indicadores y umbrales o normas específicas:

- Tener una intensidad de CO<sub>2</sub> que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector (solo se aplica a sectores de alta intensidad), y
- Tener una diversidad en el Consejo de Administración que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, y
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con las condiciones de trabajo y los derechos humanos.
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con la biodiversidad y la contaminación

- ¿Estaban las inversiones sostenibles alineadas con las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos? Detalles:

los emisores utilizando los datos disponibles de nuestros proveedores de datos.

Por ejemplo, el modelo cuenta con un criterio específico denominado "Participación en la comunidad y derechos humanos", que se aplica a todos los sectores, además de otros criterios relacionados con los derechos humanos, como las cadenas de suministro socialmente responsables, las condiciones de trabajo y las relaciones laborales. Además, realizamos un seguimiento de las controversias, como mínimo trimestralmente, que incluye a las empresas identificadas por vulneraciones de los derechos humanos. Cuando surgen controversias, los analistas evalúan la situación y aplican una puntuación a la controversia (utilizando nuestra metodología de puntuación interna) y determinan el mejor curso de acción. Las puntuaciones de controversia se actualizan trimestralmente para realizar un seguimiento de la tendencia y de los esfuerzos de corrección.

¿Cómo tuvo en cuenta este producto financiero las principales incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

El producto tiene en cuenta todas las Principales Incidencias Adversas obligatorias según el Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 que se aplica a la estrategia del producto y se basa en una combinación de políticas de exclusión (normativas y sectoriales), enfoques de implicación y voto:

- Exclusión: Amundi ha definido reglas de exclusión normativas, basadas en la actividad y sectoriales que abarcan algunos de los principales indicadores adversos de sostenibilidad enumerados por el Reglamento de Divulgación.
- Integración de factores ESG: Amundi ha adoptado normas mínimas de integración ESG aplicadas por defecto a sus fondos de capital variable y gestión activa (exclusión de emisores con calificación G y mejor puntuación media ponderada ESG superior a la del índice de referencia aplicable). Los 38 criterios utilizados en el enfoque de calificación ESG de Amundi también se diseñaron para tener en cuenta las principales incidencias en los factores de sostenibilidad, así como la calidad de la mitigación realizada, que también se tienen en cuenta a ese respecto.
- Compromiso: La interacción es un proceso continuo y orientado a un fin, cuyo objetivo es influir en las actividades o el comportamiento de las empresas participadas. El objetivo de las actividades de interacción puede clasificarse en dos categorías: comprometer a un emisor a mejorar la forma en que integra la dimensión medioambiental y social, comprometer a un emisor a mejorar su impacto en cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y relacionadas con los derechos humanos u otras cuestiones de sostenibilidad que son importantes para la sociedad y la economía mundial.
- Voto: La política de voto de Amundi responde a su análisis integral de todas las cuestiones a largo plazo que pueden influir en la creación de valor, incluidas cuestiones ESG sustanciales. Si desea obtener más información, consulte la Política de Voto de Amundi.
- Seguimiento de controversias: Amundi ha desarrollado un sistema de seguimiento de controversias que se basa en tres proveedores de datos externos para realizar un seguimiento sistemático de las controversias y su nivel de gravedad. Este enfoque cuantitativo se enriquece después con una evaluación en profundidad de cada controversia grave, dirigida por analistas ESG y la revisión periódica de su evolución. Este enfoque se aplica a todos los fondos de Amundi.

Si desea más información sobre cómo se tienen en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas, consulte la Declaración de divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.com.

☐ En gas fósil

☐ En energía nuclear

☒ No

Durante el periodo no se dispuso de datos fiables sobre la alineación con la Taxonomía de la UE del gas fósil y la energía nuclear.

Al cierre del periodo anterior, el porcentaje de inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE era del 0.00%.

● ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

La cuota de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineado con la Taxonomía fue del 21.89% al cierre del periodo.

Esto se debe al hecho de que algunos emisores se consideran inversiones sostenibles con arreglo al Reglamento sobre la divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros (SFDR), pero presentan una parte de actividades que no se ajustan a las normas de la Taxonomía de la UE, o para las que aún no se dispone de datos con vistas a realizar una evaluación conforme a la Taxonomía de la UE.

● ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social?

El porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social al cierre del periodo era del 10.58%.

● ¿Qué inversiones se incluían en "otros", cuál era su finalidad y existían salvaguardias medioambientales o sociales mínimas?

El apartado "N.º 2 Otros" incluye el efectivo y otros instrumentos mantenidos con fines de liquidez y gestión del riesgo de la cartera. En el caso de los bonos y acciones sin calificación, se aplican unas salvaguardias medioambientales y sociales mínimas a través de un cribado de controversias respecto de los Principios del Pacto Mundial de Naciones Unidas. También puede incluir valores sin calificación ESG para los que no se disponga de los datos necesarios para cuantificar de la consecución de las características medioambientales o sociales.

● ¿Qué medidas se han tomado para alcanzar las características medioambientales y/o sociales durante el periodo de referencia?

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad están continuamente disponibles en el sistema de gestión de carteras, lo que permite a los gestores de carteras evaluar el impacto de sus decisiones de inversión.

Estos indicadores se integran en el marco de control de AMUNDI, repartiéndose las responsabilidades entre el primer nivel de controles, realizado por los propios equipos de Inversión, y el segundo nivel de controles, realizado por los equipos de Riesgos, que supervisan de forma continua el cumplimiento de las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el fondo.

Además, la Política de Inversión Responsable de AMUNDI establece un enfoque activo de interacción que promueve el diálogo con las empresas participadas, incluidas las que forman parte de la cartera de este producto. Nuestro Informe Anual de Interacción, disponible en <https://about.amundi.com/esg-documentation>, ofrece información detallada sobre esta iniciativa y sus resultados.

Una inversión sostenible es una inversión en una actividad económica que contribuya a un objetivo medioambiental o social, siempre que la inversión no cause un perjuicio significativo para ningún objetivo medioambiental o social y que las empresas participadas sigan prácticas de buen gobierno.

¿En qué medida se cumplieron las características medioambientales y/o sociales promovidas por este producto financiero?

Durante el ejercicio, el producto promovió continuamente las características medioambientales y/o sociales con el objetivo de lograr una puntuación ESG superior a la puntuación ESG de su universo de inversión MSCI WORLD. Para determinar la puntuación ESG del Producto y el universo de inversión ESG, el desempeño ESG se evaluó continuamente comparando el desempeño medio de un título frente al sector del emisor del título, con respecto a cada una de las tres características: medioambiental, social y de gobierno corporativo.

El producto lleva la etiqueta ISR (Inversión Social y Responsable). A lo largo de todo el ejercicio ha tratado de promover las 3 dimensiones (medioambiental, social y de gobierno corporativo) teniendo en cuenta la calificación ESG de los emisores en la estructuración de la cartera.

La calificación ESG de los emisores tiene por objeto evaluar su capacidad para gestionar el posible impacto negativo de sus actividades en los factores de sostenibilidad. Así pues, este análisis pretende evaluar sus comportamientos Medioambientales y Sociales en términos de gobierno corporativo, asignándoles una calificación ESG que va de la A (mejor calificación) a la G (peor calificación), con el fin de lograr una evaluación más global de los riesgos.

1. La cartera ha aplicado sistemáticamente la siguiente política de exclusión de Amundi:

- Exclusiones legales sobre armas controvertidas
- Empresas que contravienen grave y repetidamente uno o más de los 10 principios del Pacto Mundial (Pacto Mundial de Naciones Unidas), sin medidas correctivas creíbles;
- Las exclusiones sectoriales del grupo Amundi sobre Carbón y Tabaco; (los detalles de esta política están disponibles en la Política de Inversión Responsable de Amundi en el sitio web www.amundi.fr)

2. No se ha invertido en emisores con calificación F o G. En el caso de los emisores cuya calificación se ha rebajado a F o G, los títulos ya presentes en la cartera se vendieron dentro del plazo comprometido en el folleto y velando por el interés financiero de los titulares

3. La puntuación ESG media ponderada de la cartera ha sido sistemáticamente superior a la puntuación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión del fondo tras eliminar el 20% de los peores emisores

4. El fondo ha favorecido a emisores líderes en su sector de actividad según los criterios ESG identificados por el equipo de analistas extrafinancieros de la sociedad gestora (enfoque "best in class"). A excepción de las exclusiones mencionadas, todos los sectores económicos están representados en este enfoque, por lo que la UCI puede estar expuesta a determinados sectores controvertidos.

● ¿Cómo se comportaron los indicadores de sostenibilidad?

Amundi ha desarrollado su propio proceso interno de calificación ESG basado en el enfoque "Best-in-class". Las calificaciones adaptadas a cada sector de actividad pretenden evaluar la dinámica en la que operan las empresas.

El indicador de sostenibilidad utilizado es la puntuación ESG del Producto que se mide con respecto a la puntuación ESG del universo de inversión ESG del Producto.

Al cierre del periodo:

- La calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera es 0.622 (C).
- La calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG es -0.179(C).

La calificación ESG de Amundi utilizada para determinar la puntuación ESG es una puntuación cuantitativa ESG traducida en siete grados, que van de la A (el universo de mejores puntuaciones) a la G (la peor). En la escala de Calificación ESG de Amundi, los títulos pertenecientes a la lista de exclusión corresponden a una G. En el caso de los emisores corporativos, el desempeño ESG se evalúa en general y a nivel de criterios relevantes comparándolo con el desempeño medio de su sector, a través de la combinación de las tres dimensiones ESG:

- Dimensión medioambiental: analiza la capacidad de los emisores para controlar su impacto medioambiental directo e indirecto, limitando su consumo de energía, reduciendo sus emisiones de efecto invernadero, luchando contra el agotamiento de los recursos y protegiendo la biodiversidad.
- Dimensión social: analiza el funcionamiento de un emisor en dos conceptos distintos: su estrategia para desarrollar su capital humano y el respeto de los derechos humanos en general;
- Dimensión de gobierno corporativo: Evalúa la capacidad del emisor para garantizar la base de un marco de gobierno corporativo eficaz y generar valor a largo plazo.

La metodología aplicada por la calificación ESG de Amundi utiliza 38 criterios que son genéricos (comunes a todas las empresas independientemente de su actividad) o sectoriales, que se ponderan según el sector y se consideran en términos de su impacto en la reputación, la eficiencia operativa y la normativa con respecto a un emisor. Las calificaciones ESG de Amundi pueden expresarse globalmente en las tres dimensiones E, S y G o individualmente en cualquier factor medioambiental o social.

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad cuantifican cómo se alcanzan las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el producto financiero.

● ¿...y en comparación con periodos anteriores?

Al cierre del periodo anterior, la calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera era de 0.69 (C) y la calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG era de -0.12 (C).

● ¿Cuáles eran los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero pretende realizar parcialmente y cómo contribuía la inversión sostenible a dichos objetivos?

Los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles son invertir en empresas participadas que traten de cumplir dos criterios:

1. seguir las mejores prácticas medioambientales y sociales; y
2. evitar fabricar productos o prestar servicios que perjudiquen al medio ambiente y a la sociedad.

Para que se considere que la empresa en la que se invierte contribuye al objetivo mencionado, debe ser uno de los "mejores actores" dentro de su sector de actividad en al menos uno de sus factores medioambientales o sociales materiales.

La definición de "mejor actor" se basa en la metodología ESG propia de Amundi, cuyo objetivo es cuantificar el desempeño ESG de una empresa participada. Para ser considerada "mejor actor", una empresa participada debe obtener las tres mejores calificaciones (A, B o C, en una escala de calificación que va de la A a la G) dentro de su sector en al menos un factor medioambiental o social material. Los factores medioambientales y sociales materiales se identifican a nivel sectorial. La identificación de factores materiales se basa en el marco de análisis ESG de Amundi, que combina datos extrafinancieros y análisis cualitativos de temáticas sectoriales y de sostenibilidad afines. Los factores identificados como materiales suponen una contribución de más del 10% a la puntuación ESG global. En el sector energético, por ejemplo, los factores materiales son: emisiones y energía, biodiversidad y contaminación, salud y seguridad, comunidades locales y derechos humanos. Si desea obtener una descripción más completa de los sectores y factores, consulte la Declaración Reglamentaria ESG de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.lu.

Para contribuir a los objetivos anteriores, la empresa participada no debe tener una exposición significativa a actividades (por ejemplo, tabaco, armas, juegos de azar, carbón, aviación, producción de carne, fabricación de fertilizantes y pesticidas, producción de plásticos de un solo uso) que no sean compatibles con dichos criterios.

El carácter sostenible de una inversión se evalúa a nivel de la empresa participada.

Para garantizar que las inversiones sostenibles no causan un perjuicio significativo ("DNSH"), Amundi utiliza dos filtros:

Más allá de los factores específicos de sostenibilidad cubiertos en el primer filtro, Amundi ha definido un segundo filtro, que no tiene en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas mencionados anteriormente, con el fin de verificar que la empresa no obtiene malos resultados desde un punto de vista medioambiental o social global en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, lo que corresponde a una puntuación medioambiental o social superior o igual a E utilizando la calificación ESG de Amundi.

- ¿Cómo se tuvieron en cuenta los indicadores de incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

Los indicadores de incidencias adversas se han tenido en cuenta tal y como se detalla en el primer filtro de no causar un daño significativo (DNSH) anterior.

El primer filtro DNSH se basa en el seguimiento de los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas del Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 cuando se dispone de datos sólidos mediante la combinación de los siguientes indicadores y umbrales o normas específicas:

- Tener una intensidad de CO<sub>2</sub> que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector (solo se aplica a sectores de alta intensidad), y
- Tener una diversidad en el Consejo de Administración que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, y
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con las condiciones de trabajo y los derechos humanos.
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con la biodiversidad y la contaminación

- ¿Estaban las inversiones sostenibles alineadas con las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos? Detalles:

Sí, las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos están integrados en nuestra metodología de puntuación ESG. Nuestra herramienta de calificación ESG propia evalúa a los emisores utilizando los datos disponibles de nuestros proveedores de datos.

Por ejemplo, el modelo cuenta con un criterio específico denominado "Participación en la comunidad y derechos humanos", que se aplica a todos los sectores, además de otros criterios relacionados con los derechos humanos, como las cadenas de suministro socialmente responsables, las condiciones de trabajo y las relaciones laborales. Además, realizamos un seguimiento de las controversias, como mínimo trimestralmente, que incluye a las empresas identificadas por vulneraciones de los derechos humanos. Cuando surgen controversias, los analistas evalúan la situación y aplican una puntuación a la controversia (utilizando nuestra metodología de puntuación interna) y determinan el mejor curso de acción. Las puntuaciones de controversia se actualizan trimestralmente para realizar un seguimiento de la tendencia y de los esfuerzos de corrección.

¿Cómo tuvo en cuenta este producto financiero las principales incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

El producto tiene en cuenta todas las Principales Incidencias Adversas obligatorias según el Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 que se aplica a la estrategia del producto y se basa en una combinación de políticas de exclusión (normativas y sectoriales), enfoques de implicación y voto:

- Exclusión: Amundi ha definido reglas de exclusión normativas, basadas en la actividad y sectoriales que abarcan algunos de los principales indicadores adversos de sostenibilidad enumerados por el Reglamento de Divulgación.
- Integración de factores ESG: Amundi ha adoptado normas mínimas de integración ESG aplicadas por defecto a sus fondos de capital variable y gestión activa (exclusión de emisores con calificación G y mejor puntuación media ponderada ESG superior a la del índice de referencia aplicable). Los 38 criterios utilizados en el enfoque de calificación ESG de Amundi también se diseñaron para tener en cuenta las principales incidencias en los factores de sostenibilidad, así como la calidad de la mitigación realizada, que también se tienen en cuenta a ese respecto.
- Compromiso: La interacción es un proceso continuo y orientado a un fin, cuyo objetivo es influir en las actividades o el comportamiento de las empresas participadas. El objetivo de las actividades de interacción puede clasificarse en dos categorías: comprometer a un emisor a mejorar la forma en que integra la dimensión medioambiental y social, comprometer a un emisor a mejorar su impacto en cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y relacionadas con los derechos humanos u otras cuestiones de sostenibilidad que son importantes para la sociedad y la economía mundial.
- Seguimiento de controversias: Amundi ha desarrollado un sistema de seguimiento de controversias que se basa en tres proveedores de datos externos para realizar un seguimiento sistemático de las controversias y su nivel de gravedad. Este enfoque cuantitativo se enriquece después con una evaluación en profundidad de cada controversia grave, dirigida por analistas ESG y la revisión periódica de su evolución. Este enfoque se aplica a todos los fondos de Amundi.

Si desea más información sobre cómo se tienen en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas, consulte la Declaración de divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.com.

¿En qué medida las inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

El fondo promueve características tanto medioambientales como sociales. Aunque el fondo no se comprometió a realizar inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE, durante el periodo contable el fondo invirtió un 1.44% en inversiones sostenibles alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE. Estas inversiones contribuyeron a los objetivos de mitigación del cambio climático de la Taxonomía de la UE.

La alineación de las empresas participadas con los objetivos de la Taxonomía de la UE antes mencionados se cuantifica utilizando datos sobre el volumen de negocio (o los ingresos) y/o el uso del producto obtenido de bonos verdes.

☐ Sí:

☐ En gas fósil☐ En energía nuclear

☒ No

Durante el periodo no se dispuso de datos fiables sobre la alineación con la Taxonomía de la UE del gas fósil y la energía nuclear.

Para estar alineados con la Taxonomía de la UE, los criterios para el gas fósil incluyen limitaciones de emisiones y cambio a energías totalmente renovables o combustibles con bajas emisiones de carbono para finales de 2035. En el caso de la energía nuclear, los criterios incluyen normas exhaustivas de seguridad y gestión de residuos

Las actividades habilitadoras permiten directamente que otras actividades contribuyan de forma sustancial a un objetivo medioambiental.

efecto invernadero correspondientes al mejor rendimiento.

Las actividades alineadas con la Taxonomía se expresan como porcentaje de:

- el volumen de negocio que refleja la proporción de ingresos procedentes de actividades ecológicas de las empresas participadas
- las inversiones en inmovilizado (CapEx) que muestran las inversiones ecológicas realizadas por las empresas participadas, por ejemplo, para la transición a una economía verde.
- los gastos de explotación (OpEx) que reflejan las actividades operativas ecológicas de las empresas participadas.

Los gráficos siguientes muestran en verde el porcentaje de inversiones que estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE. Como no existe una metodología adecuada para determinar la alineación con la Taxonomía de la deuda pública*, el primer gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía en relación con todas las inversiones del producto financiero, incluida la deuda pública, mientras que el segundo gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía solo en relación con las inversiones del producto financiero distintas de la deuda pública.

* A efectos de estos gráficos, la "deuda pública" abarca todas las exposiciones a deuda pública.

● ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones en actividades de transición y habilitadoras?

● ¿Cómo era el porcentaje de inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE respecto de los periodos de referencia anteriores?

Al cierre del periodo anterior, el porcentaje de inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE era del 1.72%.

● ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

La cuota de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineado con la Taxonomía fue del 46.80% al cierre del periodo.

Esto se debe al hecho de que algunos emisores se consideran inversiones sostenibles con arreglo al Reglamento sobre la divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros (SFDR), pero presentan una parte de actividades que no se ajustan a las normas de la Taxonomía de la UE, o para las que aún no se dispone de datos con vistas a realizar una evaluación conforme a la Taxonomía de la UE.

● ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social?

El porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social al cierre del periodo era del 15.18%.

son inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental que no tienen en cuenta los criterios de las actividades económicas sostenibles desde el punto de vista medioambiental en virtud del Reglamento (UE) 2020/852.

El apartado "N.º 2 Otros" incluye el efectivo y otros instrumentos mantenidos con fines de liquidez y gestión del riesgo de la cartera. En el caso de los bonos y acciones sin calificación, se aplican unas salvaguardias medioambientales y sociales mínimas a través de un cribado de controversias respecto de los Principios del Pacto Mundial de Naciones Unidas. También puede incluir valores sin calificación ESG para los que no se disponga de los datos necesarios para cuantificar de la consecución de las características medioambientales o sociales.

¿Qué medidas se han tomado para alcanzar las características medioambientales y/o sociales durante el periodo de referencia?

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad están continuamente disponibles en el sistema de gestión de carteras, lo que permite a los gestores de carteras evaluar el impacto de sus decisiones de inversión. Estos indicadores se integran en el marco de control de AMUNDI, repartiéndose las responsabilidades entre el primer nivel de controles, realizado por los propios equipos de Inversión, y el segundo nivel de controles, realizado por los equipos de Riesgos, que supervisan de forma continua el cumplimiento de las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el fondo.

Además, la Política de Inversión Responsable de AMUNDI establece un enfoque activo de interacción que promueve el diálogo con las empresas participadas, incluidas las que forman parte de la cartera de este producto. Nuestro Informe Anual de Interacción, disponible en <https://about.amundi.com/esg-documentation>, ofrece información detallada sobre esta iniciativa y sus resultados.

Una inversión sostenible es una inversión en una actividad económica que contribuya a un objetivo medioambiental o social, siempre que la inversión no cause un perjuicio significativo para ningún objetivo medioambiental o social y que las empresas participadas sigan prácticas de buen gobierno.

en actividades económicas que no se consideran sostenibles desde el punto de vista medioambiental según la Taxonomía de la UE

Realizó inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo social:

Promovió características Medioambientales/Sociales (E/S) y, aunque no tiene como objetivo una inversión sostenible, tenía un porcentaje 53.16% de inversiones sostenibles

con un objetivo medioambiental en actividades económicas que no se consideran sostenibles desde el punto de vista medioambiental según la Taxonomía de la UE

con un objetivo social

Promovió características E/S, pero no realizó inversiones sostenibles

¿En qué medida se cumplieron las características medioambientales y/o sociales promovidas por este producto financiero?

Durante el ejercicio, el producto promovió continuamente las características medioambientales y/o sociales con el objetivo de lograr una puntuación ESG superior a la puntuación ESG de su universo de inversión MSCI WORLD. Para determinar la puntuación ESG del Producto y el universo de inversión ESG, el desempeño ESG se evaluó continuamente comparando el desempeño medio de un título frente al sector del emisor del título, con respecto a cada una de las tres características: medioambiental, social y de gobierno corporativo.

La gestora de inversiones ha centrado el proceso de inversión en empresas/sectores/países que han adoptado, o adoptarán, una trayectoria positiva en materia de ESG dentro de su negocio. La gestora de inversiones identificó oportunidades de inversión alineadas con el objetivo de generar alfa, centrándose en particular en la inclusión de empresas/sectores/países que serán sólidos ganadores en materia de ESG en el futuro, que tienen (o tendrán) una mejora positiva del perfil ESG, al tiempo que invierte en empresas/sectores/países que actualmente son líderes en materia de ESG.

Además, el Subfondo busca lograr una puntuación ESG en su cartera superior a la del Índice de referencia. El Subfondo se comparó con la puntuación ESG de su Índice de referencia después de excluir del Índice de referencia el 20% de los valores con la calificación ESG más baja.

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad cuantifican cómo se alcanzan las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el producto financiero.

● ¿Cómo se comportaron los indicadores de sostenibilidad?

Amundi ha desarrollado su propio proceso interno de calificación ESG basado en el enfoque "Best-in-class". Las calificaciones adaptadas a cada sector de actividad pretenden evaluar la dinámica en la que operan las empresas.

El indicador de sostenibilidad utilizado es la puntuación ESG del Producto que se mide con respecto a la puntuación ESG del universo de inversión ESG del Producto.

Al cierre del periodo:

- La calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera es 0.292 (D).
- La calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG es -0.179 (D).

La calificación ESG de Amundi utilizada para determinar la puntuación ESG es una puntuación cuantitativa ESG traducida en siete grados, que van de la A (el universo de mejores puntuaciones) a la G (la peor). En la escala de Calificación ESG de Amundi, los títulos pertenecientes a la lista de exclusión corresponden a una G. En el caso de los emisores corporativos, el desempeño ESG se evalúa en general y a nivel de criterios relevantes comparándolo con el desempeño medio de su sector, a través de la combinación de las tres dimensiones ESG:

- Dimensión medioambiental: analiza la capacidad de los emisores para controlar su impacto medioambiental directo e indirecto, limitando su consumo de energía, reduciendo sus emisiones de efecto invernadero, luchando contra el agotamiento de los recursos y protegiendo la biodiversidad.
- Dimensión social: analiza el funcionamiento de un emisor en dos conceptos distintos: su estrategia para desarrollar su capital humano y el respeto de los derechos humanos en general.
- Dimensión de gobierno corporativo: Evalúa la capacidad del emisor para garantizar la base de un marco de gobierno corporativo eficaz y generar valor a largo plazo.

● ¿...y en comparación con periodos anteriores?

Al cierre del periodo anterior, la calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera era de 0.27 (D) y la calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG era de -0.12 (D).

● ¿Cuáles eran los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero pretende realizar parcialmente y cómo contribuía la inversión sostenible a dichos objetivos?

Los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles son invertir en empresas participadas que traten de cumplir dos criterios:

1. seguir las mejores prácticas medioambientales y sociales; y
2. evitar fabricar productos o prestar servicios que perjudiquen al medio ambiente y a la sociedad.

Para que se considere que la empresa en la que se invierte contribuye al objetivo mencionado, debe ser uno de los "mejores actores" dentro de su sector de actividad en al menos uno de sus factores medioambientales o sociales materiales.

material. Los factores medioambientales y sociales materiales se identifican a nivel sectorial. La identificación de factores materiales se basa en el marco de análisis ESG de Amundi, que combina datos extrafinancieros y análisis cualitativos de temáticas sectoriales y de sostenibilidad afines. Los factores identificados como materiales suponen una contribución de más del 10% a la puntuación ESG global. En el sector energético, por ejemplo, los factores materiales son: emisiones y energía, biodiversidad y contaminación, salud y seguridad, comunidades locales y derechos humanos. Si desea obtener una descripción más completa de los sectores y factores, consulte la Declaración Reglamentaria ESG de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.lu.

Para contribuir a los objetivos anteriores, la empresa participada no debe tener una exposición significativa a actividades (por ejemplo, tabaco, armas, juegos de azar, carbón, aviación, producción de carne, fabricación de fertilizantes y pesticidas, producción de plásticos de un solo uso) que no sean compatibles con dichos criterios.

El carácter sostenible de una inversión se evalúa a nivel de la empresa participada.

Las principales incidencias adversas

son los efectos negativos más significativos de las decisiones de inversión sobre los factores de sostenibilidad relacionados con cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y laborales, el respeto de los derechos humanos y la lucha contra la corrupción y el soborno.

● ¿De qué manera las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero realizó parcialmente no causaron un perjuicio significativo a ningún objetivo de inversión sostenible desde el punto de vista medioambiental o social?

Para garantizar que las inversiones sostenibles no causan un perjuicio significativo ("DNSH"), Amundi utiliza dos filtros:

Más allá de los factores específicos de sostenibilidad cubiertos en el primer filtro, Amundi ha definido un segundo filtro, que no tiene en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas mencionados anteriormente, con el fin de verificar que la empresa no obtiene malos resultados desde un punto de vista medioambiental o social global en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, lo que corresponde a una puntuación medioambiental o social superior o igual a E utilizando la calificación ESG de Amundi.

- ¿Cómo se tuvieron en cuenta los indicadores de incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

Los indicadores de incidencias adversas se han tenido en cuenta tal y como se detalla en el primer filtro de no causar un daño significativo (DNSH) anterior.

El primer filtro DNSH se basa en el seguimiento de los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas del Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 cuando se dispone de datos sólidos mediante la combinación de los siguientes indicadores y umbrales o normas específicas:

- Tener una intensidad de CO<sub>2</sub> que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector (solo se aplica a sectores de alta intensidad), y
- Tener una diversidad en el Consejo de Administración que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, y
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con las condiciones de trabajo y los derechos humanos.
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con la biodiversidad y la contaminación

- ¿Estaban las inversiones sostenibles alineadas con las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos? Detalles:

Sí, las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos están integrados en nuestra metodología de puntuación ESG. Nuestra herramienta de calificación ESG propia evalúa a los emisores utilizando los datos disponibles de nuestros proveedores de datos.

Por ejemplo, el modelo cuenta con un criterio específico denominado "Participación en la comunidad y derechos humanos", que se aplica a todos los sectores, además de otros criterios relacionados con los derechos humanos, como las cadenas de suministro socialmente responsables, las condiciones de trabajo y las relaciones laborales. Además, realizamos un seguimiento de las controversias, como mínimo trimestralmente, que incluye a las empresas identificadas por vulneraciones de los derechos humanos. Cuando surgen controversias, los analistas evalúan la situación y aplican una puntuación a la controversia (utilizando nuestra metodología de puntuación interna) y determinan el mejor curso de acción. Las puntuaciones de controversia se actualizan trimestralmente para realizar un seguimiento de la tendencia y de los esfuerzos de corrección.

¿Cómo tuvo en cuenta este producto financiero las principales incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

El producto tiene en cuenta todas las Principales Incidencias Adversas obligatorias según el Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 que se aplica a la estrategia del producto y se basa en una combinación de políticas de exclusión (normativas y sectoriales), enfoques de implicación y voto:

- Exclusión: Amundi ha definido reglas de exclusión normativas, basadas en la actividad y sectoriales que abarcan algunos de los principales indicadores adversos de sostenibilidad enumerados por el Reglamento de Divulgación.
- Integración de factores ESG: Amundi ha adoptado normas mínimas de integración ESG aplicadas por defecto a sus fondos de capital variable y gestión activa (exclusión de emisores con calificación G y mejor puntuación media ponderada ESG superior a la del índice de referencia aplicable). Los 38 criterios utilizados en el enfoque de calificación ESG de Amundi también se diseñaron para tener en cuenta las principales incidencias en los factores de sostenibilidad, así como la calidad de la mitigación realizada, que también se tienen en cuenta a ese respecto.
- Compromiso: La interacción es un proceso continuo y orientado a un fin, cuyo objetivo es influir en las actividades o el comportamiento de las empresas participadas. El objetivo de las actividades de interacción puede clasificarse en dos categorías: comprometer a un emisor a mejorar la forma en que integra la dimensión medioambiental y social, comprometer a un emisor a mejorar su impacto en cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y relacionadas con los derechos humanos u otras cuestiones de sostenibilidad que son importantes para la sociedad y la economía mundial.

- Seguimiento de controversias: Amundi ha desarrollado un sistema de seguimiento de controversias que se basa en tres proveedores de datos externos para realizar un seguimiento sistemático de las controversias y su nivel de gravedad. Este enfoque cuantitativo se enriquece después con una evaluación en profundidad de cada controversia grave, dirigida por analistas ESG y la revisión periódica de su evolución. Este enfoque se aplica a todos los fondos de Amundi.

Si desea más información sobre cómo se tienen en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas, consulte la Declaración de divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.com.

El fondo promueve características tanto medioambientales como sociales. Aunque el fondo no se comprometió a realizar inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE, durante el periodo contable el fondo invirtió un 0.48% en inversiones sostenibles alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE. Estas inversiones contribuyeron a los objetivos de mitigación del cambio climático de la Taxonomía de la UE.

La alineación de las empresas participadas con los objetivos de la Taxonomía de la UE antes mencionados se cuantifica utilizando datos sobre el volumen de negocio (o los ingresos) y/o el uso del producto obtenido de bonos verdes.

Sí:

No

Durante el periodo no se dispuso de datos fiables sobre la alineación con la Taxonomía de la UE del gas fósil y la energía nuclear.

Para estar alineados con la Taxonomía de la UE, los criterios para el gas fósil incluyen limitaciones de emisiones y cambio a energías totalmente renovables o combustibles con bajas emisiones de carbono para finales de 2035. En el caso de la energía nuclear, los criterios incluyen normas exhaustivas de seguridad y gestión de residuos

Las actividades habilitadoras permiten directamente que otras actividades contribuyan de forma sustancial a un objetivo medioambiental.

Las actividades alineadas con la Taxonomía se expresan como porcentaje de:

-el volumen de negocio que refleja la proporción de ingresos procedentes de actividades ecológicas de las empresas participadas
-las inversiones en inmovilizado (CapEx) que muestran las inversiones ecológicas realizadas por las empresas participadas, por ejemplo, para la transición a una economía verde
- los gastos de explotación (OpEx) que reflejan las actividades operativas ecológicas de las empresas participadas

Los gráficos siguientes muestran en verde el porcentaje de inversiones que estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE. Como no existe una metodología adecuada para determinar la alineación con la Taxonomía de la deuda pública*, el primer gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía en relación con todas las inversiones del producto financiero, incluida la deuda pública, mientras que el segundo gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía solo en relación con las inversiones del producto financiero distintas de la deuda pública.

* A efectos de estos gráficos, la "deuda pública" abarca todas las exposiciones a deuda pública.

● ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones en actividades de transición y habilitadoras?

A 30/06/2024, utilizando como indicador el volumen de negocio y/o los datos sobre el uso del producto obtenido de bonos verdes, la cuota de inversión del fondo en actividades de transición era del 0.00% y la cuota de inversión en actividades habilitadoras era del 0.48%. El porcentaje declarado de alineación de las inversiones del fondo con la Taxonomía de la UE no ha sido auditado por los auditores del fondo ni por terceros.

● ¿Cómo era el porcentaje de inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE respecto de los periodos de referencia anteriores?

Al cierre del periodo anterior, el porcentaje de inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE era del 0.31%.

son inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental que no tienen en cuenta los criterios de las actividades económicas sostenibles desde el punto de vista medioambiental en virtud del Reglamento (UE) 2020/852.

● ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

La cuota de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineado con la Taxonomía fue del 38.96% al cierre del periodo. Esto se debe al hecho de que algunos emisores se consideran inversiones sostenibles con arreglo al Reglamento sobre la divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros (SFDR), pero presentan una parte de actividades que no se ajustan a las normas de la Taxonomía de la UE, o para las que aún no se dispone de datos con vistas a realizar una evaluación conforme a la Taxonomía de la UE.

● ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social?

El porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social al cierre del periodo era del 13.72%.

¿Qué inversiones se incluían en "otros", cuál era su finalidad y existían salvaguardias medioambientales o sociales mínimas?

El apartado "N.º 2 Otros" incluye el efectivo y otros instrumentos mantenidos con fines de liquidez y gestión del riesgo de la cartera. En el caso de los bonos y acciones sin calificación, se aplican unas salvaguardias medioambientales y sociales mínimas a través de un cribado de controversias respecto de los Principios del Pacto Mundial de Naciones Unidas. También puede incluir valores sin calificación ESG para los que no se disponga de los datos necesarios para cuantificar de la consecución de las características medioambientales o sociales.

¿Qué medidas se han tomado para alcanzar las características medioambientales y/o sociales durante el periodo de referencia?

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad están continuamente disponibles en el sistema de gestión de carteras, lo que permite a los gestores de carteras evaluar el impacto de sus decisiones de inversión. Estos indicadores se integran en el marco de control de AMUNDI, repartiéndose las responsabilidades entre el primer nivel de controles, realizado por los propios equipos de Inversión, y el segundo nivel de controles, realizado por los equipos de Riesgos, que supervisan de forma continua el cumplimiento de las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el fondo.

Además, la Política de Inversión Responsable de AMUNDI establece un enfoque activo de interacción que promueve el diálogo con las empresas participadas, incluidas las que forman parte de la cartera de este producto. Nuestro Informe Anual de Interacción, disponible en <https://about.amundi.com/esg-documentation>, ofrece información detallada sobre esta iniciativa y sus resultados.

Una inversión sostenible es una inversión en una actividad económica que contribuya a un objetivo medioambiental o social, siempre que la inversión no cause un perjuicio significativo para ningún objetivo medioambiental o social y que las empresas participadas sigan prácticas de buen gobierno.

¿En qué medida se cumplieron las características medioambientales y/o sociales promovidas por este producto financiero?

Durante el ejercicio, el producto promovió continuamente las características medioambientales y/o sociales con el objetivo de lograr una puntuación ESG superior a la puntuación ESG de su universo de inversión MSCI WORLD CLIMATE PARIS ALIGNED. Para determinar la puntuación ESG del Producto y el universo de inversión ESG, el desempeño ESG se evaluó continuamente comparando el desempeño medio de un título frente al sector del emisor del título, con respecto a cada una de las tres características: medioambiental, social y de gobierno corporativo.

El universo de inversión es un universo de mercado general que no evalúa ni incluye componentes basados en características medioambientales y/o sociales y, por lo tanto, no pretende ser coherente con las características promovidas por el fondo. No se ha designado ningún índice de referencia ESG.

Durante el ejercicio, el producto promovió continuamente las características medioambientales con el objetivo de reducir su intensidad de carbono alineando la intensidad de su huella de carbono con la de su Índice de referencia MSCI WORLD CLIMATE PARIS ALIGNED.

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad cuantifican cómo se alcanzan las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el producto financiero.

● ¿Cómo se comportaron los indicadores de sostenibilidad?

Amundi ha desarrollado su propio proceso interno de calificación ESG basado en el enfoque "Best-in-class". Las calificaciones adaptadas a cada sector de actividad pretenden evaluar la dinámica en la que operan las empresas.

El indicador de sostenibilidad utilizado es la puntuación ESG del Producto que se mide con respecto a la puntuación ESG del universo de inversión ESG del Producto.

Al cierre del periodo:

- La calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera es 0.522 (C).
- La calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG es 0.012 (D).

La calificación ESG de Amundi utilizada para determinar la puntuación ESG es una puntuación cuantitativa ESG traducida en siete grados, que van de la A (el universo de mejores puntuaciones) a la G (la peor). En la escala de Calificación ESG de Amundi, los títulos pertenecientes a la lista de exclusión corresponden a una G. En el caso de los emisores corporativos, el desempeño ESG se evalúa en general y a nivel de criterios relevantes comparándolo con el desempeño medio de su sector, a través de la combinación de las tres dimensiones ESG:

- Dimensión medioambiental: analiza la capacidad de los emisores para controlar su impacto medioambiental directo e indirecto, limitando su consumo de energía, reduciendo sus emisiones de efecto invernadero, luchando contra el agotamiento de los recursos y protegiendo la biodiversidad.
- Dimensión social: analiza el funcionamiento de un emisor en dos conceptos distintos: su estrategia para desarrollar su capital humano y el respeto de los derechos humanos en general;
- Dimensión de gobierno corporativo: Evalúa la capacidad del emisor para garantizar la base de un marco de gobierno corporativo eficaz y generar valor a largo plazo.

La metodología aplicada por la calificación ESG de Amundi utiliza 38 criterios que son genéricos (comunes a todas las empresas independientemente de su actividad) o sectoriales, que se ponderan según el sector y se consideran en términos de su impacto en la reputación, la eficiencia operativa y la normativa con respecto a un emisor. Las calificaciones ESG de Amundi pueden expresarse globalmente en las tres dimensiones E, S y G o individualmente en cualquier factor medioambiental o social.

El indicador de sostenibilidad utilizado es la intensidad de la huella de carbono de la cartera, que se calcula como media ponderada por activos de la cartera y se compara con la intensidad de la huella de carbono ponderada por activos del Índice de referencia. En consecuencia, los títulos con una huella ecológica relativamente baja tenían más probabilidades de ser seleccionados en la cartera que los títulos con una huella ecológica relativamente alta.

- La intensidad media ponderada de la huella de carbono de la cartera es de 55.01.

- La intensidad media ponderada de la huella de carbono del Índice de referencia es de 66.13.

● ¿...y en comparación con periodos anteriores?

● ¿Cuáles eran los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero pretende realizar parcialmente y cómo contribuía la inversión sostenible a dichos objetivos?

Los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles son invertir en empresas participadas que traten de cumplir dos criterios:

1. seguir las mejores prácticas medioambientales y sociales; y
2. evitar fabricar productos o prestar servicios que perjudiquen al medio ambiente y a la sociedad.

Para que se considere que la empresa en la que se invierte contribuye al objetivo mencionado, debe ser uno de los "mejores actores" dentro de su sector de actividad en al menos uno de sus factores medioambientales o sociales materiales.

La definición de "mejor actor" se basa en la metodología ESG propia de Amundi, cuyo objetivo es cuantificar el desempeño ESG de una empresa participada. Para ser considerada "mejor actor", una empresa participada debe obtener las tres mejores calificaciones (A, B o C, en una escala de calificación que va de la A a la G) dentro de su sector en al menos un factor medioambiental o social material. Los factores medioambientales y sociales materiales se identifican a nivel sectorial. La identificación de factores materiales se basa en el marco de análisis ESG de Amundi, que combina datos extrafinancieros y análisis cualitativos de temáticas sectoriales y de sostenibilidad afines. Los factores identificados como materiales suponen una contribución de más del 10% a la puntuación ESG global. En el sector energético, por ejemplo, los factores materiales son: emisiones y energía, biodiversidad y contaminación, salud y seguridad, comunidades locales y derechos humanos. Si desea obtener una descripción más completa de los sectores y factores, consulte la Declaración Reglamentaria ESG de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.lu.

El carácter sostenible de una inversión se evalúa a nivel de la empresa participada.

Las principales incidencias adversas son los efectos negativos más significativos de las decisiones de inversión sobre los factores de sostenibilidad relacionados con cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y laborales, el respeto de los derechos humanos y la lucha contra la corrupción y el soborno.

● ¿De qué manera las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero realizó parcialmente no causaron un perjuicio significativo a ningún objetivo de inversión sostenible desde el punto de vista medioambiental o social?

Para garantizar que las inversiones sostenibles no causan un perjuicio significativo ("DNSH"), Amundi utiliza dos filtros:

Más allá de los factores específicos de sostenibilidad cubiertos en el primer filtro, Amundi ha definido un segundo filtro, que no tiene en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas mencionados anteriormente, con el fin de verificar que la empresa no obtiene malos resultados desde un punto de vista medioambiental o social global en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, lo que corresponde a una puntuación medioambiental o social superior o igual a E utilizando la calificación ESG de Amundi.

- ¿Cómo se tuvieron en cuenta los indicadores de incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

Los indicadores de incidencias adversas se han tenido en cuenta tal y como se detalla en el primer filtro de no causar un daño significativo (DNSH) anterior.

El primer filtro DNSH se basa en el seguimiento de los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas del Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 cuando se dispone de datos sólidos mediante la combinación de los siguientes indicadores y umbrales o normas específicas:

- Tener una intensidad de CO<sub>2</sub> que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector (solo se aplica a sectores de alta intensidad), y
- Tener una diversidad en el Consejo de Administración que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, y
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con las condiciones de trabajo y los derechos humanos.
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con la biodiversidad y la contaminación

se aplican además de las pruebas detalladas anteriormente, abarcan los siguientes temas: exclusiones sobre armas controvertidas, Vulneraciones de los principios del Pacto Mundial de la ONU, carbón y tabaco.

- ¿Estaban las inversiones sostenibles alineadas con las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos? Detalles:

Sí, las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos están integrados en nuestra metodología de puntuación ESG. Nuestra herramienta de calificación ESG propia evalúa a los emisores utilizando los datos disponibles de nuestros proveedores de datos.

Por ejemplo, el modelo cuenta con un criterio específico denominado "Participación en la comunidad y derechos humanos", que se aplica a todos los sectores, además de otros criterios relacionados con los derechos humanos, como las cadenas de suministro socialmente responsables, las condiciones de trabajo y las relaciones laborales. Además, realizamos un seguimiento de las controversias, como mínimo trimestralmente, que incluye a las empresas identificadas por vulneraciones de los derechos humanos. Cuando surgen controversias, los analistas evalúan la situación y aplican una puntuación a la controversia (utilizando nuestra metodología de puntuación interna) y determinan el mejor curso de acción. Las puntuaciones de controversia se actualizan trimestralmente para realizar un seguimiento de la tendencia y de los esfuerzos de corrección.

Cualquier otra inversión sostenible tampoco debe causar perjuicio significativo a ningún objetivo medioambiental o social.

El producto tiene en cuenta todas las Principales Incidencias Adversas obligatorias según el Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 que se aplica a la estrategia del producto y se basa en una combinación de políticas de exclusión (normativas y sectoriales), enfoques de implicación y voto:

- Exclusión: Amundi ha definido reglas de exclusión normativas, basadas en la actividad y sectoriales que abarcan algunos de los principales indicadores adversos de sostenibilidad enumerados por el Reglamento de Divulgación.
- Integración de factores ESG: Amundi ha adoptado normas mínimas de integración ESG aplicadas por defecto a sus fondos de capital variable y gestión activa (exclusión de emisores con calificación G y mejor puntuación media ponderada ESG superior a la del índice de referencia aplicable). Los 38 criterios utilizados en el enfoque de calificación ESG de Amundi también se diseñaron para tener en cuenta las principales incidencias en los factores de sostenibilidad, así como la calidad de la mitigación realizada, que también se tienen en cuenta a ese respecto.
- Compromiso: La interacción es un proceso continuo y orientado a un fin, cuyo objetivo es influir en las actividades o el comportamiento de las empresas participadas. El objetivo de las actividades de interacción puede clasificarse en dos categorías: comprometer a un emisor a mejorar la forma en que integra la dimensión medioambiental y social, comprometer a un emisor a mejorar su impacto en cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y relacionadas con los derechos humanos u otras cuestiones de sostenibilidad que son importantes para la sociedad y la economía mundial.

- Voto: La política de voto de Amundi responde a su análisis integral de todas las cuestiones a largo plazo que pueden influir en la creación de valor, incluidas cuestiones ESG sustanciales. Si desea obtener más información, consulte la Política de Voto de Amundi.
- Seguimiento de controversias: Amundi ha desarrollado un sistema de seguimiento de controversias que se basa en tres proveedores de datos externos para realizar un seguimiento sistemático de las controversias y su nivel de gravedad. Este enfoque cuantitativo se enriquece después con una evaluación en profundidad de cada controversia grave, dirigida por analistas ESG y la revisión periódica de su evolución. Este enfoque se aplica a todos los fondos de Amundi.

¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones relacionadas con la sostenibilidad?

● ¿Cuál era la asignación de activos?

La asignación de activos describe la proporción de inversiones en activos específicos.

N.º 1 Alineación con características E/S incluye las inversiones del producto financiero utilizadas para alcanzar las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el producto financiero.

N.º 2 Otros incluye el resto de inversiones del producto financiero que no están alineadas con las características medioambientales o sociales, ni están calificadas como inversiones sostenibles.

La categoría N.º 1 Alineado con las características E/S abarca:

- La subcategoría N.º 1A Sostenible abarca las inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista medioambiental y social.
- La subcategoría N.º 1B Otras características E/S abarca las inversiones alineadas con las características medioambientales o sociales que no se califican como inversiones sostenibles.

Para estar alineados con la Taxonomía de la UE, los criterios para el gas fósil incluyen limitaciones de emisiones y cambio a energías totalmente renovables o combustibles con bajas emisiones de carbono para finales de 2035. En el caso de la energía nuclear, los criterios incluyen normas exhaustivas de seguridad y gestión de residuos

Las actividades habilitadoras permiten directamente que otras actividades contribuyan de forma sustancial a un objetivo medioambiental.

¿En qué medida las inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

El fondo promueve características tanto medioambientales como sociales. Aunque el fondo no se comprometió a realizar inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE, durante el periodo contable el fondo invirtió un 1.70% en inversiones sostenibles alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE. Estas inversiones contribuyeron a los objetivos de mitigación del cambio climático de la Taxonomía de la UE.

La alineación de las empresas participadas con los objetivos de la Taxonomía de la UE antes mencionados se cuantifica utilizando datos sobre el volumen de negocio (o los ingresos) y/o el uso del producto obtenido de bonos verdes.

Sí:

No

Durante el periodo no se dispuso de datos fiables sobre la alineación con la Taxonomía de la UE del gas fósil y la energía nuclear.

Las actividades alineadas con la Taxonomía se expresan como porcentaje de: -el volumen de negocio que refleja la proporción de ingresos procedentes de actividades ecológicas de las empresas participadas -las inversiones en inmovilizado (CapEx) que muestran las inversiones ecológicas realizadas por las empresas participadas, por ejemplo, para la transición a una economía verde - los gastos de explotación (OpEx) que reflejan las actividades operativas ecológicas de las empresas participadas

Los gráficos siguientes muestran en verde el porcentaje de inversiones que estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE. Como no existe una metodología adecuada para determinar la alineación con la Taxonomía de la deuda pública*, el primer gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía en relación con todas las inversiones del producto financiero, incluida la deuda pública, mientras que el segundo gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía solo en relación con las inversiones del producto financiero distintas de la deuda pública.

● ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones en actividades de transición y habilitadoras?

A 30/06/2024, utilizando como indicador el volumen de negocio y/o los datos sobre el uso del producto obtenido de bonos verdes, la cuota de inversión del fondo en actividades de transición era del 0.00% y la cuota de inversión en actividades habilitadoras era del 0.89%. El porcentaje declarado de alineación de las inversiones del fondo con la Taxonomía de la UE no ha sido auditado por los auditores del fondo ni por terceros.

● ¿Cómo era el porcentaje de inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE respecto de los periodos de referencia anteriores?

Al cierre del periodo anterior, el porcentaje de inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE era del 1.91%.

● ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

La cuota de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineado con la Taxonomía fue del 56.14% al cierre del periodo.

Esto se debe al hecho de que algunos emisores se consideran inversiones sostenibles con arreglo al Reglamento sobre la divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros (SFDR), pero presentan una parte de actividades que no se ajustan a las normas de la Taxonomía de la UE, o para las que aún no se dispone de datos con vistas a realizar una evaluación conforme a la Taxonomía de la UE.

● ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social?

El porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social al cierre del periodo era del 13.25%.

● ¿Qué inversiones se incluían en "otros", cuál era su finalidad y existían salvaguardas medioambientales o sociales mínimas?

son inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental que no tienen en cuenta los criterios de las actividades económicas sostenibles desde el punto de vista medioambiental en virtud del Reglamento (UE) 2020/852.

El apartado "N.º 2 Otros" incluye el efectivo y otros instrumentos mantenidos con fines de liquidez y gestión del riesgo de la cartera. En el caso de los bonos y acciones sin calificación, se aplican unas salvaguardias medioambientales y sociales mínimas a través de un cribado de controversias respecto de los Principios del Pacto Mundial de Naciones Unidas. También puede incluir valores sin calificación ESG para los que no se disponga de los datos necesarios para cuantificar de la consecución de las características medioambientales o sociales.

¿Qué medidas se han tomado para alcanzar las características medioambientales y/o sociales durante el periodo de referencia?

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad están continuamente disponibles en el sistema de gestión de carteras, lo que permite a los gestores de carteras evaluar el impacto de sus decisiones de inversión. Estos indicadores se integran en el marco de control de AMUNDI, repartándose las responsabilidades entre el primer nivel de controles, realizado por los propios equipos de Inversión, y el segundo nivel de controles, realizado por los equipos de Riesgos, que supervisan de forma continua el cumplimiento de las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el fondo.

¿Cómo se comportó este producto financiero en comparación con el índice de referencia?

Los índices de referencia son índices para cuantificar si el producto financiero alcanza las características medioambientales o sociales que promueven.

El objetivo de inversión sostenible se logra alineando los objetivos de reducción de la huella de carbono del fondo con el Índice MSCI World Climate Paris Aligned Net USD. La intensidad de la huella de carbono de la cartera se calcula como media ponderada por activos de la cartera y se compara con la intensidad de la huella de carbono ponderada por activos del Índice.

En consecuencia, los títulos con una huella ecológica relativamente baja tienen más probabilidades de ser seleccionados en la cartera que los títulos con una huella relativamente alta. Además, el fondo excluye empresas por su comportamiento controvertido y (o) productos controvertidos de acuerdo con la Política de Inversión Responsable.

- La intensidad media ponderada de la huella de carbono de la cartera es de 55.01.
- La intensidad media ponderada de la huella de carbono del Índice de referencia es de 66.13.

● ¿En qué se diferencia el índice de referencia de un índice de mercado general?

Un índice de mercado general no evalúa ni incluye a sus componentes en función de las características medioambientales y, por lo tanto, no está alineado con las características medioambientales.

El índice utilizado es un "índice de referencia alineado con el Acuerdo de París" que incorpora objetivos específicos relacionados con la reducción de emisiones y la transición a una economía con bajas emisiones de carbono a través de la selección y ponderación de los componentes subyacentes.

● ¿Cómo se comportó este producto financiero con respecto a los indicadores de sostenibilidad para determinar la alineación del índice de referencia con las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas?

- La calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera es 0.522 (C).
- La calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG es 0.012 (D).

- La intensidad media ponderada de la huella de carbono de la cartera es de 55.01.
- La intensidad media ponderada de la huella de carbono del Índice de referencia es de 66.13.

Una inversión sostenible es una inversión en una actividad económica que contribuya a un objetivo medioambiental o social, siempre que la inversión no cause un perjuicio significativo para ningún objetivo medioambiental o social y que las empresas participadas sigan prácticas de buen gobierno.

La Taxonomía de la UE es un sistema de clasificación establecido en el Reglamento (UE) 2020/852, que determina una lista de actividades económicas sostenibles desde el punto de vista medioambiental. Dicho Reglamento no incluye una lista de actividades económicas socialmente sostenibles. Las inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental podrían estar alineadas con la Taxonomía o no.

¿En qué medida se cumplieron las características medioambientales y/o sociales promovidas por este producto financiero?

Durante el ejercicio, el producto promovió continuamente las características medioambientales y/o sociales con el objetivo de lograr una puntuación ESG superior a la puntuación ESG de su universo de inversión MSCI WORLD. Para determinar la puntuación ESG del Producto y el universo de inversión ESG, el desempeño ESG se evaluó continuamente comparando el desempeño medio de un título frente al sector del emisor del título, con respecto a cada una de las tres características: medioambiental, social y de gobierno corporativo.

El universo de inversión es un universo de mercado general que no evalúa ni incluye componentes basados en características medioambientales y/o sociales y, por lo tanto, no pretende ser coherente con las características promovidas por el fondo. No se ha designado ningún índice de referencia ESG.

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad cuantifican cómo se alcanzan las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el producto financiero.

● ¿Cómo se comportaron los indicadores de sostenibilidad?

Amundi ha desarrollado su propio proceso interno de calificación ESG basado en el enfoque "Best-in-class". Las calificaciones adaptadas a cada sector de actividad pretenden evaluar la dinámica en la que operan las empresas.

El indicador de sostenibilidad utilizado es la puntuación ESG del Producto que se mide con respecto a la puntuación ESG del universo de inversión ESG del Producto.

Al cierre del periodo:

- La calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera es 0.644 (C).
- La calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG es -0.179 (D).

La calificación ESG de Amundi utilizada para determinar la puntuación ESG es una puntuación cuantitativa ESG traducida en siete grados, que van de la A (el universo de mejores puntuaciones) a la G (la peor). En la escala de Calificación ESG de Amundi, los títulos pertenecientes a la lista de exclusión corresponden a una G. En el caso de los emisores corporativos, el desempeño ESG se evalúa en general y a nivel de criterios relevantes comparándolo con el desempeño medio de su sector, a través de la combinación de las tres dimensiones ESG:

- Dimensión medioambiental: analiza la capacidad de los emisores para controlar su impacto medioambiental directo e indirecto, limitando su consumo de energía, reduciendo sus emisiones de efecto invernadero, luchando contra el agotamiento de los recursos y protegiendo la biodiversidad.
- Dimensión social: analiza el funcionamiento de un emisor en dos conceptos distintos: su estrategia para desarrollar su capital humano y el respeto de los derechos humanos en general.
- Dimensión de gobierno corporativo: Evalúa la capacidad del emisor para garantizar la base de un marco de gobierno corporativo eficaz y generar valor a largo plazo.

● ¿...y en comparación con periodos anteriores?

Al cierre del periodo anterior, la calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera era de 0.71 (C) y la calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG era de -0.12 (D).

● ¿Cuáles eran los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero pretende realizar parcialmente y cómo contribuía la inversión sostenible a dichos objetivos?

Los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles son invertir en empresas participadas que traten de cumplir dos criterios:

1. seguir las mejores prácticas medioambientales y sociales; y
2. evitar fabricar productos o prestar servicios que perjudiquen al medio ambiente y a la sociedad.

Para que se considere que la empresa en la que se invierte contribuye al objetivo mencionado, debe ser uno de los "mejores actores" dentro de su sector de actividad en al menos uno de sus factores medioambientales o sociales materiales.

Reglamentaria ESG de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.lu.

Para contribuir a los objetivos anteriores, la empresa participada no debe tener una exposición significativa a actividades (por ejemplo, tabaco, armas, juegos de azar, carbón, aviación, producción de carne, fabricación de fertilizantes y pesticidas, producción de plásticos de un solo uso) que no sean compatibles con dichos criterios.

El carácter sostenible de una inversión se evalúa a nivel de la empresa participada.

Las principales incidencias adversas

son los efectos negativos más significativos de las decisiones de inversión sobre los factores de sostenibilidad relacionados con cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y laborales, el respeto de los derechos humanos y la lucha contra la corrupción y el soborno.

● ¿De qué manera las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero realizó parcialmente no causaron un perjuicio significativo a ningún objetivo de inversión sostenible desde el punto de vista medioambiental o social?

Para garantizar que las inversiones sostenibles no causan un perjuicio significativo ("DNSH"), Amundi utiliza dos filtros:

Más allá de los factores específicos de sostenibilidad cubiertos en el primer filtro, Amundi ha definido un segundo filtro, que no tiene en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas mencionados anteriormente, con el fin de verificar que la empresa no obtiene malos resultados desde un punto de vista medioambiental o social global en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, lo que corresponde a una puntuación medioambiental o social superior o igual a E utilizando la calificación ESG de Amundi.

- ¿Cómo se tuvieron en cuenta los indicadores de incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

Los indicadores de incidencias adversas se han tenido en cuenta tal y como se detalla en el primer filtro de no causar un daño significativo (DNSH) anterior.

El primer filtro DNSH se basa en el seguimiento de los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas del Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 cuando se dispone de datos sólidos mediante la combinación de los siguientes indicadores y umbrales o normas específicas:

- Tener una intensidad de CO<sub>2</sub> que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector (solo se aplica a sectores de alta intensidad), y
- Tener una diversidad en el Consejo de Administración que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, y
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con las condiciones de trabajo y los derechos humanos.
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con la biodiversidad y la contaminación

- ¿Estaban las inversiones sostenibles alineadas con las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos? Detalles:

Sí, las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos están integrados en nuestra metodología de puntuación ESG. Nuestra herramienta de calificación ESG propia evalúa a los emisores utilizando los datos disponibles de nuestros proveedores de datos.

Por ejemplo, el modelo cuenta con un criterio específico denominado "Participación en la comunidad y derechos humanos", que se aplica a todos los sectores, además de otros criterios relacionados con los derechos humanos, como las cadenas de suministro socialmente responsables, las condiciones de trabajo y las relaciones laborales. Además, realizamos un seguimiento de las controversias, como mínimo trimestralmente, que incluye a las empresas identificadas por vulneraciones de los derechos humanos. Cuando surgen controversias, los analistas evalúan la situación y aplican una puntuación a la controversia (utilizando nuestra metodología de puntuación interna) y determinan el mejor curso de acción. Las puntuaciones de controversia se actualizan trimestralmente para realizar un seguimiento de la tendencia y de los esfuerzos de corrección.

¿Cómo tuvo en cuenta este producto financiero las principales incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

El producto tiene en cuenta todas las Principales Incidencias Adversas obligatorias según el Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 que se aplica a la estrategia del producto y se basa en una combinación de políticas de exclusión (normativas y sectoriales), enfoques de implicación y voto:

- Exclusión: Amundi ha definido reglas de exclusión normativas, basadas en la actividad y sectoriales que abarcan algunos de los principales indicadores adversos de sostenibilidad enumerados por el Reglamento de Divulgación.
- Integración de factores ESG: Amundi ha adoptado normas mínimas de integración ESG aplicadas por defecto a sus fondos de capital variable y gestión activa (exclusión de emisores con calificación G y mejor puntuación media ponderada ESG superior a la del índice de referencia aplicable). Los 38 criterios utilizados en el enfoque de calificación ESG de Amundi también se diseñaron para tener en cuenta las principales incidencias en los factores de sostenibilidad, así como la calidad de la mitigación realizada, que también se tienen en cuenta a ese respecto.
- Compromiso: La interacción es un proceso continuo y orientado a un fin, cuyo objetivo es influir en las actividades o el comportamiento de las empresas participadas. El objetivo de las actividades de interacción puede clasificarse en dos categorías: comprometer a un emisor a mejorar la forma en que integra la dimensión medioambiental y social, comprometer a un emisor a mejorar su impacto en cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y relacionadas con los derechos humanos u otras cuestiones de sostenibilidad que son importantes para la sociedad y la economía mundial.
- Seguimiento de controversias: Amundi ha desarrollado un sistema de seguimiento de controversias que se basa en tres proveedores de datos externos para realizar un seguimiento sistemático de las controversias y su nivel de gravedad. Este enfoque cuantitativo se enriquece después con una evaluación en profundidad de cada controversia grave, dirigida por analistas ESG y la revisión periódica de su evolución. Este enfoque se aplica a todos los fondos de Amundi.

Si desea más información sobre cómo se tienen en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas, consulte la Declaración de divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.com.

Para estar alineados con la Taxonomía de la UE, los criterios para el gas fósil incluyen limitaciones de emisiones y cambio a energías totalmente renovables o combustibles con bajas emisiones de carbono para finales de 2035. En el caso de la energía nuclear, los criterios incluyen normas exhaustivas de seguridad y gestión de residuos

Las actividades habilitadoras permiten directamente que otras actividades contribuyan de forma sustancial a un objetivo medioambiental.

Las actividades de transición son actividades para las que aún no se dispone de alternativas con bajas emisiones de carbono y, entre otros, tienen niveles de emisión de gases de

¿En qué medida las inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

El fondo promueve características tanto medioambientales como sociales. Aunque el fondo no se comprometió a realizar inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE, durante el periodo contable el fondo invirtió un 1.51% en inversiones sostenibles alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE. Estas inversiones contribuyeron a los objetivos de mitigación del cambio climático de la Taxonomía de la UE.

La alineación de las empresas participadas con los objetivos de la Taxonomía de la UE antes mencionados se cuantifica utilizando datos sobre el volumen de negocio (o los ingresos) y/o el uso del producto obtenido de bonos verdes.

☐ Sí:

☐ En gas fósil      ☐ En energía nuclear

☒ No

Durante el periodo no se dispuso de datos fiables sobre la alineación con la Taxonomía de la UE del gas fósil y la energía nuclear.

Las actividades alineadas con la Taxonomía se expresan como porcentaje de: -el volumen de negocio que refleja la proporción de ingresos procedentes de actividades ecológicas de las empresas participadas -las inversiones en inmovilizado (CapEx) que muestran las inversiones ecológicas realizadas por las empresas participadas, por ejemplo, para la transición a una economía verde - los gastos de explotación (OpEx) que reflejan las actividades operativas ecológicas de las empresas participadas

Los gráficos siguientes muestran en verde el porcentaje de inversiones que estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE. Como no existe una metodología adecuada para determinar la alineación con la Taxonomía de la deuda pública*, el primer gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía en relación con todas las inversiones del producto financiero, incluida la deuda pública, mientras que el segundo gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía solo en relación con las inversiones del producto financiero distintas de la deuda pública.

● ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones en actividades de transición y habilitadoras?

A 30/06/2024, utilizando como indicador el volumen de negocio y/o los datos sobre el uso del producto obtenido de bonos verdes, la cuota de inversión del fondo en actividades de transición era del 0.00% y la cuota de inversión en actividades habilitadoras era del 1.68%. El porcentaje declarado de alineación de las inversiones del fondo con la Taxonomía de la UE no ha sido auditado por los auditores del fondo ni por terceros.

● ¿Cómo era el porcentaje de inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE respecto de los periodos de referencia anteriores?

Al cierre del periodo anterior, el porcentaje de inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE era del 3.30%.

son inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental que no tienen en cuenta los criterios de las actividades económicas sostenibles desde el punto de vista medioambiental en virtud del Reglamento (UE) 2020/852.

● ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

La cuota de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineado con la Taxonomía fue del 48.51% al cierre del periodo. Esto se debe al hecho de que algunos emisores se consideran inversiones sostenibles con arreglo al Reglamento sobre la divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros (SFDR), pero presentan una parte de actividades que no se ajustan a las normas de la Taxonomía de la UE, o para las que aún no se dispone de datos con vistas a realizar una evaluación conforme a la Taxonomía de la UE.

● ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social?

El porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social al cierre del periodo era del 10.86%.

● ¿Qué inversiones se incluían en "otros", cuál era su finalidad y existían salvaguardias medioambientales o sociales mínimas?

El apartado "N.º 2 Otros" incluye el efectivo y otros instrumentos mantenidos con fines de liquidez y gestión del riesgo de la cartera. En el caso de los bonos y acciones sin calificación, se aplican unas salvaguardias medioambientales y sociales mínimas a través de un cribado de controversias respecto de los Principios del Pacto Mundial de Naciones Unidas. También puede incluir valores sin calificación ESG para los que no se disponga de los datos necesarios para cuantificar de la consecución de las características medioambientales o sociales.

¿Qué medidas se han tomado para alcanzar las características medioambientales y/o sociales durante el periodo de referencia?

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad están continuamente disponibles en el sistema de gestión de carteras, lo que permite a los gestores de carteras evaluar el impacto de sus decisiones de inversión. Estos indicadores se integran en el marco de control de AMUNDI, repartiéndose las responsabilidades entre el primer nivel de controles, realizado por los propios equipos de Inversión, y el segundo nivel de controles, realizado por los equipos de Riesgos, que supervisan de forma continua el cumplimiento de las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el fondo.

Además, la Política de Inversión Responsable de AMUNDI establece un enfoque activo de interacción que promueve el diálogo con las empresas participadas, incluidas las que forman parte de la cartera de este producto. Nuestro Informe Anual de Interacción, disponible en <https://about.amundi.com/esg-documentation>, ofrece información detallada sobre esta iniciativa y sus resultados.

Una inversión sostenible es una inversión en una actividad económica que contribuya a un objetivo medioambiental o social, siempre que la inversión no cause un perjuicio significativo para ningún objetivo medioambiental o social y que las empresas participadas sigan prácticas de buen gobierno.

¿En qué medida se cumplieron las características medioambientales y/o sociales promovidas por este producto financiero?

Durante el ejercicio, el producto promovió continuamente las características medioambientales y/o sociales con el objetivo de lograr una puntuación ESG superior a la puntuación ESG de su universo de inversión TOPIX. Para determinar la puntuación ESG del Producto y el universo de inversión ESG, el desempeño ESG se evaluó continuamente comparando el desempeño medio de un título frente al sector del emisor del título, con respecto a cada una de las tres características: medioambiental, social y de gobierno corporativo.

El universo de inversión es un universo de mercado general que no evalúa ni incluye componentes basados en características medioambientales y/o sociales y, por lo tanto, no pretende ser coherente con las características promovidas por el fondo. No se ha designado ningún índice de referencia ESG.

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad cuantifican cómo se alcanzan las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el producto financiero.

● ¿Cómo se comportaron los indicadores de sostenibilidad?

Amundi ha desarrollado su propio proceso interno de calificación ESG basado en el enfoque "Best-in-class". Las calificaciones adaptadas a cada sector de actividad pretenden evaluar la dinámica en la que operan las empresas.

El indicador de sostenibilidad utilizado es la puntuación ESG del Producto que se mide con respecto a la puntuación ESG del universo de inversión ESG del Producto.

Al cierre del periodo:

- La calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG es -0.280 (D).

La calificación ESG de Amundi utilizada para determinar la puntuación ESG es una puntuación cuantitativa ESG traducida en siete grados, que van de la A (el universo de mejores puntuaciones) a la G (la peor). En la escala de Calificación ESG de Amundi, los títulos pertenecientes a la lista de exclusión corresponden a una G. En el caso de los emisores corporativos, el desempeño ESG se evalúa en general y a nivel de criterios relevantes comparándolo con el desempeño medio de su sector, a través de la combinación de las tres dimensiones ESG:

- Dimensión medioambiental: analiza la capacidad de los emisores para controlar su impacto medioambiental directo e indirecto, limitando su consumo de energía, reduciendo sus emisiones de efecto invernadero, luchando contra el agotamiento de los recursos y protegiendo la biodiversidad.
- Dimensión social: analiza el funcionamiento de un emisor en dos conceptos distintos: su estrategia para desarrollar su capital humano y el respeto de los derechos humanos en general;
- Dimensión de gobierno corporativo: Evalúa la capacidad del emisor para garantizar la base de un marco de gobierno corporativo eficaz y generar valor a largo plazo.

● ¿...y en comparación con periodos anteriores?

Al cierre del periodo anterior, la calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera era de 0.14 (D) y la calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG era de -0.28 (D).

● ¿Cuáles eran los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero pretende realizar parcialmente y cómo contribuía la inversión sostenible a dichos objetivos?

Los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles son invertir en empresas participadas que traten de cumplir dos criterios:

1. seguir las mejores prácticas medioambientales y sociales; y
2. evitar fabricar productos o prestar servicios que perjudiquen al medio ambiente y a la sociedad.

Para que se considere que la empresa en la que se invierte contribuye al objetivo mencionado, debe ser uno de los "mejores actores" dentro de su sector de actividad en al menos uno de sus factores medioambientales o sociales materiales.

Reglamentaria ESG de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.lu.

Para contribuir a los objetivos anteriores, la empresa participada no debe tener una exposición significativa a actividades (por ejemplo, tabaco, armas, juegos de azar, carbón, aviación, producción de carne, fabricación de fertilizantes y pesticidas, producción de plásticos de un solo uso) que no sean compatibles con dichos criterios.

El carácter sostenible de una inversión se evalúa a nivel de la empresa participada.

Las principales incidencias adversas

son los efectos negativos más significativos de las decisiones de inversión sobre los factores de sostenibilidad relacionados con cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y laborales, el respeto de los derechos humanos y la lucha contra la corrupción y el soborno.

● ¿De qué manera las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero realizó parcialmente no causaron un perjuicio significativo a ningún objetivo de inversión sostenible desde el punto de vista medioambiental o social?

Para garantizar que las inversiones sostenibles no causan un perjuicio significativo ("DNSH"), Amundi utiliza dos filtros:

Más allá de los factores específicos de sostenibilidad cubiertos en el primer filtro, Amundi ha definido un segundo filtro, que no tiene en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas mencionados anteriormente, con el fin de verificar que la empresa no obtiene malos resultados desde un punto de vista medioambiental o social global en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, lo que corresponde a una puntuación medioambiental o social superior o igual a E utilizando la calificación ESG de Amundi.

- ¿Cómo se tuvieron en cuenta los indicadores de incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

Los indicadores de incidencias adversas se han tenido en cuenta tal y como se detalla en el primer filtro de no causar un daño significativo (DNSH) anterior.

El primer filtro DNSH se basa en el seguimiento de los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas del Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 cuando se dispone de datos sólidos mediante la combinación de los siguientes indicadores y umbrales o normas específicas:

- Tener una intensidad de CO2 que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector (solo se aplica a sectores de alta intensidad), y
- Tener una diversidad en el Consejo de Administración que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, y
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con las condiciones de trabajo y los derechos humanos.
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con la biodiversidad y la contaminación

- ¿Estaban las inversiones sostenibles alineadas con las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos? Detalles:

Sí, las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos están integrados en nuestra metodología de puntuación ESG. Nuestra herramienta de calificación ESG propia evalúa a los emisores utilizando los datos disponibles de nuestros proveedores de datos.

Por ejemplo, el modelo cuenta con un criterio específico denominado "Participación en la comunidad y derechos humanos", que se aplica a todos los sectores, además de otros criterios relacionados con los derechos humanos, como las cadenas de suministro socialmente responsables, las condiciones de trabajo y las relaciones laborales. Además, realizamos un seguimiento de las controversias, como mínimo trimestralmente, que incluye a las empresas identificadas por vulneraciones de los derechos humanos. Cuando surgen controversias, los analistas evalúan la situación y aplican una puntuación a la controversia (utilizando nuestra metodología de puntuación interna) y determinan el mejor curso de acción. Las puntuaciones de controversia se actualizan trimestralmente para realizar un seguimiento de la tendencia y de los esfuerzos de corrección.

¿Cómo tuvo en cuenta este producto financiero las principales incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

El producto tiene en cuenta todas las Principales Incidencias Adversas obligatorias según el Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 que se aplica a la estrategia del producto y se basa en una combinación de políticas de exclusión (normativas y sectoriales), enfoques de implicación y voto:

- Exclusión: Amundi ha definido reglas de exclusión normativas, basadas en la actividad y sectoriales que abarcan algunos de los principales indicadores adversos de sostenibilidad enumerados por el Reglamento de Divulgación.
- Integración de factores ESG: Amundi ha adoptado normas mínimas de integración ESG aplicadas por defecto a sus fondos de capital variable y gestión activa (exclusión de emisores con calificación G y mejor puntuación media ponderada ESG superior a la del índice de referencia aplicable). Los 38 criterios utilizados en el enfoque de calificación ESG de Amundi también se diseñaron para tener en cuenta las principales incidencias en los factores de sostenibilidad, así como la calidad de la mitigación realizada, que también se tienen en cuenta a ese respecto.
- Compromiso: La interacción es un proceso continuo y orientado a un fin, cuyo objetivo es influir en las actividades o el comportamiento de las empresas participadas. El objetivo de las actividades de interacción puede clasificarse en dos categorías: comprometer a un emisor a mejorar la forma en que integra la dimensión medioambiental y social, comprometer a un emisor a mejorar su impacto en cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y relacionadas con los derechos humanos u otras cuestiones de sostenibilidad que son importantes para la sociedad y la economía mundial.
- Seguimiento de controversias: Amundi ha desarrollado un sistema de seguimiento de controversias que se basa en tres proveedores de datos externos para realizar un seguimiento sistemático de las controversias y su nivel de gravedad. Este enfoque cuantitativo se enriquece después con una evaluación en profundidad de cada controversia grave, dirigida por analistas ESG y la revisión periódica de su evolución. Este enfoque se aplica a todos los fondos de Amundi.

Si desea más información sobre cómo se tienen en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas, consulte la Declaración de divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.com.

Para estar alineados con la Taxonomía de la UE, los criterios para el gas fósil incluyen limitaciones de emisiones y cambio a energías totalmente

¿En qué medida las inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

renovables o combustibles con bajas emisiones de carbono para finales de 2035. En el caso de la energía nuclear, los criterios incluyen normas exhaustivas de seguridad y gestión de residuos

Las actividades habilitadoras permiten directamente que otras actividades contribuyan de forma sustancial a un objetivo medioambiental.

● ¿Invertió el producto financiero en actividades relacionadas con el gas fósil y/o la energía nuclear que se ajustaban a la Taxonomía de la UE?

☐ Sí:

☐ En gas fósil

☐ En energía nuclear

☒ No

Durante el periodo no se dispuso de datos fiables sobre la alineación con la Taxonomía de la UE del gas fósil y la energía nuclear.

Los gráficos siguientes muestran en verde el porcentaje de inversiones que estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE. Como no existe una metodología adecuada para determinar la alineación con la Taxonomía de la deuda pública*, el primer gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía en relación con todas las inversiones del producto financiero, incluida la deuda pública, mientras que el segundo gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía solo en relación con las inversiones del producto financiero distintas de la deuda pública.

● ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones en actividades de transición y habilitadoras?

A 30/06/2024, utilizando como indicador el volumen de negocio y/o los datos sobre el uso del producto obtenido de bonos verdes, la cuota de inversión del fondo en actividades de transición era del 0.00% y la cuota de inversión en actividades habilitadoras era del 0.00%. El porcentaje declarado de alineación de las inversiones del fondo con la Taxonomía de la UE no ha sido auditado por los auditores del fondo ni por terceros.

● ¿Cómo era el porcentaje de inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE respecto de los periodos de referencia anteriores?

Al cierre del periodo anterior, el porcentaje de inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE era del 0.00%.

 son inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental que no tienen en cuenta los criterios de las actividades económicas sostenibles desde el punto de vista medioambiental en virtud del Reglamento (UE) 2020/852.

 ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

La cuota de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineado con la Taxonomía fue del 36.58% al cierre del periodo.

Esto se debe al hecho de que algunos emisores se consideran inversiones sostenibles con arreglo al Reglamento sobre la divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros (SFDR), pero presentan una parte de actividades que no se ajustan a las normas de la Taxonomía de la UE, o para las que aún no se dispone de datos con vistas a realizar una evaluación conforme a la Taxonomía de la UE.

 ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social?

El porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social al cierre del periodo era del 16.58%.

 ¿Qué inversiones se incluían en "otros", cuál era su finalidad y existían salvaguardias medioambientales o sociales mínimas?

El apartado "N.º 2 Otros" incluye el efectivo y otros instrumentos mantenidos con fines de liquidez y gestión del riesgo de la cartera. En el caso de los bonos y acciones sin calificación, se aplican unas salvaguardias medioambientales y sociales mínimas a través de un cribado de controversias respecto de los Principios del Pacto Mundial de Naciones Unidas. También puede incluir valores sin calificación ESG para los que no se disponga de los datos necesarios para cuantificar de la consecución de las características medioambientales o sociales.

 ¿Qué medidas se han tomado para alcanzar las características medioambientales y/o sociales durante el periodo de referencia?

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad están continuamente disponibles en el sistema de gestión de carteras, lo que permite a los gestores de carteras evaluar el impacto de sus decisiones de inversión. Estos indicadores se integran en el marco de control de AMUNDI, repartiéndose las responsabilidades entre el primer nivel de controles, realizado por los propios equipos de Inversión, y el segundo nivel de controles, realizado por los equipos de Riesgos, que supervisan de forma continua el cumplimiento de las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el fondo.

Realizó inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental:

en actividades económicas que se consideran sostenibles desde el punto de vista medioambiental según la Taxonomía de la UE

en actividades económicas que no se consideran sostenibles desde el punto de vista medioambiental según la Taxonomía de la UE

con un objetivo medioambiental en actividades económicas que no se consideran sostenibles desde el punto de vista medioambiental según la Taxonomía de la UE

con un objetivo social

Promovió características E/S, pero no realizó inversiones sostenibles

¿En qué medida se cumplieron las características medioambientales y/o sociales promovidas por este producto financiero?

Durante el ejercicio, el producto promovió continuamente las características medioambientales y/o sociales con el objetivo de lograr una puntuación ESG superior a la puntuación ESG de su universo de inversión MSCI ACWI. Para determinar la puntuación ESG del Producto y el universo de inversión ESG, el desempeño ESG se evaluó continuamente comparando el desempeño medio de un título frente al sector del emisor del título, con respecto a cada una de las tres características: medioambiental, social y de gobierno corporativo.

El universo de inversión es un universo de mercado general que no evalúa ni incluye componentes basados en características medioambientales y/o sociales y, por lo tanto, no pretende ser coherente con las características promovidas por el fondo. No se ha designado ningún índice de referencia ESG.

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad cuantifican cómo se alcanzan las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el producto financiero.

● ¿Cómo se comportaron los indicadores de sostenibilidad?

Amundi ha desarrollado su propio proceso interno de calificación ESG basado en el enfoque "Best-in-class". Las calificaciones adaptadas a cada sector de actividad pretenden evaluar la dinámica en la que operan las empresas.

El indicador de sostenibilidad utilizado es la puntuación ESG del Producto que se mide con respecto a la puntuación ESG del universo de inversión ESG del Producto.

Al cierre del periodo:

- La calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera es 0.185 (D).
- La calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG es -0.171 (D).

La calificación ESG de Amundi utilizada para determinar la puntuación ESG es una puntuación cuantitativa ESG traducida en siete grados, que van de la A (el universo de mejores puntuaciones) a la G (la peor). En la escala de Calificación ESG de Amundi, los títulos pertenecientes a la lista de exclusión corresponden a una G. En el caso de los emisores corporativos, el desempeño ESG se evalúa en general y a nivel de criterios relevantes comparándolo con el desempeño medio de su sector, a través de la combinación de las tres dimensiones ESG:

- Dimensión medioambiental: analiza la capacidad de los emisores para controlar su impacto medioambiental directo e indirecto, limitando su consumo de energía, reduciendo sus emisiones de efecto invernadero, luchando contra el agotamiento de los recursos y protegiendo la biodiversidad.
- Dimensión social: analiza el funcionamiento de un emisor en dos conceptos distintos: su estrategia para desarrollar su capital humano y el respeto de los derechos humanos en general;
- Dimensión de gobierno corporativo: Evalúa la capacidad del emisor para garantizar la base de un marco de gobierno corporativo eficaz y generar valor a largo plazo.

● ¿...y en comparación con periodos anteriores?

Al cierre del periodo anterior, la calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera era de 0.24 (D) y la calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG era de -0.12 (D).

● ¿Cuáles eran los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero pretende realizar parcialmente y cómo contribuía la inversión sostenible a dichos objetivos?

Los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles son invertir en empresas participadas que traten de cumplir dos criterios:

1. seguir las mejores prácticas medioambientales y sociales; y
2. evitar fabricar productos o prestar servicios que perjudiquen al medio ambiente y a la sociedad.

Para que se considere que la empresa en la que se invierte contribuye al objetivo mencionado, debe ser uno de los "mejores actores" dentro de su sector de actividad en al menos uno de sus factores medioambientales o sociales materiales.

más del 10% a la puntuación ESG global. En el sector energético, por ejemplo, los factores materiales son: emisiones y energía, biodiversidad y contaminación, salud y seguridad, comunidades locales y derechos humanos. Si desea obtener una descripción más completa de los sectores y factores, consulte la Declaración Reglamentaria ESG de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.lu. Para contribuir a los objetivos anteriores, la empresa participada no debe tener una exposición significativa a actividades (por ejemplo, tabaco, armas, juegos de azar, carbón, aviación, producción de carne, fabricación de fertilizantes y pesticidas, producción de plásticos de un solo uso) que no sean compatibles con dichos criterios.

El carácter sostenible de una inversión se evalúa a nivel de la empresa participada.

Para garantizar que las inversiones sostenibles no causan un perjuicio significativo ("DNSH"), Amundi utiliza dos filtros:

Más allá de los factores específicos de sostenibilidad cubiertos en el primer filtro, Amundi ha definido un segundo filtro, que no tiene en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas mencionados anteriormente, con el fin de verificar que la empresa no obtiene malos resultados desde un punto de vista medioambiental o social global en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, lo que corresponde a una puntuación medioambiental o social superior o igual a E utilizando la calificación ESG de Amundi.

Los indicadores de incidencias adversas se han tenido en cuenta tal y como se detalla en el primer filtro de no causar un daño significativo (DNSH) anterior.

El primer filtro DNSH se basa en el seguimiento de los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas del Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 cuando se dispone de datos sólidos mediante la combinación de los siguientes indicadores y umbrales o normas específicas:

- Tener una intensidad de CO<sub>2</sub> que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector (solo se aplica a sectores de alta intensidad), y
- Tener una diversidad en el Consejo de Administración que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, y
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con las condiciones de trabajo y los derechos humanos.
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con la biodiversidad y la contaminación

¿Estaban las inversiones sostenibles alineadas con las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos? Detalles:

Sí, las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos están integrados en nuestra metodología de puntuación ESG. Nuestra herramienta de calificación ESG propia evalúa a los emisores utilizando los datos disponibles de nuestros proveedores de datos. Por ejemplo, el modelo cuenta con un criterio específico denominado "Participación en la comunidad y derechos humanos", que se aplica a todos los sectores, además de otros criterios relacionados con los derechos humanos, como las cadenas de suministro socialmente responsables, las condiciones de trabajo y las relaciones laborales. Además, realizamos un seguimiento de las controversias, como mínimo trimestralmente, que incluye a las empresas identificadas por vulneraciones de los derechos humanos. Cuando surgen controversias, los analistas evalúan la situación y aplican una puntuación a la controversia (utilizando nuestra metodología de puntuación interna) y determinan el mejor curso de acción. Las puntuaciones de controversia se actualizan trimestralmente para realizar un seguimiento de la tendencia y de los esfuerzos de corrección.

¿Cómo tuvo en cuenta este producto financiero las principales incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

El producto tiene en cuenta todas las Principales Incidencias Adversas obligatorias según el Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 que se aplica a la estrategia del producto y se basa en una combinación de políticas de exclusión (normativas y sectoriales), enfoques de implicación y voto:

- Exclusión: Amundi ha definido reglas de exclusión normativas, basadas en la actividad y sectoriales que abarcan algunos de los principales indicadores adversos de sostenibilidad enumerados por el Reglamento de Divulgación.
- Integración de factores ESG: Amundi ha adoptado normas mínimas de integración ESG aplicadas por defecto a sus fondos de capital variable y gestión activa (exclusión de emisores con calificación G y mejor puntuación media ponderada ESG superior a la del índice de referencia aplicable). Los 38 criterios utilizados en el enfoque de calificación ESG de Amundi también se diseñaron para tener en cuenta las principales incidencias en los factores de sostenibilidad, así como la calidad de la mitigación realizada, que también se tienen en cuenta a ese respecto.
- Compromiso: La interacción es un proceso continuo y orientado a un fin, cuyo objetivo es influir en las actividades o el comportamiento de las empresas participadas. El objetivo de las actividades de interacción puede clasificarse en dos categorías: comprometer a un emisor a mejorar la forma en que integra la dimensión medioambiental y social, comprometer a un emisor a mejorar su impacto en cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y relacionadas con los derechos humanos u otras cuestiones de sostenibilidad que son importantes para la sociedad y la economía mundial.
- Seguimiento de controversias: Amundi ha desarrollado un sistema de seguimiento de controversias que se basa en tres proveedores de datos externos para realizar un seguimiento sistemático de las controversias y su nivel de gravedad. Este enfoque cuantitativo se enriquece después con una evaluación en profundidad de cada controversia grave, dirigida por analistas ESG y la revisión periódica de su evolución. Este enfoque se aplica a todos los fondos de Amundi.

Si desea más información sobre cómo se tienen en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas, consulte la Declaración de divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.com.

Para estar alineados con la Taxonomía de la UE, los criterios para el gas fósil incluyen limitaciones de emisiones y cambio a energías totalmente renovables o combustibles con bajas emisiones de carbono para finales de 2035. En el caso de la energía nuclear, los criterios incluyen normas exhaustivas de seguridad y gestión de residuos.

Las actividades habilitadoras permiten directamente que otras actividades contribuyan de forma sustancial a un objetivo medioambiental.

¿En qué medida las inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

El fondo promueve características tanto medioambientales como sociales. Aunque el fondo no se comprometió a realizar inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE, durante el periodo contable el fondo invirtió un 0.04% en inversiones sostenibles alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE. Estas inversiones contribuyeron a los objetivos de mitigación del cambio climático de la Taxonomía de la UE.

La alineación de las empresas participadas con los objetivos de la Taxonomía de la UE antes mencionados se cuantifica utilizando datos sobre el volumen de negocio (o los ingresos) y/o el uso del producto obtenido de bonos verdes.

Sí:

No

Durante el periodo no se dispuso de datos fiables sobre la alineación con la Taxonomía de la UE del gas fósil y la energía nuclear.

Las actividades alineadas con la Taxonomía se expresan como porcentaje de:

- el volumen de negocio que refleja la proporción de ingresos procedentes de actividades ecológicas de las empresas participadas
- las inversiones en inmovilizado (CapEx) que muestran las inversiones ecológicas realizadas por las empresas participadas, por ejemplo, para la transición a una economía verde
- los gastos de explotación (OpEx) que reflejan las actividades operativas ecológicas de las empresas participadas

Los gráficos siguientes muestran en verde el porcentaje de inversiones que estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE. Como no existe una metodología adecuada para determinar la alineación con la Taxonomía de la deuda pública*, el primer gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía en relación con todas las inversiones del producto financiero, incluida la deuda pública, mientras que el segundo gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía solo en relación con las inversiones del producto financiero distintas de la deuda pública.

¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones en actividades de transición y habilitadoras?

El porcentaje declarado de alineación de las inversiones del fondo con la Taxonomía de la UE no ha sido auditado por los auditores del fondo ni por terceros.

¿Cómo era el porcentaje de inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE respecto de los periodos de referencia anteriores?

Al cierre del periodo anterior, el porcentaje de inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE era del 0.01%.

En el caso de los bonos y acciones sin calificación, se aplican unas salvaguardias medioambientales y sociales mínimas a través de un cribado de controversias respecto de los Principios del Pacto Mundial de Naciones Unidas. También puede incluir valores sin calificación ESG para los que no se disponga de los datos necesarios para cuantificar de la consecución de las características medioambientales o sociales.

¿Qué medidas se han tomado para alcanzar las características medioambientales y/o sociales durante el periodo de referencia?

Estos indicadores se integran en el marco de control de AMUNDI, repartiéndose las responsabilidades entre el primer nivel de controles, realizado por los propios equipos de Inversión, y el segundo nivel de controles, realizado por los equipos de Riesgos, que supervisan de forma continua el cumplimiento de las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el fondo.

Además, la Política de Inversión Responsable de AMUNDI establece un enfoque activo de interacción que promueve el diálogo con las empresas participadas, incluidas las que forman parte de la cartera de este producto. Nuestro Informe Anual de Interacción, disponible en <https://about.amundi.com/esg-documentation>, ofrece información detallada sobre esta iniciativa y sus resultados.

Una inversión sostenible es una inversión en una actividad económica que contribuya a un objetivo medioambiental o social, siempre que la inversión no cause un perjuicio significativo para ningún objetivo medioambiental o social y que las empresas participadas sigan prácticas de buen gobierno.

Para determinar la puntuación ESG del Producto y el universo de inversión ESG, el desempeño ESG se evaluó continuamente comparando el desempeño medio de un título frente al sector del emisor del título, con respecto a cada una de las tres características: medioambiental, social y de gobierno corporativo.

El universo de inversión es un universo de mercado general que no evalúa ni incluye componentes basados en características medioambientales y/o sociales y, por lo tanto, no pretende ser coherente con las características promovidas por el fondo. No se ha designado ningún índice de referencia ESG.

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad cuantifican cómo se alcanzan las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el producto financiero.

● ¿Cómo se comportaron los indicadores de sostenibilidad?

Amundi ha desarrollado su propio proceso interno de calificación ESG basado en el enfoque "Best-in-class". Las calificaciones adaptadas a cada sector de actividad pretenden evaluar la dinámica en la que operan las empresas.

El indicador de sostenibilidad utilizado es la puntuación ESG del Producto que se mide con respecto a la puntuación ESG del universo de inversión ESG del Producto.

Al cierre del periodo:

- La calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera es -0.137 (D).
- La calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG es -0.479 (D).

La calificación ESG de Amundi utilizada para determinar la puntuación ESG es una puntuación cuantitativa ESG traducida en siete grados, que van de la A (el universo de mejores puntuaciones) a la G (la peor). En la escala de Calificación ESG de Amundi, los títulos pertenecientes a la lista de exclusión corresponden a una G. En el caso de los emisores corporativos, el desempeño ESG se evalúa en general y a nivel de criterios relevantes comparándolo con el desempeño medio de su sector, a través de la combinación de las tres dimensiones ESG:

- Dimensión medioambiental: analiza la capacidad de los emisores para controlar su impacto medioambiental directo e indirecto, limitando su consumo de energía, reduciendo sus emisiones de efecto invernadero, luchando contra el agotamiento de los recursos y protegiendo la biodiversidad.
- Dimensión social: analiza el funcionamiento de un emisor en dos conceptos distintos: su estrategia para desarrollar su capital humano y el respeto de los derechos humanos en general;
- Dimensión de gobierno corporativo: Evalúa la capacidad del emisor para garantizar la base de un marco de gobierno corporativo eficaz y generar valor a largo plazo.

● ¿...y en comparación con periodos anteriores?

● ¿Cuáles eran los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero pretende realizar parcialmente y cómo contribuía la inversión sostenible a dichos objetivos?

Los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles son invertir en empresas participadas que traten de cumplir dos criterios:

1. seguir las mejores prácticas medioambientales y sociales; y
2. evitar fabricar productos o prestar servicios que perjudiquen al medio ambiente y a la sociedad.

Para que se considere que la empresa en la que se invierte contribuye al objetivo mencionado, debe ser uno de los "mejores actores" dentro de su sector de actividad en al menos uno de sus factores medioambientales o sociales materiales.

desea obtener una descripción más completa de los sectores y factores, consulte la Declaración Reglamentaria ESG de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.lu.

Para contribuir a los objetivos anteriores, la empresa participada no debe tener una exposición significativa a actividades (por ejemplo, tabaco, armas, juegos de azar, carbón, aviación, producción de carne, fabricación de fertilizantes y pesticidas, producción de plásticos de un solo uso) que no sean compatibles con dichos criterios.

El carácter sostenible de una inversión se evalúa a nivel de la empresa participada.

son los efectos negativos más significativos de las decisiones de inversión sobre los factores de sostenibilidad relacionados con cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y laborales, el respeto de los derechos humanos y la lucha contra la corrupción y el soborno.

● ¿De qué manera las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero realizó parcialmente no causaron un perjuicio significativo a ningún objetivo de inversión sostenible desde el punto de vista medioambiental o social?

Para garantizar que las inversiones sostenibles no causan un perjuicio significativo ("DNSH"), Amundi utiliza dos filtros:

Más allá de los factores específicos de sostenibilidad cubiertos en el primer filtro, Amundi ha definido un segundo filtro, que no tiene en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas mencionados anteriormente, con el fin de verificar que la empresa no obtiene malos resultados desde un punto de vista medioambiental o social global en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, lo que corresponde a una puntuación medioambiental o social superior o igual a E utilizando la calificación ESG de Amundi.

- ¿Cómo se tuvieron en cuenta los indicadores de incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

Los indicadores de incidencias adversas se han tenido en cuenta tal y como se detalla en el primer filtro de no causar un daño significativo (DNSH) anterior.

El primer filtro DNSH se basa en el seguimiento de los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas del Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 cuando se dispone de datos sólidos mediante la combinación de los siguientes indicadores y umbrales o normas específicas:

- Tener una intensidad de CO<sub>2</sub> que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector (solo se aplica a sectores de alta intensidad), y
- Tener una diversidad en el Consejo de Administración que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, y
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con las condiciones de trabajo y los derechos humanos.
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con la biodiversidad y la contaminación

- ¿Estaban las inversiones sostenibles alineadas con las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos? Detalles:

Sí, las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos están integrados en nuestra metodología de puntuación ESG. Nuestra herramienta de calificación ESG propia evalúa a los emisores utilizando los datos disponibles de nuestros proveedores de datos.

Por ejemplo, el modelo cuenta con un criterio específico denominado "Participación en la comunidad y derechos humanos", que se aplica a todos los sectores, además de otros criterios relacionados con los derechos humanos, como las cadenas de suministro socialmente responsables, las condiciones de trabajo y las relaciones laborales. Además, realizamos un seguimiento de las controversias, como mínimo trimestralmente, que incluye a las empresas identificadas por vulneraciones de los derechos humanos. Cuando surgen controversias, los analistas evalúan la situación y aplican una puntuación a la controversia (utilizando nuestra metodología de puntuación interna) y determinan el mejor curso de acción. Las puntuaciones de controversia se actualizan trimestralmente para realizar un seguimiento de la tendencia y de los esfuerzos de corrección.

¿Cómo tuvo en cuenta este producto financiero las principales incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

El producto tiene en cuenta todas las Principales Incidencias Adversas obligatorias según el Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 que se aplica a la estrategia del producto y se basa en una combinación de políticas de exclusión (normativas y sectoriales), enfoques de implicación y voto:

- Exclusión: Amundi ha definido reglas de exclusión normativas, basadas en la actividad y sectoriales que abarcan algunos de los principales indicadores adversos de sostenibilidad enumerados por el Reglamento de Divulgación.
- Integración de factores ESG: Amundi ha adoptado normas mínimas de integración ESG aplicadas por defecto a sus fondos de capital variable y gestión activa (exclusión de emisores con calificación G y mejor puntuación media ponderada ESG superior a la del índice de referencia aplicable). Los 38 criterios utilizados en el enfoque de calificación ESG de Amundi también se diseñaron para tener en cuenta las principales incidencias en los factores de sostenibilidad, así como la calidad de la mitigación realizada, que también se tienen en cuenta a ese respecto.
- Compromiso: La interacción es un proceso continuo y orientado a un fin, cuyo objetivo es influir en las actividades o el comportamiento de las empresas participadas. El objetivo de las actividades de interacción puede clasificarse en dos categorías: comprometer a un emisor a mejorar la forma en que integra la dimensión medioambiental y social, comprometer a un emisor a mejorar su impacto en cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y relacionadas con los derechos humanos u otras cuestiones de sostenibilidad que son importantes para la sociedad y la economía mundial.
- Seguimiento de controversias: Amundi ha desarrollado un sistema de seguimiento de controversias que se basa en tres proveedores de datos externos para realizar un seguimiento sistemático de las controversias y su nivel de gravedad. Este enfoque cuantitativo se enriquece después con una evaluación en profundidad de cada controversia grave, dirigida por analistas ESG y la revisión periódica de su evolución. Este enfoque se aplica a todos los fondos de Amundi.

Si desea más información sobre cómo se tienen en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas, consulte la Declaración de divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.com.

¿En qué medida las inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

Sí:

No

Durante el periodo no se dispuso de datos fiables sobre la alineación con la Taxonomía de la UE del gas fósil y la energía nuclear.

Para estar alineados con la Taxonomía de la UE, los criterios para el gas fósil incluyen limitaciones de emisiones y cambio a energías totalmente renovables o combustibles con bajas emisiones de carbono para finales de 2035. En el caso de la energía nuclear, los criterios incluyen normas exhaustivas de seguridad y gestión de residuos

Las actividades alineadas con la Taxonomía se expresan como porcentaje de: -el volumen de negocio que refleja la proporción de ingresos procedentes de actividades ecológicas de las empresas participadas -las inversiones en inmovilizado (CapEx) que muestran las inversiones ecológicas realizadas por las empresas participadas, por ejemplo, para la transición a una economía verde - los gastos de explotación (OpEx) que reflejan las actividades operativas ecológicas de las empresas participadas

Los gráficos siguientes muestran en verde el porcentaje de inversiones que estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE. Como no existe una metodología adecuada para determinar la alineación con la Taxonomía de la deuda pública*, el primer gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía en relación con todas las inversiones del producto financiero, incluida la deuda pública, mientras que el segundo gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía solo en relación con las inversiones del producto financiero distintas de la deuda pública.

● ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones en actividades de transición y habilitadoras?

A 30/06/2024, utilizando como indicador el volumen de negocio y/o los datos sobre el uso del producto obtenido de bonos verdes, la cuota de inversión del fondo en actividades de transición era del 0.00% y la cuota de inversión en actividades habilitadoras era del 0.00%. El porcentaje declarado de alineación de las inversiones del fondo con la Taxonomía de la UE no ha sido auditado por los auditores del fondo ni por terceros.

● ¿Cómo era el porcentaje de inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE respecto de los periodos de referencia anteriores?

Al cierre del periodo anterior, el porcentaje de inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE era del 0.00%.

son inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental que no tienen en cuenta los criterios de las actividades

● ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

económicas sostenibles desde el punto de vista medioambiental en virtud del Reglamento (UE) 2020/852.

¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social?

El porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social al cierre del periodo era del 2.80%.

¿Qué inversiones se incluían en "otros", cuál era su finalidad y existían salvaguardias medioambientales o sociales mínimas?

El apartado "N.º 2 Otros" incluye el efectivo y otros instrumentos mantenidos con fines de liquidez y gestión del riesgo de la cartera. En el caso de los bonos y acciones sin calificación, se aplican unas salvaguardias medioambientales y sociales mínimas a través de un cribado de controversias respecto de los Principios del Pacto Mundial de Naciones Unidas. También puede incluir valores sin calificación ESG para los que no se disponga de los datos necesarios para cuantificar de la consecución de las características medioambientales o sociales.

¿Qué medidas se han tomado para alcanzar las características medioambientales y/o sociales durante el periodo de referencia?

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad están continuamente disponibles en el sistema de gestión de carteras, lo que permite a los gestores de carteras evaluar el impacto de sus decisiones de inversión.

Estos indicadores se integran en el marco de control de AMUNDI, repartiéndose las responsabilidades entre el primer nivel de controles, realizado por los propios equipos de Inversión, y el segundo nivel de controles, realizado por los equipos de Riesgos, que supervisan de forma continua el cumplimiento de las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el fondo.

Además, la Política de Inversión Responsable de AMUNDI establece un enfoque activo de interacción que promueve el diálogo con las empresas participadas, incluidas las que forman parte de la cartera de este producto. Nuestro Informe Anual de Interacción, disponible en <https://about.amundi.com/esg-documentation>, ofrece información detallada sobre esta iniciativa y sus resultados.

Una inversión sostenible es una inversión en una actividad económica que contribuya a un objetivo medioambiental o social, siempre que la inversión no cause un perjuicio significativo para ningún objetivo medioambiental o social y que las empresas participadas sigan prácticas de buen gobierno.

¿En qué medida se cumplieron las características medioambientales y/o sociales promovidas por este producto financiero?

Durante el ejercicio, el producto promovió continuamente las características medioambientales y/o sociales con el objetivo de lograr una puntuación ESG superior a la puntuación ESG de su universo de inversión S&P 500. Para determinar la puntuación ESG del Producto y el universo de inversión ESG, el desempeño ESG se evaluó continuamente comparando el desempeño medio de un título frente al sector del emisor del título, con respecto a cada una de las tres características: medioambiental, social y de gobierno corporativo.

La gestora de inversiones ha centrado el proceso de inversión en empresas/sectores/países que han adoptado, o adoptarán, una trayectoria positiva en materia de ESG dentro de su negocio. La gestora de inversiones identificó oportunidades de inversión alineadas con el objetivo de generar alfa, centrándose en particular en la inclusión de empresas/sectores/países que serán sólidos ganadores en materia de ESG en el futuro, que tienen (o tendrán) una mejora positiva del perfil ESG, al tiempo que invierte en empresas/sectores/países que actualmente son líderes en materia de ESG.

Además, el Subfondo busca lograr una puntuación ESG en su cartera superior a la del Índice de referencia. El Subfondo se comparó con la puntuación ESG de su Índice de referencia después de excluir del Índice de referencia el 20% de los valores con la calificación ESG más baja.

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad

cuantifican cómo se alcanzan las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el producto financiero.

● ¿Cómo se comportaron los indicadores de sostenibilidad?

Amundi ha desarrollado su propio proceso interno de calificación ESG basado en el enfoque "Best-in-class". Las calificaciones adaptadas a cada sector de actividad pretenden evaluar la dinámica en la que operan las empresas.

El indicador de sostenibilidad utilizado es la puntuación ESG del Producto que se mide con respecto a la puntuación ESG del universo de inversión ESG del Producto.

Al cierre del periodo:

- La calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera es 0.107 (D).
- La calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG es -0.433 (D).

La calificación ESG de Amundi utilizada para determinar la puntuación ESG es una puntuación cuantitativa ESG traducida en siete grados, que van de la A (el universo de mejores puntuaciones) a la G (la peor). En la escala de Calificación ESG de Amundi, los títulos pertenecientes a la lista de exclusión corresponden a una G. En el caso de los emisores corporativos, el desempeño ESG se evalúa en general y a nivel de criterios relevantes comparándolo con el desempeño medio de su sector, a través de la combinación de las tres dimensiones ESG:

- Dimensión medioambiental: analiza la capacidad de los emisores para controlar su impacto medioambiental directo e indirecto, limitando su consumo de energía, reduciendo sus emisiones de efecto invernadero, luchando contra el agotamiento de los recursos y protegiendo la biodiversidad.
- Dimensión social: analiza el funcionamiento de un emisor en dos conceptos distintos: su estrategia para desarrollar su capital humano y el respeto de los derechos humanos en general.
- Dimensión de gobierno corporativo: Evalúa la capacidad del emisor para garantizar la base de un marco de gobierno corporativo eficaz y generar valor a largo plazo.

● ¿...y en comparación con periodos anteriores?

Al cierre del periodo anterior, la calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera era de 0.14 (D) y la calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG era de -0.38 (D).

● ¿Cuáles eran los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero pretende realizar parcialmente y cómo contribuía la inversión sostenible a dichos objetivos?

Los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles son invertir en empresas participadas que traten de cumplir dos criterios:

1. seguir las mejores prácticas medioambientales y sociales; y
2. evitar fabricar productos o prestar servicios que perjudiquen al medio ambiente y a la sociedad.

Para que se considere que la empresa en la que se invierte contribuye al objetivo mencionado, debe ser uno de los "mejores actores" dentro de su sector de actividad en al menos uno de sus factores medioambientales o sociales materiales.

La definición de "mejor actor" se basa en la metodología ESG propia de Amundi, cuyo objetivo es cuantificar el desempeño ESG de una empresa participada. Para ser considerada "mejor actor", una empresa participada debe obtener las tres mejores calificaciones (A, B o C, en una escala de calificación que va de la A a la G) dentro de su sector en al menos un factor medioambiental o social material. Los factores medioambientales y sociales materiales se identifican a nivel sectorial. La identificación de factores materiales se basa en el marco de análisis ESG de Amundi, que combina datos extrafinancieros y análisis cualitativos de temáticas sectoriales y de sostenibilidad afines. Los factores identificados como materiales suponen una contribución de más del 10% a la puntuación ESG global. En el sector energético, por ejemplo, los factores materiales son: emisiones y energía, biodiversidad y contaminación, salud y seguridad, comunidades locales y derechos humanos. Si desea obtener una descripción más completa de los sectores y factores, consulte la Declaración Reglamentaria ESG de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.lu.

Para contribuir a los objetivos anteriores, la empresa participada no debe tener una exposición significativa a actividades (por ejemplo, tabaco, armas, juegos de azar, carbón, aviación, producción de carne, fabricación de fertilizantes y pesticidas, producción de plásticos de un solo uso) que no sean compatibles con dichos criterios.

El carácter sostenible de una inversión se evalúa a nivel de la empresa participada.

Las principales incidencias adversas son los efectos negativos más significativos de las decisiones de inversión sobre los factores de sostenibilidad relacionados con cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y laborales, el respeto de los derechos humanos y la lucha contra la corrupción y el soborno.

● ¿De qué manera las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero realizó parcialmente no causaron un perjuicio significativo a ningún objetivo de inversión sostenible desde el punto de vista medioambiental o social?

Para garantizar que las inversiones sostenibles no causan un perjuicio significativo ("DNSH"), Amundi utiliza dos filtros:

Más allá de los factores específicos de sostenibilidad cubiertos en el primer filtro, Amundi ha definido un segundo filtro, que no tiene en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas mencionados anteriormente, con el fin de verificar que la empresa no obtiene malos resultados desde un punto de vista medioambiental o social global en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, lo que corresponde a una puntuación medioambiental o social superior o igual a E utilizando la calificación ESG de Amundi.

- ¿Cómo se tuvieron en cuenta los indicadores de incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

Los indicadores de incidencias adversas se han tenido en cuenta tal y como se detalla en el primer filtro de no causar un daño significativo (DNSH) anterior.

El primer filtro DNSH se basa en el seguimiento de los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas del Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 cuando se dispone de datos sólidos mediante la combinación de los siguientes indicadores y umbrales o normas específicas:

- Tener una intensidad de CO<sub>2</sub> que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector (solo se aplica a sectores de alta intensidad), y
- Tener una diversidad en el Consejo de Administración que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, y
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con las condiciones de trabajo y los derechos humanos.
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con la biodiversidad y la contaminación

- ¿Estaban las inversiones sostenibles alineadas con las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos? Detalles:

Sí, las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos están integrados en nuestra metodología de puntuación ESG. Nuestra herramienta de calificación ESG propia evalúa a los emisores utilizando los datos disponibles de nuestros proveedores de datos. Por ejemplo, el modelo cuenta con un criterio específico denominado "Participación en la comunidad y derechos humanos", que se aplica a todos los sectores, además de otros criterios relacionados con los derechos humanos, como las cadenas de suministro socialmente responsables, las condiciones de trabajo y las relaciones laborales. Además, realizamos un seguimiento de las controversias, como mínimo trimestralmente, que incluye a las empresas identificadas por vulneraciones de los derechos humanos. Cuando surgen controversias, los analistas evalúan la situación y aplican una puntuación a la controversia (utilizando nuestra metodología de puntuación interna) y determinan el mejor curso de acción. Las puntuaciones de controversia se actualizan trimestralmente para realizar un seguimiento de la tendencia y de los esfuerzos de corrección.

Cualquier otra inversión sostenible tampoco debe causar perjuicio significativo a ningún objetivo medioambiental o social.

El producto tiene en cuenta todas las Principales Incidencias Adversas obligatorias según el Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 que se aplica a la estrategia del producto y se basa en una combinación de políticas de exclusión (normativas y sectoriales), enfoques de implicación y voto:

- Exclusión: Amundi ha definido reglas de exclusión normativas, basadas en la actividad y sectoriales que abarcan algunos de los principales indicadores adversos de sostenibilidad enumerados por el Reglamento de Divulgación.
- Integración de factores ESG: Amundi ha adoptado normas mínimas de integración ESG aplicadas por defecto a sus fondos de capital variable y gestión activa (exclusión de emisores con calificación G y mejor puntuación media ponderada ESG superior a la del índice de referencia aplicable). Los 38 criterios utilizados en el enfoque de calificación ESG de Amundi también se diseñaron para tener en cuenta las principales incidencias en los factores de sostenibilidad, así como la calidad de la mitigación realizada, que también se tienen en cuenta a ese respecto.
- Compromiso: La interacción es un proceso continuo y orientado a un fin, cuyo objetivo es influir en las actividades o el comportamiento de las empresas participadas. El objetivo de las actividades de interacción puede clasificarse en dos categorías: comprometer a un emisor a mejorar la forma en que integra la dimensión medioambiental y social, comprometer a un emisor a mejorar su impacto en cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y relacionadas con los derechos humanos u otras cuestiones de sostenibilidad que son importantes para la sociedad y la economía mundial.

- Voto: La política de voto de Amundi responde a su análisis integral de todas las cuestiones a largo plazo que pueden influir en la creación de valor, incluidas cuestiones ESG sustanciales. Si desea obtener más información, consulte la Política de Voto de Amundi.
- Seguimiento de controversias: Amundi ha desarrollado un sistema de seguimiento de controversias que se basa en tres proveedores de datos externos para realizar un seguimiento sistemático de las controversias y su nivel de gravedad. Este enfoque cuantitativo se enriquece después con una evaluación en profundidad de cada controversia grave, dirigida por analistas ESG y la revisión periódica de su evolución. Este enfoque se aplica a todos los fondos de Amundi.

Si desea más información sobre cómo se tienen en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas, consulte la Declaración de divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.com.

Para estar alineados con la Taxonomía de la UE, los criterios para el gas fósil incluyen limitaciones de emisiones y cambio a energías totalmente renovables o combustibles con bajas emisiones de carbono para finales de 2035. En el caso de la energía nuclear, los criterios incluyen normas exhaustivas de seguridad y gestión de residuos.

Las actividades habilitadoras permiten directamente que otras actividades contribuyan de forma sustancial a un objetivo medioambiental.

Las actividades de transición son actividades para las que

¿En qué medida las inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

El fondo promueve características tanto medioambientales como sociales. Aunque el fondo no se comprometió a realizar inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE, durante el periodo contable el fondo invirtió un 0.00% en inversiones sostenibles alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE.

● ¿Invirtió el producto financiero en actividades relacionadas con el gas fósil y/o la energía nuclear que se ajustaban a la Taxonomía de la UE<sup>1</sup>?

☐ Sí:

☐ En gas fósil      ☐ En energía nuclear

☒ No

Durante el periodo no se dispuso de datos fiables sobre la alineación con la Taxonomía de la UE del gas fósil y la energía nuclear.

aún no se dispone de alternativas con bajas emisiones de carbono y, entre otros, tienen niveles de emisión de gases de efecto invernadero correspondientes al mejor rendimiento.

Las actividades alineadas con la Taxonomía se expresan como porcentaje de:

- el volumen de negocio que refleja la proporción de ingresos procedentes de actividades ecológicas de las empresas participadas
- las inversiones en inmovilizado (CapEx) que muestran las inversiones ecológicas realizadas por las empresas participadas, por ejemplo, para la transición a una economía verde.
- los gastos de explotación (OpEx) que reflejan las actividades operativas ecológicas de las empresas participadas.

Los gráficos siguientes muestran en verde el porcentaje de inversiones que estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE. Como no existe una metodología adecuada para determinar la alineación con la Taxonomía de la deuda pública*, el primer gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía en relación con todas las inversiones del producto financiero, incluida la deuda pública, mientras que el segundo gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía solo en relación con las inversiones del producto financiero distintas de la deuda pública.

● ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones en actividades de transición y habilitadoras?

A 30/06/2024, utilizando como indicador el volumen de negocio y/o los datos sobre el uso del producto obtenido de bonos verdes, la cuota de inversión del fondo en actividades de transición era del 0.00% y la cuota de inversión en actividades habilitadoras era del 0.00%. El porcentaje declarado de alineación de las inversiones del fondo con la Taxonomía de la UE no ha sido auditado por los auditores del fondo ni por terceros.

● ¿Cómo era el porcentaje de inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE respecto de los periodos de referencia anteriores?

Al cierre del periodo anterior, el porcentaje de inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE era del 0.00%.

● ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

La cuota de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineado con la Taxonomía fue del 31.30% al cierre del periodo. Esto se debe al hecho de que algunos emisores se consideran inversiones sostenibles con arreglo al Reglamento sobre la divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros (SFDR), pero presentan una parte de actividades que no se ajustan a las normas de la Taxonomía de la UE, o para las que aún no se dispone de datos con vistas a realizar una evaluación conforme a la Taxonomía de la UE.

¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social?

El porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social al cierre del periodo era del 8.11%.

¿Qué inversiones se incluían en "otros", cuál era su finalidad y existían salvaguardias medioambientales o sociales mínimas?

El apartado "N.º 2 Otros" incluye el efectivo y otros instrumentos mantenidos con fines de liquidez y gestión del riesgo de la cartera. En el caso de los bonos y acciones sin calificación, se aplican unas salvaguardias medioambientales y sociales mínimas a través de un cribado de controversias respecto de los Principios del Pacto Mundial de Naciones Unidas. También puede incluir valores sin calificación ESG para los que no se disponga de los datos necesarios para cuantificar de la consecución de las características medioambientales o sociales.

¿Qué medidas se han tomado para alcanzar las características medioambientales y/o sociales durante el periodo de referencia?

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad están continuamente disponibles en el sistema de gestión de carteras, lo que permite a los gestores de carteras evaluar el impacto de sus decisiones de inversión.

Estos indicadores se integran en el marco de control de AMUNDI, repartiéndose las responsabilidades entre el primer nivel de controles, realizado por los propios equipos de Inversión, y el segundo nivel de controles, realizado por los equipos de Riesgos, que supervisan de forma continua el cumplimiento de las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el fondo.

Promovió características E/S, pero no realizó inversiones sostenibles

¿En qué medida se cumplieron las características medioambientales y/o sociales promovidas por este producto financiero?

Durante el ejercicio, el producto promovió continuamente las características medioambientales y/o sociales con el objetivo de lograr una puntuación ESG superior a la puntuación ESG de su universo de inversión RUSSELL 1000 GROWTH. Para determinar la puntuación ESG del Producto y el universo de inversión ESG, el desempeño ESG se evaluó continuamente comparando el desempeño medio de un título frente al sector del emisor del título, con respecto a cada una de las tres características: medioambiental, social y de gobierno corporativo.

El universo de inversión es un universo de mercado general que no evalúa ni incluye componentes basados en características medioambientales y/o sociales y, por lo tanto, no pretende ser coherente con las características promovidas por el fondo. No se ha designado ningún índice de referencia ESG.

● ¿Cómo se comportaron los indicadores de sostenibilidad?

Amundi ha desarrollado su propio proceso interno de calificación ESG basado en el enfoque "Best-in-class". Las calificaciones adaptadas a cada sector de actividad pretenden evaluar la dinámica en la que operan las empresas.

El indicador de sostenibilidad utilizado es la puntuación ESG del Producto que se mide con respecto a la puntuación ESG del universo de inversión ESG del Producto.

Al cierre del periodo:

- La calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera es -0.359 (D).
- La calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG es -0.386 (D).

La calificación ESG de Amundi utilizada para determinar la puntuación ESG es una puntuación cuantitativa ESG traducida en siete grados, que van de la A (el universo de mejores puntuaciones) a la G (la peor). En la escala de Calificación ESG de Amundi, los títulos pertenecientes a la lista de exclusión corresponden a una G. En el caso de los emisores corporativos, el desempeño ESG se evalúa en general y a nivel de criterios relevantes comparándolo con el desempeño medio de su sector, a través de la combinación de las tres dimensiones ESG:

- Dimensión medioambiental: analiza la capacidad de los emisores para controlar su impacto medioambiental directo e indirecto, limitando su consumo de energía, reduciendo sus emisiones de efecto invernadero, luchando contra el agotamiento de los recursos y protegiendo la biodiversidad.
- Dimensión social: analiza el funcionamiento de un emisor en dos conceptos distintos: su estrategia para desarrollar su capital humano y el respeto de los derechos humanos en general.
- Dimensión de gobierno corporativo: Evalúa la capacidad del emisor para garantizar la base de un marco de gobierno corporativo eficaz y generar valor a largo plazo.

● ¿...y en comparación con periodos anteriores?

Al cierre del periodo anterior, la calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera era de -0.24 (D) y la calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG era de -0.36 (D).

● ¿Cuáles eran los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero pretende realizar parcialmente y cómo contribuía la inversión sostenible a dichos objetivos?

Los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles son invertir en empresas participadas que traten de cumplir dos criterios:

1. seguir las mejores prácticas medioambientales y sociales; y
2. evitar fabricar productos o prestar servicios que perjudiquen al medio ambiente y a la sociedad.

Para que se considere que la empresa en la que se invierte contribuye al objetivo mencionado, debe ser uno de los "mejores actores" dentro de su sector de actividad en al menos uno de sus factores medioambientales o sociales materiales.

biodiversidad y contaminación, salud y seguridad, comunidades locales y derechos humanos. Si desea obtener una descripción más completa de los sectores y factores, consulte la Declaración Reglamentaria ESG de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.lu.

Para contribuir a los objetivos anteriores, la empresa participada no debe tener una exposición significativa a actividades (por ejemplo, tabaco, armas, juegos de azar, carbón, aviación, producción de carne, fabricación de fertilizantes y pesticidas, producción de plásticos de un solo uso) que no sean compatibles con dichos criterios.

El carácter sostenible de una inversión se evalúa a nivel de la empresa participada.

Para garantizar que las inversiones sostenibles no causan un perjuicio significativo ("DNSH"), Amundi utiliza dos filtros:

Más allá de los factores específicos de sostenibilidad cubiertos en el primer filtro, Amundi ha definido un segundo filtro, que no tiene en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas mencionados anteriormente, con el fin de verificar que la empresa no obtiene malos resultados desde un punto de vista medioambiental o social global en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, lo que corresponde a una puntuación medioambiental o social superior o igual a E utilizando la calificación ESG de Amundi.

- ¿Cómo se tuvieron en cuenta los indicadores de incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

Los indicadores de incidencias adversas se han tenido en cuenta tal y como se detalla en el primer filtro de no causar un daño significativo (DNSH) anterior.

El primer filtro DNSH se basa en el seguimiento de los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas del Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 cuando se dispone de datos sólidos mediante la combinación de los siguientes indicadores y umbrales o normas específicas:

- Tener una intensidad de CO<sub>2</sub> que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector (solo se aplica a sectores de alta intensidad), y
- Tener una diversidad en el Consejo de Administración que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, y
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con las condiciones de trabajo y los derechos humanos.
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con la biodiversidad y la contaminación

- ¿Estaban las inversiones sostenibles alineadas con las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos? Detalles:

los emisores utilizando los datos disponibles de nuestros proveedores de datos.

Por ejemplo, el modelo cuenta con un criterio específico denominado "Participación en la comunidad y derechos humanos", que se aplica a todos los sectores, además de otros criterios relacionados con los derechos humanos, como las cadenas de suministro socialmente responsables, las condiciones de trabajo y las relaciones laborales. Además, realizamos un seguimiento de las controversias, como mínimo trimestralmente, que incluye a las empresas identificadas por vulneraciones de los derechos humanos. Cuando surgen controversias, los analistas evalúan la situación y aplican una puntuación a la controversia (utilizando nuestra metodología de puntuación interna) y determinan el mejor curso de acción. Las puntuaciones de controversia se actualizan trimestralmente para realizar un seguimiento de la tendencia y de los esfuerzos de corrección.

¿Cómo tuvo en cuenta este producto financiero las principales incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

El producto tiene en cuenta todas las Principales Incidencias Adversas obligatorias según el Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 que se aplica a la estrategia del producto y se basa en una combinación de políticas de exclusión (normativas y sectoriales), enfoques de implicación y voto:

- Exclusión: Amundi ha definido reglas de exclusión normativas, basadas en la actividad y sectoriales que abarcan algunos de los principales indicadores adversos de sostenibilidad enumerados por el Reglamento de Divulgación.
- Integración de factores ESG: Amundi ha adoptado normas mínimas de integración ESG aplicadas por defecto a sus fondos de capital variable y gestión activa (exclusión de emisores con calificación G y mejor puntuación media ponderada ESG superior a la del índice de referencia aplicable). Los 38 criterios utilizados en el enfoque de calificación ESG de Amundi también se diseñaron para tener en cuenta las principales incidencias en los factores de sostenibilidad, así como la calidad de la mitigación realizada, que también se tienen en cuenta a ese respecto.
- Compromiso: La interacción es un proceso continuo y orientado a un fin, cuyo objetivo es influir en las actividades o el comportamiento de las empresas participadas. El objetivo de las actividades de interacción puede clasificarse en dos categorías: comprometer a un emisor a mejorar la forma en que integra la dimensión medioambiental y social, comprometer a un emisor a mejorar su impacto en cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y relacionadas con los derechos humanos u otras cuestiones de sostenibilidad que son importantes para la sociedad y la economía mundial.
- Seguimiento de controversias: Amundi ha desarrollado un sistema de seguimiento de controversias que se basa en tres proveedores de datos externos para realizar un seguimiento sistemático de las controversias y su nivel de gravedad. Este enfoque cuantitativo se enriquece después con una evaluación en profundidad de cada controversia grave, dirigida por analistas ESG y la revisión periódica de su evolución. Este enfoque se aplica a todos los fondos de Amundi.

Si desea más información sobre cómo se tienen en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas, consulte la Declaración de divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.com.

Para estar alineados con la Taxonomía de la UE, los criterios para el gas fósil incluyen limitaciones de emisiones y cambio a energías totalmente renovables o combustibles con bajas emisiones de carbono para finales de 2035. En el caso de la energía nuclear, los criterios incluyen

¿En qué medida las inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

- ¿Invirtió el producto financiero en actividades relacionadas con el gas fósil y/o la energía nuclear que se ajustaban a la Taxonomía de la UE<sup>1</sup>?

normas exhaustivas de seguridad y gestión de residuos

Las actividades habilitadoras permiten directamente que otras actividades contribuyan de forma sustancial a un objetivo medioambiental.

Las actividades de transición son actividades para las que aún no se dispone de alternativas con bajas emisiones de carbono y, entre otros, tienen niveles de emisión de gases de efecto invernadero correspondientes al mejor rendimiento.

☐ Sí:

☐ En gas fósil

☐ En energía nuclear

☒ No

Durante el periodo no se dispuso de datos fiables sobre la alineación con la Taxonomía de la UE del gas fósil y la energía nuclear.

Los gráficos siguientes muestran en verde el porcentaje de inversiones que estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE. Como no existe una metodología adecuada para determinar la alineación con la Taxonomía de la deuda pública*, el primer gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía en relación con todas las inversiones del producto financiero, incluida la deuda pública, mientras que el segundo gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía solo en relación con las inversiones del producto financiero distintas de la deuda pública.

● ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones en actividades de transición y habilitadoras?

A 30/06/2024, utilizando como indicador el volumen de negocio y/o los datos sobre el uso del producto obtenido de bonos verdes, la cuota de inversión del fondo en actividades de transición era del 0.00% y la cuota de inversión en actividades habilitadoras era del 0.00%. El porcentaje declarado de alineación de las inversiones del fondo con la Taxonomía de la UE no ha sido auditado por los auditores del fondo ni por terceros.

● ¿Cómo era el porcentaje de inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE respecto de los periodos de referencia anteriores?

Al cierre del periodo anterior, el porcentaje de inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE era del 0.00%.

¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

La cuota de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineado con la Taxonomía fue del 21.84% al cierre del periodo.

Esto se debe al hecho de que algunos emisores se consideran inversiones sostenibles con arreglo al Reglamento sobre la divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros (SFDR), pero presentan una parte de actividades que no se ajustan a las normas de la Taxonomía de la UE, o para las que aún no se dispone de datos con vistas a realizar una evaluación conforme a la Taxonomía de la UE.

¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social?

El porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social al cierre del periodo era del 3.70%.

¿Qué inversiones se incluían en "otros", cuál era su finalidad y existían salvaguardias medioambientales o sociales mínimas?

El apartado "N.º 2 Otros" incluye el efectivo y otros instrumentos mantenidos con fines de liquidez y gestión del riesgo de la cartera. En el caso de los bonos y acciones sin calificación, se aplican unas salvaguardias medioambientales y sociales mínimas a través de un cribado de controversias respecto de los Principios del Pacto Mundial de Naciones Unidas. También puede incluir valores sin calificación ESG para los que no se disponga de los datos necesarios para cuantificar de la consecución de las características medioambientales o sociales.

¿Qué medidas se han tomado para alcanzar las características medioambientales y/o sociales durante el periodo de referencia?

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad están continuamente disponibles en el sistema de gestión de carteras, lo que permite a los gestores de carteras evaluar el impacto de sus decisiones de inversión. Estos indicadores se integran en el marco de control de AMUNDI, repartiéndose las responsabilidades entre el primer nivel de controles, realizado por los propios equipos de Inversión, y el segundo nivel de controles, realizado por los equipos de Riesgos, que supervisan de forma continua el cumplimiento de las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el fondo.

Además, la Política de Inversión Responsable de AMUNDI establece un enfoque activo de interacción que promueve el diálogo con las empresas participadas, incluidas las que forman parte de la cartera de este producto. Nuestro Informe Anual de Interacción, disponible en <https://about.amundi.com/esg-documentation>, ofrece información detallada sobre esta iniciativa y sus resultados.

Una inversión sostenible es una inversión en una actividad económica que contribuya a un objetivo medioambiental o social, siempre que la inversión no cause un perjuicio significativo para ningún objetivo medioambiental o social y que las empresas participadas sigan prácticas de buen gobierno.

¿Tenía este producto financiero un objetivo de inversión sostenible?

con un objetivo medioambiental en actividades económicas que no se consideran sostenibles desde el punto de vista medioambiental según la Taxonomía de la UE

con un objetivo social

Promovió características E/S, pero no realizó inversiones sostenibles

¿En qué medida se cumplieron las características medioambientales y/o sociales promovidas por este producto financiero?

Durante el ejercicio, el producto promovió continuamente las características medioambientales y/o sociales con el objetivo de lograr una puntuación ESG superior a la puntuación ESG de su universo de inversión S&P 500. Para determinar la puntuación ESG del Producto y el universo de inversión ESG, el desempeño ESG se evaluó continuamente comparando el desempeño medio de un título frente al sector del emisor del título, con respecto a cada una de las tres características: medioambiental, social y de gobierno corporativo.

El universo de inversión es un universo de mercado general que no evalúa ni incluye componentes basados en características medioambientales y/o sociales y, por lo tanto, no pretende ser coherente con las características promovidas por el fondo. No se ha designado ningún índice de referencia ESG.

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad cuantifican cómo se alcanzan las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el producto financiero.

● ¿Cómo se comportaron los indicadores de sostenibilidad?

Amundi ha desarrollado su propio proceso interno de calificación ESG basado en el enfoque "Best-in-class". Las calificaciones adaptadas a cada sector de actividad pretenden evaluar la dinámica en la que operan las empresas.

El indicador de sostenibilidad utilizado es la puntuación ESG del Producto que se mide con respecto a la puntuación ESG del universo de inversión ESG del Producto.

Al cierre del periodo:

- La calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera es -0.167 (D).
- La calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG es -0.433 (D).

La calificación ESG de Amundi utilizada para determinar la puntuación ESG es una puntuación cuantitativa ESG traducida en siete grados, que van de la A (el universo de mejores puntuaciones) a la G (la peor). En la escala de Calificación ESG de Amundi, los títulos pertenecientes a la lista de exclusión corresponden a una G. En el caso de los emisores corporativos, el desempeño ESG se evalúa en general y a nivel de criterios relevantes comparándolo con el desempeño medio de su sector, a través de la combinación de las tres dimensiones ESG:

- Dimensión medioambiental: analiza la capacidad de los emisores para controlar su impacto medioambiental directo e indirecto, limitando su consumo de energía, reduciendo sus emisiones de efecto invernadero, luchando contra el agotamiento de los recursos y protegiendo la biodiversidad.
- Dimensión social: analiza el funcionamiento de un emisor en dos conceptos distintos: su estrategia para desarrollar su capital humano y el respeto de los derechos humanos en general;
- Dimensión de gobierno corporativo: Evalúa la capacidad del emisor para garantizar la base de un marco de gobierno corporativo eficaz y generar valor a largo plazo.

● ¿...y en comparación con periodos anteriores?

Al cierre del periodo anterior, la calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera era de -0.07 (D) y la calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG era de -0.38 (D).

● ¿Cuáles eran los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero pretende realizar parcialmente y cómo contribuía la inversión sostenible a dichos objetivos?

Los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles son invertir en empresas participadas que traten de cumplir dos criterios:

1. seguir las mejores prácticas medioambientales y sociales; y
2. evitar fabricar productos o prestar servicios que perjudiquen al medio ambiente y a la sociedad.

Para que se considere que la empresa en la que se invierte contribuye al objetivo mencionado, debe ser uno de los "mejores actores" dentro de su sector de actividad en al menos uno de sus factores medioambientales o sociales materiales.

locales y derechos humanos. Si desea obtener una descripción más completa de los sectores y factores, consulte la Declaración Reglamentaria ESG de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.lu. Para contribuir a los objetivos anteriores, la empresa participada no debe tener una exposición significativa a actividades (por ejemplo, tabaco, armas, juegos de azar, carbón, aviación, producción de carne, fabricación de fertilizantes y pesticidas, producción de plásticos de un solo uso) que no sean compatibles con dichos criterios.

El carácter sostenible de una inversión se evalúa a nivel de la empresa participada.

Las principales incidencias adversas son los efectos negativos más significativos de las decisiones de inversión sobre los factores de sostenibilidad relacionados con cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y laborales, el respeto de los derechos humanos y la lucha contra la corrupción y el soborno.

● ¿De qué manera las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero realizó parcialmente no causaron un perjuicio significativo a ningún objetivo de inversión sostenible desde el punto de vista medioambiental o social?

Para garantizar que las inversiones sostenibles no causan un perjuicio significativo ("DNSH"), Amundi utiliza dos filtros:

Más allá de los factores específicos de sostenibilidad cubiertos en el primer filtro, Amundi ha definido un segundo filtro, que no tiene en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas mencionados anteriormente, con el fin de verificar que la empresa no obtiene malos resultados desde un punto de vista medioambiental o social global en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, lo que corresponde a una puntuación medioambiental o social superior o igual a E utilizando la calificación ESG de Amundi.

- ¿Cómo se tuvieron en cuenta los indicadores de incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

Los indicadores de incidencias adversas se han tenido en cuenta tal y como se detalla en el primer filtro de no causar un daño significativo (DNSH) anterior.

El primer filtro DNSH se basa en el seguimiento de los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas del Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 cuando se dispone de datos sólidos mediante la combinación de los siguientes indicadores y umbrales o normas específicas:

- Tener una intensidad de CO<sub>2</sub> que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector (solo se aplica a sectores de alta intensidad), y
- Tener una diversidad en el Consejo de Administración que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, y
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con las condiciones de trabajo y los derechos humanos.
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con la biodiversidad y la contaminación

- ¿Estaban las inversiones sostenibles alineadas con las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos? Detalles:

Sí, las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos están integrados en nuestra metodología de puntuación ESG. Nuestra herramienta de calificación ESG propia evalúa a los emisores utilizando los datos disponibles de nuestros proveedores de datos.

Por ejemplo, el modelo cuenta con un criterio específico denominado "Participación en la comunidad y derechos humanos", que se aplica a todos los sectores, además de otros criterios relacionados con los derechos humanos, como las cadenas de suministro socialmente responsables, las condiciones de trabajo y las relaciones laborales. Además, realizamos un seguimiento de las controversias, como mínimo trimestralmente, que incluye a las empresas identificadas por vulneraciones de los derechos humanos. Cuando surgen controversias, los analistas evalúan la situación y aplican una puntuación a la controversia (utilizando nuestra metodología de puntuación interna) y determinan el mejor curso de acción. Las puntuaciones de controversia se actualizan trimestralmente para realizar un seguimiento de la tendencia y de los esfuerzos de corrección.

¿Cómo tuvo en cuenta este producto financiero las principales incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

El producto tiene en cuenta todas las Principales Incidencias Adversas obligatorias según el Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 que se aplica a la estrategia del producto y se basa en una combinación de políticas de exclusión (normativas y sectoriales), enfoques de implicación y voto:

- Exclusión: Amundi ha definido reglas de exclusión normativas, basadas en la actividad y sectoriales que abarcan algunos de los principales indicadores adversos de sostenibilidad enumerados por el Reglamento de Divulgación.
- Integración de factores ESG: Amundi ha adoptado normas mínimas de integración ESG aplicadas por defecto a sus fondos de capital variable y gestión activa (exclusión de emisores con calificación G y mejor puntuación media ponderada ESG superior a la del índice de referencia aplicable). Los 38 criterios utilizados en el enfoque de calificación ESG de Amundi también se diseñaron para tener en cuenta las principales incidencias en los factores de sostenibilidad, así como la calidad de la mitigación realizada, que también se tienen en cuenta a ese respecto.
- Compromiso: La interacción es un proceso continuo y orientado a un fin, cuyo objetivo es influir en las actividades o el comportamiento de las empresas participadas. El objetivo de las actividades de interacción puede clasificarse en dos categorías: comprometer a un emisor a mejorar la forma en que integra la dimensión medioambiental y social, comprometer a un emisor a mejorar su impacto en cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y relacionadas con los derechos humanos u otras cuestiones de sostenibilidad que son importantes para la sociedad y la economía mundial.
- Seguimiento de controversias: Amundi ha desarrollado un sistema de seguimiento de controversias que se basa en tres proveedores de datos externos para realizar un seguimiento sistemático de las controversias y su nivel de gravedad. Este enfoque cuantitativo se enriquece después con una evaluación en profundidad de cada controversia grave, dirigida por analistas ESG y la revisión periódica de su evolución. Este enfoque se aplica a todos los fondos de Amundi.

Si desea más información sobre cómo se tienen en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas, consulte la Declaración de divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.com.

¿En qué medida las inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

bajas emisiones de carbono para finales de 2035. En el caso de la energía nuclear, los criterios incluyen normas exhaustivas de seguridad y gestión de residuos.

Las actividades habilitadoras permiten directamente que otras actividades contribuyan de forma sustancial a un objetivo medioambiental.

Las actividades de transición son actividades para las que aún no se dispone de alternativas con bajas emisiones de carbono y, entre otros, tienen niveles de emisión de gases de efecto invernadero correspondientes al mejor rendimiento.

Las actividades alineadas con la Taxonomía se expresan como porcentaje de:

- el volumen de negocio que refleja la proporción de ingresos procedentes de actividades ecológicas de las empresas participadas
- las inversiones en inmovilizado (CapEx) que muestran las inversiones ecológicas realizadas por las empresas participadas, por ejemplo, para la transición a una economía verde
- los gastos de explotación (OpEx) que reflejan las actividades operativas ecológicas de las empresas participadas

● ¿Invirtió el producto financiero en actividades relacionadas con el gas fósil y/o la energía nuclear que se ajustaban a la Taxonomía de la UE<sup>1</sup>?

☐ Sí

☐ En gas fósil

☐ En energía nuclear

☒ No

Durante el periodo no se dispuso de datos fiables sobre la alineación con la Taxonomía de la UE del gas fósil y la energía nuclear.

Los gráficos siguientes muestran en verde el porcentaje de inversiones que estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE. Como no existe una metodología adecuada para determinar la alineación con la Taxonomía de la deuda pública*, el primer gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía en relación con todas las inversiones del producto financiero, incluida la deuda pública, mientras que el segundo gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía solo en relación con las inversiones del producto financiero distintas de la deuda pública.

● ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones en actividades de transición y habilitadoras?

A 30/06/2024, utilizando como indicador el volumen de negocio y/o los datos sobre el uso del producto obtenido de bonos verdes, la cuota de inversión del fondo en actividades de transición era del 0.00% y la cuota de inversión en actividades habilitadoras era del 0.00%. El porcentaje declarado de alineación de las inversiones del fondo con la Taxonomía de la UE no ha sido auditado por los auditores del fondo ni por terceros.

● ¿Cómo era el porcentaje de inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE respecto de los periodos de referencia anteriores?

Al cierre del periodo anterior, el porcentaje de inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE era del 0.00%.

¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

La cuota de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineado con la Taxonomía fue del 22.58% al cierre del periodo.

Esto se debe al hecho de que algunos emisores se consideran inversiones sostenibles con arreglo al Reglamento sobre la divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros (SFDR), pero presentan una parte de actividades que no se ajustan a las normas de la Taxonomía de la UE, o para las que aún no se dispone de datos con vistas a realizar una evaluación conforme a la Taxonomía de la UE.

¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social?

El porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social al cierre del periodo era del 8.56%.

¿Qué inversiones se incluían en "otros", cuál era su finalidad y existían salvaguardias medioambientales o sociales mínimas?

El apartado "N.º 2 Otros" incluye el efectivo y otros instrumentos mantenidos con fines de liquidez y gestión del riesgo de la cartera. En el caso de los bonos y acciones sin calificación, se aplican unas salvaguardias medioambientales y sociales mínimas a través de un cribado de controversias respecto de los Principios del Pacto Mundial de Naciones Unidas. También puede incluir valores sin calificación ESG para los que no se disponga de los datos necesarios para cuantificar de la consecución de las características medioambientales o sociales.

¿Qué medidas se han tomado para alcanzar las características medioambientales y/o sociales durante el periodo de referencia?

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad están continuamente disponibles en el sistema de gestión de carteras, lo que permite a los gestores de carteras evaluar el impacto de sus decisiones de inversión. Estos indicadores se integran en el marco de control de AMUNDI, repartiéndose las responsabilidades entre el primer nivel de controles, realizado por los propios equipos de Inversión, y el segundo nivel de controles, realizado por los equipos de Riesgos, que supervisan de forma continua el cumplimiento de las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el fondo.

Además, la Política de Inversión Responsable de AMUNDI establece un enfoque activo de interacción que promueve el diálogo con las empresas participadas, incluidas las que forman parte de la cartera de este producto. Nuestro Informe Anual de Interacción, disponible en <https://about.amundi.com/esg-documentation>, ofrece información detallada sobre esta iniciativa y sus resultados.

Una inversión sostenible es una inversión en una actividad económica que contribuya a un objetivo medioambiental o social, siempre que la inversión no cause un perjuicio significativo para ningún objetivo medioambiental o social y que las empresas participadas sigan prácticas de buen gobierno.

¿En qué medida se cumplieron las características medioambientales y/o sociales promovidas por este producto financiero?

Durante el ejercicio, el producto promovió continuamente las características medioambientales y/o sociales con el objetivo de lograr una puntuación ESG superior a la puntuación ESG de su universo de inversión RUSSELL 1000 VALUE (FRC). Para determinar la puntuación ESG del Producto y el universo de inversión ESG, el desempeño ESG se evaluó continuamente comparando el desempeño medio de un título frente al sector del emisor del título, con respecto a cada una de las tres características: medioambiental, social y de gobierno corporativo.

El universo de inversión es un universo de mercado general que no evalúa ni incluye componentes basados en características medioambientales y/o sociales y, por lo tanto, no pretende ser coherente con las características promovidas por el fondo. No se ha designado ningún índice de referencia ESG.

● ¿Cómo se comportaron los indicadores de sostenibilidad?

Amundi ha desarrollado su propio proceso interno de calificación ESG basado en el enfoque "Best-in-class". Las calificaciones adaptadas a cada sector de actividad pretenden evaluar la dinámica en la que operan las empresas.

El indicador de sostenibilidad utilizado es la puntuación ESG del Producto que se mide con respecto a la puntuación ESG del universo de inversión ESG del Producto.

Al cierre del periodo:

- La calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera es 0.020 (D).
- La calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG es -0.479 (D).

La calificación ESG de Amundi utilizada para determinar la puntuación ESG es una puntuación cuantitativa ESG traducida en siete grados, que van de la A (el universo de mejores puntuaciones) a la G (la peor). En la escala de Calificación ESG de Amundi, los títulos pertenecientes a la lista de exclusión corresponden a una G. En el caso de los emisores corporativos, el desempeño ESG se evalúa en general y a nivel de criterios relevantes comparándolo con el desempeño medio de su sector, a través de la combinación de las tres dimensiones ESG:

- Dimensión medioambiental: analiza la capacidad de los emisores para controlar su impacto medioambiental directo e indirecto, limitando su consumo de energía, reduciendo sus emisiones de efecto invernadero, luchando contra el agotamiento de los recursos y protegiendo la biodiversidad.
- Dimensión social: analiza el funcionamiento de un emisor en dos conceptos distintos: su estrategia para desarrollar su capital humano y el respeto de los derechos humanos en general.
- Dimensión de gobierno corporativo: Evalúa la capacidad del emisor para garantizar la base de un marco de gobierno corporativo eficaz y generar valor a largo plazo.

● ¿...y en comparación con periodos anteriores?

Al cierre del periodo anterior, la calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera era de 0.019 (D) y la calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG era de -0.479 (D).

● ¿Cuáles eran los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero pretende realizar parcialmente y cómo contribuía la inversión sostenible a dichos objetivos?

Los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles son invertir en empresas participadas que traten de cumplir dos criterios:

1. seguir las mejores prácticas medioambientales y sociales; y
2. evitar fabricar productos o prestar servicios que perjudiquen al medio ambiente y a la sociedad.

Para que se considere que la empresa en la que se invierte contribuye al objetivo mencionado, debe ser uno de los "mejores actores" dentro de su sector de actividad en al menos uno de sus factores medioambientales o sociales materiales.

más del 10% a la puntuación ESG global. En el sector energético, por ejemplo, los factores materiales son: emisiones y energía, biodiversidad y contaminación, salud y seguridad, comunidades locales y derechos humanos. Si desea obtener una descripción más completa de los sectores y factores, consulte la Declaración Reglamentaria ESG de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.lu.

Para contribuir a los objetivos anteriores, la empresa participada no debe tener una exposición significativa a actividades (por ejemplo, tabaco, armas, juegos de azar, carbón, aviación, producción de carne, fabricación de fertilizantes y pesticidas, producción de plásticos de un solo uso) que no sean compatibles con dichos criterios.

El carácter sostenible de una inversión se evalúa a nivel de la empresa participada.

Para garantizar que las inversiones sostenibles no causan un perjuicio significativo ("DNSH"), Amundi utiliza dos filtros:

Más allá de los factores específicos de sostenibilidad cubiertos en el primer filtro, Amundi ha definido un segundo filtro, que no tiene en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas mencionados anteriormente, con el fin de verificar que la empresa no obtiene malos resultados desde un punto de vista medioambiental o social global en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, lo que corresponde a una puntuación medioambiental o social superior o igual a E utilizando la calificación ESG de Amundi.

- ¿Cómo se tuvieron en cuenta los indicadores de incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

Los indicadores de incidencias adversas se han tenido en cuenta tal y como se detalla en el primer filtro de no causar un daño significativo (DNSH) anterior.

El primer filtro DNSH se basa en el seguimiento de los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas del Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 cuando se dispone de datos sólidos mediante la combinación de los siguientes indicadores y umbrales o normas específicas:

- Tener una intensidad de CO<sub>2</sub> que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector (solo se aplica a sectores de alta intensidad), y
- Tener una diversidad en el Consejo de Administración que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, y
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con las condiciones de trabajo y los derechos humanos.
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con la biodiversidad y la contaminación

- ¿Estaban las inversiones sostenibles alineadas con las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos? Detalles:

Las principales incidencias adversas son los efectos negativos más significativos de las decisiones de inversión sobre los factores de sostenibilidad relacionados con cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y laborales, el respeto de los derechos humanos y la lucha contra la corrupción y el soborno.

Sí, las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos están integrados en nuestra metodología de puntuación ESG. Nuestra herramienta de calificación ESG propia evalúa a los emisores utilizando los datos disponibles de nuestros proveedores de datos. Por ejemplo, el modelo cuenta con un criterio específico denominado "Participación en la comunidad y derechos humanos", que se aplica a todos los sectores, además de otros criterios relacionados con los derechos humanos, como las cadenas de suministro socialmente responsables, las condiciones de trabajo y las relaciones laborales. Además, realizamos un seguimiento de las controversias, como mínimo trimestralmente, que incluye a las empresas identificadas por vulneraciones de los derechos humanos. Cuando surgen controversias, los analistas evalúan la situación y aplican una puntuación a la controversia (utilizando nuestra metodología de puntuación interna) y determinan el mejor curso de acción. Las puntuaciones de controversia se actualizan trimestralmente para realizar un seguimiento de la tendencia y de los esfuerzos de corrección.

¿Cómo tuvo en cuenta este producto financiero las principales incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

El producto tiene en cuenta todas las Principales Incidencias Adversas obligatorias según el Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 que se aplica a la estrategia del producto y se basa en una combinación de políticas de exclusión (normativas y sectoriales), enfoques de implicación y voto:

- Exclusión: Amundi ha definido reglas de exclusión normativas, basadas en la actividad y sectoriales que abarcan algunos de los principales indicadores adversos de sostenibilidad enumerados por el Reglamento de Divulgación.
- Integración de factores ESG: Amundi ha adoptado normas mínimas de integración ESG aplicadas por defecto a sus fondos de capital variable y gestión activa (exclusión de emisores con calificación G y mejor puntuación media ponderada ESG superior a la del índice de referencia aplicable). Los 38 criterios utilizados en el enfoque de calificación ESG de Amundi también se diseñaron para tener en cuenta las principales incidencias en los factores de sostenibilidad, así como la calidad de la mitigación realizada, que también se tienen en cuenta a ese respecto.
- Compromiso: La interacción es un proceso continuo y orientado a un fin, cuyo objetivo es influir en las actividades o el comportamiento de las empresas participadas. El objetivo de las actividades de interacción puede clasificarse en dos categorías: comprometer a un emisor a mejorar la forma en que integra la dimensión medioambiental y social, comprometer a un emisor a mejorar su impacto en cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y relacionadas con los derechos humanos u otras cuestiones de sostenibilidad que son importantes para la sociedad y la economía mundial.
- Voto: La política de voto de Amundi responde a su análisis integral de todas las cuestiones a largo plazo que pueden influir en la creación de valor, incluidas cuestiones ESG sustanciales. Si desea obtener más información, consulte la Política de Voto de Amundi.

- Seguimiento de controversias: Amundi ha desarrollado un sistema de seguimiento de controversias que se basa en tres proveedores de datos externos para realizar un seguimiento sistemático de las controversias y su nivel de gravedad. Este enfoque cuantitativo se enriquece después con una evaluación en profundidad de cada controversia grave, dirigida por analistas ESG y la revisión periódica de su evolución. Este enfoque se aplica a todos los fondos de Amundi.

Si desea más información sobre cómo se tienen en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas, consulte la Declaración de divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.com.

Para estar alineados con la Taxonomía de la UE, los criterios para el gas fósil incluyen limitaciones de emisiones y cambio a energías totalmente renovables o combustibles con bajas emisiones de carbono para finales de 2035. En el caso de la energía nuclear, los criterios incluyen normas exhaustivas de seguridad y gestión de residuos.

Las actividades habilitadoras permiten directamente que otras actividades contribuyan de forma sustancial a un objetivo medioambiental.

Las actividades de transición son actividades para las que aún no se dispone de alternativas con bajas emisiones

¿En qué medida las inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

El fondo promueve características tanto medioambientales como sociales. Aunque el fondo no se comprometió a realizar inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE, durante el periodo contable el fondo invirtió un 0.00% en inversiones sostenibles alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE.

¿Invertió el producto financiero en actividades relacionadas con el gas fósil y/o la energía nuclear que se ajustaban a la Taxonomía de la UE?

☐ Sí:

☐ En gas fósil      ☐ En energía nuclear

☒ No

Durante el periodo no se dispuso de datos fiables sobre la alineación con la Taxonomía de la UE del gas fósil y la energía nuclear.

de carbono y, entre otros, tienen niveles de emisión de gases de efecto invernadero correspondientes al mejor rendimiento.

Las actividades alineadas con la Taxonomía se expresan como porcentaje de:

- el volumen de negocio que refleja la proporción de ingresos procedentes de actividades ecológicas de las empresas participadas
- las inversiones en inmovilizado (CapEx) que muestran las inversiones ecológicas realizadas por las empresas participadas, por ejemplo, para la transición a una economía verde.
- los gastos de explotación (OpEx) que reflejan las actividades operativas ecológicas de las empresas participadas.

Los gráficos siguientes muestran en verde el porcentaje de inversiones que estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE. Como no existe una metodología adecuada para determinar la alineación con la Taxonomía de la deuda pública*, el primer gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía en relación con todas las inversiones del producto financiero, incluida la deuda pública, mientras que el segundo gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía solo en relación con las inversiones del producto financiero distintas de la deuda pública.

● ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones en actividades de transición y habilitadoras?

A 30/06/2024, utilizando como indicador el volumen de negocio y/o los datos sobre el uso del producto obtenido de bonos verdes, la cuota de inversión del fondo en actividades de transición era del 0.00% y la cuota de inversión en actividades habilitadoras era del 0.00%. El porcentaje declarado de alineación de las inversiones del fondo con la Taxonomía de la UE no ha sido auditado por los auditores del fondo ni por terceros.

● ¿Cómo era el porcentaje de inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE respecto de los periodos de referencia anteriores?

Al cierre del periodo anterior, el porcentaje de inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE era del 0.00%.

● ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

La cuota de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineado con la Taxonomía fue del 23.90% al cierre del periodo.

Esto se debe al hecho de que algunos emisores se consideran inversiones sostenibles con arreglo al Reglamento sobre la divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros (SFDR), pero presentan una parte de actividades que no se ajustan a las normas de la Taxonomía de la UE, o para las que aún no se dispone de datos con vistas a realizar una evaluación conforme a la Taxonomía de la UE.

son inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental que no tienen en cuenta los criterios de las actividades económicas sostenibles desde el punto de vista medioambien-

tal en virtud del
Reglamento (UE)
2020/852.

¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social?

El porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social al cierre del periodo era del 7.52%.

¿Qué inversiones se incluían en "otros", cuál era su finalidad y existían salvaguardias medioambientales o sociales mínimas?

El apartado "N.º 2 Otros" incluye el efectivo y otros instrumentos mantenidos con fines de liquidez y gestión del riesgo de la cartera. En el caso de los bonos y acciones sin calificación, se aplican unas salvaguardias medioambientales y sociales mínimas a través de un cribado de controversias respecto de los Principios del Pacto Mundial de Naciones Unidas. También puede incluir valores sin calificación ESG para los que no se disponga de los datos necesarios para cuantificar de la consecución de las características medioambientales o sociales.

¿Qué medidas se han tomado para alcanzar las características medioambientales y/o sociales durante el periodo de referencia?

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad están continuamente disponibles en el sistema de gestión de carteras, lo que permite a los gestores de carteras evaluar el impacto de sus decisiones de inversión.

Estos indicadores se integran en el marco de control de AMUNDI, repartiéndose las responsabilidades entre el primer nivel de controles, realizado por los propios equipos de Inversión, y el segundo nivel de controles, realizado por los equipos de Riesgos, que supervisan de forma continua el cumplimiento de las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el fondo.

Además, la Política de Inversión Responsable de AMUNDI establece un enfoque activo de interacción que promueve el diálogo con las empresas participadas, incluidas las que forman parte de la cartera de este producto. Nuestro Informe Anual de Interacción, disponible en <https://about.amundi.com/esg-documentation>, ofrece información detallada sobre esta iniciativa y sus resultados.

Una inversión sostenible es una inversión en una actividad económica que contribuya a un objetivo medioambiental o social, siempre que la inversión no cause un perjuicio significativo para ningún objetivo medioambiental o social y que las empresas participadas sigan prácticas de buen gobierno.

¿En qué medida se cumplieron las características medioambientales y/o sociales promovidas por este producto financiero?

Durante el ejercicio, el producto promovió continuamente las características medioambientales y/o sociales con el objetivo de lograr una puntuación ESG superior a la puntuación ESG de su universo de inversión MSCI ACWI. Para determinar la puntuación ESG del Producto y el universo de inversión ESG, el desempeño ESG se evaluó continuamente comparando el desempeño medio de un título frente al sector del emisor del título, con respecto a cada una de las tres características: medioambiental, social y de gobierno corporativo.

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad cuantifican cómo

● ¿Cómo se comportaron los indicadores de sostenibilidad?

se alcanzan las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el producto financiero.

Amundi ha desarrollado su propio proceso interno de calificación ESG basado en el enfoque "Best-in-class". Las calificaciones adaptadas a cada sector de actividad pretenden evaluar la dinámica en la que operan las empresas.

El indicador de sostenibilidad utilizado es la puntuación ESG del Producto que se mide con respecto a la puntuación ESG del universo de inversión ESG del Producto.

Al cierre del periodo:

- La calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera es 0.197 (D).
- La calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG es -0.171 (D).

La calificación ESG de Amundi utilizada para determinar la puntuación ESG es una puntuación cuantitativa ESG traducida en siete grados, que van de la A (el universo de mejores puntuaciones) a la G (la peor). En la escala de Calificación ESG de Amundi, los títulos pertenecientes a la lista de exclusión corresponden a una G. En el caso de los emisores corporativos, el desempeño ESG se evalúa en general y a nivel de criterios relevantes comparándolo con el desempeño medio de su sector, a través de la combinación de las tres dimensiones ESG:

- Dimensión medioambiental: analiza la capacidad de los emisores para controlar su impacto medioambiental directo e indirecto, limitando su consumo de energía, reduciendo sus emisiones de efecto invernadero, luchando contra el agotamiento de los recursos y protegiendo la biodiversidad.
- Dimensión social: analiza el funcionamiento de un emisor en dos conceptos distintos: su estrategia para desarrollar su capital humano y el respeto de los derechos humanos en general;
- Dimensión de gobierno corporativo: Evalúa la capacidad del emisor para garantizar la base de un marco de gobierno corporativo eficaz y generar valor a largo plazo.

● ¿...y en comparación con periodos anteriores?

Al cierre del periodo anterior, la calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera era de 0.233 (D) y la calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG era de -0.119 (D).

● ¿Cuáles eran los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero pretende realizar parcialmente y cómo contribuía la inversión sostenible a dichos objetivos?

Los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles son invertir en empresas participadas que traten de cumplir dos criterios:

1. seguir las mejores prácticas medioambientales y sociales; y
2. evitar fabricar productos o prestar servicios que perjudiquen al medio ambiente y a la sociedad.

Para que se considere que la empresa en la que se invierte contribuye al objetivo mencionado, debe ser uno de los "mejores actores" dentro de su sector de actividad en al menos uno de sus factores medioambientales o sociales materiales.

La definición de "mejor actor" se basa en la metodología ESG propia de Amundi, cuyo objetivo es cuantificar el desempeño ESG de una empresa participada. Para ser considerada "mejor actor", una empresa participada debe obtener las tres mejores calificaciones (A, B o C, en una escala de calificación que va de la A a la G) dentro de su sector en al menos un factor medioambiental o social material. Los factores medioambientales y sociales materiales se identifican a nivel sectorial. La identificación de factores materiales se basa en el marco de análisis ESG de Amundi, que combina datos extrafinancieros y análisis cualitativos de temáticas sectoriales y de sostenibilidad afines. Los factores identificados como materiales suponen una contribución de más del 10% a la puntuación ESG global. En el sector energético, por ejemplo, los factores materiales son: emisiones y energía, biodiversidad y contaminación, salud y seguridad, comunidades locales y derechos humanos. Si desea obtener una descripción más completa de los sectores y

factores, consulte la Declaración Reglamentaria ESG de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.lu. Para contribuir a los objetivos anteriores, la empresa participada no debe tener una exposición significativa a actividades (por ejemplo, tabaco, armas, juegos de azar, carbón, aviación, producción de carne, fabricación de fertilizantes y pesticidas, producción de plásticos de un solo uso) que no sean compatibles con dichos criterios.

El carácter sostenible de una inversión se evalúa a nivel de la empresa participada.

Las principales incidencias adversas son los efectos negativos más significativos de las decisiones de inversión sobre los factores de sostenibilidad relacionados con cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y laborales, el respeto de los derechos humanos y la lucha contra la corrupción y el soborno.

● ¿De qué manera las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero realizó parcialmente no causaron un perjuicio significativo a ningún objetivo de inversión sostenible desde el punto de vista medioambiental o social?

Para garantizar que las inversiones sostenibles no causan un perjuicio significativo ("DNSH"), Amundi utiliza dos filtros:

- ¿Cómo se tuvieron en cuenta los indicadores de incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

Los indicadores de incidencias adversas se han tenido en cuenta tal y como se detalla en el primer filtro de no causar un daño significativo (DNSH) anterior.

El primer filtro DNSH se basa en el seguimiento de los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas del Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 cuando se dispone de datos sólidos mediante la combinación de los siguientes indicadores y umbrales o normas específicas:

- Tener una intensidad de CO<sub>2</sub> que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector (solo se aplica a sectores de alta intensidad), y
- Tener una diversidad en el Consejo de Administración que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, y
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con las condiciones de trabajo y los derechos humanos.
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con la biodiversidad y la contaminación

- ¿Estaban las inversiones sostenibles alineadas con las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos? Detalles:

humanos", que se aplica a todos los sectores, además de otros criterios relacionados con los derechos humanos, como las cadenas de suministro socialmente responsables, las condiciones de trabajo y las relaciones laborales. Además, realizamos un seguimiento de las controversias, como mínimo trimestralmente, que incluye a las empresas identificadas por vulneraciones de los derechos humanos. Cuando surgen controversias, los analistas evalúan la situación y aplican una puntuación a la controversia (utilizando nuestra metodología de puntuación interna) y determinan el mejor curso de acción. Las puntuaciones de controversia se actualizan trimestralmente para realizar un seguimiento de la tendencia y de los esfuerzos de corrección.

¿Cómo tuvo en cuenta este producto financiero las principales incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

El producto tiene en cuenta todas las Principales Incidencias Adversas obligatorias según el Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 que se aplica a la estrategia del producto y se basa en una combinación de políticas de exclusión (normativas y sectoriales), enfoques de implicación y voto:

- Exclusión: Amundi ha definido reglas de exclusión normativas, basadas en la actividad y sectoriales que abarcan algunos de los principales indicadores adversos de sostenibilidad enumerados por el Reglamento de Divulgación.
- Integración de factores ESG: Amundi ha adoptado normas mínimas de integración ESG aplicadas por defecto a sus fondos de capital variable y gestión activa (exclusión de emisores con calificación G y mejor puntuación media ponderada ESG superior a la del índice de referencia aplicable). Los 38 criterios utilizados en el enfoque de calificación ESG de Amundi también se diseñaron para tener en cuenta las principales incidencias en los factores de sostenibilidad, así como la calidad de la mitigación realizada, que también se tienen en cuenta a ese respecto.
- Compromiso: La interacción es un proceso continuo y orientado a un fin, cuyo objetivo es influir en las actividades o el comportamiento de las empresas participadas. El objetivo de las actividades de interacción puede clasificarse en dos categorías: comprometer a un emisor a mejorar la forma en que integra la dimensión medioambiental y social, comprometer a un emisor a mejorar su impacto en cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y relacionadas con los derechos humanos u otras cuestiones de sostenibilidad que son importantes para la sociedad y la economía mundial.
- Seguimiento de controversias: Amundi ha desarrollado un sistema de seguimiento de controversias que se basa en tres proveedores de datos externos para realizar un seguimiento sistemático de las controversias y su nivel de gravedad. Este enfoque cuantitativo se enriquece después con una evaluación en profundidad de cada controversia grave, dirigida por analistas ESG y la revisión periódica de su evolución. Este enfoque se aplica a todos los fondos de Amundi.

Si desea más información sobre cómo se tienen en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas, consulte la Declaración de divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.com.

Para estar alineados con la Taxonomía de la UE, los criterios para el gas fósil incluyen limitaciones de emisiones y cambio a energías totalmente renovables o combustibles con bajas emisiones de carbono para finales de 2035. En el caso de la energía nuclear, los criterios incluyen normas exhaustivas de seguridad y gestión de residuos

Las actividades habilitadoras permiten directamente que otras actividades contribuyan de forma sustancial a un objetivo medioambiental.

Las actividades de transición son actividades para las que aún no

¿En qué medida las inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

● ¿Invirtió el producto financiero en actividades relacionadas con el gas fósil y/o la energía nuclear que se ajustaban a la Taxonomía de la UE?

Sí:

En gas fósil

No

Durante el periodo no se dispuso de datos fiables sobre la alineación con la Taxonomía de la UE del gas fósil y la energía nuclear.

se dispone de alternativas con bajas emisiones de carbono y, entre otros, tienen niveles de emisión de gases de efecto invernadero correspondientes al mejor rendimiento.

Las actividades alineadas con la Taxonomía se expresan como porcentaje de: -el volumen de negocio que refleja la proporción de ingresos procedentes de actividades ecológicas de las empresas participadas -las inversiones en inmovilizado (CapEx) que muestran las inversiones ecológicas realizadas por las empresas participadas, por ejemplo, para la transición a una economía verde - los gastos de explotación (OpEx) que reflejan las actividades operativas ecológicas de las empresas participadas

● ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones en actividades de transición y habilitadoras?

A 30/06/2024, utilizando como indicador el volumen de negocio y/o los datos sobre el uso del producto obtenido de bonos verdes, la cuota de inversión del fondo en actividades de transición era del 0.00% y la cuota de inversión en actividades habilitadoras era del 0.00%. El porcentaje declarado de alineación de las inversiones del fondo con la Taxonomía de la UE no ha sido auditado por los auditores del fondo ni por terceros.

● ¿Cómo era el porcentaje de inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE respecto de los periodos de referencia anteriores?

Al cierre del periodo anterior, el porcentaje de inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE era del 0.00%.

 son inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental que no tienen en cuenta los criterios de las actividades económicas sostenibles desde el punto de vista medioambiental en virtud del Reglamento (UE) 2020/852.

 ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

La cuota de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineado con la Taxonomía fue del 41.34% al cierre del periodo.

Esto se debe al hecho de que algunos emisores se consideran inversiones sostenibles con arreglo al Reglamento sobre la divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros (SFDR), pero presentan una parte de actividades que no se ajustan a las normas de la Taxonomía de la UE, o para las que aún no se dispone de datos con vistas a realizar una evaluación conforme a la Taxonomía de la UE.

 ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social?

El porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social al cierre del periodo era del 15.10%.

 ¿Qué inversiones se incluían en "otros", cuál era su finalidad y existían salvaguardias medioambientales o sociales mínimas?

El apartado "N.º 2 Otros" incluye el efectivo y otros instrumentos mantenidos con fines de liquidez y gestión del riesgo de la cartera. En el caso de los bonos y acciones sin calificación, se aplican unas salvaguardias medioambientales y sociales mínimas a través de un cribado de controversias respecto de los Principios del Pacto Mundial de Naciones Unidas. También puede incluir valores sin calificación ESG para los que no se disponga de los datos necesarios para cuantificar de la consecución de las características medioambientales o sociales.

¿Qué medidas se han tomado para alcanzar las características medioambientales y/o sociales durante el periodo de referencia?

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad están continuamente disponibles en el sistema de gestión de carteras, lo que permite a los gestores de carteras evaluar el impacto de sus decisiones de inversión. Estos indicadores se integran en el marco de control de AMUNDI, repartiéndose las responsabilidades entre el primer nivel de controles, realizado por los propios equipos de Inversión, y el segundo nivel de controles, realizado por los equipos de Riesgos, que supervisan de forma continua el cumplimiento de las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el fondo.

Además, la Política de Inversión Responsable de AMUNDI establece un enfoque activo de interacción que promueve el diálogo con las empresas participadas, incluidas las que forman parte de la cartera de este producto. Una inversión sostenible es una inversión en una actividad económica que contribuya a un objetivo medioambiental o social, siempre que la inversión no cause un perjuicio significativo para ningún objetivo medioambiental o social y que las empresas participadas sigan prácticas de buen gobierno.

¿En qué medida se cumplieron las características medioambientales y/o sociales promovidas por este producto financiero?

Durante el ejercicio, el producto promovió continuamente las características medioambientales y/o sociales con el objetivo de lograr una puntuación ESG superior a la puntuación ESG de su universo de inversión MSCI EUROPE (15). Para determinar la puntuación ESG del Producto y el universo de inversión ESG, el desempeño ESG se evaluó continuamente comparando el desempeño medio de un título frente al sector del emisor del título, con respecto a cada una de las tres características: medioambiental, social y de gobierno corporativo. El universo de inversión es un universo de mercado general que no evalúa ni incluye componentes basados en características medioambientales y/o sociales y, por lo tanto, no pretende ser coherente con las características promovidas por el fondo.

Durante el ejercicio, el producto promovió continuamente las características medioambientales alineando su intensidad de carbono con la del MSCI EUROPE CLIMATE PARIS ALIGNED INDEX (EUR), su comparador de referencia para evaluar la intensidad de carbono.

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad cuantifican cómo se alcanzan las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el producto financiero.

● ¿Cómo se comportaron los indicadores de sostenibilidad?

Amundi ha desarrollado su propio proceso interno de calificación ESG basado en el enfoque "Best-in-class". Las calificaciones adaptadas a cada sector de actividad pretenden evaluar la dinámica en la que operan las empresas.

El indicador de sostenibilidad utilizado es la puntuación ESG del Producto que se mide con respecto a la puntuación ESG del universo de inversión ESG del Producto.

Al cierre del periodo:

- La calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera es 1.347 (C).
- La calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG es 0.798 (C).

La calificación ESG de Amundi utilizada para determinar la puntuación ESG es una puntuación cuantitativa ESG traducida en siete grados, que van de la A (el universo de mejores puntuaciones) a la G (la peor). En la escala de Calificación ESG de Amundi, los títulos pertenecientes a la lista de exclusión corresponden a una G. En el caso de los emisores corporativos, el desempeño ESG se evalúa en general y a nivel de criterios relevantes comparándolo con el desempeño medio de su sector, a través de la combinación de las tres dimensiones ESG:

- Dimensión medioambiental: analiza la capacidad de los emisores para controlar su impacto medioambiental directo e indirecto, limitando su consumo de energía, reduciendo sus emisiones de efecto invernadero, luchando contra el agotamiento de los recursos y protegiendo la biodiversidad.
- Dimensión social: analiza el funcionamiento de un emisor en dos conceptos distintos: su estrategia para desarrollar su capital humano y el respeto de los derechos humanos en general.
- Dimensión de gobierno corporativo: Evalúa la capacidad del emisor para garantizar la base de un marco de gobierno corporativo eficaz y generar valor a largo plazo.

La metodología aplicada por la calificación ESG de Amundi utiliza 38 criterios que son genéricos (comunes a todas las empresas independientemente de su actividad) o sectoriales, que se ponderan según el sector y se consideran en términos de su impacto en la reputación, la eficiencia operativa y la normativa con respecto a un emisor. Las calificaciones ESG de Amundi pueden expresarse globalmente en las tres dimensiones E, S y G o individualmente en cualquier factor medioambiental o social.

El indicador de sostenibilidad utilizado es la intensidad de carbono de la cartera, que se calcula como media ponderada por activos de la cartera y se compara con la intensidad de carbono ponderada por activos del índice comparativo. En consecuencia, los títulos con una intensidad de carbono relativamente baja tenían más probabilidades de ser seleccionados en la cartera que los títulos con una intensidad de carbono relativamente alta.

- La intensidad media ponderada de la huella de carbono de la cartera es de 68.05.
- La intensidad media ponderada de carbono del índice MSCI Europe Climate Paris Aligned (EUR) es de 77.24.

● ¿...y en comparación con periodos anteriores?

● ¿Cuáles eran los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero pretende realizar parcialmente y cómo contribuía la inversión sostenible a dichos objetivos?

Los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles son invertir en empresas participadas que traten de cumplir dos criterios:

1. seguir las mejores prácticas medioambientales y sociales; y
2. evitar fabricar productos o prestar servicios que perjudiquen al medio ambiente y a la sociedad.

Para que se considere que la empresa en la que se invierte contribuye al objetivo mencionado, debe ser uno de los "mejores actores" dentro de su sector de actividad en al menos uno de sus factores medioambientales o sociales materiales.

La definición de "mejor actor" se basa en la metodología ESG propia de Amundi, cuyo objetivo es cuantificar el desempeño ESG de una empresa participada. Para ser considerada "mejor actor", una empresa participada debe obtener las tres mejores calificaciones (A, B o C, en una escala de calificación que va de la A a la G) dentro de su sector en al menos un factor medioambiental o social material. Los factores medioambientales y sociales materiales se identifican a nivel sectorial. La identificación de factores materiales se basa en el marco de análisis ESG de Amundi, que combina datos extrafinancieros y análisis cualitativos de temáticas sectoriales y de sostenibilidad afines. Los factores identificados como materiales suponen una contribución de más del 10% a la puntuación ESG global. En el sector energético, por ejemplo, los factores materiales son: emisiones y energía, biodiversidad y contaminación, salud y seguridad, comunidades locales y derechos humanos. Si desea obtener una descripción más completa de los sectores y factores, consulte la Declaración Reglamentaria ESG de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.lu.

Para contribuir a los objetivos anteriores, la empresa participada no debe tener una exposición significativa a actividades (por ejemplo, tabaco, armas, juegos de azar, carbón, aviación, producción de carne, fabricación de fertilizantes y pesticidas, producción de plásticos de un solo uso) que no sean compatibles con dichos criterios.

El carácter sostenible de una inversión se evalúa a nivel de la empresa participada.

Las principales incidencias adversas

son los efectos negativos más significativos de las decisiones de inversión sobre los factores de sostenibilidad relacionados con cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y laborales, el respeto de los derechos humanos y la lucha contra la corrupción y el soborno.

● ¿De qué manera las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero realizó parcialmente no causaron un perjuicio significativo a ningún objetivo de inversión sostenible desde el punto de vista medioambiental o social?

Para garantizar que las inversiones sostenibles no causan un perjuicio significativo ("DNSH"), Amundi utiliza dos filtros:

Más allá de los factores específicos de sostenibilidad cubiertos en el primer filtro, Amundi ha definido un segundo filtro, que no tiene en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas mencionados anteriormente, con el fin de verificar que la empresa no obtiene malos resultados desde un punto de vista medioambiental o social global en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, lo que corresponde a una puntuación medioambiental o social superior o igual a E utilizando la calificación ESG de Amundi.

- ¿Cómo se tuvieron en cuenta los indicadores de incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

Los indicadores de incidencias adversas se han tenido en cuenta tal y como se detalla en el primer filtro de no causar un daño significativo (DNSH) anterior.

El primer filtro DNSH se basa en el seguimiento de los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas del Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 cuando se dispone de datos sólidos mediante la combinación de los siguientes indicadores y umbrales o normas específicas:

- Tener una intensidad de CO<sub>2</sub> que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector (solo se aplica a sectores de alta intensidad), y
- Tener una diversidad en el Consejo de Administración que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, y
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con las condiciones de trabajo y los derechos humanos.
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con la biodiversidad y la contaminación

Sí, las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos están integrados en nuestra metodología de puntuación ESG. Nuestra herramienta de calificación ESG propia evalúa a los emisores utilizando los datos disponibles de nuestros proveedores de datos. Por ejemplo, el modelo cuenta con un criterio específico denominado "Participación en la comunidad y derechos humanos", que se aplica a todos los sectores, además de otros criterios relacionados con los derechos humanos, como las cadenas de suministro socialmente responsables, las condiciones de trabajo y las relaciones laborales. Además, realizamos un seguimiento de las controversias, como mínimo trimestralmente, que incluye a las empresas identificadas por vulneraciones de los derechos humanos. Cuando surgen controversias, los analistas evalúan la situación y aplican una puntuación a la controversia (utilizando nuestra metodología de puntuación interna) y determinan el mejor curso de acción. Las puntuaciones de controversia se actualizan trimestralmente para realizar un seguimiento de la tendencia y de los esfuerzos de corrección.

Cualquier otra inversión sostenible tampoco debe causar perjuicio significativo a ningún objetivo medioambiental o social.

El producto tiene en cuenta todas las Principales Incidencias Adversas obligatorias según el Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 que se aplica a la estrategia del producto y se basa en una combinación de políticas de exclusión (normativas y sectoriales), enfoques de implicación y voto:

- Exclusión: Amundi ha definido reglas de exclusión normativas, basadas en la actividad y sectoriales que abarcan algunos de los principales indicadores adversos de sostenibilidad enumerados por el Reglamento de Divulgación.
- Integración de factores ESG: Amundi ha adoptado normas mínimas de integración ESG aplicadas por defecto a sus fondos de capital variable y gestión activa (exclusión de emisores con calificación G y mejor puntuación media ponderada ESG superior a la del índice de referencia aplicable). Los 38 criterios utilizados en el enfoque de calificación ESG de Amundi también se diseñaron para tener en cuenta las principales incidencias en los factores de sostenibilidad, así como la calidad de la mitigación realizada, que también se tienen en cuenta a ese respecto.
- Compromiso: La interacción es un proceso continuo y orientado a un fin, cuyo objetivo es influir en las actividades o el comportamiento de las empresas participadas. El objetivo de las actividades de interacción puede clasificarse en dos categorías: comprometer a un emisor a mejorar la forma en que integra la dimensión medioambiental y social, comprometer a un emisor a mejorar su impacto en cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y relacionadas con los derechos humanos u otras cuestiones de sostenibilidad que son importantes para la sociedad y la economía mundial.
- Voto: La política de voto de Amundi responde a su análisis integral de todas las cuestiones a largo plazo que pueden influir en la creación de valor, incluidas cuestiones ESG sustanciales. Si desea obtener más información, consulte la Política de Voto de Amundi.
- Seguimiento de controversias: Amundi ha desarrollado un sistema de seguimiento de controversias que se basa en tres proveedores de datos externos para realizar un seguimiento sistemático de las controversias y su nivel de gravedad. Este enfoque cuantitativo se enriquece después con una evaluación en profundidad de cada controversia grave, dirigida por analistas ESG y la revisión periódica de su evolución. Este enfoque se aplica a todos los fondos de Amundi.

Si desea más información sobre cómo se tienen en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas, consulte la Declaración de divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.com.

Para estar alineados con la Taxonomía de la UE, los criterios para el gas fósil incluyen limitaciones de emisiones y cambio a energías totalmente renovables o combustibles con bajas emisiones de carbono para finales de 2035. En el caso de la energía nuclear, los criterios incluyen normas exhaustivas de seguridad y gestión de residuos

¿En qué medida las inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

El fondo promueve características tanto medioambientales como sociales. Aunque el fondo no se comprometió a realizar inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE, durante el periodo contable el fondo invirtió un 1.09% en inversiones sostenibles alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE. Estas inversiones contribuyeron a la obligación de lucha contra el cambio climático o a los objetivos de mitigación del cambio climático de la Taxonomía de la UE.

La alineación de las empresas participadas con los objetivos de la Taxonomía de la UE antes mencionados se cuantifica utilizando datos sobre el volumen de negocio (o los ingresos) y/o el uso del producto obtenido de bonos verdes.

El porcentaje declarado de alineación de las inversiones del fondo con la Taxonomía de la UE no ha sido auditado por los auditores del fondo ni por terceros.

- ¿Invirtió el producto financiero en actividades relacionadas con el gas fósil y/o la energía nuclear que se ajustaban a la Taxonomía de la UE?

otras actividades contribuyan de forma sustancial a un objetivo medioambiental.

☐ Sí:

☐ En gas fósil

☐ En energía nuclear

☒ No

Durante el periodo no se dispuso de datos fiables sobre la alineación con la Taxonomía de la UE del gas fósil y la energía nuclear.

Los gráficos siguientes muestran en verde el porcentaje de inversiones que estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE. Como no existe una metodología adecuada para determinar la alineación con la Taxonomía de la deuda pública*, el primer gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía en relación con todas las inversiones del producto financiero, incluida la deuda pública, mientras que el segundo gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía solo en relación con las inversiones del producto financiero distintas de la deuda pública.

● ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones en actividades de transición y habilitadoras?

A 30/06/2024, utilizando como indicador el volumen de negocio y/o los datos sobre el uso del producto obtenido de bonos verdes, la cuota de inversión del fondo en actividades de transición era del 0.01% y la cuota de inversión en actividades habilitadoras era del 1.33%. El porcentaje declarado de alineación de las inversiones del fondo con la Taxonomía de la UE no ha sido auditado por los auditores del fondo ni por terceros.

● ¿Cómo era el porcentaje de inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE respecto de los periodos de referencia anteriores?

Al cierre del periodo anterior, el porcentaje de inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE era del 11.27%.

son inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental que no tienen en cuenta los criterios de las actividades económicas sostenibles desde el punto de vista medioambiental en virtud del Reglamento (UE) 2020/852.

La cuota de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineado con la Taxonomía fue del 56.37% al cierre del periodo.

Esto se debe al hecho de que algunos emisores se consideran inversiones sostenibles con arreglo al Reglamento sobre la divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros (SFDR), pero presentan una parte de actividades que no se ajustan a las normas de la Taxonomía de la UE, o para las que aún no se dispone de datos con vistas a realizar una evaluación conforme a la Taxonomía de la UE.

¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social?

El porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social al cierre del periodo era del 17.93%.

¿Qué inversiones se incluían en "otros", cuál era su finalidad y existían salvaguardias medioambientales o sociales mínimas?

El apartado "N.º 2 Otros" incluye el efectivo y otros instrumentos mantenidos con fines de liquidez y gestión del riesgo de la cartera. En el caso de los bonos y acciones sin calificación, se aplican unas salvaguardias medioambientales y sociales mínimas a través de un cribado de controversias respecto de los Principios del Pacto Mundial de Naciones Unidas. También puede incluir valores sin calificación ESG para los que no se disponga de los datos necesarios para cuantificar de la consecución de las características medioambientales o sociales.

¿Qué medidas se han tomado para alcanzar las características medioambientales y/o sociales durante el periodo de referencia?

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad están continuamente disponibles en el sistema de gestión de carteras, lo que permite a los gestores de carteras evaluar el impacto de sus decisiones de inversión.

Estos indicadores se integran en el marco de control de AMUNDI, repartiéndose las responsabilidades entre el primer nivel de controles, realizado por los propios equipos de Inversión, y el segundo nivel de controles, realizado por los equipos de Riesgos, que supervisan de forma continua el cumplimiento de las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el fondo.

¿Cómo se comportó este producto financiero en comparación con el índice de referencia?

El objetivo de inversión sostenible se logra alineando los objetivos de reducción de la huella de carbono del fondo con el Índice MSCI Emerging Markets Climate Paris Aligned. La intensidad de la huella de carbono de la cartera se calcula como media ponderada por activos de la cartera y se compara con la intensidad de la huella de carbono ponderada por activos del Índice.

En consecuencia, los títulos con una huella ecológica relativamente baja tienen más probabilidades de ser seleccionados en la cartera que los títulos con una huella relativamente alta. Además, el fondo excluye empresas por su comportamiento controvertido y (o) productos controvertidos de acuerdo con la Política de Inversión Responsable.

- La intensidad media ponderada de la huella de carbono de la cartera es de 68.05.
- La intensidad media ponderada de la huella de carbono del índice MSCI Europe Climate Paris Aligned (EUR) es de 77.24.

Los índices de referencia son índices para cuantificar si el producto financiero alcanza las características medioambientales o sociales que promueven.

● ¿En qué se diferencia el índice de referencia de un índice de mercado general?

Un índice de mercado general no evalúa ni incluye a sus componentes en función de las características medioambientales y, por lo tanto, no está alineado con las características medioambientales.

El índice utilizado es un "índice de referencia alineado con el Acuerdo de París" que incorpora objetivos específicos relacionados con la reducción de emisiones y la transición a una economía con bajas emisiones de carbono a través de la selección y ponderación de los componentes subyacentes.

● ¿Cómo se comportó este producto financiero con respecto a los indicadores de sostenibilidad para determinar la alineación del índice de referencia con las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas?

- La calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera es 1.347 (C).
- La calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG es 0.798 (C).

- La intensidad media ponderada de la huella de carbono de la cartera es de 68.05.

Una inversión sostenible es una inversión en una actividad económica que contribuya a un objetivo medioambiental o social, siempre que la inversión no cause un perjuicio significativo para ningún objetivo medioambiental o social y que las empresas participadas sigan prácticas de buen gobierno.

Durante el ejercicio, el producto promovió continuamente las características medioambientales y/o sociales con el objetivo de lograr una puntuación ESG superior a la puntuación ESG de su universo de inversión S&P 500. Para determinar la puntuación ESG del Producto y el universo de inversión ESG, el desempeño ESG se evaluó continuamente comparando el desempeño medio de un título frente al sector del emisor del título, con respecto a cada una de las tres características: medioambiental, social y de gobierno corporativo.

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad cuantifican cómo se alcanzan las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el producto financiero.

● ¿Cómo se comportaron los indicadores de sostenibilidad?

Amundi ha desarrollado su propio proceso interno de calificación ESG basado en el enfoque "Best-in-class". Las calificaciones adaptadas a cada sector de actividad pretenden evaluar la dinámica en la que operan las empresas.

El indicador de sostenibilidad utilizado es la puntuación ESG del Producto que se mide con respecto a la puntuación ESG del universo de inversión ESG del Producto.

Al cierre del periodo:

- La calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera es -0.258 (D).
- La calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG es -0.433 (D).

La calificación ESG de Amundi utilizada para determinar la puntuación ESG es una puntuación cuantitativa ESG traducida en siete grados, que van de la A (el universo de mejores puntuaciones) a la G (la peor). En la escala de Calificación ESG de Amundi, los títulos pertenecientes a la lista de exclusión corresponden a una G. En el caso de los emisores corporativos, el desempeño ESG se evalúa en general y a nivel de criterios relevantes comparándolo con el desempeño medio de su sector, a través de la combinación de las tres dimensiones ESG:

- Dimensión medioambiental: analiza la capacidad de los emisores para controlar su impacto medioambiental directo e indirecto, limitando su consumo de energía, reduciendo sus emisiones de efecto invernadero, luchando contra el agotamiento de los recursos y protegiendo la biodiversidad.
- Dimensión social: analiza el funcionamiento de un emisor en dos conceptos distintos: su estrategia para desarrollar su capital humano y el respeto de los derechos humanos en general;
- Dimensión de gobierno corporativo: Evalúa la capacidad del emisor para garantizar la base de un marco de gobierno corporativo eficaz y generar valor a largo plazo.

● ¿...y en comparación con periodos anteriores?

Al cierre del periodo anterior, la calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera era de -0.255 (D) y la calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG era de -0.433 (D).

● ¿Cuáles eran los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero pretende realizar parcialmente y cómo contribuía la inversión sostenible a dichos objetivos?

Los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles son invertir en empresas participadas que traten de cumplir dos criterios:

1. seguir las mejores prácticas medioambientales y sociales; y
2. evitar fabricar productos o prestar servicios que perjudiquen al medio ambiente y a la sociedad.

Para que se considere que la empresa en la que se invierte contribuye al objetivo mencionado, debe ser uno de los "mejores actores" dentro de su sector de actividad en al menos uno de sus factores medioambientales o sociales materiales.

más del 10% a la puntuación ESG global. En el sector energético, por ejemplo, los factores materiales son: emisiones y energía, biodiversidad y contaminación, salud y seguridad, comunidades locales y derechos humanos. Si desea obtener una descripción más completa de los sectores y factores, consulte la Declaración Reglamentaria ESG de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.lu. Para contribuir a los objetivos anteriores, la empresa participada no debe tener una exposición significativa a actividades (por ejemplo, tabaco, armas, juegos de azar, carbón, aviación, producción de carne, fabricación de fertilizantes y pesticidas, producción de plásticos de un solo uso) que no sean compatibles con dichos criterios.

El carácter sostenible de una inversión se evalúa a nivel de la empresa participada.

- ¿De qué manera las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero realizó parcialmente no causaron un perjuicio significativo a ningún objetivo de inversión sostenible desde el punto de vista medioambiental o social?

Para garantizar que las inversiones sostenibles no causan un perjuicio significativo ("DNSH"), Amundi utiliza dos filtros:

Más allá de los factores específicos de sostenibilidad cubiertos en el primer filtro, Amundi ha definido un segundo filtro, que no tiene en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas mencionados anteriormente, con el fin de verificar que la empresa no obtiene malos resultados desde un punto de vista medioambiental o social global en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, lo que corresponde a una puntuación medioambiental o social superior o igual a E utilizando la calificación ESG de Amundi.

- ¿Cómo se tuvieron en cuenta los indicadores de incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

Los indicadores de incidencias adversas se han tenido en cuenta tal y como se detalla en el primer filtro de no causar un daño significativo (DNSH) anterior.

El primer filtro DNSH se basa en el seguimiento de los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas del Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 cuando se dispone de datos sólidos mediante la combinación de los siguientes indicadores y umbrales o normas específicas:

- Tener una intensidad de CO<sub>2</sub> que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector (solo se aplica a sectores de alta intensidad), y
- Tener una diversidad en el Consejo de Administración que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, y
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con las condiciones de trabajo y los derechos humanos.
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con la biodiversidad y la contaminación

- ¿Estaban las inversiones sostenibles alineadas con las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos? Detalles:

Las principales incidencias adversas son los efectos negativos más significativos de las decisiones de inversión sobre los factores de sostenibilidad relacionados con cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y laborales, el respeto de los derechos humanos y la lucha contra la corrupción y el soborno.

Sí, las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos están integrados en nuestra metodología de puntuación ESG. Nuestra herramienta de calificación ESG propia evalúa a los emisores utilizando los datos disponibles de nuestros proveedores de datos. Por ejemplo, el modelo cuenta con un criterio específico denominado "Participación en la comunidad y derechos humanos", que se aplica a todos los sectores, además de otros criterios relacionados con los derechos humanos, como las cadenas de suministro socialmente responsables, las condiciones de trabajo y las relaciones laborales. Además, realizamos un seguimiento de las controversias, como mínimo trimestralmente, que incluye a las empresas identificadas por vulneraciones de los derechos humanos. Cuando surgen controversias, los analistas evalúan la situación y aplican una puntuación a la controversia (utilizando nuestra metodología de puntuación interna) y determinan el mejor curso de acción. Las puntuaciones de controversia se actualizan trimestralmente para realizar un seguimiento de la tendencia y de los esfuerzos de corrección.

¿Cómo tuvo en cuenta este producto financiero las principales incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

El producto tiene en cuenta todas las Principales Incidencias Adversas obligatorias según el Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 que se aplica a la estrategia del producto y se basa en una combinación de políticas de exclusión (normativas y sectoriales), enfoques de implicación y voto:

- Exclusión: Amundi ha definido reglas de exclusión normativas, basadas en la actividad y sectoriales que abarcan algunos de los principales indicadores adversos de sostenibilidad enumerados por el Reglamento de Divulgación.
- Integración de factores ESG: Amundi ha adoptado normas mínimas de integración ESG aplicadas por defecto a sus fondos de capital variable y gestión activa (exclusión de emisores con calificación G y mejor puntuación media ponderada ESG superior a la del índice de referencia aplicable). Los 38 criterios utilizados en el enfoque de calificación ESG de Amundi también se diseñaron para tener en cuenta las principales incidencias en los factores de sostenibilidad, así como la calidad de la mitigación realizada, que también se tienen en cuenta a ese respecto.
- Compromiso: La interacción es un proceso continuo y orientado a un fin, cuyo objetivo es influir en las actividades o el comportamiento de las empresas participadas. El objetivo de las actividades de interacción puede clasificarse en dos categorías: comprometer a un emisor a mejorar la forma en que integra la dimensión medioambiental y social, comprometer a un emisor a mejorar su impacto en cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y relacionadas con los derechos humanos u otras cuestiones de sostenibilidad que son importantes para la sociedad y la economía mundial.
- Voto: La política de voto de Amundi responde a su análisis integral de todas las cuestiones a largo plazo que pueden influir en la creación de valor, incluidas cuestiones ESG sustanciales. Si desea obtener más información, consulte la Política de Voto de Amundi.

- Seguimiento de controversias: Amundi ha desarrollado un sistema de seguimiento de controversias que se basa en tres proveedores de datos externos para realizar un seguimiento sistemático de las controversias y su nivel de gravedad. Este enfoque cuantitativo se enriquece después con una evaluación en profundidad de cada controversia grave, dirigida por analistas ESG y la revisión periódica de su evolución. Este enfoque se aplica a todos los fondos de Amundi.

Si desea más información sobre cómo se tienen en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas, consulte la Declaración de divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.com.

¿En qué medida las inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

El fondo promueve características tanto medioambientales como sociales. Aunque el fondo no se comprometió a realizar inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE, durante el periodo contable el fondo invirtió un 0.13% en inversiones sostenibles alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE. Estas inversiones contribuyeron a los objetivos de mitigación del cambio climático de la Taxonomía de la UE.

La alineación de las empresas participadas con los objetivos de la Taxonomía de la UE antes mencionados se cuantifica utilizando datos sobre el volumen de negocio (o los ingresos) y/o el uso del producto obtenido de bonos verdes.

Sí:

No

Durante el periodo no se dispuso de datos fiables sobre la alineación con la Taxonomía de la UE del gas fósil y la energía nuclear.

Los gráficos siguientes muestran en verde el porcentaje de inversiones que estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE. Como no existe una metodología adecuada para determinar la alineación con la Taxonomía de la deuda pública*, el primer gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía en relación con todas las inversiones del producto financiero, incluida la deuda pública, mientras que el segundo gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía solo en relación con las inversiones del producto financiero distintas de la deuda pública.

● ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones en actividades de transición y habilitadoras?

A 30/06/2024, utilizando como indicador el volumen de negocio y/o los datos sobre el uso del producto obtenido de bonos verdes, la cuota de inversión del fondo en actividades de transición era del 0.00% y la cuota de inversión en actividades habilitadoras era del 0.13%. El porcentaje declarado de alineación de las inversiones del fondo con la Taxonomía de la UE no ha sido auditado por los auditores del fondo ni por terceros.

● ¿Cómo era el porcentaje de inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE respecto de los periodos de referencia anteriores?

Al cierre del periodo anterior, el porcentaje de inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE era del 0.00%.

● ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

La cuota de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineado con la Taxonomía fue del 18.96% al cierre del periodo.

Esto se debe al hecho de que algunos emisores se consideran inversiones sostenibles con arreglo al Reglamento sobre la divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros (SFDR), pero presentan una parte de actividades que no se ajustan a las normas de la Taxonomía de la UE, o para las que aún no se dispone de datos con vistas a realizar una evaluación conforme a la Taxonomía de la UE.

● ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social?

El porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social al cierre del periodo era del 12.78%.

● ¿Qué inversiones se incluían en "otros", cuál era su finalidad y existían salvaguardias medioambientales o sociales mínimas?

El apartado "N.º 2 Otros" incluye el efectivo y otros instrumentos mantenidos con fines de liquidez y gestión del riesgo de la cartera. En el caso de los bonos y acciones sin calificación, se aplican unas salvaguardias medioambientales y sociales mínimas a través de un cribado de controversias respecto de los Principios del Pacto Mundial de Naciones Unidas. También puede incluir valores sin calificación ESG para los que no se disponga de los datos necesarios para cuantificar de la consecución de las características medioambientales o sociales.

● ¿Qué medidas se han tomado para alcanzar las características medioambientales y/o sociales durante el periodo de referencia?

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad están continuamente disponibles en el sistema de gestión de carteras, lo que permite a los gestores de carteras evaluar el impacto de sus decisiones de inversión.

Estos indicadores se integran en el marco de control de AMUNDI, repartiéndose las responsabilidades entre el primer nivel de controles, realizado por los propios equipos de Inversión, y el segundo nivel de controles, realizado por los equipos de Riesgos, que supervisan de forma continua el cumplimiento de las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el fondo.

Además, la Política de Inversión Responsable de AMUNDI establece un enfoque activo de interacción que promueve el diálogo con las empresas participadas, incluidas las que forman parte de la cartera de este producto. Nuestro Informe Anual de Interacción, disponible en <https://about.amundi.com/esg-documentation>, ofrece información detallada sobre esta iniciativa y sus resultados.

Una inversión sostenible es una inversión en una actividad económica que contribuya a un objetivo medioambiental o social, siempre que la inversión no cause un perjuicio significativo para ningún objetivo medioambiental o social y que las empresas participadas sigan prácticas de buen gobierno.

Durante el ejercicio, el producto promovió continuamente las características medioambientales y/o sociales con el objetivo de lograr una puntuación ESG superior a la puntuación ESG de su universo de inversión MSCI AC ASIA EX JAPAN. Para determinar la puntuación ESG del Producto y el universo de inversión ESG, el desempeño ESG se evaluó continuamente comparando el desempeño medio de un título frente al sector del emisor del título, con respecto a cada una de las tres características: medioambiental, social y de gobierno corporativo.

El universo de inversión es un universo de mercado general que no evalúa ni incluye componentes basados en características medioambientales y/o sociales y, por lo tanto, no pretende ser coherente con las características promovidas por el fondo. No se ha designado ningún índice de referencia ESG.

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad cuantifican cómo se alcanzan las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el producto financiero.

● ¿Cómo se comportaron los indicadores de sostenibilidad?

Amundi ha desarrollado su propio proceso interno de calificación ESG basado en el enfoque "Best-in-class". Las calificaciones adaptadas a cada sector de actividad pretenden evaluar la dinámica en la que operan las empresas.

El indicador de sostenibilidad utilizado es la puntuación ESG del Producto que se mide con respecto a la puntuación ESG del universo de inversión ESG del Producto.

Al cierre del periodo:

- La calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera es -0.017 (D).
- La calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG es -0.086 (D).

La calificación ESG de Amundi utilizada para determinar la puntuación ESG es una puntuación cuantitativa ESG traducida en siete grados, que van de la A (el universo de mejores puntuaciones) a la G (la peor). En la escala de Calificación ESG de Amundi, los títulos pertenecientes a la lista de exclusión corresponden a una G. En el caso de los emisores corporativos, el desempeño ESG se evalúa en general y a nivel de criterios relevantes comparándolo con el desempeño medio de su sector, a través de la combinación de las tres dimensiones ESG:

- Dimensión medioambiental: analiza la capacidad de los emisores para controlar su impacto medioambiental directo e indirecto, limitando su consumo de energía, reduciendo sus emisiones de efecto invernadero, luchando contra el agotamiento de los recursos y protegiendo la biodiversidad.
- Dimensión social: analiza el funcionamiento de un emisor en dos conceptos distintos: su estrategia para desarrollar su capital humano y el respeto de los derechos humanos en general;
- Dimensión de gobierno corporativo: Evalúa la capacidad del emisor para garantizar la base de un marco de gobierno corporativo eficaz y generar valor a largo plazo.

● ¿...y en comparación con periodos anteriores?

Al cierre del periodo anterior, la calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera era de 0.10 (D) y la calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG era de -0.09 (D).

● ¿Cuáles eran los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero pretende realizar parcialmente y cómo contribuía la inversión sostenible a dichos objetivos?

Los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles son invertir en empresas participadas que traten de cumplir dos criterios:

1. seguir las mejores prácticas medioambientales y sociales; y
2. evitar fabricar productos o prestar servicios que perjudiquen al medio ambiente y a la sociedad.

Para que se considere que la empresa en la que se invierte contribuye al objetivo mencionado, debe ser uno de los "mejores actores" dentro de su sector de actividad en al menos uno de sus factores medioambientales o sociales materiales.

son: emisiones y energía, biodiversidad y contaminación, salud y seguridad, comunidades locales y derechos humanos. Si desea obtener una descripción más completa de los sectores y factores, consulte la Declaración Reglamentaria ESG de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.lu. Para contribuir a los objetivos anteriores, la empresa participada no debe tener una exposición significativa a actividades (por ejemplo, tabaco, armas, juegos de azar, carbón, aviación, producción de carne, fabricación de fertilizantes y pesticidas, producción de plásticos de un solo uso) que no sean compatibles con dichos criterios.

El carácter sostenible de una inversión se evalúa a nivel de la empresa participada.

Las principales incidencias adversas

son los efectos negativos más significativos de las decisiones de inversión sobre los factores de sostenibilidad relacionados con cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y laborales, el respeto de los derechos humanos y la lucha contra la corrupción y el soborno.

● ¿De qué manera las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero realizó parcialmente no causaron un perjuicio significativo a ningún objetivo de inversión sostenible desde el punto de vista medioambiental o social?

Para garantizar que las inversiones sostenibles no causan un perjuicio significativo ("DNSH"), Amundi utiliza dos filtros:

Más allá de los factores específicos de sostenibilidad cubiertos en el primer filtro, Amundi ha definido un segundo filtro, que no tiene en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas mencionados anteriormente, con el fin de verificar que la empresa no obtiene malos resultados desde un punto de vista medioambiental o social global en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, lo que corresponde a una puntuación medioambiental o social superior o igual a E utilizando la calificación ESG de Amundi.

- ¿Cómo se tuvieron en cuenta los indicadores de incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

Los indicadores de incidencias adversas se han tenido en cuenta tal y como se detalla en el primer filtro de no causar un daño significativo (DNSH) anterior.

El primer filtro DNSH se basa en el seguimiento de los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas del Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 cuando se dispone de datos sólidos mediante la combinación de los siguientes indicadores y umbrales o normas específicas:

- Tener una intensidad de CO<sub>2</sub> que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector (solo se aplica a sectores de alta intensidad), y
- Tener una diversidad en el Consejo de Administración que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, y
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con las condiciones de trabajo y los derechos humanos.
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con la biodiversidad y la contaminación

- ¿Estaban las inversiones sostenibles alineadas con las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos? Detalles:

Sí, las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos están integrados en nuestra metodología de puntuación ESG. Nuestra herramienta de calificación ESG propia

evalúa a los emisores utilizando los datos disponibles de nuestros proveedores de datos. Por ejemplo, el modelo cuenta con un criterio específico denominado "Participación en la comunidad y derechos humanos", que se aplica a todos los sectores, además de otros criterios relacionados con los derechos humanos, como las cadenas de suministro socialmente responsables, las condiciones de trabajo y las relaciones laborales. Además, realizamos un seguimiento de las controversias, como mínimo trimestralmente, que incluye a las empresas identificadas por vulneraciones de los derechos humanos. Cuando surgen controversias, los analistas evalúan la situación y aplican una puntuación a la controversia (utilizando nuestra metodología de puntuación interna) y determinan el mejor curso de acción. Las puntuaciones de controversia se actualizan trimestralmente para realizar un seguimiento de la tendencia y de los esfuerzos de corrección.

¿Cómo tuvo en cuenta este producto financiero las principales incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

El producto tiene en cuenta todas las Principales Incidencias Adversas obligatorias según el Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 que se aplica a la estrategia del producto y se basa en una combinación de políticas de exclusión (normativas y sectoriales), enfoques de implicación y voto:

- Exclusión: Amundi ha definido reglas de exclusión normativas, basadas en la actividad y sectoriales que abarcan algunos de los principales indicadores adversos de sostenibilidad enumerados por el Reglamento de Divulgación.
- Integración de factores ESG: Amundi ha adoptado normas mínimas de integración ESG aplicadas por defecto a sus fondos de capital variable y gestión activa (exclusión de emisores con calificación G y mejor puntuación media ponderada ESG superior a la del índice de referencia aplicable). Los 38 criterios utilizados en el enfoque de calificación ESG de Amundi también se diseñaron para tener en cuenta las principales incidencias en los factores de sostenibilidad, así como la calidad de la mitigación realizada, que también se tienen en cuenta a ese respecto.
- Compromiso: La interacción es un proceso continuo y orientado a un fin, cuyo objetivo es influir en las actividades o el comportamiento de las empresas participadas. El objetivo de las actividades de interacción puede clasificarse en dos categorías: comprometer a un emisor a mejorar la forma en que integra la dimensión medioambiental y social, comprometer a un emisor a mejorar su impacto en cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y relacionadas con los derechos humanos u otras cuestiones de sostenibilidad que son importantes para la sociedad y la economía mundial.
- Voto: La política de voto de Amundi responde a su análisis integral de todas las cuestiones a largo plazo que pueden influir en la creación de valor, incluidas cuestiones ESG sustanciales. Si desea obtener más información, consulte la Política de Voto de Amundi.
- Seguimiento de controversias: Amundi ha desarrollado un sistema de seguimiento de controversias que se basa en tres proveedores de datos externos para realizar un seguimiento sistemático de las controversias y su nivel de gravedad. Este enfoque cuantitativo se enriquece después con una evaluación en profundidad de cada controversia grave, dirigida por analistas ESG y la revisión periódica de su evolución. Este enfoque se aplica a todos los fondos de Amundi.

Si desea más información sobre cómo se tienen en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas, consulte la Declaración de divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.com.

Para estar alineados con la Taxonomía de la UE, los criterios para el gas fósil incluyen limitaciones de emisiones y cambio a energías totalmente renovables o combustibles con bajas emisiones de carbono para finales de 2035. En el caso de la energía nuclear, los criterios incluyen normas exhaustivas de seguridad y gestión de residuos.

Las actividades habilitadoras permiten directamente que otras actividades contribuyan de forma sustancial a un objetivo medioambiental.

¿En qué medida las inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

El fondo promueve características tanto medioambientales como sociales. Aunque el fondo no se comprometió a realizar inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE, durante el periodo contable el fondo invirtió un 0.00% en inversiones sostenibles alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE.

● ¿Invirtió el producto financiero en actividades relacionadas con el gas fósil y/o la energía nuclear que se ajustaban a la Taxonomía de la UE?

☐ Sí:

☐ En gas fósil      ☐ En energía nuclear

☒ No

Durante el periodo no se dispuso de datos fiables sobre la alineación con la Taxonomía de la UE del gas fósil y la energía nuclear.

Las actividades alineadas con la Taxonomía se expresan como porcentaje de:

- el volumen de negocio que refleja la proporción de ingresos procedentes de actividades ecológicas de las empresas participadas
- las inversiones en inmovilizado (CapEx) que muestran las inversiones ecológicas realizadas por las empresas participadas, por ejemplo, para la transición a una economía verde
- los gastos de explotación (OpEx) que reflejan las actividades operativas ecológicas de las empresas participadas

Los gráficos siguientes muestran en verde el porcentaje de inversiones que estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE. Como no existe una metodología adecuada para determinar la alineación con la Taxonomía de la deuda pública*, el primer gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía en relación con todas las inversiones del producto financiero, incluida la deuda pública, mientras que el segundo gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía solo en relación con las inversiones del producto financiero distintas de la deuda pública.

* A efectos de estos gráficos, la "deuda pública" abarca todas las exposiciones a deuda pública.

● ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones en actividades de transición y habilitadoras?

A 30/06/2024, utilizando como indicador el volumen de negocio y/o los datos sobre el uso del producto obtenido de bonos verdes, la cuota de inversión del fondo en actividades de transición era del 0.00% y la cuota de inversión en actividades habilitadoras era del 0.00%. El porcentaje declarado de alineación de las inversiones del fondo con la Taxonomía de la UE no ha sido auditado por los auditores del fondo ni por terceros.

● ¿Cómo era el porcentaje de inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE respecto de los periodos de referencia anteriores?

Al cierre del periodo anterior, el porcentaje de inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE era del 0.00%.

 son inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental que no tienen en cuenta los criterios

● ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

La cuota de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineado con la Taxonomía fue del 22.39% al cierre del periodo.

Esto se debe al hecho de que algunos emisores se consideran inversiones sostenibles con arreglo al Reglamento sobre la divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros (SFDR), pero presentan una parte de actividades que no se ajustan a las normas de la Taxonomía de la UE, o para las que aún no se dispone de datos con vistas a realizar una evaluación conforme a la Taxonomía de la UE.

de las actividades económicas sostenibles desde el punto de vista medioambiental en virtud del Reglamento (UE) 2020/852.

¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social?

El porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social al cierre del periodo era del 16.38%.

¿Qué inversiones se incluían en "otros", cuál era su finalidad y existían salvaguardias medioambientales o sociales mínimas?

El apartado "N.º 2 Otros" incluye el efectivo y otros instrumentos mantenidos con fines de liquidez y gestión del riesgo de la cartera. En el caso de los bonos y acciones sin calificación, se aplican unas salvaguardias medioambientales y sociales mínimas a través de un cribado de controversias respecto de los Principios del Pacto Mundial de Naciones Unidas. También puede incluir valores sin calificación ESG para los que no se disponga de los datos necesarios para cuantificar de la consecución de las características medioambientales o sociales.

¿Qué medidas se han tomado para alcanzar las características medioambientales y/o sociales durante el periodo de referencia?

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad están continuamente disponibles en el sistema de gestión de carteras, lo que permite a los gestores de carteras evaluar el impacto de sus decisiones de inversión. Estos indicadores se integran en el marco de control de AMUNDI, repartiéndose las responsabilidades entre el primer nivel de controles, realizado por los propios equipos de Inversión, y el segundo nivel de controles, realizado por los equipos de Riesgos, que supervisan de forma continua el cumplimiento de las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el fondo.

Además, la Política de Inversión Responsable de AMUNDI establece un enfoque activo de interacción que promueve el diálogo con las empresas participadas, incluidas las que forman parte de la cartera de este producto. Nuestro Informe Anual de Interacción, disponible en <https://about.amundi.com/esg-documentation>, ofrece información detallada sobre esta iniciativa y sus resultados.

Una inversión sostenible es una inversión en una actividad económica que contribuya a un objetivo medioambiental o social, siempre que la inversión no cause un perjuicio significativo para ningún objetivo medioambiental o social y que las empresas participadas sigan prácticas de buen gobierno.

¿En qué medida se cumplieron las características medioambientales y/o sociales promovidas por este producto financiero?

Durante el ejercicio, el producto promovió continuamente las características medioambientales y/o sociales con el objetivo de lograr una puntuación ESG superior a la puntuación ESG de su universo de inversión MSCI CHINA A ONSHORE. Para determinar la puntuación ESG del Producto y el universo de inversión ESG, el desempeño ESG se evaluó continuamente comparando el desempeño medio de un título frente al sector del emisor del título, con respecto a cada una de las tres características: medioambiental, social y de gobierno corporativo.

El universo de inversión es un universo de mercado general que no evalúa ni incluye componentes basados en características medioambientales y/o sociales y, por lo tanto, no pretende ser coherente con las características promovidas por el fondo. No se ha designado ningún índice de referencia ESG.

● ¿Cómo se comportaron los indicadores de sostenibilidad?

Amundi ha desarrollado su propio proceso interno de calificación ESG basado en el enfoque "Best-in-class". Las calificaciones adaptadas a cada sector de actividad pretenden evaluar la dinámica en la que operan las empresas.

El indicador de sostenibilidad utilizado es la puntuación ESG del Producto que se mide con respecto a la puntuación ESG del universo de inversión ESG del Producto.

Al cierre del periodo:

- La calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera es -0.608 (E).
- La calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG es -1.133 (E).

La calificación ESG de Amundi utilizada para determinar la puntuación ESG es una puntuación cuantitativa ESG traducida en siete grados, que van de la A (el universo de mejores puntuaciones) a la G (la peor). En la escala de Calificación ESG de Amundi, los títulos pertenecientes a la lista de exclusión corresponden a una G. En el caso de los emisores corporativos, el desempeño ESG se evalúa en general y a nivel de criterios relevantes comparándolo con el desempeño medio de su sector, a través de la combinación de las tres dimensiones ESG:

- Dimensión medioambiental: analiza la capacidad de los emisores para controlar su impacto medioambiental directo e indirecto, limitando su consumo de energía, reduciendo sus emisiones de efecto invernadero, luchando contra el agotamiento de los recursos y protegiendo la biodiversidad.
- Dimensión social: analiza el funcionamiento de un emisor en dos conceptos distintos: su estrategia para desarrollar su capital humano y el respeto de los derechos humanos en general.
- Dimensión de gobierno corporativo: Evalúa la capacidad del emisor para garantizar la base de un marco de gobierno corporativo eficaz y generar valor a largo plazo.

● ¿...y en comparación con periodos anteriores?

Al cierre del periodo anterior, la calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera era de -0.86 (E) y la calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG era de -1.03 (E).

● ¿Cuáles eran los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero pretende realizar parcialmente y cómo contribuía la inversión sostenible a dichos objetivos?

Los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles son invertir en empresas participadas que traten de cumplir dos criterios:

1. seguir las mejores prácticas medioambientales y sociales; y
2. evitar fabricar productos o prestar servicios que perjudiquen al medio ambiente y a la sociedad.

Para que se considere que la empresa en la que se invierte contribuye al objetivo mencionado, debe ser uno de los "mejores actores" dentro de su sector de actividad en al menos uno de sus factores medioambientales o sociales materiales.

desea obtener una descripción más completa de los sectores y factores, consulte la Declaración Reglamentaria ESG de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.lu.

Para contribuir a los objetivos anteriores, la empresa participada no debe tener una exposición significativa a actividades (por ejemplo, tabaco, armas, juegos de azar, carbón, aviación, producción de carne, fabricación de fertilizantes y pesticidas, producción de plásticos de un solo uso) que no sean compatibles con dichos criterios.

El carácter sostenible de una inversión se evalúa a nivel de la empresa participada.

● ¿De qué manera las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero realizó parcialmente no causaron un perjuicio significativo a ningún objetivo de inversión sostenible desde el punto de vista medioambiental o social?

Para garantizar que las inversiones sostenibles no causan un perjuicio significativo ("DNSH"), Amundi utiliza dos filtros:

Más allá de los factores específicos de sostenibilidad cubiertos en el primer filtro, Amundi ha definido un segundo filtro, que no tiene en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas mencionados anteriormente, con el fin de verificar que la empresa no obtiene malos resultados desde un punto de vista medioambiental o social global en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, lo que corresponde a una puntuación medioambiental o social superior o igual a E utilizando la calificación ESG de Amundi.

- ¿Cómo se tuvieron en cuenta los indicadores de incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

Los indicadores de incidencias adversas se han tenido en cuenta tal y como se detalla en el primer filtro de no causar un daño significativo (DNSH) anterior.

El primer filtro DNSH se basa en el seguimiento de los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas del Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 cuando se dispone de datos sólidos mediante la combinación de los siguientes indicadores y umbrales o normas específicas:

- Tener una intensidad de CO<sub>2</sub> que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector (solo se aplica a sectores de alta intensidad), y
- Tener una diversidad en el Consejo de Administración que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, y
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con las condiciones de trabajo y los derechos humanos.
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con la biodiversidad y la contaminación

- ¿Estaban las inversiones sostenibles alineadas con las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos? Detalles:

Sí, las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos están integrados en nuestra metodología de puntuación ESG. Nuestra herramienta de calificación ESG propia evalúa a los emisores utilizando los datos disponibles de nuestros proveedores de datos.

Por ejemplo, el modelo cuenta con un criterio específico denominado "Participación en la comunidad y derechos humanos", que se aplica a todos los sectores, además de otros criterios relacionados con los derechos humanos, como las cadenas de suministro socialmente responsables, las condiciones de trabajo y las relaciones laborales. Además, realizamos un seguimiento de las controversias, como mínimo trimestralmente, que incluye a las empresas identificadas por vulneraciones de los derechos humanos. Cuando surgen controversias, los analistas evalúan la situación y aplican una puntuación a la controversia (utilizando nuestra metodología de puntuación interna) y determinan el mejor curso de acción. Las puntuaciones de controversia se actualizan trimestralmente para realizar un seguimiento de la tendencia y de los esfuerzos de corrección.

¿Cómo tuvo en cuenta este producto financiero las principales incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

El producto tiene en cuenta todas las Principales Incidencias Adversas obligatorias según el Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 que se aplica a la estrategia del producto y se basa en una combinación de políticas de exclusión (normativas y sectoriales), enfoques de implicación y voto:

- Exclusión: Amundi ha definido reglas de exclusión normativas, basadas en la actividad y sectoriales que abarcan algunos de los principales indicadores adversos de sostenibilidad enumerados por el Reglamento de Divulgación.
- Integración de factores ESG: Amundi ha adoptado normas mínimas de integración ESG aplicadas por defecto a sus fondos de capital variable y gestión activa (exclusión de emisores con calificación G y mejor puntuación media ponderada ESG superior a la del índice de referencia aplicable). Los 38 criterios utilizados en el enfoque de calificación ESG de Amundi también se diseñaron para tener en cuenta las principales incidencias en los factores de sostenibilidad, así como la calidad de la mitigación realizada, que también se tienen en cuenta a ese respecto.
- Compromiso: La interacción es un proceso continuo y orientado a un fin, cuyo objetivo es influir en las actividades o el comportamiento de las empresas participadas. El objetivo de las actividades de interacción puede clasificarse en dos categorías: comprometer a un emisor a mejorar la forma en que integra la dimensión medioambiental y social, comprometer a un emisor a mejorar su impacto en cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y relacionadas con los derechos humanos u otras cuestiones de sostenibilidad que son importantes para la sociedad y la economía mundial.
- Seguimiento de controversias: Amundi ha desarrollado un sistema de seguimiento de controversias que se basa en tres proveedores de datos externos para realizar un seguimiento sistemático de las controversias y su nivel de gravedad. Este enfoque cuantitativo se enriquece después con una evaluación en profundidad de cada controversia grave, dirigida por analistas ESG y la revisión periódica de su evolución. Este enfoque se aplica a todos los fondos de Amundi.

Si desea más información sobre cómo se tienen en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas, consulte la Declaración de divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.com.

Los gráficos siguientes muestran en verde el porcentaje de inversiones que estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE. Como no existe una metodología adecuada para determinar la alineación con la Taxonomía de la deuda pública*, el primer gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía en relación con todas las inversiones del producto financiero, incluida la deuda pública, mientras que el segundo gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía solo en relación con las inversiones del producto financiero distintas de la deuda pública.

● ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones en actividades de transición y habilitadoras?

A 30/06/2024, utilizando como indicador el volumen de negocio y/o los datos sobre el uso del producto obtenido de bonos verdes, la cuota de inversión del fondo en actividades de transición era del 0.00% y la cuota de inversión en actividades habilitadoras era del 0.00%. El porcentaje declarado de alineación de las inversiones del fondo con la Taxonomía de la UE no ha sido auditado por los auditores del fondo ni por terceros.

● ¿Cómo era el porcentaje de inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE respecto de los periodos de referencia anteriores?

Al cierre del periodo anterior, el porcentaje de inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE era del 0.00%.

● ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

La cuota de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineado con la Taxonomía fue del 14.20% al cierre del periodo.

Esto se debe al hecho de que algunos emisores se consideran inversiones sostenibles con arreglo al Reglamento sobre la divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros (SFDR), pero presentan una parte de actividades que no se ajustan a las normas de la Taxonomía de la UE, o para las que aún no se dispone de datos con vistas a realizar una evaluación conforme a la Taxonomía de la UE.

¿Qué inversiones se incluían en "otros", cuál era su finalidad y existían salvaguardias medioambientales o sociales mínimas?

El apartado "N.º 2 Otros" incluye el efectivo y otros instrumentos mantenidos con fines de liquidez y gestión del riesgo de la cartera. En el caso de los bonos y acciones sin calificación, se aplican unas salvaguardias medioambientales y sociales mínimas a través de un cribado de controversias respecto de los Principios del Pacto Mundial de Naciones Unidas. También puede incluir valores sin calificación ESG para los que no se disponga de los datos necesarios para cuantificar de la consecución de las características medioambientales o sociales.

¿Qué medidas se han tomado para alcanzar las características medioambientales y/o sociales durante el periodo de referencia?

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad están continuamente disponibles en el sistema de gestión de carteras, lo que permite a los gestores de carteras evaluar el impacto de sus decisiones de inversión.

Estos indicadores se integran en el marco de control de AMUNDI, repartiéndose las responsabilidades entre el primer nivel de controles, realizado por los propios equipos de Inversión, y el segundo nivel de controles, realizado por los equipos de Riesgos, que supervisan de forma continua el cumplimiento de las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el fondo.

Además, la Política de Inversión Responsable de AMUNDI establece un enfoque activo de interacción que promueve el diálogo con las empresas participadas, incluidas las que forman parte de la cartera de este producto. Nuestro Informe Anual de Interacción, disponible en <https://about.amundi.com/esg-documentation>, ofrece información detallada sobre esta iniciativa y sus resultados.

Una inversión sostenible es una inversión en una actividad económica que contribuya a un objetivo medioambiental o social, siempre que la inversión no cause un perjuicio significativo para ningún objetivo medioambiental o social y que las empresas participadas sigan prácticas de buen gobierno.

¿En qué medida se cumplieron las características medioambientales y/o sociales promovidas por este producto financiero?

Durante el ejercicio, el producto promovió continuamente las características medioambientales y/o sociales con el objetivo de lograr una puntuación ESG superior a la puntuación ESG de su universo de inversión MSCI CHINA 10/40. Para determinar la puntuación ESG del Producto y el universo de inversión ESG, el desempeño ESG se evaluó continuamente comparando el desempeño medio de un título frente al sector del emisor del título, con respecto a cada una de las tres características: medioambiental, social y de gobierno corporativo.

El universo de inversión es un universo de mercado general que no evalúa ni incluye componentes basados en características medioambientales y/o sociales y, por lo tanto, no pretende ser coherente con las características promovidas por el fondo. No se ha designado ningún índice de referencia ESG.

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad cuantifican cómo se alcanzan las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el producto financiero.

● ¿Cómo se comportaron los indicadores de sostenibilidad?

Amundi ha desarrollado su propio proceso interno de calificación ESG basado en el enfoque "Best-in-class". Las calificaciones adaptadas a cada sector de actividad pretenden evaluar la dinámica en la que operan las empresas.

El indicador de sostenibilidad utilizado es la puntuación ESG del Producto que se mide con respecto a la puntuación ESG del universo de inversión ESG del Producto.

Al cierre del periodo:

- La calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG es -0.732 (E).

La calificación ESG de Amundi utilizada para determinar la puntuación ESG es una puntuación cuantitativa ESG traducida en siete grados, que van de la A (el universo de mejores puntuaciones) a la G (la peor). En la escala de Calificación ESG de Amundi, los títulos pertenecientes a la lista de exclusión corresponden a una G. En el caso de los emisores corporativos, el desempeño ESG se evalúa en general y a nivel de criterios relevantes comparándolo con el desempeño medio de su sector, a través de la combinación de las tres dimensiones ESG:

- Dimensión medioambiental: analiza la capacidad de los emisores para controlar su impacto medioambiental directo e indirecto, limitando su consumo de energía, reduciendo sus emisiones de efecto invernadero, luchando contra el agotamiento de los recursos y protegiendo la biodiversidad.
- Dimensión social: analiza el funcionamiento de un emisor en dos conceptos distintos: su estrategia para desarrollar su capital humano y el respeto de los derechos humanos en general.
- Dimensión de gobierno corporativo: Evalúa la capacidad del emisor para garantizar la base de un marco de gobierno corporativo eficaz y generar valor a largo plazo.

● ¿...y en comparación con periodos anteriores?

Al cierre del periodo anterior, la calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera era de -0.41 (D) y la calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG era de -0.58 (E).

● ¿Cuáles eran los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero pretende realizar parcialmente y cómo contribuía la inversión sostenible a dichos objetivos?

Los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles son invertir en empresas participadas que traten de cumplir dos criterios:

1. seguir las mejores prácticas medioambientales y sociales; y
2. evitar fabricar productos o prestar servicios que perjudiquen al medio ambiente y a la sociedad.

Para que se considere que la empresa en la que se invierte contribuye al objetivo mencionado, debe ser uno de los "mejores actores" dentro de su sector de actividad en al menos uno de sus factores medioambientales o sociales materiales.

sostenibilidad afines. Los factores identificados como materiales suponen una contribución de más del 10% a la puntuación ESG global. En el sector energético, por ejemplo, los factores materiales son: emisiones y energía, biodiversidad y contaminación, salud y seguridad, comunidades locales y derechos humanos. Si desea obtener una descripción más completa de los sectores y factores, consulte la Declaración Reglamentaria ESG de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.lu. Para contribuir a los objetivos anteriores, la empresa participada no debe tener una exposición significativa a actividades (por ejemplo, tabaco, armas, juegos de azar, carbón, aviación, producción de carne, fabricación de fertilizantes y pesticidas, producción de plásticos de un solo uso) que no sean compatibles con dichos criterios.

El carácter sostenible de una inversión se evalúa a nivel de la empresa participada.

Las principales incidencias adversas son los efectos negativos más significativos de las decisiones de inversión sobre los factores de sostenibilidad relacionados con cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y laborales, el respeto de los derechos humanos y la lucha contra la corrupción y el soborno.

- ¿De qué manera las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero realizó parcialmente no causaron un perjuicio significativo a ningún objetivo de inversión sostenible desde el punto de vista medioambiental o social?

Para garantizar que las inversiones sostenibles no causan un perjuicio significativo ("DNSH"), Amundi utiliza dos filtros:

Más allá de los factores específicos de sostenibilidad cubiertos en el primer filtro, Amundi ha definido un segundo filtro, que no tiene en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas mencionados anteriormente, con el fin de verificar que la empresa no obtiene malos resultados desde un punto de vista medioambiental o social global en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, lo que corresponde a una puntuación medioambiental o social superior o igual a E utilizando la calificación ESG de Amundi.

- ¿Cómo se tuvieron en cuenta los indicadores de incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

Los indicadores de incidencias adversas se han tenido en cuenta tal y como se detalla en el primer filtro de no causar un daño significativo (DNSH) anterior.

El primer filtro DNSH se basa en el seguimiento de los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas del Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 cuando se dispone de datos sólidos mediante la combinación de los siguientes indicadores y umbrales o normas específicas:

- Tener una intensidad de CO<sub>2</sub> que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector (solo se aplica a sectores de alta intensidad), y
- Tener una diversidad en el Consejo de Administración que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, y
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con las condiciones de trabajo y los derechos humanos.
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con la biodiversidad y la contaminación

- ¿Estaban las inversiones sostenibles alineadas con las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos? Detalles:

Sí, las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos están integrados en nuestra metodología de puntuación ESG. Nuestra herramienta de calificación ESG propia evalúa a los emisores utilizando los datos disponibles de nuestros proveedores de datos. Por ejemplo, el modelo cuenta con un criterio específico denominado "Participación en la comunidad y derechos humanos", que se aplica a todos los sectores, además de otros criterios relacionados con los derechos humanos, como las cadenas de suministro socialmente responsables, las condiciones de trabajo y las relaciones laborales. Además, realizamos un seguimiento de las controversias, como mínimo trimestralmente, que incluye a las empresas identificadas por vulneraciones de los derechos humanos. Cuando surgen controversias, los analistas evalúan la situación y aplican una puntuación a la controversia (utilizando nuestra metodología de puntuación interna) y determinan el mejor curso de acción. Las puntuaciones de controversia se actualizan trimestralmente para realizar un seguimiento de la tendencia y de los esfuerzos de corrección.

¿Cómo tuvo en cuenta este producto financiero las principales incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

El producto tiene en cuenta todas las Principales Incidencias Adversas obligatorias según el Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 que se aplica a la estrategia del producto y se basa en una combinación de políticas de exclusión (normativas y sectoriales), enfoques de implicación y voto:

- Exclusión: Amundi ha definido reglas de exclusión normativas, basadas en la actividad y sectoriales que abarcan algunos de los principales indicadores adversos de sostenibilidad enumerados por el Reglamento de Divulgación.
- Integración de factores ESG: Amundi ha adoptado normas mínimas de integración ESG aplicadas por defecto a sus fondos de capital variable y gestión activa (exclusión de emisores con calificación G y mejor puntuación media ponderada ESG superior a la del índice de referencia aplicable). Los 38 criterios utilizados en el enfoque de calificación ESG de Amundi también se diseñaron para tener en cuenta las principales incidencias en los factores de sostenibilidad, así como la calidad de la mitigación realizada, que también se tienen en cuenta a ese respecto.
- Compromiso: La interacción es un proceso continuo y orientado a un fin, cuyo objetivo es influir en las actividades o el comportamiento de las empresas participadas. El objetivo de las actividades de interacción puede clasificarse en dos categorías: comprometer a un emisor a mejorar la forma en que integra la dimensión medioambiental y social, comprometer a un emisor a mejorar su impacto en cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y relacionadas con los derechos humanos u otras cuestiones de sostenibilidad que son importantes para la sociedad y la economía mundial.
- Voto: La política de voto de Amundi responde a su análisis integral de todas las cuestiones a largo plazo que pueden influir en la creación de valor, incluidas cuestiones ESG sustanciales. Si desea obtener más información, consulte la Política de Voto de Amundi.

- Seguimiento de controversias: Amundi ha desarrollado un sistema de seguimiento de controversias que se basa en tres proveedores de datos externos para realizar un seguimiento sistemático de las controversias y su nivel de gravedad. Este enfoque cuantitativo se enriquece después con una evaluación en profundidad de cada controversia grave, dirigida por analistas ESG y la revisión periódica de su evolución. Este enfoque se aplica a todos los fondos de Amundi.

Si desea más información sobre cómo se tienen en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas, consulte la Declaración de divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.com.

Para estar alineados con la Taxonomía de la UE, los criterios para el gas fósil incluyen limitaciones de emisiones y cambio a energías totalmente renovables o combustibles con bajas emisiones de carbono para finales de 2035. En el caso de la energía nuclear, los criterios incluyen normas exhaustivas de seguridad y gestión de residuos.

Las actividades habilitadoras permiten directamente que otras actividades contribuyan de forma sustancial a un objetivo medioambiental.

¿En qué medida las inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

No

Durante el periodo no se dispuso de datos fiables sobre la alineación con la Taxonomía de la UE del gas fósil y la energía nuclear.

de emisión de gases de efecto invernadero correspondientes al mejor rendimiento.

Las actividades alineadas con la Taxonomía se expresan como porcentaje de:

- el volumen de negocio que refleja la proporción de ingresos procedentes de actividades ecológicas de las empresas participadas
- las inversiones en inmovilizado (CapEx) que muestran las inversiones ecológicas realizadas por las empresas participadas, por ejemplo, para la transición a una economía verde
- los gastos de explotación (OpEx) que reflejan las actividades operativas ecológicas de las empresas participadas

Los gráficos siguientes muestran en verde el porcentaje de inversiones que estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE. Como no existe una metodología adecuada para determinar la alineación con la Taxonomía de la deuda pública*, el primer gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía en relación con todas las inversiones del producto financiero, incluida la deuda pública, mientras que el segundo gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía solo en relación con las inversiones del producto financiero distintas de la deuda pública.

* A efectos de estos gráficos, la "deuda pública" abarca todas las exposiciones a deuda pública.

¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones en actividades de transición y habilitadoras?

A 30/06/2024, utilizando como indicador el volumen de negocio y/o los datos sobre el uso del producto obtenido de bonos verdes, la cuota de inversión del fondo en actividades de transición era del 0.00% y la cuota de inversión en actividades habilitadoras era del 0.00%. El porcentaje declarado de alineación de las inversiones del fondo con la Taxonomía de la UE no ha sido auditado por los auditores del fondo ni por terceros.

¿Cómo era el porcentaje de inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE respecto de los periodos de referencia anteriores?

Al cierre del periodo anterior, el porcentaje de inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE era del 0.00%.

son inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental que no tienen en cuenta los criterios de las actividades económicas sostenibles desde el punto de vista medioambiental.

¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

La cuota de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineado con la Taxonomía fue del 9.37% al cierre del periodo. Esto se debe al hecho de que algunos emisores se consideran inversiones sostenibles con arreglo al Reglamento sobre la divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros (SFDR), pero presentan una parte de actividades que no se ajustan a las normas de la Taxonomía de la UE, o para las que aún no se dispone de datos con vistas a realizar una evaluación conforme a la Taxonomía de la UE.

¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social?

El porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social al cierre del periodo era del 21.46%.

¿Qué inversiones se incluían en "otros", cuál era su finalidad y existían salvaguardias medioambientales o sociales mínimas?

El apartado "N.º 2 Otros" incluye el efectivo y otros instrumentos mantenidos con fines de liquidez y gestión del riesgo de la cartera. En el caso de los bonos y acciones sin calificación, se aplican unas salvaguardias medioambientales y sociales mínimas a través de un cribado de controversias respecto de los Principios del Pacto Mundial de Naciones Unidas. También puede incluir valores sin calificación ESG para los que no se disponga de los datos necesarios para cuantificar de la consecución de las características medioambientales o sociales.

¿Qué medidas se han tomado para alcanzar las características medioambientales y/o sociales durante el periodo de referencia?

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad están continuamente disponibles en el sistema de gestión de carteras, lo que permite a los gestores de carteras evaluar el impacto de sus decisiones de inversión.

Estos indicadores se integran en el marco de control de AMUNDI, repartiéndose las responsabilidades entre el primer nivel de controles, realizado por los propios equipos de Inversión, y el segundo nivel de controles, realizado por los equipos de Riesgos, que supervisan de forma continua el cumplimiento de las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el fondo.

Además, la Política de Inversión Responsable de AMUNDI establece un enfoque activo de interacción que promueve el diálogo con las empresas participadas, incluidas las que forman parte de la cartera de este producto. Nuestro Informe Anual de Interacción, disponible en <https://about.amundi.com/esg-documentation>, ofrece información detallada sobre esta iniciativa y sus resultados.

Una inversión sostenible es una inversión en una actividad económica que contribuya a un objetivo medioambiental o social, siempre que la inversión no cause un perjuicio significativo para ningún objetivo medioambiental o social y que las empresas participadas sigan prácticas de buen gobierno.

¿En qué medida se cumplieron las características medioambientales y/o sociales promovidas por este producto financiero?

Durante el ejercicio, el producto promovió continuamente las características medioambientales y/o sociales con el objetivo de lograr una puntuación ESG superior a la puntuación ESG de su universo de inversión MSCI EM EMEA. Para determinar la puntuación ESG del Producto y el universo de inversión ESG, el desempeño ESG se evaluó continuamente comparando el desempeño medio de un título frente al sector del emisor del título, con respecto a cada una de las tres características: medioambiental, social y de gobierno corporativo.

El universo de inversión es un universo de mercado general que no evalúa ni incluye componentes basados en características medioambientales y/o sociales y, por lo tanto, no pretende ser coherente con las características promovidas por el fondo. No se ha designado ningún índice de referencia ESG.

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad cuantifican cómo se alcanzan las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el producto financiero.

● ¿Cómo se comportaron los indicadores de sostenibilidad?

Amundi ha desarrollado su propio proceso interno de calificación ESG basado en el enfoque "Best-in-class". Las calificaciones adaptadas a cada sector de actividad pretenden evaluar la dinámica en la que operan las empresas.

El indicador de sostenibilidad utilizado es la puntuación ESG del Producto que se mide con respecto a la puntuación ESG del universo de inversión ESG del Producto.

Al cierre del periodo:

- La calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera es -0.024 (D).
- La calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG es -0.300 (D).

La calificación ESG de Amundi utilizada para determinar la puntuación ESG es una puntuación cuantitativa ESG traducida en siete grados, que van de la A (el universo de mejores puntuaciones) a la G (la peor). En la escala de Calificación ESG de Amundi, los títulos pertenecientes a la lista de exclusión corresponden a una G. En el caso de los emisores corporativos, el desempeño ESG se evalúa en general y a nivel de criterios relevantes comparándolo con el desempeño medio de su sector, a través de la combinación de las tres dimensiones ESG:

- Dimensión medioambiental: analiza la capacidad de los emisores para controlar su impacto medioambiental directo e indirecto, limitando su consumo de energía, reduciendo sus emisiones de efecto invernadero, luchando contra el agotamiento de los recursos y protegiendo la biodiversidad.
- Dimensión social: analiza el funcionamiento de un emisor en dos conceptos distintos: su estrategia para desarrollar su capital humano y el respeto de los derechos humanos en general;
- Dimensión de gobierno corporativo: Evalúa la capacidad del emisor para garantizar la base de un marco de gobierno corporativo eficaz y generar valor a largo plazo.

● ¿...y en comparación con periodos anteriores?

● ¿Cuáles eran los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero pretende realizar parcialmente y cómo contribuía la inversión sostenible a dichos objetivos?

Los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles son invertir en empresas participadas que traten de cumplir dos criterios:

1. seguir las mejores prácticas medioambientales y sociales; y
2. evitar fabricar productos o prestar servicios que perjudiquen al medio ambiente y a la sociedad.

Para que se considere que la empresa en la que se invierte contribuye al objetivo mencionado, debe ser uno de los "mejores actores" dentro de su sector de actividad en al menos uno de sus factores medioambientales o sociales materiales.

Reglamentaria ESG de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.lu.

Para contribuir a los objetivos anteriores, la empresa participada no debe tener una exposición significativa a actividades (por ejemplo, tabaco, armas, juegos de azar, carbón, aviación, producción de carne, fabricación de fertilizantes y pesticidas, producción de plásticos de un solo uso) que no sean compatibles con dichos criterios.

El carácter sostenible de una inversión se evalúa a nivel de la empresa participada.

Las principales incidencias adversas son los efectos negativos más significativos de las decisiones de inversión sobre los factores de sostenibilidad relacionados con cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y laborales, el respeto de los derechos humanos y la lucha contra la corrupción y el soborno.

● ¿De qué manera las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero realizó parcialmente no causaron un perjuicio significativo a ningún objetivo de inversión sostenible desde el punto de vista medioambiental o social?

Para garantizar que las inversiones sostenibles no causan un perjuicio significativo ("DNSH"), Amundi utiliza dos filtros:

Más allá de los factores específicos de sostenibilidad cubiertos en el primer filtro, Amundi ha definido un segundo filtro, que no tiene en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas mencionados anteriormente, con el fin de verificar que la empresa no obtiene malos resultados desde un punto de vista medioambiental o social global en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, lo que corresponde a una puntuación medioambiental o social superior o igual a E utilizando la calificación ESG de Amundi.

- ¿Cómo se tuvieron en cuenta los indicadores de incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

Los indicadores de incidencias adversas se han tenido en cuenta tal y como se detalla en el primer filtro de no causar un daño significativo (DNSH) anterior.

El primer filtro DNSH se basa en el seguimiento de los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas del Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 cuando se dispone de datos sólidos mediante la combinación de los siguientes indicadores y umbrales o normas específicas:

- Tener una intensidad de CO<sub>2</sub> que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector (solo se aplica a sectores de alta intensidad), y
- Tener una diversidad en el Consejo de Administración que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, y
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con las condiciones de trabajo y los derechos humanos.
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con la biodiversidad y la contaminación

- ¿Estaban las inversiones sostenibles alineadas con las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos? Detalles:

Sí, las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos están integrados en nuestra metodología de puntuación ESG. Nuestra herramienta de calificación ESG propia evalúa a los emisores utilizando los datos disponibles de nuestros proveedores de datos.

Por ejemplo, el modelo cuenta con un criterio específico denominado "Participación en la comunidad y derechos humanos", que se aplica a todos los sectores, además de otros criterios relacionados con los derechos humanos, como las cadenas de suministro socialmente responsables, las condiciones de trabajo y las relaciones laborales. Además, realizamos un seguimiento de las controversias, como mínimo trimestralmente, que incluye a las empresas identificadas por vulneraciones de los derechos humanos. Cuando surgen controversias, los analistas evalúan la situación y aplican una puntuación a la controversia (utilizando nuestra metodología de puntuación interna) y determinan el mejor curso de acción. Las puntuaciones de controversia se actualizan trimestralmente para realizar un seguimiento de la tendencia y de los esfuerzos de corrección.

¿Cómo tuvo en cuenta este producto financiero las principales incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

El producto tiene en cuenta todas las Principales Incidencias Adversas obligatorias según el Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 que se aplica a la estrategia del producto y se basa en una combinación de políticas de exclusión (normativas y sectoriales), enfoques de implicación y voto:

- Exclusión: Amundi ha definido reglas de exclusión normativas, basadas en la actividad y sectoriales que abarcan algunos de los principales indicadores adversos de sostenibilidad enumerados por el Reglamento de Divulgación.
- Integración de factores ESG: Amundi ha adoptado normas mínimas de integración ESG aplicadas por defecto a sus fondos de capital variable y gestión activa (exclusión de emisores con calificación G y mejor puntuación media ponderada ESG superior a la del índice de referencia aplicable). Los 38 criterios utilizados en el enfoque de calificación ESG de Amundi también se diseñaron para tener en cuenta las principales incidencias en los factores de sostenibilidad, así como la calidad de la mitigación realizada, que también se tienen en cuenta a ese respecto.
- Compromiso: La interacción es un proceso continuo y orientado a un fin, cuyo objetivo es influir en las actividades o el comportamiento de las empresas participadas. El objetivo de las actividades de interacción puede clasificarse en dos categorías: comprometer a un emisor a mejorar la forma en que integra la dimensión medioambiental y social, comprometer a un emisor a mejorar su impacto en cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y relacionadas con los derechos humanos u otras cuestiones de sostenibilidad que son importantes para la sociedad y la economía mundial.
- Seguimiento de controversias: Amundi ha desarrollado un sistema de seguimiento de controversias que se basa en tres proveedores de datos externos para realizar un seguimiento sistemático de las controversias y su nivel de gravedad. Este enfoque cuantitativo se enriquece después con una evaluación en profundidad de cada controversia grave, dirigida por analistas ESG y la revisión periódica de su evolución. Este enfoque se aplica a todos los fondos de Amundi.

Si desea más información sobre cómo se tienen en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas, consulte la Declaración de divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.com.

La asignación de activos describe la proporción de inversiones en activos específicos.

N.º 1 Alineación con características E/S incluye las inversiones del producto financiero utilizadas para alcanzar las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el producto financiero.

N.º 2 Otros incluye el resto de inversiones del producto financiero que no están alineadas con las características medioambientales o sociales, ni están calificadas como inversiones sostenibles.

La categoría N.º 1 Alineado con las características E/S abarca:

- La subcategoría N.º 1A Sostenible abarca las inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista medioambiental y social.
- La subcategoría N.º 1B Otras características E/S abarca las inversiones alineadas con las características medioambientales o sociales que no se califican como inversiones sostenibles.

Para estar alineados con la Taxonomía de la UE, los criterios para el gas fósil incluyen limitaciones de emisiones y cambio a energías totalmente renovables o combustibles con bajas emisiones de carbono para finales de 2035. En el caso de la energía nuclear, los criterios incluyen normas exhaustivas de seguridad y gestión de residuos

Las actividades habilitadoras permiten directamente que otras actividades contribuyan de forma sustancial a un objetivo medioambiental.

Las actividades de transición son actividades para las que aún no se dispone de alternativas con bajas emisiones de carbono y, entre otros, tienen niveles de emisión de gases de

¿En qué medida las inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

El fondo promueve características tanto medioambientales como sociales. Aunque el fondo no se comprometió a realizar inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE, durante el periodo contable el fondo invirtió un 0.12% en inversiones sostenibles alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE. Estas inversiones contribuyeron a los objetivos de mitigación del cambio climático de la Taxonomía de la UE.

La alineación de las empresas participadas con los objetivos de la Taxonomía de la UE antes mencionados se cuantifica utilizando datos sobre el volumen de negocio (o los ingresos) y/o el uso del producto obtenido de bonos verdes.

☐ Sí:

☐ En gas fósil    ☐ En energía nuclear

☒ No

Durante el periodo no se dispuso de datos fiables sobre la alineación con la Taxonomía de la UE del gas fósil y la energía nuclear.

Las actividades alineadas con la Taxonomía se expresan como porcentaje de: -el volumen de negocio que refleja la proporción de ingresos procedentes de actividades ecológicas de las empresas participadas -las inversiones en inmovilizado (CapEx) que muestran las inversiones ecológicas realizadas por las empresas participadas, por ejemplo, para la transición a una economía verde - los gastos de explotación (OpEx) que reflejan las actividades operativas ecológicas de las empresas participadas

Los gráficos siguientes muestran en verde el porcentaje de inversiones que estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE. Como no existe una metodología adecuada para determinar la alineación con la Taxonomía de la deuda pública*, el primer gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía en relación con todas las inversiones del producto financiero, incluida la deuda pública, mientras que el segundo gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía solo en relación con las inversiones del producto financiero distintas de la deuda pública.

● ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones en actividades de transición y habilitadoras?

A 30/06/2024, utilizando como indicador el volumen de negocio y/o los datos sobre el uso del producto obtenido de bonos verdes, la cuota de inversión del fondo en actividades de transición era del 0.45% y la cuota de inversión en actividades habilitadoras era del 1.29%. El porcentaje declarado de alineación de las inversiones del fondo con la Taxonomía de la UE no ha sido auditado por los auditores del fondo ni por terceros.

● ¿Cómo era el porcentaje de inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE respecto de los periodos de referencia anteriores?

Al cierre del periodo anterior, el porcentaje de inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE era del 0.00%.

son inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental que no tienen en cuenta los criterios de las actividades económicas sostenibles desde el punto de vista medioambiental en virtud del Reglamento (UE) 2020/852.

● ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

La cuota de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineado con la Taxonomía fue del 24.96% al cierre del periodo.

Esto se debe al hecho de que algunos emisores se consideran inversiones sostenibles con arreglo al Reglamento sobre la divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros (SFDR), pero presentan una parte de actividades que no se ajustan a las normas de la Taxonomía de la UE, o para las que aún no se dispone de datos con vistas a realizar una evaluación conforme a la Taxonomía de la UE.

● ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social?

El porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social al cierre del periodo era del 3.46%.

● ¿Qué inversiones se incluían en "otros", cuál era su finalidad y existían salvaguardias medioambientales o sociales mínimas?

El apartado "N.º 2 Otros" incluye el efectivo y otros instrumentos mantenidos con fines de liquidez y gestión del riesgo de la cartera. En el caso de los bonos y acciones sin calificación, se aplican unas salvaguardias medioambientales y sociales mínimas a través de un cribado de controversias respecto de los Principios del Pacto Mundial de Naciones Unidas. También puede incluir valores sin calificación ESG para los que no se disponga de los datos necesarios para cuantificar de la consecución de las características medioambientales o sociales.

¿Qué medidas se han tomado para alcanzar las características medioambientales y/o sociales durante el periodo de referencia?

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad están continuamente disponibles en el sistema de gestión de carteras, lo que permite a los gestores de carteras evaluar el impacto de sus decisiones de inversión. Estos indicadores se integran en el marco de control de AMUNDI, repartiéndose las responsabilidades entre el primer nivel de controles, realizado por los propios equipos de Inversión, y el segundo nivel de controles, realizado por los equipos de Riesgos, que supervisan de forma continua el cumplimiento de las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el fondo.

Además, la Política de Inversión Responsable de AMUNDI establece un enfoque activo de interacción que promueve el diálogo con las empresas participadas, incluidas las que forman parte de la cartera de este producto. Nuestro Informe Anual de Interacción, disponible en <https://about.amundi.com/esg-documentation>, ofrece información detallada sobre esta iniciativa y sus resultados.

Una inversión sostenible es una inversión en una actividad económica que contribuya a un objetivo medioambiental o social, siempre que la inversión no cause un perjuicio significativo para ningún objetivo medioambiental o social y que las empresas participadas sigan prácticas de buen gobierno.

Dicho Reglamento no incluye una lista de actividades económicas socialmente sostenibles. Las inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental podrían estar alineadas con la Taxonomía o no.

¿En qué medida se cumplieron las características medioambientales y/o sociales promovidas por este producto financiero?

Durante el ejercicio, el producto promovió continuamente las características medioambientales y/o sociales con el objetivo de lograr una puntuación ESG superior a la puntuación ESG de su universo de inversión MSCI EM (EMERGING MARKETS). Para determinar la puntuación ESG del Producto y el universo de inversión ESG, el desempeño ESG se evaluó continuamente comparando el desempeño medio de un título frente al sector del emisor del título, con respecto a cada una de las tres características: medioambiental, social y de gobierno corporativo.

El universo de inversión es un universo de mercado general que no evalúa ni incluye componentes basados en características medioambientales y/o sociales y, por lo tanto, no pretende ser coherente con las características promovidas por el fondo. No se ha designado ningún índice de referencia ESG.

● ¿Cómo se comportaron los indicadores de sostenibilidad?

Amundi ha desarrollado su propio proceso interno de calificación ESG basado en el enfoque "Best-in-class". Las calificaciones adaptadas a cada sector de actividad pretenden evaluar la dinámica en la que operan las empresas.

El indicador de sostenibilidad utilizado es la puntuación ESG del Producto que se mide con respecto a la puntuación ESG del universo de inversión ESG del Producto.

Al cierre del periodo:

- La calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera es 0.103 (D).
- La calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG es -0.099 (D).

La calificación ESG de Amundi utilizada para determinar la puntuación ESG es una puntuación cuantitativa ESG traducida en siete grados, que van de la A (el universo de mejores puntuaciones) a la G (la peor). En la escala de Calificación ESG de Amundi, los títulos pertenecientes a la lista de exclusión corresponden a una G. En el caso de los emisores corporativos, el desempeño ESG se evalúa en general y a nivel de criterios relevantes comparándolo con el desempeño medio de su sector, a través de la combinación de las tres dimensiones ESG:

- Dimensión medioambiental: analiza la capacidad de los emisores para controlar su impacto medioambiental directo e indirecto, limitando su consumo de energía, reduciendo sus emisiones de efecto invernadero, luchando contra el agotamiento de los recursos y protegiendo la biodiversidad.
- Dimensión social: analiza el funcionamiento de un emisor en dos conceptos distintos: su estrategia para desarrollar su capital humano y el respeto de los derechos humanos en general.
- Dimensión de gobierno corporativo: Evalúa la capacidad del emisor para garantizar la base de un marco de gobierno corporativo eficaz y generar valor a largo plazo.

● ¿...y en comparación con periodos anteriores?

Al cierre del periodo anterior, la calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera era de 0.08 (D) y la calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG era de -0.10 (D).

● ¿Cuáles eran los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero pretende realizar parcialmente y cómo contribuía la inversión sostenible a dichos objetivos?

Los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles son invertir en empresas participadas que traten de cumplir dos criterios:

1. seguir las mejores prácticas medioambientales y sociales; y
2. evitar fabricar productos o prestar servicios que perjudiquen al medio ambiente y a la sociedad.

Para que se considere que la empresa en la que se invierte contribuye al objetivo mencionado, debe ser uno de los "mejores actores" dentro de su sector de actividad en al menos uno de sus factores medioambientales o sociales materiales.

sostenibilidad afines. Los factores identificados como materiales suponen una contribución de más del 10% a la puntuación ESG global. En el sector energético, por ejemplo, los factores materiales son: emisiones y energía, biodiversidad y contaminación, salud y seguridad, comunidades locales y derechos humanos. Si desea obtener una descripción más completa de los sectores y factores, consulte la Declaración Reglamentaria ESG de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.lu.

Para contribuir a los objetivos anteriores, la empresa participada no debe tener una exposición significativa a actividades (por ejemplo, tabaco, armas, juegos de azar, carbón, aviación, producción de carne, fabricación de fertilizantes y pesticidas, producción de plásticos de un solo uso) que no sean compatibles con dichos criterios.

El carácter sostenible de una inversión se evalúa a nivel de la empresa participada.

- ¿De qué manera las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero realizó parcialmente no causaron un perjuicio significativo a ningún objetivo de inversión sostenible desde el punto de vista medioambiental o social?

Para garantizar que las inversiones sostenibles no causan un perjuicio significativo ("DNSH"), Amundi utiliza dos filtros:

Más allá de los factores específicos de sostenibilidad cubiertos en el primer filtro, Amundi ha definido un segundo filtro, que no tiene en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas mencionados anteriormente, con el fin de verificar que la empresa no obtiene malos resultados desde un punto de vista medioambiental o social global en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, lo que corresponde a una puntuación medioambiental o social superior o igual a E utilizando la calificación ESG de Amundi.

- ¿Cómo se tuvieron en cuenta los indicadores de incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

Los indicadores de incidencias adversas se han tenido en cuenta tal y como se detalla en el primer filtro de no causar un daño significativo (DNSH) anterior.

El primer filtro DNSH se basa en el seguimiento de los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas del Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 cuando se dispone de datos sólidos mediante la combinación de los siguientes indicadores y umbrales o normas específicas:

- Tener una intensidad de CO<sub>2</sub> que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector (solo se aplica a sectores de alta intensidad), y
- Tener una diversidad en el Consejo de Administración que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, y
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con las condiciones de trabajo y los derechos humanos.
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con la biodiversidad y la contaminación

- ¿Estaban las inversiones sostenibles alineadas con las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos? Detalles:

Las principales incidencias adversas son los efectos negativos más significativos de las decisiones de inversión sobre los factores de sostenibilidad relacionados con cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y laborales, el respeto de los derechos humanos y la lucha contra la corrupción y el soborno.

Sí, las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos están integrados en nuestra metodología de puntuación ESG. Nuestra herramienta de calificación ESG propia evalúa a los emisores utilizando los datos disponibles de nuestros proveedores de datos. Por ejemplo, el modelo cuenta con un criterio específico denominado "Participación en la comunidad y derechos humanos", que se aplica a todos los sectores, además de otros criterios relacionados con los derechos humanos, como las cadenas de suministro socialmente responsables, las condiciones de trabajo y las relaciones laborales. Además, realizamos un seguimiento de las controversias, como mínimo trimestralmente, que incluye a las empresas identificadas por vulneraciones de los derechos humanos. Cuando surgen controversias, los analistas evalúan la situación y aplican una puntuación a la controversia (utilizando nuestra metodología de puntuación interna) y determinan el mejor curso de acción. Las puntuaciones de controversia se actualizan trimestralmente para realizar un seguimiento de la tendencia y de los esfuerzos de corrección.

¿Cómo tuvo en cuenta este producto financiero las principales incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

El producto tiene en cuenta todas las Principales Incidencias Adversas obligatorias según el Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 que se aplica a la estrategia del producto y se basa en una combinación de políticas de exclusión (normativas y sectoriales), enfoques de implicación y voto:

- Exclusión: Amundi ha definido reglas de exclusión normativas, basadas en la actividad y sectoriales que abarcan algunos de los principales indicadores adversos de sostenibilidad enumerados por el Reglamento de Divulgación.
- Integración de factores ESG: Amundi ha adoptado normas mínimas de integración ESG aplicadas por defecto a sus fondos de capital variable y gestión activa (exclusión de emisores con calificación G y mejor puntuación media ponderada ESG superior a la del índice de referencia aplicable). Los 38 criterios utilizados en el enfoque de calificación ESG de Amundi también se diseñaron para tener en cuenta las principales incidencias en los factores de sostenibilidad, así como la calidad de la mitigación realizada, que también se tienen en cuenta a ese respecto.
- Compromiso: La interacción es un proceso continuo y orientado a un fin, cuyo objetivo es influir en las actividades o el comportamiento de las empresas participadas. El objetivo de las actividades de interacción puede clasificarse en dos categorías: comprometer a un emisor a mejorar la forma en que integra la dimensión medioambiental y social, comprometer a un emisor a mejorar su impacto en cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y relacionadas con los derechos humanos u otras cuestiones de sostenibilidad que son importantes para la sociedad y la economía mundial.
- Voto: La política de voto de Amundi responde a su análisis integral de todas las cuestiones a largo plazo que pueden influir en la creación de valor, incluidas cuestiones ESG sustanciales. Si desea obtener más información, consulte la Política de Voto de Amundi.

- Seguimiento de controversias: Amundi ha desarrollado un sistema de seguimiento de controversias que se basa en tres proveedores de datos externos para realizar un seguimiento sistemático de las controversias y su nivel de gravedad. Este enfoque cuantitativo se enriquece después con una evaluación en profundidad de cada controversia grave, dirigida por analistas ESG y la revisión periódica de su evolución. Este enfoque se aplica a todos los fondos de Amundi.

Si desea más información sobre cómo se tienen en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas, consulte la Declaración de divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.com.

Para estar alineados con la Taxonomía de la UE, los criterios para el gas fósil incluyen limitaciones de emisiones y cambio a energías totalmente renovables o combustibles con bajas emisiones de carbono para finales de 2035. En el caso de la energía nuclear, los criterios incluyen normas exhaustivas de seguridad y gestión de residuos.

Las actividades habilitadoras permiten directamente que otras actividades contribuyan de forma sustancial a un objetivo medioambiental.

¿En qué medida las inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

- ¿Invirtió el producto financiero en actividades relacionadas con el gas fósil y/o la energía nuclear que se ajustaban a la Taxonomía de la UE<sup>1</sup>?

Sí:

No

Durante el periodo no se dispuso de datos fiables sobre la alineación con la Taxonomía de la UE del gas fósil y la energía nuclear.

Las actividades alineadas con la Taxonomía se expresan como porcentaje de:

- el volumen de negocio que refleja la proporción de ingresos procedentes de actividades ecológicas de las empresas participadas
- las inversiones en inmovilizado (CapEx) que muestran las inversiones ecológicas realizadas por las empresas participadas, por ejemplo, para la transición a una economía verde
- los gastos de explotación (OpEx) que reflejan las actividades operativas ecológicas de las empresas participadas

Los gráficos siguientes muestran en verde el porcentaje de inversiones que estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE. Como no existe una metodología adecuada para determinar la alineación con la Taxonomía de la deuda pública*, el primer gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía en relación con todas las inversiones del producto financiero, incluida la deuda pública, mientras que el segundo gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía solo en relación con las inversiones del producto financiero distintas de la deuda pública.

* A efectos de estos gráficos, la "deuda pública" abarca todas las exposiciones a deuda pública.

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad están continuamente disponibles en el sistema de gestión de carteras, lo que permite a los gestores de carteras evaluar el impacto de sus decisiones de inversión.

Estos indicadores se integran en el marco de control de AMUNDI, repartiéndose las responsabilidades entre el primer nivel de controles, realizado por los propios equipos de Inversión, y el segundo nivel de controles, realizado por los equipos de Riesgos, que supervisan de forma continua el cumplimiento de las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el fondo.

Además, la Política de Inversión Responsable de AMUNDI establece un enfoque activo de interacción que promueve el diálogo con las empresas participadas, incluidas las que forman parte de la cartera de este producto. Nuestro Informe Anual de Interacción, disponible en <https://about.amundi.com/esg-documentation>, ofrece información detallada sobre esta iniciativa y sus resultados.

Una inversión sostenible es una inversión en una actividad económica que contribuya a un objetivo medioambiental o social, siempre que la inversión no cause un perjuicio significativo para ningún objetivo medioambiental o social y que las empresas participadas sigan prácticas de buen gobierno.

¿En qué medida se cumplieron las características medioambientales y/o sociales promovidas por este producto financiero?

Durante el ejercicio, el producto promovió continuamente las características medioambientales y/o sociales con el objetivo de lograr una puntuación ESG superior a la puntuación ESG de su universo de inversión MSCI EM (EMERGING MARKETS) EX CHINA. Para determinar la puntuación ESG del Producto y el universo de inversión ESG, el desempeño ESG se evaluó continuamente comparando el desempeño medio de un título frente al sector del emisor del título, con respecto a cada una de las tres características: medioambiental, social y de gobierno corporativo.

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad cuantifican cómo

se alcanzan las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el producto financiero.

Amundi ha desarrollado su propio proceso interno de calificación ESG basado en el enfoque "Best-in-class". Las calificaciones adaptadas a cada sector de actividad pretenden evaluar la dinámica en la que operan las empresas.

El indicador de sostenibilidad utilizado es la puntuación ESG del Producto que se mide con respecto a la puntuación ESG del universo de inversión ESG del Producto.

Al cierre del periodo:

- La calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera es 0.193 (D).
- La calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG es 0.097 (D).

La calificación ESG de Amundi utilizada para determinar la puntuación ESG es una puntuación cuantitativa ESG traducida en siete grados, que van de la A (el universo de mejores puntuaciones) a la G (la peor). En la escala de Calificación ESG de Amundi, los títulos pertenecientes a la lista de exclusión corresponden a una G. En el caso de los emisores corporativos, el desempeño ESG se evalúa en general y a nivel de criterios relevantes comparándolo con el desempeño medio de su sector, a través de la combinación de las tres dimensiones ESG:

- Dimensión medioambiental: analiza la capacidad de los emisores para controlar su impacto medioambiental directo e indirecto, limitando su consumo de energía, reduciendo sus emisiones de efecto invernadero, luchando contra el agotamiento de los recursos y protegiendo la biodiversidad.
- Dimensión social: analiza el funcionamiento de un emisor en dos conceptos distintos: su estrategia para desarrollar su capital humano y el respeto de los derechos humanos en general.
- Dimensión de gobierno corporativo: Evalúa la capacidad del emisor para garantizar la base de un marco de gobierno corporativo eficaz y generar valor a largo plazo.

● ¿...y en comparación con periodos anteriores?

Este es el primer informe periódico del SFDR elaborado para este subfondo.

● ¿Cuáles eran los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero pretende realizar parcialmente y cómo contribuía la inversión sostenible a dichos objetivos?

Los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles son invertir en empresas participadas que traten de cumplir dos criterios:

1. seguir las mejores prácticas medioambientales y sociales; y
2. evitar fabricar productos o prestar servicios que perjudiquen al medio ambiente y a la sociedad.

Para que se considere que la empresa en la que se invierte contribuye al objetivo mencionado, debe ser uno de los "mejores actores" dentro de su sector de actividad en al menos uno de sus factores medioambientales o sociales materiales.

La definición de "mejor actor" se basa en la metodología ESG propia de Amundi, cuyo objetivo es cuantificar el desempeño ESG de una empresa participada. Para ser considerada "mejor actor", una empresa participada debe obtener las tres mejores calificaciones (A, B o C, en una escala de calificación que va de la A a la G) dentro de su sector en al menos un factor medioambiental o social material. Los factores medioambientales y sociales materiales se identifican a nivel sectorial. La identificación de factores materiales se basa en el marco de análisis ESG de Amundi, que combina datos extrafinancieros y análisis cualitativos de temáticas sectoriales y de sostenibilidad afines. Los factores identificados como materiales suponen una contribución de más del 10% a la puntuación ESG global. En el sector energético, por ejemplo, los factores materiales son: emisiones y energía, biodiversidad y contaminación, salud y seguridad, comunidades locales y derechos humanos. Si desea obtener una descripción más completa de los sectores y factores, consulte la Declaración Reglamentaria ESG de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.lu.

compatibles con dichos criterios.

El carácter sostenible de una inversión se evalúa a nivel de la empresa participada.

Las principales incidencias adversas

son los efectos negativos más significativos de las decisiones de inversión sobre los factores de sostenibilidad relacionados con cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y laborales, el respeto de los derechos humanos y la lucha contra la corrupción y el soborno.

● ¿De qué manera las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero realizó parcialmente no causaron un perjuicio significativo a ningún objetivo de inversión sostenible desde el punto de vista medioambiental o social?

Para garantizar que las inversiones sostenibles no causan un perjuicio significativo ("DNSH"), Amundi utiliza dos filtros:

Más allá de los factores específicos de sostenibilidad cubiertos en el primer filtro, Amundi ha definido un segundo filtro, que no tiene en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas mencionados anteriormente, con el fin de verificar que la empresa no obtiene malos resultados desde un punto de vista medioambiental o social global en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, lo que corresponde a una puntuación medioambiental o social superior o igual a E utilizando la calificación ESG de Amundi.

- ¿Cómo se tuvieron en cuenta los indicadores de incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

Los indicadores de incidencias adversas se han tenido en cuenta tal y como se detalla en el primer filtro de no causar un daño significativo (DNSH) anterior.

El primer filtro DNSH se basa en el seguimiento de los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas del Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 cuando se dispone de datos sólidos mediante la combinación de los siguientes indicadores y umbrales o normas específicas:

- Tener una intensidad de CO<sub>2</sub> que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector (solo se aplica a sectores de alta intensidad), y
- Tener una diversidad en el Consejo de Administración que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, y
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con las condiciones de trabajo y los derechos humanos.
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con la biodiversidad y la contaminación

- ¿Estaban las inversiones sostenibles alineadas con las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos? Detalles:

Sí, las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos están integrados en nuestra metodología de puntuación ESG. Nuestra herramienta de calificación ESG propia evalúa a los emisores utilizando los datos disponibles de nuestros proveedores de datos. Por ejemplo, el modelo cuenta con un criterio específico denominado "Participación en la comunidad y derechos humanos", que se aplica a todos los sectores, además de otros criterios relacionados con los derechos humanos, como las cadenas de suministro socialmente responsables, las condiciones de trabajo y las relaciones laborales. Además, realizamos un seguimiento de las controversias, como mínimo trimestralmente, que incluye a las empresas identificadas por vulneraciones de los derechos humanos. Cuando surgen controversias, los analistas evalúan la situación y aplican una puntuación a la controversia (utilizando nuestra metodología de puntuación interna) y determinan el mejor curso de acción. Las puntuaciones de controversia se actualizan trimestralmente para realizar un seguimiento de la tendencia y de los esfuerzos de corrección.

¿Cómo tuvo en cuenta este producto financiero las principales incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

El producto tiene en cuenta todas las Principales Incidencias Adversas obligatorias según el Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 que se aplica a la estrategia del producto y se basa en una combinación de políticas de exclusión (normativas y sectoriales), enfoques de implicación y voto:

- Exclusión: Amundi ha definido reglas de exclusión normativas, basadas en la actividad y sectoriales que abarcan algunos de los principales indicadores adversos de sostenibilidad enumerados por el Reglamento de Divulgación.
- Integración de factores ESG: Amundi ha adoptado normas mínimas de integración ESG aplicadas por defecto a sus fondos de capital variable y gestión activa (exclusión de emisores con calificación G y mejor puntuación media ponderada ESG superior a la del índice de referencia aplicable). Los 38 criterios utilizados en el enfoque de calificación ESG de Amundi también se diseñaron para tener en cuenta las principales incidencias en los factores de sostenibilidad, así como la calidad de la mitigación realizada, que también se tienen en cuenta a ese respecto.
- Compromiso: La interacción es un proceso continuo y orientado a un fin, cuyo objetivo es influir en las actividades o el comportamiento de las empresas participadas. El objetivo de las actividades de interacción puede clasificarse en dos categorías: comprometer a un emisor a mejorar la forma en que integra la dimensión medioambiental y social, comprometer a un emisor a mejorar su impacto en cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y relacionadas con los derechos humanos u otras cuestiones de sostenibilidad que son importantes para la sociedad y la economía mundial.
- Seguimiento de controversias: Amundi ha desarrollado un sistema de seguimiento de controversias que se basa en tres proveedores de datos externos para realizar un seguimiento sistemático de las controversias y su nivel de gravedad. Este enfoque cuantitativo se enriquece después con una evaluación en profundidad de cada controversia grave, dirigida por analistas ESG y la revisión periódica de su evolución. Este enfoque se aplica a todos los fondos de Amundi.

Si desea más información sobre cómo se tienen en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas, consulte la Declaración de divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.com.

El fondo promueve características tanto medioambientales como sociales. Aunque el fondo no se comprometió a realizar inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE, durante el periodo contable el fondo invirtió un 0.00% en inversiones sostenibles alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE.

- ¿Invirtió el producto financiero en actividades relacionadas con el gas fósil y/o la energía nuclear que se ajustaban a la Taxonomía de la UE?

carbono para finales de 2035. En el caso de la energía nuclear, los criterios incluyen normas exhaustivas de seguridad y gestión de residuos

Las actividades habilitadoras permiten directamente que otras actividades contribuyan de forma sustancial a un objetivo medioambiental.

Las actividades de transición son actividades para las que aún no se dispone de alternativas con bajas emisiones de carbono y, entre otros, tienen niveles de emisión de gases de efecto invernadero correspondientes al mejor rendimiento.

☐ Sí:

☐ En gas fósil

☐ En energía nuclear

☒ No

Durante el periodo no se dispuso de datos fiables sobre la alineación con la Taxonomía de la UE del gas fósil y la energía nuclear.

¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

La cuota de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineado con la Taxonomía fue del 29.22% al cierre del periodo.

Esto se debe al hecho de que algunos emisores se consideran inversiones sostenibles con arreglo al Reglamento sobre la divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros (SFDR), pero presentan una parte de actividades que no se ajustan a las normas de la Taxonomía de la UE, o para las que aún no se dispone de datos con vistas a realizar una evaluación conforme a la Taxonomía de la UE.

¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social?

El porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social al cierre del periodo era del 6.88%.

¿Qué inversiones se incluían en "otros", cuál era su finalidad y existían salvaguardias medioambientales o sociales mínimas?

El apartado "N.º 2 Otros" incluye el efectivo y otros instrumentos mantenidos con fines de liquidez y gestión del riesgo de la cartera. En el caso de los bonos y acciones sin calificación, se aplican unas salvaguardias medioambientales y sociales mínimas a través de un cribado de controversias respecto de los Principios del Pacto Mundial de Naciones Unidas. También puede incluir valores sin calificación ESG para los que no se disponga de los datos necesarios para cuantificar de la consecución de las características medioambientales o sociales.

¿Qué medidas se han tomado para alcanzar las características medioambientales y/o sociales durante el periodo de referencia?

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad están continuamente disponibles en el sistema de gestión de carteras, lo que permite a los gestores de carteras evaluar el impacto de sus decisiones de inversión.

Estos indicadores se integran en el marco de control de AMUNDI, repartiéndose las responsabilidades entre el primer nivel de controles, realizado por los propios equipos de Inversión, y el segundo nivel de controles, realizado por los equipos de Riesgos, que supervisan de forma continua el cumplimiento de las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el fondo.

Además, la Política de Inversión Responsable de AMUNDI establece un enfoque activo de interacción que promueve el diálogo con las empresas participadas, incluidas las que forman parte de la cartera de este producto. Nuestro Informe Anual de Interacción, disponible en <https://about.amundi.com/esg-documentation>, ofrece información detallada sobre esta iniciativa y sus resultados.

Una inversión sostenible es una inversión en una actividad económica que contribuya a un objetivo medioambiental o social, siempre que la inversión no cause un perjuicio significativo para ningún objetivo medioambiental o social y que las empresas participadas sigan prácticas de buen gobierno.

¿En qué medida se cumplieron las características medioambientales y/o sociales promovidas por este producto financiero?

Durante el ejercicio, el producto promovió continuamente las características medioambientales y/o sociales con el objetivo de lograr una puntuación ESG superior a la puntuación ESG de su universo de inversión MSCI EM (EMERGING MARKETS). Para determinar la puntuación ESG del Producto y el universo de inversión ESG, el desempeño ESG se evaluó continuamente comparando el desempeño medio de un título frente al sector del emisor del título, con respecto a cada una de las tres características: medioambiental, social y de gobierno corporativo.

La gestora de inversiones ha centrado el proceso de inversión en empresas/sectores/países que han adoptado, o adoptarán, una trayectoria positiva en materia de ESG dentro de su negocio. La gestora de inversiones identificó oportunidades de inversión alineadas con el objetivo de generar alfa, centrándose en particular en la inclusión de empresas/sectores/países que serán sólidos ganadores en materia de ESG en el futuro, que tienen (o tendrán) una mejora positiva del perfil ESG, al tiempo que invierte en empresas/sectores/países que actualmente son líderes en materia de ESG.

Además, el Subfondo busca lograr una puntuación ESG en su cartera superior a la del Índice de referencia. El Subfondo se comparó con la puntuación ESG de su Índice de referencia después de excluir del Índice de referencia el 20% de los valores con la calificación ESG más baja.

● ¿Cómo se comportaron los indicadores de sostenibilidad?

Amundi ha desarrollado su propio proceso interno de calificación ESG basado en el enfoque "Best-in-class". Las calificaciones adaptadas a cada sector de actividad pretenden evaluar la dinámica en la que operan las empresas.

El indicador de sostenibilidad utilizado es la puntuación ESG del Producto que se mide con respecto a la puntuación ESG del universo de inversión ESG del Producto.

Al cierre del periodo:

- La calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera es 0.356 (D).
- La calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG es -0.099 (D).

La calificación ESG de Amundi utilizada para determinar la puntuación ESG es una puntuación cuantitativa ESG traducida en siete grados, que van de la A (el universo de mejores puntuaciones) a la G (la peor). En la escala de Calificación ESG de Amundi, los títulos pertenecientes a la lista de exclusión corresponden a una G. En el caso de los emisores corporativos, el desempeño ESG se evalúa en general y a nivel de criterios relevantes comparándolo con el desempeño medio de su sector, a través de la combinación de las tres dimensiones ESG:

- Dimensión medioambiental: analiza la capacidad de los emisores para controlar su impacto medioambiental directo e indirecto, limitando su consumo de energía, reduciendo sus emisiones de efecto invernadero, luchando contra el agotamiento de los recursos y protegiendo la biodiversidad.
- Dimensión social: analiza el funcionamiento de un emisor en dos conceptos distintos: su estrategia para desarrollar su capital humano y el respeto de los derechos humanos en general;
- Dimensión de gobierno corporativo: Evalúa la capacidad del emisor para garantizar la base de un marco de gobierno corporativo eficaz y generar valor a largo plazo.

● ¿...y en comparación con periodos anteriores?

Al cierre del periodo anterior, la calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera era de 0.37 (D) y la calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG era de -0.10 (D).

● ¿Cuáles eran los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero pretende realizar parcialmente y cómo contribuía la inversión sostenible a dichos objetivos?

Los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles son invertir en empresas participadas que traten de cumplir dos criterios:

1. seguir las mejores prácticas medioambientales y sociales; y
2. evitar fabricar productos o prestar servicios que perjudiquen al medio ambiente y a la sociedad.

Para que se considere que la empresa en la que se invierte contribuye al objetivo mencionado, debe ser uno de los "mejores actores" dentro de su sector de actividad en al menos uno de sus factores medioambientales o sociales materiales.

La definición de "mejor actor" se basa en la metodología ESG propia de Amundi, cuyo objetivo es cuantificar el desempeño ESG de una empresa participada. Para ser considerada "mejor actor", una empresa participada debe obtener las tres mejores calificaciones (A, B o C, en una escala de calificación que va de la A a la G) dentro de su sector en al menos un factor medioambiental o social material. Los factores medioambientales y sociales materiales se identifican a nivel sectorial. La identificación de factores materiales se basa en el marco de análisis ESG de Amundi, que combina datos extrafinancieros y análisis cualitativos de temáticas sectoriales y de sostenibilidad afines. Los factores identificados como materiales suponen una contribución de más del 10% a la puntuación ESG global. En el sector energético, por ejemplo, los factores materiales son: emisiones y energía, biodiversidad y contaminación, salud y seguridad, comunidades locales y derechos humanos. Si desea obtener una descripción más completa de los sectores y factores, consulte la Declaración Reglamentaria ESG de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.lu.

Para contribuir a los objetivos anteriores, la empresa participada no debe tener una exposición significativa a actividades (por ejemplo, tabaco, armas, juegos de azar, carbón, aviación, producción de carne, fabricación de fertilizantes y pesticidas, producción de plásticos de un solo uso) que no sean compatibles con dichos criterios.

El carácter sostenible de una inversión se evalúa a nivel de la empresa participada.

Las principales incidencias adversas

son los efectos negativos más significativos de las decisiones de inversión sobre los factores de sostenibilidad relacionados con cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y laborales, el respeto de los derechos humanos y la lucha contra la corrupción y el soborno.

● ¿De qué manera las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero realizó parcialmente no causaron un perjuicio significativo a ningún objetivo de inversión sostenible desde el punto de vista medioambiental o social?

Para garantizar que las inversiones sostenibles no causan un perjuicio significativo ("DNSH"), Amundi utiliza dos filtros:

Más allá de los factores específicos de sostenibilidad cubiertos en el primer filtro, Amundi ha definido un segundo filtro, que no tiene en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas mencionados anteriormente, con el fin de verificar que la empresa no obtiene malos resultados desde un punto de vista medioambiental o social global en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, lo que corresponde a una puntuación medioambiental o social superior o igual a E utilizando la calificación ESG de Amundi.

- ¿Cómo se tuvieron en cuenta los indicadores de incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

Los indicadores de incidencias adversas se han tenido en cuenta tal y como se detalla en el primer filtro de no causar un daño significativo (DNSH) anterior.

El primer filtro DNSH se basa en el seguimiento de los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas del Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 cuando se dispone de datos sólidos mediante la combinación de los siguientes indicadores y umbrales o normas específicas:

- Tener una intensidad de CO<sub>2</sub> que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector (solo se aplica a sectores de alta intensidad), y
- Tener una diversidad en el Consejo de Administración que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, y
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con las condiciones de trabajo y los derechos humanos.
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con la biodiversidad y la contaminación

se aplican además de las pruebas detalladas anteriormente, abarcan los siguientes temas: exclusiones sobre armas controvertidas, Vulneraciones de los principios del Pacto Mundial de la ONU, carbón y tabaco.

- ¿Estaban las inversiones sostenibles alineadas con las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos? Detalles:

Sí, las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos están integrados en nuestra metodología de puntuación ESG. Nuestra herramienta de calificación ESG propia evalúa a los emisores utilizando los datos disponibles de nuestros proveedores de datos.

Por ejemplo, el modelo cuenta con un criterio específico denominado "Participación en la comunidad y derechos humanos", que se aplica a todos los sectores, además de otros criterios relacionados con los derechos humanos, como las cadenas de suministro socialmente responsables, las condiciones de trabajo y las relaciones laborales. Además, realizamos un seguimiento de las controversias, como mínimo trimestralmente, que incluye a las empresas identificadas por vulneraciones de los derechos humanos. Cuando surgen controversias, los analistas evalúan la situación y aplican una puntuación a la controversia (utilizando nuestra metodología de puntuación interna) y determinan el mejor curso de acción. Las puntuaciones de controversia se actualizan trimestralmente para realizar un seguimiento de la tendencia y de los esfuerzos de corrección.

Cualquier otra inversión sostenible tampoco debe causar perjuicio significativo a ningún objetivo medioambiental o social.

El producto tiene en cuenta todas las Principales Incidencias Adversas obligatorias según el Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 que se aplica a la estrategia del producto y se basa en una combinación de políticas de exclusión (normativas y sectoriales), enfoques de implicación y voto:

- Exclusión: Amundi ha definido reglas de exclusión normativas, basadas en la actividad y sectoriales que abarcan algunos de los principales indicadores adversos de sostenibilidad enumerados por el Reglamento de Divulgación.
- Integración de factores ESG: Amundi ha adoptado normas mínimas de integración ESG aplicadas por defecto a sus fondos de capital variable y gestión activa (exclusión de emisores con calificación G y mejor puntuación media ponderada ESG superior a la del índice de referencia aplicable). Los 38 criterios utilizados en el enfoque de calificación ESG de Amundi también se diseñaron para tener en cuenta las principales incidencias en los factores de sostenibilidad, así como la calidad de la mitigación realizada, que también se tienen en cuenta a ese respecto.
- Compromiso: La interacción es un proceso continuo y orientado a un fin, cuyo objetivo es influir en las actividades o el comportamiento de las empresas participadas. El objetivo de las actividades de interacción puede clasificarse en dos categorías: comprometer a un emisor a mejorar la forma en que integra la dimensión medioambiental y social, comprometer a un emisor a mejorar su impacto en cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y relacionadas con los derechos humanos u otras cuestiones de sostenibilidad que son importantes para la sociedad y la economía mundial.

- Voto: La política de voto de Amundi responde a su análisis integral de todas las cuestiones a largo plazo que pueden influir en la creación de valor, incluidas cuestiones ESG sustanciales. Si desea obtener más información, consulte la Política de Voto de Amundi.
- Seguimiento de controversias: Amundi ha desarrollado un sistema de seguimiento de controversias que se basa en tres proveedores de datos externos para realizar un seguimiento sistemático de las controversias y su nivel de gravedad. Este enfoque cuantitativo se enriquece después con una evaluación en profundidad de cada controversia grave, dirigida por analistas ESG y la revisión periódica de su evolución. Este enfoque se aplica a todos los fondos de Amundi.

Si desea más información sobre cómo se tienen en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas, consulte la Declaración de divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.com.

Para estar alineados con la Taxonomía de la UE, los criterios para el gas fósil incluyen limitaciones de emisiones y cambio a energías totalmente renovables o combustibles con bajas emisiones de carbono para finales de 2035. En el caso de la energía nuclear,

¿En qué medida las inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

El fondo promueve características tanto medioambientales como sociales. Aunque el fondo no se comprometió a realizar inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE, durante el periodo contable el fondo invirtió un 0.00% en inversiones sostenibles alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE.

los criterios incluyen normas exhaustivas de seguridad y gestión de residuos

Las actividades habilitadoras permiten directamente que otras actividades contribuyan de forma sustancial a un objetivo medioambiental.

Las actividades de transición son actividades para las que aún no se dispone de alternativas con bajas emisiones de carbono y, entre otros, tienen niveles de emisión de gases de efecto invernadero correspondientes al mejor rendimiento.

Las actividades alineadas con la Taxonomía se expresan como porcentaje de:

- el volumen de negocio que refleja la proporción de ingresos procedentes de actividades ecológicas de las empresas participadas
- las inversiones en inmovilizado (CapEx) que muestran las inversiones ecológicas realizadas por las empresas participadas, por ejemplo, para la transición a una economía verde
- los gastos de explotación (OpEx) que reflejan las actividades operativas ecológicas de las empresas participadas

● ¿Invertió el producto financiero en actividades relacionadas con el gas fósil y/o la energía nuclear que se ajustaban a la Taxonomía de la UE<sup>1</sup>?

☐ Sí:

☐ En gas fósil

☐ En energía nuclear

☒ No

Durante el periodo no se dispuso de datos fiables sobre la alineación con la Taxonomía de la UE del gas fósil y la energía nuclear.

Los gráficos siguientes muestran en verde el porcentaje de inversiones que estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE. Como no existe una metodología adecuada para determinar la alineación con la Taxonomía de la deuda pública*, el primer gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía en relación con todas las inversiones del producto financiero, incluida la deuda pública, mientras que el segundo gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía solo en relación con las inversiones del producto financiero distintas de la deuda pública.

● ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones en actividades de transición y habilitadoras?

A 30/06/2024, utilizando como indicador el volumen de negocio y/o los datos sobre el uso del producto obtenido de bonos verdes, la cuota de inversión del fondo en actividades de transición era del 0.00% y la cuota de inversión en actividades habilitadoras era del 0.00%. El porcentaje declarado de alineación de las inversiones del fondo con la Taxonomía de la UE no ha sido auditado por los auditores del fondo ni por terceros.

● ¿Cómo era el porcentaje de inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE respecto de los periodos de referencia anteriores?

Al cierre del periodo anterior, el porcentaje de inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE era del 0.09%.

 son inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental que no tienen en cuenta los criterios de las actividades económicas sostenibles desde el punto de vista medioambiental en virtud del Reglamento (UE) 2020/852.

¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

La cuota de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineado con la Taxonomía fue del 36.80% al cierre del periodo.

Esto se debe al hecho de que algunos emisores se consideran inversiones sostenibles con arreglo al Reglamento sobre la divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros (SFDR), pero presentan una parte de actividades que no se ajustan a las normas de la Taxonomía de la UE, o para las que aún no se dispone de datos con vistas a realizar una evaluación conforme a la Taxonomía de la UE.

¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social?

El porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social al cierre del periodo era del 10.90%.

¿Qué inversiones se incluían en "otros", cuál era su finalidad y existían salvaguardias medioambientales o sociales mínimas?

El apartado "N.º 2 Otros" incluye el efectivo y otros instrumentos mantenidos con fines de liquidez y gestión del riesgo de la cartera. En el caso de los bonos y acciones sin calificación, se aplican unas salvaguardias medioambientales y sociales mínimas a través de un cribado de controversias respecto de los Principios del Pacto Mundial de Naciones Unidas. También puede incluir valores sin calificación ESG para los que no se disponga de los datos necesarios para cuantificar de la consecución de las características medioambientales o sociales.

¿Qué medidas se han tomado para alcanzar las características medioambientales y/o sociales durante el periodo de referencia?

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad están continuamente disponibles en el sistema de gestión de carteras, lo que permite a los gestores de carteras evaluar el impacto de sus decisiones de inversión. Estos indicadores se integran en el marco de control de AMUNDI, repartándose las responsabilidades entre el primer nivel de controles, realizado por los propios equipos de Inversión, y el segundo nivel de controles, realizado por los equipos de Riesgos, que supervisan de forma continua el cumplimiento de las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el fondo.

Además, la Política de Inversión Responsable de AMUNDI establece un enfoque activo de interacción que promueve el diálogo con las empresas participadas, incluidas las que forman parte de la cartera de este producto. Nuestro Informe Anual de Interacción, disponible en <https://about.amundi.com/esg-documentation>, ofrece información detallada sobre esta iniciativa y sus resultados.

Una inversión sostenible es una inversión en una actividad económica que contribuya a un objetivo medioambiental o social, siempre que la inversión no cause un perjuicio significativo para ningún objetivo medioambiental o social y que las empresas participadas sigan prácticas de buen gobierno.

Dicho Reglamento no incluye una lista de actividades económicas socialmente sostenibles. Las inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental podrían estar alineadas con la Taxonomía o no.

¿En qué medida se cumplieron las características medioambientales y/o sociales promovidas por este producto financiero?

Durante el ejercicio, el producto promovió continuamente las características medioambientales y/o sociales con el objetivo de lograr una puntuación ESG superior a la puntuación ESG de su universo de inversión MSCI EM (EMERGING MARKETS). Para determinar la puntuación ESG del Producto y el universo de inversión ESG, el desempeño ESG se evaluó continuamente comparando el desempeño medio de un título frente al sector del emisor del título, con respecto a cada una de las tres características: medioambiental, social y de gobierno corporativo.

El universo de inversión es un universo de mercado general que no evalúa ni incluye componentes basados en características medioambientales y/o sociales y, por lo tanto, no pretende ser coherente con las características promovidas por el fondo. No se ha designado ningún índice de referencia ESG.

● ¿Cómo se comportaron los indicadores de sostenibilidad?

Amundi ha desarrollado su propio proceso interno de calificación ESG basado en el enfoque "Best-in-class". Las calificaciones adaptadas a cada sector de actividad pretenden evaluar la dinámica en la que operan las empresas.

El indicador de sostenibilidad utilizado es la puntuación ESG del Producto que se mide con respecto a la puntuación ESG del universo de inversión ESG del Producto.

Al cierre del periodo:

- La calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera es 0.130 (D).
- La calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG es -0.099 (D).

La calificación ESG de Amundi utilizada para determinar la puntuación ESG es una puntuación cuantitativa ESG traducida en siete grados, que van de la A (el universo de mejores puntuaciones) a la G (la peor). En la escala de Calificación ESG de Amundi, los títulos pertenecientes a la lista de exclusión corresponden a una G. En el caso de los emisores corporativos, el desempeño ESG se evalúa en general y a nivel de criterios relevantes comparándolo con el desempeño medio de su sector, a través de la combinación de las tres dimensiones ESG:

- Dimensión medioambiental: analiza la capacidad de los emisores para controlar su impacto medioambiental directo e indirecto, limitando su consumo de energía, reduciendo sus emisiones de efecto invernadero, luchando contra el agotamiento de los recursos y protegiendo la biodiversidad.
- Dimensión social: analiza el funcionamiento de un emisor en dos conceptos distintos: su estrategia para desarrollar su capital humano y el respeto de los derechos humanos en general.
- Dimensión de gobierno corporativo: Evalúa la capacidad del emisor para garantizar la base de un marco de gobierno corporativo eficaz y generar valor a largo plazo.

● ¿...y en comparación con periodos anteriores?

Al cierre del periodo anterior, la calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera era de 0.07 (D) y la calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG era de -0.10 (D).

● ¿Cuáles eran los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero pretende realizar parcialmente y cómo contribuía la inversión sostenible a dichos objetivos?

Los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles son invertir en empresas participadas que traten de cumplir dos criterios:

1. seguir las mejores prácticas medioambientales y sociales; y
2. evitar fabricar productos o prestar servicios que perjudiquen al medio ambiente y a la sociedad.

Para que se considere que la empresa en la que se invierte contribuye al objetivo mencionado, debe ser uno de los "mejores actores" dentro de su sector de actividad en al menos uno de sus factores medioambientales o sociales materiales.

más del 10% a la puntuación ESG global. En el sector energético, por ejemplo, los factores materiales son: emisiones y energía, biodiversidad y contaminación, salud y seguridad, comunidades locales y derechos humanos. Si desea obtener una descripción más completa de los sectores y factores, consulte la Declaración Reglamentaria ESG de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.lu.

Para contribuir a los objetivos anteriores, la empresa participada no debe tener una exposición significativa a actividades (por ejemplo, tabaco, armas, juegos de azar, carbón, aviación, producción de carne, fabricación de fertilizantes y pesticidas, producción de plásticos de un solo uso) que no sean compatibles con dichos criterios.

El carácter sostenible de una inversión se evalúa a nivel de la empresa participada.

Las principales incidencias adversas son los efectos negativos más significativos de las decisiones de inversión sobre los factores de sostenibilidad relacionados con cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y laborales, el respeto de los derechos humanos y la lucha contra la corrupción y el soborno.

● ¿De qué manera las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero realizó parcialmente no causaron un perjuicio significativo a ningún objetivo de inversión sostenible desde el punto de vista medioambiental o social?

Para garantizar que las inversiones sostenibles no causan un perjuicio significativo ("DNSH"), Amundi utiliza dos filtros:

Más allá de los factores específicos de sostenibilidad cubiertos en el primer filtro, Amundi ha definido un segundo filtro, que no tiene en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas mencionados anteriormente, con el fin de verificar que la empresa no obtiene malos resultados desde un punto de vista medioambiental o social global en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, lo que corresponde a una puntuación medioambiental o social superior o igual a E utilizando la calificación ESG de Amundi.

- ¿Cómo se tuvieron en cuenta los indicadores de incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

Los indicadores de incidencias adversas se han tenido en cuenta tal y como se detalla en el primer filtro de no causar un daño significativo (DNSH) anterior.

El primer filtro DNSH se basa en el seguimiento de los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas del Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 cuando se dispone de datos sólidos mediante la combinación de los siguientes indicadores y umbrales o normas específicas:

- Tener una intensidad de CO<sub>2</sub> que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector (solo se aplica a sectores de alta intensidad), y
- Tener una diversidad en el Consejo de Administración que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, y
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con las condiciones de trabajo y los derechos humanos.
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con la biodiversidad y la contaminación

- ¿Estaban las inversiones sostenibles alineadas con las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos? Detalles:

Sí, las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos están integrados en nuestra metodología de puntuación ESG. Nuestra herramienta de calificación ESG propia evalúa a los emisores utilizando los datos disponibles de nuestros proveedores de datos. Por ejemplo, el modelo cuenta con un criterio específico denominado "Participación en la comunidad y derechos humanos", que se aplica a todos los sectores, además de otros criterios relacionados con los derechos humanos, como las cadenas de suministro socialmente responsables, las condiciones de trabajo y las relaciones laborales. Además, realizamos un seguimiento de las controversias, como mínimo trimestralmente, que incluye a las empresas identificadas por vulneraciones de los derechos humanos. Cuando surgen controversias, los analistas evalúan la situación y aplican una puntuación a la controversia (utilizando nuestra metodología de puntuación interna) y determinan el mejor curso de acción. Las puntuaciones de controversia se actualizan trimestralmente para realizar un seguimiento de la tendencia y de los esfuerzos de corrección.

¿Cómo tuvo en cuenta este producto financiero las principales incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

El producto tiene en cuenta todas las Principales Incidencias Adversas obligatorias según el Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 que se aplica a la estrategia del producto y se basa en una combinación de políticas de exclusión (normativas y sectoriales), enfoques de implicación y voto:

- Exclusión: Amundi ha definido reglas de exclusión normativas, basadas en la actividad y sectoriales que abarcan algunos de los principales indicadores adversos de sostenibilidad enumerados por el Reglamento de Divulgación.
- Integración de factores ESG: Amundi ha adoptado normas mínimas de integración ESG aplicadas por defecto a sus fondos de capital variable y gestión activa (exclusión de emisores con calificación G y mejor puntuación media ponderada ESG superior a la del índice de referencia aplicable). Los 38 criterios utilizados en el enfoque de calificación ESG de Amundi también se diseñaron para tener en cuenta las principales incidencias en los factores de sostenibilidad, así como la calidad de la mitigación realizada, que también se tienen en cuenta a ese respecto.
- Compromiso: La interacción es un proceso continuo y orientado a un fin, cuyo objetivo es influir en las actividades o el comportamiento de las empresas participadas. El objetivo de las actividades de interacción puede clasificarse en dos categorías: comprometer a un emisor a mejorar la forma en que integra la dimensión medioambiental y social, comprometer a un emisor a mejorar su impacto en cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y relacionadas con los derechos humanos u otras cuestiones de sostenibilidad que son importantes para la sociedad y la economía mundial.
- Voto: La política de voto de Amundi responde a su análisis integral de todas las cuestiones a largo plazo que pueden influir en la creación de valor, incluidas cuestiones ESG sustanciales. Si desea obtener más información, consulte la Política de Voto de Amundi.

- Seguimiento de controversias: Amundi ha desarrollado un sistema de seguimiento de controversias que se basa en tres proveedores de datos externos para realizar un seguimiento sistemático de las controversias y su nivel de gravedad. Este enfoque cuantitativo se enriquece después con una evaluación en profundidad de cada controversia grave, dirigida por analistas ESG y la revisión periódica de su evolución. Este enfoque se aplica a todos los fondos de Amundi.

Si desea más información sobre cómo se tienen en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas, consulte la Declaración de divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.com.

Para estar alineados con la Taxonomía de la UE, los criterios para el gas fósil incluyen limitaciones de emisiones y cambio a energías totalmente renovables o combustibles con bajas emisiones de carbono para finales de 2035. En el caso de la energía nuclear, los criterios incluyen normas exhaustivas de seguridad y gestión de residuos.

Las actividades habilitadoras permiten directamente que otras actividades contribuyan de forma sustancial a un objetivo medioambiental.

¿En qué medida las inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

El fondo promueve características tanto medioambientales como sociales. Aunque el fondo no se comprometió a realizar inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE, durante el periodo contable el fondo invirtió un 0.02% en inversiones sostenibles alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE. Estas inversiones contribuyeron a los objetivos de mitigación del cambio climático de la Taxonomía de la UE.

La alineación de las empresas participadas con los objetivos de la Taxonomía de la UE antes mencionados se cuantifica utilizando datos sobre el volumen de negocio (o los ingresos) y/o el uso del producto obtenido de bonos verdes.

● ¿Invirtió el producto financiero en actividades relacionadas con el gas fósil y/o la energía nuclear que se ajustaban a la Taxonomía de la UE?

Las actividades de transición son actividades para las que aún no se dispone de alternativas con bajas emisiones de carbono y, entre otros, tienen niveles de emisión de gases de efecto invernadero correspondientes al mejor rendimiento.

Las actividades alineadas con la Taxonomía se expresan como porcentaje de:

- el volumen de negocio que refleja la proporción de ingresos procedentes de actividades ecológicas de las empresas participadas
- las inversiones en inmovilizado (CapEx) que muestran las inversiones ecológicas realizadas por las empresas participadas, por ejemplo, para la transición a una economía verde
- los gastos de explotación (OpEx) que reflejan las actividades operativas ecológicas de las empresas participadas

☒ No

Durante el periodo no se dispuso de datos fiables sobre la alineación con la Taxonomía de la UE del gas fósil y la energía nuclear.

son inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental que no tienen en cuenta los criterios de las actividades económicas sostenibles desde el punto de vista medioambiental en virtud del Reglamento (UE) 2020/852.

Esto se debe al hecho de que algunos emisores se consideran inversiones sostenibles con arreglo al Reglamento sobre la divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros (SFDR), pero presentan una parte de actividades que no se ajustan a las normas de la Taxonomía de la UE, o para las que aún no se dispone de datos con vistas a realizar una evaluación conforme a la Taxonomía de la UE.

¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social?

El porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social al cierre del periodo era del 13.65%.

¿Qué inversiones se incluían en "otros", cuál era su finalidad y existían salvaguardias medioambientales o sociales mínimas?

El apartado "N.º 2 Otros" incluye el efectivo y otros instrumentos mantenidos con fines de liquidez y gestión del riesgo de la cartera. En el caso de los bonos y acciones sin calificación, se aplican unas salvaguardias medioambientales y sociales mínimas a través de un cribado de controversias respecto de los Principios del Pacto Mundial de Naciones Unidas. También puede incluir valores sin calificación ESG para los que no se disponga de los datos necesarios para cuantificar de la consecución de las características medioambientales o sociales.

¿Qué medidas se han tomado para alcanzar las características medioambientales y/o sociales durante el periodo de referencia?

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad están continuamente disponibles en el sistema de gestión de carteras, lo que permite a los gestores de carteras evaluar el impacto de sus decisiones de inversión.

Estos indicadores se integran en el marco de control de AMUNDI, repartiéndose las responsabilidades entre el primer nivel de controles, realizado por los propios equipos de Inversión, y el segundo nivel de controles, realizado por los equipos de Riesgos, que supervisan de forma continua el cumplimiento de las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el fondo.

Características medioambientales y/o sociales

Una inversión sostenible es una inversión en una actividad económica que contribuya a un objetivo medioambiental o social, siempre que la inversión no cause un perjuicio significativo para ningún objetivo medioambiental o social y que las empresas participadas sigan prácticas de buen gobierno.

La Taxonomía de la UE es un sistema de clasificación establecido en el Reglamento (UE) 2020/852, que determina una lista de actividades económicas sostenibles desde el punto de vista medioambiental. Dicho Reglamento no incluye una lista de actividades económicas socialmente sostenibles. Las inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental podrían estar alineadas con la Taxonomía o no.

¿En qué medida se cumplieron las características medioambientales y/o sociales promovidas por este producto financiero?

Durante el ejercicio, el producto promovió continuamente las características medioambientales y/o sociales con el objetivo de lograr una puntuación ESG superior a la puntuación ESG de su universo de inversión MSCI EM LATIN AMERICA. Para determinar la puntuación ESG del Producto y el universo de inversión ESG, el desempeño ESG se evaluó continuamente comparando el desempeño medio de un título frente al sector del emisor del título, con respecto a cada una de las tres características: medioambiental, social y de gobierno corporativo.

El universo de inversión es un universo de mercado general que no evalúa ni incluye componentes basados en características medioambientales y/o sociales y, por lo tanto, no pretende ser coherente con las características promovidas por el fondo. No se ha designado ningún índice de referencia ESG.

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad cuantifican cómo se alcanzan las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el producto financiero.

● ¿Cómo se comportaron los indicadores de sostenibilidad?

Amundi ha desarrollado su propio proceso interno de calificación ESG basado en el enfoque "Best-in-class". Las calificaciones adaptadas a cada sector de actividad pretenden evaluar la dinámica en la que operan las empresas.

El indicador de sostenibilidad utilizado es la puntuación ESG del Producto que se mide con respecto a la puntuación ESG del universo de inversión ESG del Producto.

Al cierre del periodo:

- La calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera es 0.217 (D).
- La calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG es 0.158 (D).

La calificación ESG de Amundi utilizada para determinar la puntuación ESG es una puntuación cuantitativa ESG traducida en siete grados, que van de la A (el universo de mejores puntuaciones) a la G (la peor). En la escala de Calificación ESG de Amundi, los títulos pertenecientes a la lista de exclusión corresponden a una G. En el caso de los emisores corporativos, el desempeño ESG se evalúa en general y a nivel de criterios relevantes comparándolo con el desempeño medio de su sector, a través de la combinación de las tres dimensiones ESG:

- Dimensión medioambiental: analiza la capacidad de los emisores para controlar su impacto medioambiental directo e indirecto, limitando su consumo de energía, reduciendo sus emisiones de efecto invernadero, luchando contra el agotamiento de los recursos y protegiendo la biodiversidad.
- Dimensión social: analiza el funcionamiento de un emisor en dos conceptos distintos: su estrategia para desarrollar su capital humano y el respeto de los derechos humanos en general;
- Dimensión de gobierno corporativo: Evalúa la capacidad del emisor para garantizar la base de un marco de gobierno corporativo eficaz y generar valor a largo plazo.

● ¿...y en comparación con periodos anteriores?

Al cierre del periodo anterior, la calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera era de 0.33 (D) y la calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG era de 0.20 (D).

● ¿Cuáles eran los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero pretende realizar parcialmente y cómo contribuía la inversión sostenible a dichos objetivos?

Los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles son invertir en empresas participadas que traten de cumplir dos criterios:

1. seguir las mejores prácticas medioambientales y sociales; y
2. evitar fabricar productos o prestar servicios que perjudiquen al medio ambiente y a la sociedad.

Para que se considere que la empresa en la que se invierte contribuye al objetivo mencionado, debe ser uno de los "mejores actores" dentro de su sector de actividad en al menos uno de sus factores medioambientales o sociales materiales.

La definición de "mejor actor" se basa en la metodología ESG propia de Amundi, cuyo objetivo es cuantificar el desempeño ESG de una empresa participada. Para ser considerada "mejor actor", una empresa participada debe obtener las tres mejores calificaciones (A, B o C, en una escala de calificación que va de la A a la G) dentro de su sector en al menos un factor medioambiental o social material. Los factores medioambientales y sociales materiales se identifican a nivel sectorial. La identificación de factores materiales se basa en el marco de análisis ESG de Amundi, que combina datos extrafinancieros y análisis cualitativos de temáticas sectoriales y de sostenibilidad afines. Los factores identificados como materiales suponen una contribución de más del 10% a la puntuación ESG global. En el sector energético, por ejemplo, los factores materiales son: emisiones y energía, biodiversidad y contaminación, salud y seguridad, comunidades locales y derechos humanos. Si desea obtener una descripción más completa de los sectores y factores, consulte la Declaración Reglamentaria ESG de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.lu.

Para contribuir a los objetivos anteriores, la empresa participada no debe tener una exposición significativa a actividades (por ejemplo, tabaco, armas, juegos de azar, carbón, aviación, producción de carne, fabricación de fertilizantes y pesticidas, producción de plásticos de un solo uso) que no sean compatibles con dichos criterios.

El carácter sostenible de una inversión se evalúa a nivel de la empresa participada.

Las principales incidencias adversas son los efectos negativos más significativos de las decisiones de inversión sobre los factores de sostenibilidad relacionados con cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y laborales, el respeto de los derechos humanos y la lucha contra la corrupción y el soborno.

● ¿De qué manera las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero realizó parcialmente no causaron un perjuicio significativo a ningún objetivo de inversión sostenible desde el punto de vista medioambiental o social?

Para garantizar que las inversiones sostenibles no causan un perjuicio significativo ("DNSH"), Amundi utiliza dos filtros:

Más allá de los factores específicos de sostenibilidad cubiertos en el primer filtro, Amundi ha definido un segundo filtro, que no tiene en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas mencionados anteriormente, con el fin de verificar que la empresa no obtiene malos resultados desde un punto de vista medioambiental o social global en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, lo que corresponde a una puntuación medioambiental o social superior o igual a E utilizando la calificación ESG de Amundi.

- ¿Cómo se tuvieron en cuenta los indicadores de incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

Los indicadores de incidencias adversas se han tenido en cuenta tal y como se detalla en el primer filtro de no causar un daño significativo (DNSH) anterior.

El primer filtro DNSH se basa en el seguimiento de los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas del Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 cuando se dispone de datos sólidos mediante la combinación de los siguientes indicadores y umbrales o normas específicas:

- Tener una intensidad de CO<sub>2</sub> que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector (solo se aplica a sectores de alta intensidad), y
- Tener una diversidad en el Consejo de Administración que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, y
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con las condiciones de trabajo y los derechos humanos.
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con la biodiversidad y la contaminación

- ¿Estaban las inversiones sostenibles alineadas con las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos? Detalles:

Sí, las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos están integrados en nuestra metodología de puntuación ESG. Nuestra herramienta de calificación ESG propia evalúa a los emisores utilizando los datos disponibles de nuestros proveedores de datos. Por ejemplo, el modelo cuenta con un criterio específico denominado "Participación en la comunidad y derechos humanos", que se aplica a todos los sectores, además de otros criterios relacionados con los derechos humanos, como las cadenas de suministro socialmente responsables, las condiciones de trabajo y las relaciones laborales. Además, realizamos un seguimiento de las controversias, como mínimo trimestralmente, que incluye a las empresas identificadas por vulneraciones de los derechos humanos. Cuando surgen controversias, los analistas evalúan la situación y aplican una puntuación a la controversia (utilizando nuestra metodología de puntuación interna) y determinan el mejor curso de acción. Las puntuaciones de controversia se actualizan trimestralmente para realizar un seguimiento de la tendencia y de los esfuerzos de corrección.

Cualquier otra inversión sostenible tampoco debe causar perjuicio significativo a ningún objetivo medioambiental o social.

¿Cómo tuvo en cuenta este producto financiero las principales incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

El producto tiene en cuenta todas las Principales Incidencias Adversas obligatorias según el Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 que se aplica a la estrategia del producto y se basa en una combinación de políticas de exclusión (normativas y sectoriales), enfoques de implicación y voto:

- Exclusión: Amundi ha definido reglas de exclusión normativas, basadas en la actividad y sectoriales que abarcan algunos de los principales indicadores adversos de sostenibilidad enumerados por el Reglamento de Divulgación.
- Integración de factores ESG: Amundi ha adoptado normas mínimas de integración ESG aplicadas por defecto a sus fondos de capital variable y gestión activa (exclusión de emisores con calificación G y mejor puntuación media ponderada ESG superior a la del índice de referencia aplicable). Los 38 criterios utilizados en el enfoque de calificación ESG de Amundi también se diseñaron para tener en cuenta las principales incidencias en los factores de sostenibilidad, así como la calidad de la mitigación realizada, que también se tienen en cuenta a ese respecto.
- Compromiso: La interacción es un proceso continuo y orientado a un fin, cuyo objetivo es influir en las actividades o el comportamiento de las empresas participadas. El objetivo de las actividades de interacción puede clasificarse en dos categorías: comprometer a un emisor a mejorar la forma en que integra la dimensión medioambiental y social, comprometer a un emisor a mejorar su impacto en cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y relacionadas con los derechos humanos u otras cuestiones de sostenibilidad que son importantes para la sociedad y la economía mundial.
- Voto: La política de voto de Amundi responde a su análisis integral de todas las cuestiones a largo plazo que pueden influir en la creación de valor, incluidas cuestiones ESG sustanciales. Si desea obtener más información, consulte la Política de Voto de Amundi.
- Seguimiento de controversias: Amundi ha desarrollado un sistema de seguimiento de controversias que se basa en tres proveedores de datos externos para realizar un seguimiento sistemático de las controversias y su nivel de gravedad. Este enfoque cuantitativo se enriquece después con una evaluación en profundidad de cada controversia grave, dirigida por analistas ESG y la revisión periódica de su evolución. Este enfoque se aplica a todos los fondos de Amundi.

Si desea más información sobre cómo se tienen en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas, consulte la Declaración de divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.com.

Para estar alineados con la Taxonomía de la UE, los criterios para el gas fósil incluyen limitaciones de emisiones y cambio a energías totalmente renovables o combustibles con bajas emisiones de carbono para finales de 2035. En el caso de la energía nuclear, los criterios incluyen normas exhaustivas de seguridad y gestión de residuos

Las actividades habilitadoras permiten directamente que otras actividades contribuyan de forma sustancial a un objetivo medioambiental.

Las actividades de transición son actividades para las que aún no se dispone de alternativas con bajas emisiones de carbono y, entre otros, tienen niveles de emisión de gases de

¿En qué medida las inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

El fondo promueve características tanto medioambientales como sociales. Aunque el fondo no se comprometió a realizar inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE, durante el periodo contable el fondo invirtió un 0.01% en inversiones sostenibles alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE. Estas inversiones contribuyeron a la obligación de lucha contra el cambio climático o a los objetivos de mitigación del cambio climático de la Taxonomía de la UE.

La alineación de las empresas participadas con los objetivos de la Taxonomía de la UE antes mencionados se cuantifica utilizando datos sobre el volumen de negocio (o los ingresos) y/o el uso del producto obtenido de bonos verdes.

El porcentaje declarado de alineación de las inversiones del fondo con la Taxonomía de la UE no ha sido auditado por los auditores del fondo ni por terceros.

¿Invirtió el producto financiero en actividades relacionadas con el gas fósil y/o la energía nuclear que se ajustaban a la Taxonomía de la UE?

☐ Sí:

☐ En gas fósil      ☐ En energía nuclear

☒ No

Durante el periodo no se dispuso de datos fiables sobre la alineación con la Taxonomía de la UE del gas fósil y la energía nuclear.

efecto invernadero correspondientes al mejor rendimiento.

Las actividades alineadas con la Taxonomía se expresan como porcentaje de:

-el volumen de negocio

que refleja la proporción de ingresos procedentes de actividades ecológicas de las empresas participadas

-las inversiones en inmovilizado (CapEx) que muestran las inversiones ecológicas realizadas por las empresas participadas, por ejemplo, para la transición a una economía verde
- los gastos de explotación (OpEx) que reflejan las actividades operativas ecológicas de las empresas participadas

Los gráficos siguientes muestran en verde el porcentaje de inversiones que estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE. Como no existe una metodología adecuada para determinar la alineación con la Taxonomía de la deuda pública*, el primer gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía en relación con todas las inversiones del producto financiero, incluida la deuda pública, mientras que el segundo gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía solo en relación con las inversiones del producto financiero distintas de la deuda pública.

* A efectos de estos gráficos, la "deuda pública" abarca todas las exposiciones a deuda pública.

● ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones en actividades de transición y habilitadoras?

A 30/06/2024, utilizando como indicador el volumen de negocio y/o los datos sobre el uso del producto obtenido de bonos verdes, la cuota de inversión del fondo en actividades de transición era del 0.00% y la cuota de inversión en actividades habilitadoras era del 0.00%. El porcentaje declarado de alineación de las inversiones del fondo con la Taxonomía de la UE no ha sido auditado por los auditores del fondo ni por terceros.

● ¿Cómo era el porcentaje de inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE respecto de los periodos de referencia anteriores?

Al cierre del periodo anterior, el porcentaje de inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE era del 0.07%.

● ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

La cuota de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineado con la Taxonomía fue del 34.36% al cierre del periodo.

Esto se debe al hecho de que algunos emisores se consideran inversiones sostenibles con arreglo al Reglamento sobre la divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros (SFDR), pero presentan una parte de actividades que no se ajustan a las normas de la Taxonomía de la UE, o para las que aún no se dispone de datos con vistas a realizar una evaluación conforme a la Taxonomía de la UE.

● ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social?

El porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social al cierre del periodo era del 5.49%.

son inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental que no tienen en cuenta los criterios de las actividades económicas sostenibles desde el punto de vista medioambiental en virtud del Reglamento (UE) 2020/852.

¿Qué inversiones se incluían en "otros", cuál era su finalidad y existían salvaguardias medioambientales o sociales mínimas?

El apartado "N.º 2 Otros" incluye el efectivo y otros instrumentos mantenidos con fines de liquidez y gestión del riesgo de la cartera. En el caso de los bonos y acciones sin calificación, se aplican unas salvaguardias medioambientales y sociales mínimas a través de un cribado de controversias respecto de los Principios del Pacto Mundial de Naciones Unidas. También puede incluir valores sin calificación ESG para los que no se disponga de los datos necesarios para cuantificar de la consecución de las características medioambientales o sociales.

¿Qué medidas se han tomado para alcanzar las características medioambientales y/o sociales durante el periodo de referencia?

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad están continuamente disponibles en el sistema de gestión de carteras, lo que permite a los gestores de carteras evaluar el impacto de sus decisiones de inversión.

Estos indicadores se integran en el marco de control de AMUNDI, repartiéndose las responsabilidades entre el primer nivel de controles, realizado por los propios equipos de Inversión, y el segundo nivel de controles, realizado por los equipos de Riesgos, que supervisan de forma continua el cumplimiento de las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el fondo.

Además, la Política de Inversión Responsable de AMUNDI establece un enfoque activo de interacción que promueve el diálogo con las empresas participadas, incluidas las que forman parte de la cartera de este producto. Nuestro Informe Anual de Interacción, disponible en <https://about.amundi.com/esg-documentation>, ofrece información detallada sobre esta iniciativa y sus resultados.

Una inversión sostenible es una inversión en una actividad económica que contribuya a un objetivo medioambiental o social, siempre que la inversión no cause un perjuicio significativo para ningún objetivo medioambiental o social y que las empresas participadas sigan prácticas de buen gobierno.

La Taxonomía de la UE es un sistema de clasificación establecido en el Reglamento (UE) 2020/852, que determina una lista de actividades económicas sostenibles desde el punto de vista medioambiental. Dicho Reglamento no incluye una lista de actividades económicas socialmente sostenibles. Las inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental podrían estar alineadas con la Taxonomía o no.

¿En qué medida se cumplieron las características medioambientales y/o sociales promovidas por este producto financiero?

Durante el ejercicio, el producto promovió continuamente las características medioambientales y/o sociales con el objetivo de lograr una puntuación ESG superior a la puntuación ESG de su universo de inversión MSCI EM CLIMATE PARIS ALIGNED. Para determinar la puntuación ESG del Producto y el universo de inversión ESG, el desempeño ESG se evaluó continuamente comparando el desempeño medio de un título frente al sector del emisor del título, con respecto a cada una de las tres características: medioambiental, social y de gobierno corporativo.

El universo de inversión es un universo de mercado general que no evalúa ni incluye componentes basados en características medioambientales y/o sociales y, por lo tanto, no pretende ser coherente con las características promovidas por el fondo.

Durante el ejercicio, el producto promovió continuamente las características medioambientales con el objetivo de reducir su intensidad de carbono alineando la intensidad de su huella de carbono con la de su Índice de referencia MSCI EM CLIMATE PARIS ALIGNED.

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad cuantifican cómo se alcanzan las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el producto financiero.

● ¿Cómo se comportaron los indicadores de sostenibilidad?

Amundi ha desarrollado su propio proceso interno de calificación ESG basado en el enfoque "Best-in-class". Las calificaciones adaptadas a cada sector de actividad pretenden evaluar la dinámica en la que operan las empresas.

El indicador de sostenibilidad utilizado es la puntuación ESG del Producto que se mide con respecto a la puntuación ESG del universo de inversión ESG del Producto.

Al cierre del periodo:

- La calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera es 0.324 (D)
- La calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG es 0.044 (D).

La calificación ESG de Amundi utilizada para determinar la puntuación ESG es una puntuación cuantitativa ESG traducida en siete grados, que van de la A (el universo de mejores puntuaciones) a la G (la peor). En la escala de Calificación ESG de Amundi, los títulos pertenecientes a la lista de exclusión corresponden a una G. En el caso de los emisores corporativos, el desempeño ESG se evalúa en general y a nivel de criterios relevantes comparándolo con el desempeño medio de su sector, a través de la combinación de las tres dimensiones ESG:

- Dimensión medioambiental: analiza la capacidad de los emisores para controlar su impacto medioambiental directo e indirecto, limitando su consumo de energía, reduciendo sus emisiones de efecto invernadero, luchando contra el agotamiento de los recursos y protegiendo la biodiversidad.
- Dimensión social: analiza el funcionamiento de un emisor en dos conceptos distintos: su estrategia para desarrollar su capital humano y el respeto de los derechos humanos en general;
- Dimensión de gobierno corporativo: Evalúa la capacidad del emisor para garantizar la base de un marco de gobierno corporativo eficaz y generar valor a largo plazo.

La metodología aplicada por la calificación ESG de Amundi utiliza 38 criterios que son genéricos (comunes a todas las empresas independientemente de su actividad) o sectoriales, que se ponderan según el sector y se consideran en términos de su impacto en la reputación, la eficiencia operativa y la normativa con respecto a un emisor. Las calificaciones ESG de Amundi pueden expresarse globalmente en las tres dimensiones E, S y G o individualmente en cualquier factor medioambiental o social.

El indicador de sostenibilidad utilizado es la intensidad de la huella de carbono de la cartera, que se calcula como media ponderada por activos de la cartera y se compara con la intensidad de la huella de carbono ponderada por activos del Índice de referencia. En consecuencia, los títulos con una huella ecológica relativamente baja tenían más probabilidades de ser seleccionados en la cartera que los títulos con una huella ecológica relativamente alta.

- La intensidad media ponderada de la huella de carbono de la cartera es de 113.98.
- La intensidad media ponderada de la huella de carbono del Índice de referencia es de 128.61.

● ¿...y en comparación con periodos anteriores?

● ¿Cuáles eran los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero pretende realizar parcialmente y cómo contribuía la inversión sostenible a dichos objetivos?

Los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles son invertir en empresas participadas que traten de cumplir dos criterios:

1. seguir las mejores prácticas medioambientales y sociales; y
2. evitar fabricar productos o prestar servicios que perjudiquen al medio ambiente y a la sociedad.

Para que se considere que la empresa en la que se invierte contribuye al objetivo mencionado, debe ser uno de los "mejores actores" dentro de su sector de actividad en al menos uno de sus factores medioambientales o sociales materiales.

La definición de "mejor actor" se basa en la metodología ESG propia de Amundi, cuyo objetivo es cuantificar el desempeño ESG de una empresa participada. Para ser considerada "mejor actor", una empresa participada debe obtener las tres mejores calificaciones (A, B o C, en una escala de calificación que va de la A a la G) dentro de su sector en al menos un factor medioambiental o social material. Los factores medioambientales y sociales materiales se identifican a nivel sectorial. La identificación de factores materiales se basa en el marco de análisis ESG de Amundi, que combina datos extrafinancieros y análisis cualitativos de temáticas sectoriales y de sostenibilidad afines. Los factores identificados como materiales suponen una contribución de más del 10% a la puntuación ESG global. En el sector energético, por ejemplo, los factores materiales son: emisiones y energía, biodiversidad y contaminación, salud y seguridad, comunidades locales y derechos humanos. Si desea obtener una descripción más completa de los sectores y factores, consulte la Declaración Reglamentaria ESG de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.lu.

Para contribuir a los objetivos anteriores, la empresa participada no debe tener una exposición significativa a actividades (por ejemplo, tabaco, armas, juegos de azar, carbón, aviación, producción de carne, fabricación de fertilizantes y pesticidas, producción de plásticos de un solo uso) que no sean compatibles con dichos criterios.

El carácter sostenible de una inversión se evalúa a nivel de la empresa participada.

● ¿De qué manera las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero realizó parcialmente no causaron un perjuicio significativo a ningún objetivo de inversión sostenible desde el punto de vista medioambiental o social?

Para garantizar que las inversiones sostenibles no causan un perjuicio significativo ("DNSH"), Amundi utiliza dos filtros:

Más allá de los factores específicos de sostenibilidad cubiertos en el primer filtro, Amundi ha definido un segundo filtro, que no tiene en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas mencionados anteriormente, con el fin de verificar que la empresa no obtiene malos resultados desde un punto de vista medioambiental o social global en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, lo que corresponde a una puntuación medioambiental o social superior o igual a E utilizando la calificación ESG de Amundi.

- ¿Cómo se tuvieron en cuenta los indicadores de incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

Los indicadores de incidencias adversas se han tenido en cuenta tal y como se detalla en el primer filtro de no causar un daño significativo (DNSH) anterior.

El primer filtro DNSH se basa en el seguimiento de los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas del Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 cuando se dispone de datos sólidos mediante la combinación de los siguientes indicadores y umbrales o normas específicas:

- Tener una intensidad de CO<sub>2</sub> que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector (solo se aplica a sectores de alta intensidad), y
- Tener una diversidad en el Consejo de Administración que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, y
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con las condiciones de trabajo y los derechos humanos.

Las principales incidencias adversas son los efectos negativos más significativos de las decisiones de inversión sobre los factores de sostenibilidad relacionados con cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y laborales, el respeto de los derechos humanos y la lucha contra la corrupción y el soborno.

- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con la biodiversidad y la contaminación. Amundi ya contempla las Principales Incidencias Adversas específicas dentro de su política de exclusión en el marco de su Política de Inversión Responsable. Estas exclusiones, que se aplican además de las pruebas detalladas anteriormente, abarcan los siguientes temas: exclusiones sobre armas controvertidas, Vulneraciones de los principios del Pacto Mundial de la ONU, carbón y tabaco.
- ¿Estaban las inversiones sostenibles alineadas con las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos? Detalles:

Sí, las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos están integrados en nuestra metodología de puntuación ESG. Nuestra herramienta de calificación ESG propia evalúa a los emisores utilizando los datos disponibles de nuestros proveedores de datos. Por ejemplo, el modelo cuenta con un criterio específico denominado "Participación en la comunidad y derechos humanos", que se aplica a todos los sectores, además de otros criterios relacionados con los derechos humanos, como las cadenas de suministro socialmente responsables, las condiciones de trabajo y las relaciones laborales. Además, realizamos un seguimiento de las controversias, como mínimo trimestralmente, que incluye a las empresas identificadas por vulneraciones de los derechos humanos. Cuando surgen controversias, los analistas evalúan la situación y aplican una puntuación a la controversia (utilizando nuestra metodología de puntuación interna) y determinan el mejor curso de acción. Las puntuaciones de controversia se actualizan trimestralmente para realizar un seguimiento de la tendencia y de los esfuerzos de corrección.

Cualquier otra inversión sostenible tampoco debe causar perjuicio significativo a ningún objetivo medioambiental o social.

¿Cómo tuvo en cuenta este producto financiero las principales incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

El producto tiene en cuenta todas las Principales Incidencias Adversas obligatorias según el Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 que se aplica a la estrategia del producto y se basa en una combinación de políticas de exclusión (normativas y sectoriales), enfoques de implicación y voto:

- Exclusión: Amundi ha definido reglas de exclusión normativas, basadas en la actividad y sectoriales que abarcan algunos de los principales indicadores adversos de sostenibilidad enumerados por el Reglamento de Divulgación.
- Integración de factores ESG: Amundi ha adoptado normas mínimas de integración ESG aplicadas por defecto a sus fondos de capital variable y gestión activa (exclusión de emisores con calificación G y mejor puntuación media ponderada ESG superior a la del índice de referencia aplicable). Los 38 criterios utilizados en el enfoque de calificación ESG de Amundi también se diseñaron para tener en cuenta las principales incidencias en los factores de sostenibilidad, así como la calidad de la mitigación realizada, que también se tienen en cuenta a ese respecto.
- Compromiso: La interacción es un proceso continuo y orientado a un fin, cuyo objetivo es influir en las actividades o el comportamiento de las empresas participadas. El objetivo de las actividades de interacción puede clasificarse en dos categorías: comprometer a un emisor a mejorar la forma en que integra la dimensión medioambiental y social, comprometer a un emisor a mejorar su impacto en cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y relacionadas con los derechos humanos u otras cuestiones de sostenibilidad que son importantes para la sociedad y la economía mundial.

- Voto: La política de voto de Amundi responde a su análisis integral de todas las cuestiones a largo plazo que pueden influir en la creación de valor, incluidas cuestiones ESG sustanciales. Si desea obtener más información, consulte la Política de Voto de Amundi.
- Seguimiento de controversias: Amundi ha desarrollado un sistema de seguimiento de controversias que se basa en tres proveedores de datos externos para realizar un seguimiento sistemático de las controversias y su nivel de gravedad. Este enfoque cuantitativo se enriquece después con una evaluación en profundidad de cada controversia grave, dirigida por analistas ESG y la revisión periódica de su evolución. Este enfoque se aplica a todos los fondos de Amundi.

Si desea más información sobre cómo se tienen en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas, consulte la Declaración de divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.com.

Para estar alineados con la Taxonomía de la UE, los criterios para el gas fósil incluyen limitaciones de emisiones y cambio a energías totalmente renovables o combustibles con bajas emisiones de carbono para finales de 2035. En el caso de la energía nuclear, los criterios incluyen normas exhaustivas de seguridad y gestión de residuos

Las actividades habilitadoras permiten directamente que otras actividades contribuyan de forma sustancial a un objetivo medioambiental.

Las actividades de transición son

¿En qué medida las inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

El fondo promueve características tanto medioambientales como sociales. Aunque el fondo no se comprometió a realizar inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE, durante el periodo contable el fondo invirtió un 0.01% en inversiones sostenibles alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE. Estas inversiones contribuyeron a la obligación de lucha contra el cambio climático o a los objetivos de mitigación del cambio climático de la Taxonomía de la UE.

La alineación de las empresas participadas con los objetivos de la Taxonomía de la UE antes mencionados se cuantifica utilizando datos sobre el volumen de negocio (o los ingresos) y/o el uso del producto obtenido de bonos verdes.

El porcentaje declarado de alineación de las inversiones del fondo con la Taxonomía de la UE no ha sido auditado por los auditores del fondo ni por terceros.

● ¿Invirtió el producto financiero en actividades relacionadas con el gas fósil y/o la energía nuclear que se ajustaban a la Taxonomía de la UE?

actividades para las que aún no se dispone de alternativas con bajas emisiones de carbono y, entre otros, tienen niveles de emisión de gases de efecto invernadero correspondientes al mejor rendimiento.

 son inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental que no tienen en cuenta los criterios de las actividades económicas sostenibles desde el punto de vista medioambiental

Los gráficos siguientes muestran en verde el porcentaje de inversiones que estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE. Como no existe una metodología adecuada para determinar la alineación con la Taxonomía de la deuda pública*, el primer gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía en relación con todas las inversiones del producto financiero, incluida la deuda pública, mientras que el segundo gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía solo en relación con las inversiones del producto financiero distintas de la deuda pública.

* A efectos de estos gráficos, la "deuda pública" abarca todas las exposiciones a deuda pública.

● ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones en actividades de transición y habilitadoras?

A 30/06/2024, utilizando como indicador el volumen de negocio y/o los datos sobre el uso del producto obtenido de bonos verdes, la cuota de inversión del fondo en actividades de transición era del 0.00% y la cuota de inversión en actividades habilitadoras era del 0.01%. El porcentaje declarado de alineación de las inversiones del fondo con la Taxonomía de la UE no ha sido auditado por los auditores del fondo ni por terceros.

● ¿Cómo era el porcentaje de inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE respecto de los periodos de referencia anteriores?

Al cierre del periodo anterior, el porcentaje de inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE era del 0.09%.

 ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

La cuota de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineado con la Taxonomía fue del 36.67% al cierre del periodo. Esto se debe al hecho de que algunos emisores se consideran inversiones sostenibles con arreglo al Reglamento sobre la divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros (SFDR), pero presentan una parte de actividades que no se ajustan a las normas de la Taxonomía de la UE, o para las que aún no se dispone de datos con vistas a realizar una evaluación conforme a la Taxonomía de la UE.

 ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social?

en virtud del
Reglamento (UE)
2020/852.

El porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social al cierre del periodo era del 13.19%.

¿Qué inversiones se incluían en "otros", cuál era su finalidad y existían salvaguardias medioambientales o sociales mínimas?

El apartado "N.º 2 Otros" incluye el efectivo y otros instrumentos mantenidos con fines de liquidez y gestión del riesgo de la cartera. En el caso de los bonos y acciones sin calificación, se aplican unas salvaguardias medioambientales y sociales mínimas a través de un cribado de controversias respecto de los Principios del Pacto Mundial de Naciones Unidas. También puede incluir valores sin calificación ESG para los que no se disponga de los datos necesarios para cuantificar de la consecución de las características medioambientales o sociales.

¿Qué medidas se han tomado para alcanzar las características medioambientales y/o sociales durante el periodo de referencia?

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad están continuamente disponibles en el sistema de gestión de carteras, lo que permite a los gestores de carteras evaluar el impacto de sus decisiones de inversión.

Estos indicadores se integran en el marco de control de AMUNDI, repartiéndose las responsabilidades entre el primer nivel de controles, realizado por los propios equipos de Inversión, y el segundo nivel de controles, realizado por los equipos de Riesgos, que supervisan de forma continua el cumplimiento de las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el fondo.

¿Cómo se comportó este producto financiero en comparación con el índice de referencia?

Los índices de referencia son índices para cuantificar si el producto financiero alcanza las características medioambientales o sociales que promueven.

El objetivo de inversión sostenible se logra alineando los objetivos de reducción de la huella de carbono del fondo con el Índice MSCI Emerging Markets Climate Paris Aligned. La intensidad de la huella de carbono de la cartera se calcula como media ponderada por activos de la cartera y se compara con la intensidad de la huella de carbono ponderada por activos del Índice.

En consecuencia, los títulos con una huella ecológica relativamente baja tienen más probabilidades de ser seleccionados en la cartera que los títulos con una huella relativamente alta. Además, el fondo excluye empresas por su comportamiento controvertido y (o) productos controvertidos de acuerdo con la Política de Inversión Responsable.

- La intensidad media ponderada de la huella de carbono de la cartera es de 113.98.
- La intensidad media ponderada de la huella de carbono del Índice de referencia es de 128.61.

● ¿En qué se diferencia el índice de referencia de un índice de mercado general?

Un índice de mercado general no evalúa ni incluye a sus componentes en función de las características medioambientales y, por lo tanto, no está alineado con las características medioambientales. El índice utilizado es un "índice de referencia alineado con el Acuerdo de París" que incorpora objetivos específicos relacionados con la reducción de emisiones y la transición a una economía con bajas emisiones de carbono a través de la selección y ponderación de los componentes subyacentes.

● ¿Cómo se comportó este producto financiero con respecto a los indicadores de sostenibilidad para determinar la alineación del índice de referencia con las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas?

- La calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera es 0.324 (D).
- La calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG es 0.044 (D).

- La intensidad media ponderada de la huella de carbono de la cartera es de 113.98.
- La intensidad media ponderada de la huella de carbono del Índice de referencia es de 128.61.

Una inversión sostenible es una inversión en una actividad económica que contribuya a un objetivo medioambiental o social, siempre que la inversión no cause un perjuicio significativo para ningún objetivo medioambiental o social y que las empresas participadas sigan prácticas de buen gobierno.

La Taxonomía de la UE es un sistema de clasificación establecido en el Reglamento (UE) 2020/852, que determina una lista de actividades económicas sostenibles desde el punto de vista medioambiental. Dicho Reglamento no incluye una lista de actividades económicas socialmente sostenibles. Las inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental podrían estar alineadas con la Taxonomía o no.

¿En qué medida se cumplieron las características medioambientales y/o sociales promovidas por este producto financiero?

Durante el ejercicio, el producto promovió continuamente las características medioambientales y/o sociales con el objetivo de lograr una puntuación ESG superior a la puntuación ESG de su universo de inversión 80% MSCI EM (EMERGING MARKETS) + 20% MSCI FRONTIER MARKETS. Para determinar la puntuación ESG del Producto y el universo de inversión ESG, el desempeño ESG se evaluó continuamente comparando el desempeño medio de un título frente al sector del emisor del título, con respecto a cada una de las tres características: medioambiental, social y de gobierno corporativo.

El universo de inversión es un universo de mercado general que no evalúa ni incluye componentes basados en características medioambientales y/o sociales y, por lo tanto, no pretende ser coherente con las características promovidas por el fondo. No se ha designado ningún índice de referencia ESG.

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad cuantifican cómo se alcanzan las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el producto financiero.

● ¿Cómo se comportaron los indicadores de sostenibilidad?

Amundi ha desarrollado su propio proceso interno de calificación ESG basado en el enfoque "Best-in-class". Las calificaciones adaptadas a cada sector de actividad pretenden evaluar la dinámica en la que operan las empresas.

El indicador de sostenibilidad utilizado es la puntuación ESG del Producto que se mide con respecto a la puntuación ESG del universo de inversión ESG del Producto.

Al cierre del periodo:

- La calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera es 0.040 (D).
- La calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG es -0.130 (D).

La calificación ESG de Amundi utilizada para determinar la puntuación ESG es una puntuación cuantitativa ESG traducida en siete grados, que van de la A (el universo de mejores puntuaciones) a la G (la peor). En la escala de Calificación ESG de Amundi, los títulos pertenecientes a la lista de exclusión corresponden a una G. En el caso de los emisores corporativos, el desempeño ESG se evalúa en general y a nivel de criterios relevantes comparándolo con el desempeño medio de su sector, a través de la combinación de las tres dimensiones ESG:

- Dimensión medioambiental: analiza la capacidad de los emisores para controlar su impacto medioambiental directo e indirecto, limitando su consumo de energía, reduciendo sus emisiones de efecto invernadero, luchando contra el agotamiento de los recursos y protegiendo la biodiversidad.
- Dimensión social: analiza el funcionamiento de un emisor en dos conceptos distintos: su estrategia para desarrollar su capital humano y el respeto de los derechos humanos en general;
- Dimensión de gobierno corporativo: Evalúa la capacidad del emisor para garantizar la base de un marco de gobierno corporativo eficaz y generar valor a largo plazo.

● ¿...y en comparación con periodos anteriores?

Al cierre del periodo anterior, la calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera era de -0.08 (D) y la calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG era de -0.14 (D).

● ¿Cuáles eran los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero pretende realizar parcialmente y cómo contribuía la inversión sostenible a dichos objetivos?

Los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles son invertir en empresas participadas que traten de cumplir dos criterios:

1. seguir las mejores prácticas medioambientales y sociales; y
2. evitar fabricar productos o prestar servicios que perjudiquen al medio ambiente y a la sociedad.

Para que se considere que la empresa en la que se invierte contribuye al objetivo mencionado, debe ser uno de los "mejores actores" dentro de su sector de actividad en al menos uno de sus factores medioambientales o sociales materiales.

La definición de "mejor actor" se basa en la metodología ESG propia de Amundi, cuyo objetivo es cuantificar el desempeño ESG de una empresa participada. Para ser considerada "mejor actor", una empresa participada debe obtener las tres mejores calificaciones (A, B o C, en una escala de calificación que va de la A a la G) dentro de su sector en al menos un factor medioambiental o social material. Los factores medioambientales y sociales materiales se identifican a nivel sectorial. La identificación de factores materiales se basa en el marco de análisis ESG de Amundi, que combina datos extrafinancieros y análisis cualitativos de temáticas sectoriales y de sostenibilidad afines. Los factores identificados como materiales suponen una contribución de más del 10% a la puntuación ESG global. En el sector energético, por ejemplo, los factores materiales son: emisiones y energía, biodiversidad y contaminación, salud y seguridad, comunidades locales y derechos humanos. Si desea obtener una descripción más completa de los sectores y factores, consulte la Declaración

Reglamentaria ESG de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.lu.

Para contribuir a los objetivos anteriores, la empresa participada no debe tener una exposición significativa a actividades (por ejemplo, tabaco, armas, juegos de azar, carbón, aviación, producción de carne, fabricación de fertilizantes y pesticidas, producción de plásticos de un solo uso) que no sean compatibles con dichos criterios.

El carácter sostenible de una inversión se evalúa a nivel de la empresa participada.

Las principales incidencias adversas

son los efectos negativos más significativos de las decisiones de inversión sobre los factores de sostenibilidad relacionados con cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y laborales, el respeto de los derechos humanos y la lucha contra la corrupción y el soborno.

● ¿De qué manera las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero realizó parcialmente no causaron un perjuicio significativo a ningún objetivo de inversión sostenible desde el punto de vista medioambiental o social?

Para garantizar que las inversiones sostenibles no causan un perjuicio significativo ("DNSH"), Amundi utiliza dos filtros:

Más allá de los factores específicos de sostenibilidad cubiertos en el primer filtro, Amundi ha definido un segundo filtro, que no tiene en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas mencionados anteriormente, con el fin de verificar que la empresa no obtiene malos resultados desde un punto de vista medioambiental o social global en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, lo que corresponde a una puntuación medioambiental o social superior o igual a E utilizando la calificación ESG de Amundi.

- ¿Cómo se tuvieron en cuenta los indicadores de incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

Los indicadores de incidencias adversas se han tenido en cuenta tal y como se detalla en el primer filtro de no causar un daño significativo (DNSH) anterior.

El primer filtro DNSH se basa en el seguimiento de los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas del Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 cuando se dispone de datos sólidos mediante la combinación de los siguientes indicadores y umbrales o normas específicas:

- Tener una intensidad de CO<sub>2</sub> que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector (solo se aplica a sectores de alta intensidad), y
- Tener una diversidad en el Consejo de Administración que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, y
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con las condiciones de trabajo y los derechos humanos.
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con la biodiversidad y la contaminación

- ¿Estaban las inversiones sostenibles alineadas con las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos? Detalles:

Sí, las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos están integrados en nuestra metodología de puntuación ESG. Nuestra herramienta de calificación ESG propia evalúa a los emisores utilizando los datos disponibles de nuestros proveedores de datos.

Por ejemplo, el modelo cuenta con un criterio específico denominado "Participación en la comunidad y derechos humanos", que se aplica a todos los sectores, además de otros criterios relacionados con los derechos humanos, como las cadenas de suministro socialmente responsables, las condiciones de trabajo y las relaciones laborales. Además, realizamos un seguimiento de las controversias, como mínimo trimestralmente, que incluye a las empresas identificadas por vulneraciones de los derechos humanos. Cuando surgen controversias, los analistas evalúan la situación y aplican una puntuación a la controversia (utilizando nuestra metodología de puntuación interna) y determinan el mejor curso de acción. Las puntuaciones de controversia se actualizan trimestralmente para realizar un seguimiento de la tendencia y de los esfuerzos de corrección.

Cualquier otra inversión sostenible tampoco debe causar perjuicio significativo a ningún objetivo medioambiental o social.

¿Cómo tuvo en cuenta este producto financiero las principales incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

El producto tiene en cuenta todas las Principales Incidencias Adversas obligatorias según el Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 que se aplica a la estrategia del producto y se basa en una combinación de políticas de exclusión (normativas y sectoriales), enfoques de implicación y voto:

- Exclusión: Amundi ha definido reglas de exclusión normativas, basadas en la actividad y sectoriales que abarcan algunos de los principales indicadores adversos de sostenibilidad enumerados por el Reglamento de Divulgación.
- Integración de factores ESG: Amundi ha adoptado normas mínimas de integración ESG aplicadas por defecto a sus fondos de capital variable y gestión activa (exclusión de emisores con calificación G y mejor puntuación media ponderada ESG superior a la del índice de referencia aplicable). Los 38 criterios utilizados en el enfoque de calificación ESG de Amundi también se diseñaron para tener en cuenta las principales incidencias en los factores de sostenibilidad, así como la calidad de la mitigación realizada, que también se tienen en cuenta a ese respecto.
- Compromiso: La interacción es un proceso continuo y orientado a un fin, cuyo objetivo es influir en las actividades o el comportamiento de las empresas participadas. El objetivo de las actividades de interacción puede clasificarse en dos categorías: comprometer a un emisor a mejorar la forma en que integra la dimensión medioambiental y social, comprometer a un emisor a mejorar su impacto en cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y relacionadas con los derechos humanos u otras cuestiones de sostenibilidad que son importantes para la sociedad y la economía mundial.
- Voto: La política de voto de Amundi responde a su análisis integral de todas las cuestiones a largo plazo que pueden influir en la creación de valor, incluidas cuestiones ESG sustanciales. Si desea obtener más información, consulte la Política de Voto de Amundi.
- Seguimiento de controversias: Amundi ha desarrollado un sistema de seguimiento de controversias que se basa en tres proveedores de datos externos para realizar un seguimiento sistemático de las controversias y su nivel de gravedad. Este enfoque cuantitativo se enriquece después con una evaluación en profundidad de cada controversia grave, dirigida por analistas ESG y la revisión periódica de su evolución. Este enfoque se aplica a todos los fondos de Amundi.

Si desea más información sobre cómo se tienen en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas, consulte la Declaración de divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.com.

Para estar alineados con la Taxonomía de la UE, los criterios para el gas fósil incluyen limitaciones de emisiones y cambio a energías totalmente renovables o combustibles con bajas emisiones de carbono para finales de 2035. En el caso de la energía nuclear, los criterios incluyen normas exhaustivas de seguridad y gestión de residuos

Las actividades habilitadoras permiten directamente que otras actividades contribuyan de forma sustancial a un objetivo medioambiental.

Las actividades de transición son actividades para las

¿En qué medida las inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

El fondo promueve características tanto medioambientales como sociales. Aunque el fondo no se comprometió a realizar inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE, durante el periodo contable el fondo invirtió un 0.01% en inversiones sostenibles alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE. Estas inversiones contribuyeron a los objetivos de mitigación del cambio climático de la Taxonomía de la UE.

La alineación de las empresas participadas con los objetivos de la Taxonomía de la UE antes mencionados se cuantifica utilizando datos sobre el volumen de negocio (o los ingresos) y/o el uso del producto obtenido de bonos verdes.

que aún no se dispone de alternativas con bajas emisiones de carbono y, entre otros, tienen niveles de emisión de gases de efecto invernadero correspondientes al mejor rendimiento.

Las actividades alineadas con la Taxonomía se expresan como porcentaje de: -el volumen de negocio que refleja la proporción de ingresos procedentes de actividades ecológicas de las empresas participadas -las inversiones en inmovilizado (CapEx) que muestran las inversiones ecológicas realizadas por las empresas participadas, por ejemplo, para la transición a una economía verde - los gastos de explotación (OpEx) que reflejan las actividades operativas ecológicas de las empresas participadas

Durante el periodo no se dispuso de datos fiables sobre la alineación con la Taxonomía de la UE del gas fósil y la energía nuclear.

Como no existe una metodología adecuada para determinar la alineación con la Taxonomía de la deuda pública*, el primer gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía en relación con todas las inversiones del producto financiero, incluida la deuda pública, mientras que el segundo gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía solo en relación con las inversiones del producto financiero distintas de la deuda pública.

● ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

La cuota de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineado con la Taxonomía fue del 21.47% al cierre del periodo.

Esto se debe al hecho de que algunos emisores se consideran inversiones sostenibles con arreglo al Reglamento sobre la divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros (SFDR), pero presentan una parte de actividades que no se ajustan a las normas de la Taxonomía de la UE, o para las que aún no se dispone de datos con vistas a realizar una evaluación conforme a la Taxonomía de la UE.

de las actividades económicas sostenibles desde el punto de vista medioambiental en virtud del Reglamento (UE) 2020/852.

¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social?

El porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social al cierre del periodo era del 11.05%.

¿Qué inversiones se incluían en "otros", cuál era su finalidad y existían salvaguardias medioambientales o sociales mínimas?

El apartado "N.º 2 Otros" incluye el efectivo y otros instrumentos mantenidos con fines de liquidez y gestión del riesgo de la cartera. En el caso de los bonos y acciones sin calificación, se aplican unas salvaguardias medioambientales y sociales mínimas a través de un cribado de controversias respecto de los Principios del Pacto Mundial de Naciones Unidas. También puede incluir valores sin calificación ESG para los que no se disponga de los datos necesarios para cuantificar de la consecución de las características medioambientales o sociales.

¿Qué medidas se han tomado para alcanzar las características medioambientales y/o sociales durante el periodo de referencia?

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad están continuamente disponibles en el sistema de gestión de carteras, lo que permite a los gestores de carteras evaluar el impacto de sus decisiones de inversión. Estos indicadores se integran en el marco de control de AMUNDI, repartiéndose las responsabilidades entre el primer nivel de controles, realizado por los propios equipos de Inversión, y el segundo nivel de controles, realizado por los equipos de Riesgos, que supervisan de forma continua el cumplimiento de las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el fondo.

Además, la Política de Inversión Responsable de AMUNDI establece un enfoque activo de interacción que promueve el diálogo con las empresas participadas, incluidas las que forman parte de la cartera de este producto. Nuestro Informe Anual de Interacción, disponible en <https://about.amundi.com/esg-documentation>, ofrece información detallada sobre esta iniciativa y sus resultados.

Una inversión sostenible es una inversión en una actividad económica que contribuya a un objetivo medioambiental o social, siempre que la inversión no cause un perjuicio significativo para ningún objetivo medioambiental o social y que las empresas participadas sigan prácticas de buen gobierno.

¿En qué medida se cumplieron las características medioambientales y/o sociales promovidas por este producto financiero?

Durante el ejercicio, el producto promovió continuamente las características medioambientales y/o sociales con el objetivo de lograr una puntuación ESG superior a la puntuación ESG de su universo de inversión MSCI RUSSIA 10/40. Para determinar la puntuación ESG del Producto y el universo de inversión ESG, el desempeño ESG se evaluó continuamente comparando el desempeño medio de un título frente al sector del emisor del título, con respecto a cada una de las tres características: medioambiental, social y de gobierno corporativo.

El universo de inversión es un universo de mercado general que no evalúa ni incluye componentes basados en características medioambientales y/o sociales y, por lo tanto, no pretende ser coherente con las características promovidas por el fondo.

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad cuantifican cómo

● ¿Cómo se comportaron los indicadores de sostenibilidad?

se alcanzan las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el producto financiero.

Amundi ha desarrollado su propio proceso interno de calificación ESG basado en el enfoque "Best-in-class". Las calificaciones adaptadas a cada sector de actividad pretenden evaluar la dinámica en la que operan las empresas.

El indicador de sostenibilidad utilizado es la puntuación ESG del Producto que se mide con respecto a la puntuación ESG del universo de inversión ESG del Producto.

Al cierre del periodo:

- La calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera es -0.511 (E).
- La calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG es -1.862 (F).

La calificación ESG de Amundi utilizada para determinar la puntuación ESG es una puntuación cuantitativa ESG traducida en siete grados, que van de la A (el universo de mejores puntuaciones) a la G (la peor). En la escala de Calificación ESG de Amundi, los títulos pertenecientes a la lista de exclusión corresponden a una G. En el caso de los emisores corporativos, el desempeño ESG se evalúa en general y a nivel de criterios relevantes comparándolo con el desempeño medio de su sector, a través de la combinación de las tres dimensiones ESG:

- Dimensión medioambiental: analiza la capacidad de los emisores para controlar su impacto medioambiental directo e indirecto, limitando su consumo de energía, reduciendo sus emisiones de efecto invernadero, luchando contra el agotamiento de los recursos y protegiendo la biodiversidad.
- Dimensión social: analiza el funcionamiento de un emisor en dos conceptos distintos: su estrategia para desarrollar su capital humano y el respeto de los derechos humanos en general;
- Dimensión de gobierno corporativo: Evalúa la capacidad del emisor para garantizar la base de un marco de gobierno corporativo eficaz y generar valor a largo plazo.

La metodología aplicada por la calificación ESG de Amundi utiliza 38 criterios que son genéricos (comunes a todas las empresas independientemente de su actividad) o sectoriales, que se ponderan según el sector y se consideran en términos de su impacto en la reputación, la eficiencia operativa y la normativa con respecto a un emisor. Las calificaciones ESG de Amundi pueden expresarse globalmente en las tres dimensiones E, S y G o individualmente en cualquier factor medioambiental o social.

● ¿...y en comparación con periodos anteriores?

Al cierre del periodo anterior, la calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera era de -0.78 (D) y la calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG era de -1.25 (E).

● ¿Cuáles eran los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero pretende realizar parcialmente y cómo contribuía la inversión sostenible a dichos objetivos?

Los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles son invertir en empresas participadas que traten de cumplir dos criterios:

1. seguir las mejores prácticas medioambientales y sociales; y
2. evitar fabricar productos o prestar servicios que perjudiquen al medio ambiente y a la sociedad.

Para que se considere que la empresa en la que se invierte contribuye al objetivo mencionado, debe ser uno de los "mejores actores" dentro de su sector de actividad en al menos uno de sus factores medioambientales o sociales materiales.

La definición de "mejor actor" se basa en la metodología ESG propia de Amundi, cuyo objetivo es cuantificar el desempeño ESG de una empresa participada. Para ser considerada "mejor actor", una empresa participada debe obtener las tres mejores calificaciones (A, B o C, en una escala de calificación que va de la A a la G) dentro de su sector en al menos un factor medioambiental o social material. Los factores medioambientales y sociales materiales se identifican a nivel sectorial. La identificación de factores materiales se basa en el marco de análisis ESG de Amundi, que combina datos extrafinancieros y análisis cualitativos de temáticas sectoriales y de sostenibilidad afines. Los factores identificados como materiales suponen una contribución de más del 10% a la puntuación ESG global. En el sector energético, por ejemplo, los factores materiales son: emisiones y energía, biodiversidad y contaminación, salud y seguridad, comunidades locales y derechos humanos. Si desea obtener una descripción más completa de los sectores y factores, consulte la Declaración Reglamentaria ESG de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.lu. Para contribuir a los objetivos anteriores, la empresa participada no debe tener una exposición significativa a actividades (por ejemplo, tabaco, armas, juegos de azar, carbón, aviación, producción de carne, fabricación de fertilizantes y pesticidas, producción de plásticos de un solo uso) que no sean compatibles con dichos criterios.

El carácter sostenible de una inversión se evalúa a nivel de la empresa participada.

Las principales incidencias adversas

son los efectos negativos más significativos de las decisiones de inversión sobre los factores de sostenibilidad relacionados con cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y laborales, el respeto de los derechos humanos y la lucha contra la corrupción y el soborno.

● ¿De qué manera las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero realizó parcialmente no causaron un perjuicio significativo a ningún objetivo de inversión sostenible desde el punto de vista medioambiental o social?

Para garantizar que las inversiones sostenibles no causan un perjuicio significativo ("DNSH"), Amundi utiliza dos filtros:

Más allá de los factores específicos de sostenibilidad cubiertos en el primer filtro, Amundi ha definido un segundo filtro, que no tiene en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas mencionados anteriormente, con el fin de verificar que la empresa no obtiene malos resultados desde un punto de vista medioambiental o social global en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, lo que corresponde a una puntuación medioambiental o social superior o igual a E utilizando la calificación ESG de Amundi.

- ¿Cómo se tuvieron en cuenta los indicadores de incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

Los indicadores de incidencias adversas se han tenido en cuenta tal y como se detalla en el primer filtro de no causar un daño significativo (DNSH) anterior.

El primer filtro DNSH se basa en el seguimiento de los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas del Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 cuando se dispone de datos sólidos mediante la combinación de los siguientes indicadores y umbrales o normas específicas:

- Tener una intensidad de CO<sub>2</sub> que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector (solo se aplica a sectores de alta intensidad), y
- Tener una diversidad en el Consejo de Administración que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, y
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con las condiciones de trabajo y los derechos humanos.
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con la biodiversidad y la contaminación

- ¿Estaban las inversiones sostenibles alineadas con las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos? Detalles:

Sí, las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos están integrados en nuestra metodología de puntuación ESG. Nuestra herramienta de calificación ESG propia evalúa a los emisores utilizando los datos disponibles de nuestros proveedores de datos. Por ejemplo, el modelo cuenta con un criterio específico denominado "Participación en la comunidad y derechos humanos", que se aplica a todos los sectores, además de otros criterios relacionados con los derechos humanos, como las cadenas de suministro socialmente responsables, las condiciones de trabajo y las relaciones laborales. Además, realizamos un seguimiento de las controversias, como mínimo trimestralmente, que incluye a las empresas identificadas por vulneraciones de los derechos humanos. Cuando surgen controversias, los analistas evalúan la situación y aplican una puntuación a la controversia (utilizando nuestra metodología de puntuación interna) y determinan el mejor curso de acción. Las puntuaciones de controversia se actualizan trimestralmente para realizar un seguimiento de la tendencia y de los esfuerzos de corrección.

¿Cómo tuvo en cuenta este producto financiero las principales incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

El producto tiene en cuenta todas las Principales Incidencias Adversas obligatorias según el Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 que se aplica a la estrategia del producto y se basa en una combinación de políticas de exclusión (normativas y sectoriales), enfoques de implicación y voto:

- Exclusión: Amundi ha definido reglas de exclusión normativas, basadas en la actividad y sectoriales que abarcan algunos de los principales indicadores adversos de sostenibilidad enumerados por el Reglamento de Divulgación.
- Integración de factores ESG: Amundi ha adoptado normas mínimas de integración ESG aplicadas por defecto a sus fondos de capital variable y gestión activa (exclusión de emisores con calificación G y mejor puntuación media ponderada ESG superior a la del índice de referencia aplicable). Los 38 criterios utilizados en el enfoque de calificación ESG de Amundi también se diseñaron para tener en cuenta las principales incidencias en los factores de sostenibilidad, así como la calidad de la mitigación realizada, que también se tienen en cuenta a ese respecto.
- Compromiso: La interacción es un proceso continuo y orientado a un fin, cuyo objetivo es influir en las actividades o el comportamiento de las empresas participadas. El objetivo de las actividades de interacción puede clasificarse en dos categorías: comprometer a un emisor a mejorar la forma en que integra la dimensión medioambiental y social, comprometer a un emisor a mejorar su impacto en cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y relacionadas con los derechos humanos u otras cuestiones de sostenibilidad que son importantes para la sociedad y la economía mundial.
- Seguimiento de controversias: Amundi ha desarrollado un sistema de seguimiento de controversias que se basa en tres proveedores de datos externos para realizar un seguimiento sistemático de las controversias y su nivel de gravedad. Este enfoque cuantitativo se enriquece después con una evaluación en profundidad de cada controversia grave, dirigida por analistas ESG y la revisión periódica de su evolución. Este enfoque se aplica a todos los fondos de Amundi.

Si desea más información sobre cómo se tienen en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas, consulte la Declaración de divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.com.

Las actividades habilitadoras permiten directamente que otras actividades contribuyan de forma sustancial a un objetivo medioambiental.

Las actividades alineadas con la Taxonomía se expresan como porcentaje de: -el volumen de negocio que refleja la proporción de ingresos procedentes de actividades ecológicas de las empresas participadas -las inversiones en inmovilizado (CapEx) que muestran las inversiones ecológicas realizadas por las empresas participadas, por ejemplo, para la transición a una economía verde - los gastos de explotación (OpEx) que reflejan las actividades operativas ecológicas de las empresas participadas

¿En qué medida las inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

El fondo promueve características tanto medioambientales como sociales. Aunque el fondo no se comprometió a realizar inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE, durante el periodo contable el fondo invirtió un 0.00% en inversiones sostenibles alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE.

- ¿Invirtió el producto financiero en actividades relacionadas con el gas fósil y/o la energía nuclear que se ajustaban a la Taxonomía de la UE?

☐ Sí:

☐ En gas fósil      ☐ En energía nuclear

☒ No

Durante el periodo no se dispuso de datos fiables sobre la alineación con la Taxonomía de la UE del gas fósil y la energía nuclear.

Los gráficos siguientes muestran en verde el porcentaje de inversiones que estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE. Como no existe una metodología adecuada para determinar la alineación con la Taxonomía de la deuda pública*, el primer gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía en relación con todas las inversiones del producto financiero, incluida la deuda pública, mientras que el segundo gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía solo en relación con las inversiones del producto financiero distintas de la deuda pública.

* A efectos de estos gráficos, la "deuda pública" abarca todas las exposiciones a deuda pública.

- ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones en actividades de transición y habilitadoras?

A 30/06/2024, utilizando como indicador el volumen de negocio y/o los datos sobre el uso del producto obtenido de bonos verdes, la cuota de inversión del fondo en actividades de transición era del 0.00% y la cuota de inversión en actividades habilitadoras era del 0.00%. El porcentaje declarado de alineación de las inversiones del fondo con la Taxonomía de la UE no ha sido auditado por los auditores del fondo ni por terceros.

● ¿Cómo era el porcentaje de inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE respecto de los periodos de referencia anteriores?

Al cierre del periodo anterior, el porcentaje de inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE era del 0.00%.

¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

La cuota de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineado con la Taxonomía fue del 0.00% al cierre del periodo.

Esto se debe al hecho de que algunos emisores se consideran inversiones sostenibles con arreglo al Reglamento sobre la divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros (SFDR), pero presentan una parte de actividades que no se ajustan a las normas de la Taxonomía de la UE, o para las que aún no se dispone de datos con vistas a realizar una evaluación conforme a la Taxonomía de la UE.

¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social?

El porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social al cierre del periodo era del 8.50%.

¿Qué inversiones se incluían en "otros", cuál era su finalidad y existían salvaguardias medioambientales o sociales mínimas?

El apartado "N.º 2 Otros" incluye el efectivo y otros instrumentos mantenidos con fines de liquidez y gestión del riesgo de la cartera. En el caso de los bonos y acciones sin calificación, se aplican unas salvaguardias medioambientales y sociales mínimas a través de un cribado de controversias respecto de los Principios del Pacto Mundial de Naciones Unidas. También puede incluir valores sin calificación ESG para los que no se disponga de los datos necesarios para cuantificar de la consecución de las características medioambientales o sociales.

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad están continuamente disponibles en el sistema de gestión de carteras, lo que permite a los gestores de carteras evaluar el impacto de sus decisiones de inversión.

Estos indicadores se integran en el marco de control de AMUNDI, repartándose las responsabilidades entre el primer nivel de controles, realizado por los propios equipos de Inversión, y el segundo nivel de controles, realizado por los equipos de Riesgos, que supervisan de forma continua el cumplimiento de las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el fondo.

Además, la Política de Inversión Responsable de AMUNDI establece un enfoque activo de interacción que promueve el diálogo con las empresas participadas, incluidas las que forman parte de la cartera de este producto. Nuestro Informe Anual de Interacción, disponible en <https://about.amundi.com/esg-documentation>, ofrece información detallada sobre esta iniciativa y sus resultados.

Una inversión sostenible es una inversión en una actividad económica que contribuya a un objetivo medioambiental o social, siempre que la inversión no cause un perjuicio significativo para ningún objetivo medioambiental o social y que las empresas participadas sigan prácticas de buen gobierno.

¿En qué medida se cumplieron las características medioambientales y/o sociales promovidas por este producto financiero?

Durante el ejercicio, el producto promovió continuamente las características medioambientales y/o sociales con el objetivo de lograr una puntuación ESG superior a la puntuación ESG de su universo de inversión MSCI INDIA 10/40. Para determinar la puntuación ESG del Producto y el universo de inversión ESG, el desempeño ESG se evaluó continuamente comparando el desempeño medio de un título frente al sector del emisor del título, con respecto a cada una de las tres características: medioambiental, social y de gobierno corporativo.

El universo de inversión es un universo de mercado general que no evalúa ni incluye componentes basados en características medioambientales y/o sociales y, por lo tanto, no pretende ser coherente con las características promovidas por el fondo. No se ha designado ningún índice de referencia ESG.

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad cuantifican cómo se alcanzan las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el producto financiero.

● ¿Cómo se comportaron los indicadores de sostenibilidad?

Amundi ha desarrollado su propio proceso interno de calificación ESG basado en el enfoque "Best-in-class". Las calificaciones adaptadas a cada sector de actividad pretenden evaluar la dinámica en la que operan las empresas.

El indicador de sostenibilidad utilizado es la puntuación ESG del Producto que se mide con respecto a la puntuación ESG del universo de inversión ESG del Producto.

Al cierre del periodo:

- La calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera es -0.117 (D).
- La calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG es -0.380 (D).

La calificación ESG de Amundi utilizada para determinar la puntuación ESG es una puntuación cuantitativa ESG traducida en siete grados, que van de la A (el universo de mejores puntuaciones) a la G (la peor). En la escala de Calificación ESG de Amundi, los títulos pertenecientes a la lista de exclusión corresponden a una G. En el caso de los emisores corporativos, el desempeño ESG se evalúa en general y a nivel de criterios relevantes comparándolo con el desempeño medio de su sector, a través de la combinación de las tres dimensiones ESG:

- Dimensión medioambiental: analiza la capacidad de los emisores para controlar su impacto medioambiental directo e indirecto, limitando su consumo de energía, reduciendo sus emisiones de efecto invernadero, luchando contra el agotamiento de los recursos y protegiendo la biodiversidad.
- Dimensión social: analiza el funcionamiento de un emisor en dos conceptos distintos: su estrategia para desarrollar su capital humano y el respeto de los derechos humanos en general;
- Dimensión de gobierno corporativo: Evalúa la capacidad del emisor para garantizar la base de un marco de gobierno corporativo eficaz y generar valor a largo plazo.

● ¿...y en comparación con periodos anteriores?

Al cierre del periodo anterior, la calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera era de -0.05 (D) y la calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG era de -0.26 (D).

● ¿Cuáles eran los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero pretende realizar parcialmente y cómo contribuía la inversión sostenible a dichos objetivos?

Los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles son invertir en empresas participadas que traten de cumplir dos criterios:

1. seguir las mejores prácticas medioambientales y sociales; y
2. evitar fabricar productos o prestar servicios que perjudiquen al medio ambiente y a la sociedad.

Para que se considere que la empresa en la que se invierte contribuye al objetivo mencionado, debe ser uno de los "mejores actores" dentro de su sector de actividad en al menos uno de sus factores medioambientales o sociales materiales.

La definición de "mejor actor" se basa en la metodología ESG propia de Amundi, cuyo objetivo es cuantificar el desempeño ESG de una empresa participada. Para ser considerada "mejor actor", una empresa participada debe obtener las tres mejores calificaciones (A, B o C, en una escala de calificación que va de la A a la G) dentro de su sector en al menos un factor medioambiental o social material. Los factores medioambientales y sociales materiales se identifican a nivel sectorial. La identificación de factores materiales se basa en el marco de análisis ESG de Amundi, que combina datos extrafinancieros y análisis cualitativos de temáticas sectoriales y de sostenibilidad afines. Los factores identificados como materiales suponen una contribución de más del 10% a la puntuación ESG global. En el sector energético, por ejemplo, los factores materiales son: emisiones y energía, biodiversidad y contaminación, salud y seguridad, comunidades locales y derechos humanos. Si desea obtener una descripción más completa de los sectores y factores, consulte la Declaración Reglamentaria ESG de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.lu.

Para contribuir a los objetivos anteriores, la empresa participada no debe tener una exposición significativa a actividades (por ejemplo, tabaco, armas, juegos de azar, carbón, aviación, producción de carne, fabricación de fertilizantes y pesticidas, producción de plásticos de un solo uso) que no sean compatibles con dichos criterios.

El carácter sostenible de una inversión se evalúa a nivel de la empresa participada.

Las principales incidencias adversas son los efectos negativos más significativos de las decisiones de inversión sobre los factores de sostenibilidad relacionados con cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y laborales, el respeto de los derechos humanos y la lucha contra la corrupción y el soborno.

● ¿De qué manera las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero realizó parcialmente no causaron un perjuicio significativo a ningún objetivo de inversión sostenible desde el punto de vista medioambiental o social?

Para garantizar que las inversiones sostenibles no causan un perjuicio significativo ("DNSH"), Amundi utiliza dos filtros:

Más allá de los factores específicos de sostenibilidad cubiertos en el primer filtro, Amundi ha definido un segundo filtro, que no tiene en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas mencionados anteriormente, con el fin de verificar que la empresa no obtiene malos resultados desde un punto de vista medioambiental o social global en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, lo que corresponde a una puntuación medioambiental o social superior o igual a E utilizando la calificación ESG de Amundi.

- ¿Cómo se tuvieron en cuenta los indicadores de incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

Los indicadores de incidencias adversas se han tenido en cuenta tal y como se detalla en el primer filtro de no causar un daño significativo (DNSH) anterior.

El primer filtro DNSH se basa en el seguimiento de los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas del Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 cuando se dispone de datos sólidos mediante la combinación de los siguientes indicadores y umbrales o normas específicas:

- Tener una intensidad de CO<sub>2</sub> que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector (solo se aplica a sectores de alta intensidad), y
- Tener una diversidad en el Consejo de Administración que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, y
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con las condiciones de trabajo y los derechos humanos.
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con la biodiversidad y la contaminación

- ¿Estaban las inversiones sostenibles alineadas con las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos? Detalles:

Sí, las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos están integrados en nuestra metodología de puntuación ESG. Nuestra herramienta de calificación ESG propia evalúa a los emisores utilizando los datos disponibles de nuestros proveedores de datos. Por ejemplo, el modelo cuenta con un criterio específico denominado "Participación en la comunidad y derechos humanos", que se aplica a todos los sectores, además de otros criterios relacionados con los derechos humanos, como las cadenas de suministro socialmente responsables, las condiciones de trabajo y las relaciones laborales. Además, realizamos un seguimiento de las controversias, como mínimo trimestralmente, que incluye a las empresas identificadas por vulneraciones de los derechos humanos. Cuando surgen controversias, los analistas evalúan la situación y aplican una puntuación a la controversia (utilizando nuestra metodología de puntuación interna) y determinan el mejor curso de acción. Las puntuaciones de controversia se actualizan trimestralmente para realizar un seguimiento de la tendencia y de los esfuerzos de corrección.

¿Cómo tuvo en cuenta este producto financiero las principales incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

El producto tiene en cuenta todas las Principales Incidencias Adversas obligatorias según el Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 que se aplica a la estrategia del producto y se basa en una combinación de políticas de exclusión (normativas y sectoriales), enfoques de implicación y voto:

- Exclusión: Amundi ha definido reglas de exclusión normativas, basadas en la actividad y sectoriales que abarcan algunos de los principales indicadores adversos de sostenibilidad enumerados por el Reglamento de Divulgación.
- Integración de factores ESG: Amundi ha adoptado normas mínimas de integración ESG aplicadas por defecto a sus fondos de capital variable y gestión activa (exclusión de emisores con calificación G y mejor puntuación media ponderada ESG superior a la del índice de referencia aplicable). Los 38 criterios utilizados en el enfoque de calificación ESG de Amundi también se diseñaron para tener en cuenta las principales incidencias en los factores de sostenibilidad, así como la calidad de la mitigación realizada, que también se tienen en cuenta a ese respecto.
- Compromiso: La interacción es un proceso continuo y orientado a un fin, cuyo objetivo es influir en las actividades o el comportamiento de las empresas participadas. El objetivo de las actividades de interacción puede clasificarse en dos categorías: comprometer a un emisor a mejorar la forma en que integra la dimensión medioambiental y social, comprometer a un emisor a mejorar su impacto en cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y relacionadas con los derechos humanos u otras cuestiones de sostenibilidad que son importantes para la sociedad y la economía mundial.
- Voto: La política de voto de Amundi responde a su análisis integral de todas las cuestiones a largo plazo que pueden influir en la creación de valor, incluidas cuestiones ESG sustanciales. Si desea obtener más información, consulte la Política de Voto de Amundi.
- Seguimiento de controversias: Amundi ha desarrollado un sistema de seguimiento de controversias que se basa en tres proveedores de datos externos para realizar un seguimiento sistemático de las controversias y su nivel de gravedad. Este enfoque cuantitativo se enriquece después con una evaluación en profundidad de cada controversia grave, dirigida por analistas ESG y la revisión periódica de su evolución. Este enfoque se aplica a todos los fondos de Amundi.

Si desea más información sobre cómo se tienen en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas, consulte la Declaración de divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.com.

Para estar alineados con la Taxonomía de la UE, los criterios para el gas fósil incluyen limitaciones de emisiones y cambio a energías totalmente renovables o combustibles con bajas emisiones de carbono para finales de 2035. En el caso de la energía nuclear, los criterios incluyen normas exhaustivas de seguridad y gestión de residuos

¿En qué medida las inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

● ¿Invirtió el producto financiero en actividades relacionadas con el gas fósil y/o la energía nuclear que se ajustaban a la Taxonomía de la UE?

Las actividades habilitadoras permiten directamente que otras actividades contribuyan de forma sustancial a un objetivo medioambiental.

Las actividades de transición son actividades para las que aún no se dispone de alternativas con bajas emisiones de carbono y, entre otros, tienen niveles de emisión de gases de efecto invernadero correspondientes al mejor rendimiento.

Las actividades alineadas con la Taxonomía se expresan como porcentaje de:

- el volumen de negocio que refleja la proporción de ingresos procedentes de actividades ecológicas de las empresas participadas
- las inversiones en inmovilizado (CapEx) que muestran las inversiones ecológicas realizadas por las empresas participadas, por ejemplo, para la transición a una economía verde
- los gastos de explotación (OpEx) que reflejan las actividades operativas ecológicas de las empresas participadas

☒ No

Durante el periodo no se dispuso de datos fiables sobre la alineación con la Taxonomía de la UE del gas fósil y la energía nuclear.

● ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones en actividades de transición y habilitadoras?

A 30/06/2024, utilizando como indicador el volumen de negocio y/o los datos sobre el uso del producto obtenido de bonos verdes, la cuota de inversión del fondo en actividades de transición era del 0.00% y la cuota de inversión en actividades habilitadoras era del 0.00%. El porcentaje declarado de alineación de las inversiones del fondo con la Taxonomía de la UE no ha sido auditado por los auditores del fondo ni por terceros.

● ¿Cómo era el porcentaje de inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE respecto de los periodos de referencia anteriores?

Al cierre del periodo anterior, el porcentaje de inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE era del 0.00%.

 son inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental que no tienen en cuenta los criterios de las actividades económicas sostenibles desde el punto de vista medioambiental en virtud del Reglamento (UE) 2020/852.

¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

La cuota de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineado con la Taxonomía fue del 14.50% al cierre del periodo.

Esto se debe al hecho de que algunos emisores se consideran inversiones sostenibles con arreglo al Reglamento sobre la divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros (SFDR), pero presentan una parte de actividades que no se ajustan a las normas de la Taxonomía de la UE, o para las que aún no se dispone de datos con vistas a realizar una evaluación conforme a la Taxonomía de la UE.

¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social?

El porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social al cierre del periodo era del 17.64%.

¿Qué inversiones se incluían en "otros", cuál era su finalidad y existían salvaguardias medioambientales o sociales mínimas?

El apartado "N.º 2 Otros" incluye el efectivo y otros instrumentos mantenidos con fines de liquidez y gestión del riesgo de la cartera. En el caso de los bonos y acciones sin calificación, se aplican unas salvaguardias medioambientales y sociales mínimas a través de un cribado de controversias respecto de los Principios del Pacto Mundial de Naciones Unidas. También puede incluir valores sin calificación ESG para los que no se disponga de los datos necesarios para cuantificar de la consecución de las características medioambientales o sociales.

¿Qué medidas se han tomado para alcanzar las características medioambientales y/o sociales durante el periodo de referencia?

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad están continuamente disponibles en el sistema de gestión de carteras, lo que permite a los gestores de carteras evaluar el impacto de sus decisiones de inversión.

Estos indicadores se integran en el marco de control de AMUNDI, repartiéndose las responsabilidades entre el primer nivel de controles, realizado por los propios equipos de Inversión, y el segundo nivel de controles, realizado por los equipos de Riesgos, que supervisan de forma continua el cumplimiento de las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el fondo.

Además, la Política de Inversión Responsable de AMUNDI establece un enfoque activo de interacción que promueve el diálogo con las empresas participadas, incluidas las que forman parte de la cartera de este producto. Nuestro Informe Anual de Interacción, disponible en <https://about.amundi.com/esg-documentation>, ofrece información detallada sobre esta iniciativa y sus resultados.

Una inversión sostenible es una inversión en una actividad económica que contribuya a un objetivo medioambiental o social, siempre que la inversión no cause un perjuicio significativo para ningún objetivo medioambiental o social y que las empresas participadas sigan prácticas de buen gobierno.

La Taxonomía de la UE es un sistema de clasificación establecido en el Reglamento (UE) 2020/852, que determina una lista de actividades económicas sostenibles desde el punto de vista medioambiental. Dicho Reglamento no incluye una lista de actividades económicas socialmente sostenibles. Las inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental podrían estar alineadas con la Taxonomía o no.

¿En qué medida se cumplieron las características medioambientales y/o sociales promovidas por este producto financiero?

Durante el ejercicio, el producto promovió continuamente las características medioambientales y/o sociales con el objetivo de lograr una puntuación ESG superior a la puntuación ESG de su universo de inversión MSCI EMU INDEX. Para determinar la puntuación ESG del Producto y el universo de inversión ESG, el desempeño ESG se evaluó continuamente comparando el desempeño medio de un título frente al sector del emisor del título, con respecto a cada una de las tres características: medioambiental, social y de gobierno corporativo.

El universo de inversión es un universo de mercado general que no evalúa ni incluye componentes basados en características medioambientales y/o sociales y, por lo tanto, no pretende ser coherente con las características promovidas por el fondo. No se ha designado ningún índice de referencia ESG.

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad cuantifican cómo se alcanzan las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el producto financiero.

● ¿Cómo se comportaron los indicadores de sostenibilidad?

Amundi ha desarrollado su propio proceso interno de calificación ESG basado en el enfoque "Best-in-class". Las calificaciones adaptadas a cada sector de actividad pretenden evaluar la dinámica en la que operan las empresas.

El indicador de sostenibilidad utilizado es la puntuación ESG del Producto que se mide con respecto a la puntuación ESG del universo de inversión ESG del Producto.

Al cierre del periodo:

- La calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera es 1.109 (C).
- La calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG es 1.03 (C).

La calificación ESG de Amundi utilizada para determinar la puntuación ESG es una puntuación cuantitativa ESG traducida en siete grados, que van de la A (el universo de mejores puntuaciones) a la G (la peor). En la escala de Calificación ESG de Amundi, los títulos pertenecientes a la lista de exclusión corresponden a una G. En el caso de los emisores corporativos, el desempeño ESG se evalúa en general y a nivel de criterios relevantes comparándolo con el desempeño medio de su sector, a través de la combinación de las tres dimensiones ESG:

- Dimensión medioambiental: analiza la capacidad de los emisores para controlar su impacto medioambiental directo e indirecto, limitando su consumo de energía, reduciendo sus emisiones de efecto invernadero, luchando contra el agotamiento de los recursos y protegiendo la biodiversidad.
- Dimensión social: analiza el funcionamiento de un emisor en dos conceptos distintos: su estrategia para desarrollar su capital humano y el respeto de los derechos humanos en general.
- Dimensión de gobierno corporativo: Evalúa la capacidad del emisor para garantizar la base de un marco de gobierno corporativo eficaz y generar valor a largo plazo.

● ¿...y en comparación con periodos anteriores?

Al cierre del periodo anterior:

- La calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera era 1.14 (C).
- La calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG era 1.03 (C).

● ¿Cuáles eran los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero pretende realizar parcialmente y cómo contribuía la inversión sostenible a dichos objetivos?

Los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles son invertir en empresas participadas que traten de cumplir dos criterios:

1. seguir las mejores prácticas medioambientales y sociales; y
2. evitar fabricar productos o prestar servicios que perjudiquen al medio ambiente y a la sociedad.

Para que se considere que la empresa en la que se invierte contribuye al objetivo mencionado, debe ser uno de los "mejores actores" dentro de su sector de actividad en al menos uno de sus factores medioambientales o sociales materiales.

afines. Los factores identificados como materiales suponen una contribución de más del 10% a la puntuación ESG global. En el sector energético, por ejemplo, los factores materiales son: emisiones y energía, biodiversidad y contaminación, salud y seguridad, comunidades locales y derechos humanos. Si desea obtener una descripción más completa de los sectores y factores, consulte la Declaración Reglamentaria ESG de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.lu. Para contribuir a los objetivos anteriores, la empresa participada no debe tener una exposición significativa a actividades (por ejemplo, tabaco, armas, juegos de azar, carbón, aviación, producción de carne, fabricación de fertilizantes y pesticidas, producción de plásticos de un solo uso) que no sean compatibles con dichos criterios.

El carácter sostenible de una inversión se evalúa a nivel de la empresa participada.

Las principales incidencias adversas

son los efectos negativos más significativos de las decisiones de inversión sobre los factores de sostenibilidad relacionados con cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y laborales, el respeto de los derechos humanos y la lucha contra la corrupción y el soborno.

● ¿De qué manera las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero realizó parcialmente no causaron un perjuicio significativo a ningún objetivo de inversión sostenible desde el punto de vista medioambiental o social?

Para garantizar que las inversiones sostenibles no causan un perjuicio significativo ("DNSH"), Amundi utiliza dos filtros:

Más allá de los factores específicos de sostenibilidad cubiertos en el primer filtro, Amundi ha definido un segundo filtro, que no tiene en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas mencionados anteriormente, con el fin de verificar que la empresa no obtiene malos resultados desde un punto de vista medioambiental o social global en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, lo que corresponde a una puntuación medioambiental o social superior o igual a E utilizando la calificación ESG de Amundi.

- ¿Cómo se tuvieron en cuenta los indicadores de incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

Los indicadores de incidencias adversas se han tenido en cuenta tal y como se detalla en el primer filtro de no causar un daño significativo (DNSH) anterior.

El primer filtro DNSH se basa en el seguimiento de los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas del Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 cuando se dispone de datos sólidos mediante la combinación de los siguientes indicadores y umbrales o normas específicas:

- Tener una intensidad de CO<sub>2</sub> que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector (solo se aplica a sectores de alta intensidad), y
- Tener una diversidad en el Consejo de Administración que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, y
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con las condiciones de trabajo y los derechos humanos.
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con la biodiversidad y la contaminación

- ¿Estaban las inversiones sostenibles alineadas con las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos? Detalles:

Sí, las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos están integrados en nuestra metodología de puntuación ESG. Nuestra herramienta de calificación ESG propia evalúa a los emisores utilizando los datos disponibles de nuestros proveedores de datos. Por ejemplo, el modelo cuenta con un criterio específico denominado "Participación en la comunidad y derechos humanos", que se aplica a todos los sectores, además de otros criterios relacionados con los derechos humanos, como las cadenas de suministro socialmente responsables, las condiciones de trabajo y las relaciones laborales. Además, realizamos un seguimiento de las controversias, como mínimo trimestralmente, que incluye a las empresas identificadas por vulneraciones de los derechos humanos. Cuando surgen controversias, los analistas evalúan la situación y aplican una puntuación a la controversia (utilizando nuestra metodología de puntuación interna) y determinan el mejor curso de acción. Las puntuaciones de controversia se actualizan trimestralmente para realizar un seguimiento de la tendencia y de los esfuerzos de corrección.

¿Cómo tuvo en cuenta este producto financiero las principales incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

El producto tiene en cuenta todas las Principales Incidencias Adversas obligatorias según el Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 que se aplica a la estrategia del producto y se basa en una combinación de políticas de exclusión (normativas y sectoriales), enfoques de implicación y voto:

- Exclusión: Amundi ha definido reglas de exclusión normativas, basadas en la actividad y sectoriales que abarcan algunos de los principales indicadores adversos de sostenibilidad enumerados por el Reglamento de Divulgación.
- Compromiso: La interacción es un proceso continuo y orientado a un fin, cuyo objetivo es influir en las actividades o el comportamiento de las empresas participadas. El objetivo de las actividades de interacción puede clasificarse en dos categorías: comprometer a un emisor a mejorar la forma en que integra la dimensión medioambiental y social, comprometer a un emisor a mejorar su impacto en cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y relacionadas con los derechos humanos u otras cuestiones de sostenibilidad que son importantes para la sociedad y la economía mundial.
- Voto: La política de voto de Amundi responde a su análisis integral de todas las cuestiones a largo plazo que pueden influir en la creación de valor, incluidas cuestiones ESG sustanciales. Si desea obtener más información, consulte la Política de Voto de Amundi.
- Seguimiento de controversias: Amundi ha desarrollado un sistema de seguimiento de controversias que se basa en tres proveedores de datos externos para realizar un seguimiento sistemático de las controversias y su nivel de gravedad. Este enfoque cuantitativo se enriquece después con una evaluación en profundidad de cada controversia grave, dirigida por analistas ESG y la revisión periódica de su evolución. Este enfoque se aplica a todos los fondos de Amundi.

Para estar alineados con la Taxonomía de la UE, los criterios para el gas fósil incluyen limitaciones de emisiones y cambio a energías totalmente renovables o combustibles con bajas emisiones de carbono para finales de 2035. En el caso de la energía nuclear, los criterios incluyen normas exhaustivas de seguridad y gestión de residuos.

¿En qué medida las inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

El fondo promueve características tanto medioambientales como sociales. Aunque el fondo no se comprometió a realizar inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE, durante el periodo contable el fondo invirtió un 2.05% en inversiones sostenibles alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE. Estas inversiones contribuyeron a los objetivos de mitigación del cambio climático de la Taxonomía de la UE.

La alineación de las empresas participadas con los objetivos de la Taxonomía de la UE antes mencionados se cuantifica utilizando datos sobre el volumen de negocio (o los ingresos) y/o el uso del producto obtenido de bonos verdes.

El porcentaje declarado de alineación de las inversiones del fondo con la Taxonomía de la UE no ha sido auditado por los auditores del fondo ni por terceros.

Las actividades habilitadoras permiten directamente que otras actividades contribuyan de forma sustancial a un objetivo medioambiental.

Las actividades de transición son actividades para las que aún no se dispone de alternativas con bajas emisiones de carbono y, entre otros, tienen niveles de emisión de gases de efecto invernadero correspondientes al mejor rendimiento.

Las actividades alineadas con la Taxonomía se expresan como porcentaje de:

- el volumen de negocio que refleja la proporción de ingresos procedentes de actividades ecológicas de las empresas participadas
- las inversiones en inmovilizado (CapEx) que muestran las inversiones ecológicas realizadas por las empresas participadas, por ejemplo, para la transición a una economía verde
- los gastos de explotación (OpEx) que reflejan las actividades operativas ecológicas de las empresas participadas

● ¿Invertió el producto financiero en actividades relacionadas con el gas fósil y/o la energía nuclear que se ajustaban a la Taxonomía de la UE?

☐ Sí:

☐ En gas fósil

☐ En energía nuclear

☒ No

Durante el periodo no se dispuso de datos fiables sobre la alineación con la Taxonomía de la UE del gas fósil y la energía nuclear.

Los gráficos siguientes muestran en verde el porcentaje de inversiones que estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE. Como no existe una metodología adecuada para determinar la alineación con la Taxonomía de la deuda pública*, el primer gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía en relación con todas las inversiones del producto financiero, incluida la deuda pública, mientras que el segundo gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía solo en relación con las inversiones del producto financiero distintas de la deuda pública.

● ¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones en actividades de transición y habilitadoras?

A 30/06/2024, utilizando como indicador el volumen de negocio y/o los datos sobre el uso del producto obtenido de bonos verdes, la cuota de inversión del fondo en actividades de transición era del 0.08% y la cuota de inversión en actividades habilitadoras era del 2.25%. El porcentaje declarado de alineación de las inversiones del fondo con la Taxonomía de la UE no ha sido auditado por los auditores del fondo ni por terceros.

● ¿Cómo era el porcentaje de inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE respecto de los periodos de referencia anteriores?

Al cierre del periodo anterior, el porcentaje de inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE era del 7.09%.

¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

La cuota de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineado con la Taxonomía fue del 60.79% al cierre del periodo.

Esto se debe al hecho de que algunos emisores se consideran inversiones sostenibles con arreglo al Reglamento sobre la divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros (SFDR), pero presentan una parte de actividades que no se ajustan a las normas de la Taxonomía de la UE, o para las que aún no se dispone de datos con vistas a realizar una evaluación conforme a la Taxonomía de la UE.

¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social?

El porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social al cierre del periodo era del 11.69%.

¿Qué inversiones se incluían en "otros", cuál era su finalidad y existían salvaguardias medioambientales o sociales mínimas?

El apartado "N.º 2 Otros" incluye el efectivo y otros instrumentos mantenidos con fines de liquidez y gestión del riesgo de la cartera. En el caso de los bonos y acciones sin calificación, se aplican unas salvaguardias medioambientales y sociales mínimas a través de un cribado de controversias respecto de los Principios del Pacto Mundial de Naciones Unidas.

¿Qué medidas se han tomado para alcanzar las características medioambientales y/o sociales durante el periodo de referencia?

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad están continuamente disponibles en el sistema de gestión de carteras, lo que permite a los gestores de carteras evaluar el impacto de sus decisiones de inversión.

Estos indicadores se integran en el marco de control de AMUNDI, repartiéndose las responsabilidades entre el primer nivel de controles, realizado por los propios equipos de Inversión, y el segundo nivel de controles, realizado por los equipos de Riesgos, que supervisan de forma continua el cumplimiento de las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el fondo.

Una inversión sostenible es una inversión en una actividad económica que contribuya a un objetivo medioambiental o social, siempre que la inversión no cause un perjuicio significativo para ningún objetivo medioambiental o social y que las empresas participadas sigan prácticas de buen gobierno.

La Taxonomía de la UE es un sistema de clasificación establecido en el Reglamento (UE) 2020/852, que determina una lista de actividades económicas sostenibles desde el punto de vista medioambiental. Dicho Reglamento no incluye una lista de actividades económicas socialmente sostenibles. Las inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental podrían estar alineadas con la Taxonomía o no.

¿En qué medida se cumplieron las características medioambientales y/o sociales promovidas por este producto financiero?

Durante el ejercicio, el producto promovió continuamente las características medioambientales y/o sociales con el objetivo de lograr una puntuación ESG superior a la puntuación ESG de su universo de inversión MSCI EMU INDEX. Para determinar la puntuación ESG del Producto y el universo de inversión ESG, el desempeño ESG se evaluó continuamente comparando el desempeño medio de un título frente al sector del emisor del título, con respecto a cada una de las tres características: medioambiental, social y de gobierno corporativo. El universo de inversión es un universo de mercado general que no evalúa ni incluye componentes basados en características medioambientales y/o sociales y, por lo tanto, no pretende ser coherente con las características promovidas por el fondo. No se ha designado ningún índice de referencia ESG.

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad cuantifican cómo se alcanzan las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el producto financiero.

● ¿Cómo se comportaron los indicadores de sostenibilidad?

Amundi ha desarrollado su propio proceso interno de calificación ESG basado en el enfoque "Best-in-class". Las calificaciones adaptadas a cada sector de actividad pretenden evaluar la dinámica en la que operan las empresas.

El indicador de sostenibilidad utilizado es la puntuación ESG del Producto que se mide con respecto a la puntuación ESG del universo de inversión ESG del Producto.

Al cierre del periodo:

- La calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera es 1.057 (C).
- La calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG es 1.03 (C).

La calificación ESG de Amundi utilizada para determinar la puntuación ESG es una puntuación cuantitativa ESG traducida en siete grados, que van de la A (el universo de mejores puntuaciones) a la G (la peor). En la escala de Calificación ESG de Amundi, los títulos pertenecientes a la lista de exclusión corresponden a una G. En el caso de los emisores corporativos, el desempeño ESG se evalúa en general y a nivel de criterios relevantes comparándolo con el desempeño medio de su sector, a través de la combinación de las tres dimensiones ESG:

- Dimensión medioambiental: analiza la capacidad de los emisores para controlar su impacto medioambiental directo e indirecto, limitando su consumo de energía, reduciendo sus emisiones de efecto invernadero, luchando contra el agotamiento de los recursos y protegiendo la biodiversidad.
- Dimensión social: analiza el funcionamiento de un emisor en dos conceptos distintos: su estrategia para desarrollar su capital humano y el respeto de los derechos humanos en general;
- Dimensión de gobierno corporativo: Evalúa la capacidad del emisor para garantizar la base de un marco de gobierno corporativo eficaz y generar valor a largo plazo.

● ¿...y en comparación con periodos anteriores?

Al cierre del periodo anterior, la calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera era de 1.12 (C) y la calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG era de 1.03 (C).

● ¿Cuáles eran los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero pretende realizar parcialmente y cómo contribuía la inversión sostenible a dichos objetivos?

Los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles son invertir en empresas participadas que traten de cumplir dos criterios:

1. seguir las mejores prácticas medioambientales y sociales; y
2. evitar fabricar productos o prestar servicios que perjudiquen al medio ambiente y a la sociedad.

Para que se considere que la empresa en la que se invierte contribuye al objetivo mencionado, debe ser uno de los "mejores actores" dentro de su sector de actividad en al menos uno de sus factores medioambientales o sociales materiales.

La definición de "mejor actor" se basa en la metodología ESG propia de Amundi, cuyo objetivo es cuantificar el desempeño ESG de una empresa participada. Para ser considerada "mejor actor", una empresa participada debe obtener las tres mejores calificaciones (A, B o C, en una escala de calificación que va de la A a la G) dentro de su sector en al menos un factor medioambiental o social material. Los factores medioambientales y sociales materiales se identifican a nivel sectorial. La identificación de factores materiales se basa en el marco de análisis ESG de Amundi, que combina datos extrafinancieros y análisis cualitativos de temáticas sectoriales y de sostenibilidad afines. Los factores identificados como materiales suponen una contribución de más del 10% a la puntuación ESG global. En el sector energético, por ejemplo, los factores materiales son: emisiones y energía, biodiversidad y contaminación, salud y seguridad, comunidades locales y derechos humanos. Si desea obtener una descripción más completa de los sectores

y factores, consulte la Declaración Reglamentaria ESG de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.lu. Para contribuir a los objetivos anteriores, la empresa participada no debe tener una exposición significativa a actividades (por ejemplo, tabaco, armas, juegos de azar, carbón, aviación, producción de carne, fabricación de fertilizantes y pesticidas, producción de plásticos de un solo uso) que no sean compatibles con dichos criterios.

El carácter sostenible de una inversión se evalúa a nivel de la empresa participada.

Las principales incidencias adversas son los efectos negativos más significativos de las decisiones de inversión sobre los factores de sostenibilidad relacionados con cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y laborales, el respeto de los derechos humanos y la lucha contra la corrupción y el soborno.

● ¿De qué manera las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero realizó parcialmente no causaron un perjuicio significativo a ningún objetivo de inversión sostenible desde el punto de vista medioambiental o social?

Para garantizar que las inversiones sostenibles no causan un perjuicio significativo ("DNSH"), Amundi utiliza dos filtros:

Más allá de los factores específicos de sostenibilidad cubiertos en el primer filtro, Amundi ha definido un segundo filtro, que no tiene en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas mencionados anteriormente, con el fin de verificar que la empresa no obtiene malos resultados desde un punto de vista medioambiental o social global en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, lo que corresponde a una puntuación medioambiental o social superior o igual a E utilizando la calificación ESG de Amundi.

- ¿Cómo se tuvieron en cuenta los indicadores de incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

Los indicadores de incidencias adversas se han tenido en cuenta tal y como se detalla en el primer filtro de no causar un daño significativo (DNSH) anterior.

El primer filtro DNSH se basa en el seguimiento de los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas del Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 cuando se dispone de datos sólidos mediante la combinación de los siguientes indicadores y umbrales o normas específicas:

- Tener una intensidad de CO<sub>2</sub> que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector (solo se aplica a sectores de alta intensidad), y
- Tener una diversidad en el Consejo de Administración que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, y
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con las condiciones de trabajo y los derechos humanos.
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con la biodiversidad y la contaminación

- ¿Estaban las inversiones sostenibles alineadas con las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos? Detalles:

Sí, las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos están integrados en nuestra

metodología de puntuación ESG. Nuestra herramienta de calificación ESG propia evalúa a los emisores utilizando los datos disponibles de nuestros proveedores de datos. Por ejemplo, el modelo cuenta con un criterio específico denominado "Participación en la comunidad y derechos humanos", que se aplica a todos los sectores, además de otros criterios relacionados con los derechos humanos, como las cadenas de suministro socialmente responsables, las condiciones de trabajo y las relaciones laborales. Además, realizamos un seguimiento de las controversias, como mínimo trimestralmente, que incluye a las empresas identificadas por vulneraciones de los derechos humanos. Cuando surgen controversias, los analistas evalúan la situación y aplican una puntuación a la controversia (utilizando nuestra metodología de puntuación interna) y determinan el mejor curso de acción. Las puntuaciones de controversia se actualizan trimestralmente para realizar un seguimiento de la tendencia y de los esfuerzos de corrección.

Cualquier otra inversión sostenible tampoco debe causar perjuicio significativo a ningún objetivo medioambiental o social.

¿Cómo tuvo en cuenta este producto financiero las principales incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

El producto tiene en cuenta todas las Principales Incidencias Adversas obligatorias según el Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 que se aplica a la estrategia del producto y se basa en una combinación de políticas de exclusión (normativas y sectoriales), enfoques de implicación y voto:

- Exclusión: Amundi ha definido reglas de exclusión normativas, basadas en la actividad y sectoriales que abarcan algunos de los principales indicadores adversos de sostenibilidad enumerados por el Reglamento de Divulgación.
- Compromiso: La interacción es un proceso continuo y orientado a un fin, cuyo objetivo es influir en las actividades o el comportamiento de las empresas participadas. El objetivo de las actividades de interacción puede clasificarse en dos categorías: comprometer a un emisor a mejorar la forma en que integra la dimensión medioambiental y social, comprometer a un emisor a mejorar su impacto en cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y relacionadas con los derechos humanos u otras cuestiones de sostenibilidad que son importantes para la sociedad y la economía mundial.
- Voto: La política de voto de Amundi responde a su análisis integral de todas las cuestiones a largo plazo que pueden influir en la creación de valor, incluidas cuestiones ESG sustanciales. Si desea obtener más información, consulte la Política de Voto de Amundi.
- Seguimiento de controversias: Amundi ha desarrollado un sistema de seguimiento de controversias que se basa en tres proveedores de datos externos para realizar un seguimiento sistemático de las controversias y su nivel de gravedad. Este enfoque cuantitativo se enriquece después con una evaluación en profundidad de cada controversia grave, dirigida por analistas ESG y la revisión periódica de su evolución. Este enfoque se aplica a todos los fondos de Amundi.

Para estar alineados con la Taxonomía de la UE, los criterios para el gas fósil incluyen limitaciones de emisiones y cambio a energías totalmente renovables o combustibles con bajas emisiones de carbono para finales de 2035. En el caso de la energía nuclear, los criterios incluyen normas exhaustivas de seguridad y gestión de residuos.

¿En qué medida las inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

El fondo promueve características tanto medioambientales como sociales. Aunque el fondo no se comprometió a realizar inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE, durante el periodo contable el fondo invirtió un 3.87% en inversiones sostenibles alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE. Estas inversiones contribuyeron a los objetivos de mitigación del cambio climático de la Taxonomía de la UE.

La alineación de las empresas participadas con los objetivos de la Taxonomía de la UE antes mencionados se cuantifica utilizando datos sobre el volumen de negocio (o los ingresos) y/o el uso del producto obtenido de bonos verdes.

El porcentaje declarado de alineación de las inversiones del fondo con la Taxonomía de la UE no ha sido auditado por los auditores del fondo ni por terceros.

Las actividades habilitadoras permiten directamente que otras actividades contribuyan de forma sustancial a un objetivo medioambiental.

Las actividades de transición son actividades para las que aún no se dispone de alternativas con bajas emisiones de carbono y, entre otros, tienen niveles de emisión de gases de efecto invernadero correspondientes al mejor rendimiento.

Las actividades alineadas con la Taxonomía se expresan como porcentaje de:

- el volumen de negocio que refleja la proporción de ingresos procedentes de actividades ecológicas de las empresas participadas
- las inversiones en inmovilizado (CapEx) que muestran las inversiones ecológicas realizadas por las empresas participadas, por ejemplo, para la transición a una economía verde
- los gastos de explotación (OpEx) que reflejan las actividades operativas ecológicas de las empresas participadas

● ¿Invertió el producto financiero en actividades relacionadas con el gas fósil y/o la energía nuclear que se ajustaban a la Taxonomía de la UE¹?

☐ Sí:

☐ En gas fósil      ☐ En energía nuclear

☒ No

Durante el periodo no se dispuso de datos fiables sobre la alineación con la Taxonomía de la UE del gas fósil y la energía nuclear.

¹Las actividades relacionadas con el gas fósil y/o la energía nuclear solo se ajustarán a la Taxonomía de la UE cuando contribuyan a limitar el cambio climático ("mitigación del cambio climático") y no causen un perjuicio significativo a ningún objetivo de la Taxonomía de la UE. Los criterios completos para las actividades económicas de gases fósiles y la energía nuclear que se ajustan a la Taxonomía de la UE se establecen en el Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1214 de la Comisión.

Los gráficos siguientes muestran en verde el porcentaje de inversiones que estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE. Como no existe una metodología adecuada para determinar la alineación con la Taxonomía de la deuda pública*, el primer gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía en relación con todas las inversiones del producto financiero, incluida la deuda pública, mientras que el segundo gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía solo en relación con las inversiones del producto financiero distintas de la deuda pública.

- ¿Cómo era el porcentaje de inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE respecto de los periodos de referencia anteriores?

Al cierre del periodo anterior, el porcentaje de inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE era del 9.34%.

son inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental que no tienen en cuenta los criterios de las actividades económicas sostenibles desde el punto de vista medioambiental en virtud del Reglamento (UE) 2020/852.

¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

La cuota de inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental no alineado con la Taxonomía fue del 47.62% al cierre del periodo.

Esto se debe al hecho de que algunos emisores se consideran inversiones sostenibles con arreglo al Reglamento sobre la divulgación de información relativa a la sostenibilidad en el sector de los servicios financieros (SFDR), pero presentan una parte de actividades que no se ajustan a las normas de la Taxonomía de la UE, o para las que aún no se dispone de datos con vistas a realizar una evaluación conforme a la Taxonomía de la UE.

¿Cuál era el porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social?

El porcentaje de inversiones sostenibles desde el punto de vista social al cierre del periodo era del 14.34%.

¿Qué inversiones se incluían en "otros", cuál era su finalidad y existían salvaguardias medioambientales o sociales mínimas?

El apartado "N.º 2 Otros" incluye el efectivo y otros instrumentos mantenidos con fines de liquidez y gestión del riesgo de la cartera. En el caso de los bonos y acciones sin calificación, se aplican unas salvaguardias medioambientales y sociales mínimas a través de un cribado de controversias respecto de los Principios del Pacto Mundial de Naciones Unidas.

¿Qué medidas se han tomado para alcanzar las características medioambientales y/o sociales durante el periodo de referencia?

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad están continuamente disponibles en el sistema de gestión de carteras, lo que permite a los gestores de carteras evaluar el impacto de sus decisiones de inversión.

Estos indicadores se integran en el marco de control de AMUNDI, repartiéndose las responsabilidades entre el primer nivel de controles, realizado por los propios equipos de Inversión, y el segundo nivel de controles, realizado por los equipos de Riesgos, que supervisan de forma continua el cumplimiento de las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el fondo.

Una inversión sostenible es una inversión en una actividad económica que contribuya a un objetivo medioambiental o social, siempre que la inversión no cause un perjuicio significativo para ningún objetivo medioambiental o social y que las empresas participadas sigan prácticas de buen gobierno.

con un objetivo social

Realizó inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo social:

Promovió características E/S, pero no realizó inversiones sostenibles

¿En qué medida se cumplieron las características medioambientales y/o sociales promovidas por este producto financiero?

Durante el ejercicio, el producto promovió continuamente las características medioambientales y/o sociales con el objetivo de lograr una puntuación ESG superior a la puntuación ESG de su universo de inversión MSCI EUROPE INDEX. Para determinar la puntuación ESG del Producto y el universo de inversión ESG, el desempeño ESG se evaluó continuamente comparando el desempeño medio de un título frente al sector del emisor del título, con respecto a cada una de las tres características: medioambiental, social y de gobierno corporativo.

El universo de inversión es un universo de mercado general que no evalúa ni incluye componentes basados en características medioambientales y/o sociales y, por lo tanto, no pretende ser coherente con las características promovidas por el fondo. No se ha designado ningún índice de referencia ESG.

Los indicadores de sostenibilidad cuantifican cómo se alcanzan las características medioambientales o sociales promovidas por el producto financiero.

● ¿Cómo se comportaron los indicadores de sostenibilidad?

Amundi ha desarrollado su propio proceso interno de calificación ESG basado en el enfoque "Best-in-class". Las calificaciones adaptadas a cada sector de actividad pretenden evaluar la dinámica en la que operan las empresas.

El indicador de sostenibilidad utilizado es la puntuación ESG del Producto que se mide con respecto a la puntuación ESG del universo de inversión ESG del Producto.

Al cierre del periodo:

- La calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera es 1.054 (C).
- La calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG es 0.798 (C).

La calificación ESG de Amundi utilizada para determinar la puntuación ESG es una puntuación cuantitativa ESG traducida en siete grados, que van de la A (el universo de mejores puntuaciones) a la G (la peor). En la escala de Calificación ESG de Amundi, los títulos pertenecientes a la lista de exclusión corresponden a una G. En el caso de los emisores corporativos, el desempeño ESG se evalúa en general y a nivel de criterios relevantes comparándolo con el desempeño medio de su sector, a través de la combinación de las tres dimensiones ESG:

- Dimensión medioambiental: analiza la capacidad de los emisores para controlar su impacto medioambiental directo e indirecto, limitando su consumo de energía, reduciendo sus emisiones de efecto invernadero, luchando contra el agotamiento de los recursos y protegiendo la biodiversidad.
- Dimensión social: analiza el funcionamiento de un emisor en dos conceptos distintos: su estrategia para desarrollar su capital humano y el respeto de los derechos humanos en general.
- Dimensión de gobierno corporativo: Evalúa la capacidad del emisor para garantizar la base de un marco de gobierno corporativo eficaz y generar valor a largo plazo.

● ¿...y en comparación con periodos anteriores?

Al cierre del periodo anterior, la calificación ESG media ponderada de la cartera era de 0.96 (C) y la calificación ESG media ponderada del universo de inversión ESG era de 0.80 (C).

● ¿Cuáles eran los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero pretende realizar parcialmente y cómo contribuía la inversión sostenible a dichos objetivos?

Los objetivos de las inversiones sostenibles son invertir en empresas participadas que traten de cumplir dos criterios:

1. seguir las mejores prácticas medioambientales y sociales; y
2. evitar fabricar productos o prestar servicios que perjudiquen al medio ambiente y a la sociedad.

Para que se considere que la empresa en la que se invierte contribuye al objetivo mencionado, debe ser uno de los "mejores actores" dentro de su sector de actividad en al menos uno de sus factores medioambientales o sociales materiales.

teriales son: emisiones y energía, biodiversidad y contaminación, salud y seguridad, comunidades locales y derechos humanos. Si desea obtener una descripción más completa de los sectores y factores, consulte la Declaración Reglamentaria ESG de Amundi, disponible en www.amundi.lu.

Para contribuir a los objetivos anteriores, la empresa participada no debe tener una exposición significativa a actividades (por ejemplo, tabaco, armas, juegos de azar, carbón, aviación, producción de carne, fabricación de fertilizantes y pesticidas, producción de plásticos de un solo uso) que no sean compatibles con dichos criterios.

El carácter sostenible de una inversión se evalúa a nivel de la empresa participada.

● ¿De qué manera las inversiones sostenibles que el producto financiero realizó parcialmente no causaron un perjuicio significativo a ningún objetivo de inversión sostenible desde el punto de vista medioambiental o social?

Para garantizar que las inversiones sostenibles no causan un perjuicio significativo ("DNSH"), Amundi utiliza dos filtros:

Más allá de los factores específicos de sostenibilidad cubiertos en el primer filtro, Amundi ha definido un segundo filtro, que no tiene en cuenta los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas mencionados anteriormente, con el fin de verificar que la empresa no obtiene malos resultados desde un punto de vista medioambiental o social global en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, lo que corresponde a una puntuación medioambiental o social superior o igual a E utilizando la calificación ESG de Amundi.

- ¿Cómo se tuvieron en cuenta los indicadores de incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

Los indicadores de incidencias adversas se han tenido en cuenta tal y como se detalla en el primer filtro de no causar un daño significativo (DNSH) anterior.

El primer filtro DNSH se basa en el seguimiento de los indicadores obligatorios de Principales Incidencias Adversas del Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 cuando se dispone de datos sólidos mediante la combinación de los siguientes indicadores y umbrales o normas específicas:

- Tener una intensidad de CO<sub>2</sub> que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector (solo se aplica a sectores de alta intensidad), y
- Tener una diversidad en el Consejo de Administración que no pertenezca al último decil en comparación con otras empresas de su sector, y
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con las condiciones de trabajo y los derechos humanos.
- Estar libre de toda controversia en relación con la biodiversidad y la contaminación

Las principales incidencias adversas son los efectos negativos más significativos de las decisiones de inversión sobre los factores de sostenibilidad relacionados con cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y laborales, el respeto de los derechos humanos y la lucha contra la corrupción y el soborno.

- ¿Estaban las inversiones sostenibles alineadas con las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos? Detalles:

Sí, las Líneas Directrices de la OCDE para Empresas Multinacionales y los Principios Rectores de Naciones Unidas sobre Empresas y Derechos Humanos están integrados en nuestra metodología de puntuación ESG. Nuestra herramienta de calificación ESG propia evalúa a los emisores utilizando los datos disponibles de nuestros proveedores de datos. Por ejemplo, el modelo cuenta con un criterio específico denominado "Participación en la comunidad y derechos humanos", que se aplica a todos los sectores, además de otros criterios relacionados con los derechos humanos, como las cadenas de suministro socialmente responsables, las condiciones de trabajo y las relaciones laborales. Además, realizamos un seguimiento de las controversias, como mínimo trimestralmente, que incluye a las empresas identificadas por vulneraciones de los derechos humanos. Cuando surgen controversias, los analistas evalúan la situación y aplican una puntuación a la controversia (utilizando nuestra metodología de puntuación interna) y determinan el mejor curso de acción. Las puntuaciones de controversia se actualizan trimestralmente para realizar un seguimiento de la tendencia y de los esfuerzos de corrección.

Cualquier otra inversión sostenible tampoco debe causar perjuicio significativo a ningún objetivo medioambiental o social.

¿Cómo tuvo en cuenta este producto financiero las principales incidencias adversas sobre los factores de sostenibilidad?

El producto tiene en cuenta todas las Principales Incidencias Adversas obligatorias según el Anexo 1, Tabla 1 del Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1288 que se aplica a la estrategia del producto y se basa en una combinación de políticas de exclusión (normativas y sectoriales), enfoques de implicación y voto:

- Exclusión: Amundi ha definido reglas de exclusión normativas, basadas en la actividad y sectoriales que abarcan algunos de los principales indicadores adversos de sostenibilidad enumerados por el Reglamento de Divulgación.
- Compromiso: La interacción es un proceso continuo y orientado a un fin, cuyo objetivo es influir en las actividades o el comportamiento de las empresas participadas. El objetivo de las actividades de interacción puede clasificarse en dos categorías: comprometer a un emisor a mejorar la forma en que integra la dimensión medioambiental y social, comprometer a un emisor a mejorar su impacto en cuestiones medioambientales, sociales y relacionadas con los derechos humanos u otras cuestiones de sostenibilidad que son importantes para la sociedad y la economía mundial.
- Voto: La política de voto de Amundi responde a su análisis integral de todas las cuestiones a largo plazo que pueden influir en la creación de valor, incluidas cuestiones ESG sustanciales. Si desea obtener más información, consulte la Política de Voto de Amundi.

- Seguimiento de controversias: Amundi ha desarrollado un sistema de seguimiento de controversias que se basa en tres proveedores de datos externos para realizar un seguimiento sistemático de las controversias y su nivel de gravedad. Este enfoque cuantitativo se enriquece después con una evaluación en profundidad de cada controversia grave, dirigida por analistas ESG y la revisión periódica de su evolución. Este enfoque se aplica a todos los fondos de Amundi.

Para estar alineados con la Taxonomía de la UE, los criterios para el gas fósil incluyen limitaciones de emisiones y cambio a energías totalmente renovables o combustibles con bajas emisiones de carbono para finales de 2035. En el caso de la energía nuclear, los criterios incluyen normas exhaustivas de seguridad y gestión de residuos.

Las actividades habilitadoras permiten directamente que otras actividades contribuyan de forma sustancial a un objetivo medioambiental.

Las actividades de transición son actividades para las que

¿En qué medida las inversiones sostenibles con un objetivo medioambiental estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE?

El fondo promueve características tanto medioambientales como sociales. Aunque el fondo no se comprometió a realizar inversiones alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE, durante el periodo contable el fondo invirtió un 3.03% en inversiones sostenibles alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE. Estas inversiones contribuyeron a los objetivos de mitigación del cambio climático de la Taxonomía de la UE.

La alineación de las empresas participadas con los objetivos de la Taxonomía de la UE antes mencionados se cuantifica utilizando datos sobre el volumen de negocio (o los ingresos) y/o el uso del producto obtenido de bonos verdes.

El porcentaje declarado de alineación de las inversiones del fondo con la Taxonomía de la UE no ha sido auditado por los auditores del fondo ni por terceros.

- ¿Invirtió el producto financiero en actividades relacionadas con el gas fósil y/o la energía nuclear que se ajustaban a la Taxonomía de la UE?

☐ Sí:

☐ En gas fósil      ☐ En energía nuclear

☒ No

Durante el periodo no se dispuso de datos fiables sobre la alineación con la Taxonomía de la UE del gas fósil y la energía nuclear.

aún no se dispone de alternativas con bajas emisiones de carbono y, entre otros, tienen niveles de emisión de gases de efecto invernadero correspondientes al mejor rendimiento.

Las actividades alineadas con la Taxonomía se expresan como porcentaje de:

- el volumen de negocio que refleja la proporción de ingresos procedentes de actividades ecológicas de las empresas participadas
- las inversiones en inmovilizado (CapEx) que muestran las inversiones ecológicas realizadas por las empresas participadas, por ejemplo, para la transición a una economía verde
- los gastos de explotación (OpEx) que reflejan las actividades operativas ecológicas de las empresas participadas

significativo a ningún objetivo de la Taxonomía de la UE. Los criterios completos para las actividades económicas de gases fósiles y la energía nuclear que se ajustan a la Taxonomía de la UE se establecen en el Reglamento Delegado (UE) 2022/1214 de la Comisión.

Los gráficos siguientes muestran en verde el porcentaje de inversiones que estaban alineadas con la Taxonomía de la UE. Como no existe una metodología adecuada para determinar la alineación con la Taxonomía de la deuda pública*, el primer gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía en relación con todas las inversiones del producto financiero, incluida la deuda pública, mientras que el segundo gráfico muestra la alineación con la Taxonomía solo en relación con las inversiones del producto financiero distintas de la deuda pública.
